EDITORIAL NOTES.

PRINCE MURAT'S marriage with Miss Caldwell is again arranged for, he having expressed his willingness to accept any allowance she sees fit to give him. The princely European beggars are humble enough when they are made to be, and the future American heiress has only to assert her will to have it implicitly obeyed.

The Barnards are again rampart and threatening the fancy work and stamping. At the lives of citizens.

BROOKLYN, New York, has taken a very effective way of dealing with the faith cure business. The buildings, residences, public buildings bridges, etc. father was arrested and fined $500, because he had not employed proper measures in contending with a contagious disease. This quantity is shipped to various parts of the world-to the American, the European, and the Asian markets. A large quantity is, however, kept by the native princes of Africa, who re very fond of-and, as a rule, very good judges of-ivory. The production out of Africa is only insignificant, and India, Ceylon, and Sumatra together produce on y some 20,000 kilogs per year. India is the largest consumer of ivory, and China is also a good market.

THE mendicant and beggar class of human beings, seem to swell in numbers rather than diminish. In the large cities it becomes a menacing nuisance that it is hard to contro!, and its tramp features are the worst annoyance to be met with in the country. The Chronicle thinks that it is probable that other cities than Paris can produce a beggars' trust. Certainly all the large cit es in this country are cursed with a who do not deserve public charity.

and paralytic organ-grinders who make day and night hideous on our streets are frauds with fat back accounts. One notorious case adds wife-beating to his other accomplishments. It would improve the appearance of the city if the streets could be cleared of these beggars, and it would certainly help the cause of true cha ity.

The mother should have been given absolute control of the children without any proviso, and with protection from him issued.
