Morning Daily Herad

SPECIAL. 12:30 A. M.

Not to see our stoves and ranges before buying is a mistake. Mistakes are always costly. In heating stoves we have the largest as well as the most carefully selected stock in the city. The stoves we offer were not bought as an experiment but as a certainty. We know what each stove will do, and they were bought for cash, so the price is right. We have specialties in heaters, beside our regular lines of Garland, Argand and Superior stoves and ranges.

Messrs. A. B. Woodin, Frank and William Bender have returned from their ranches above Gatesville on the Oregon Pacific railroad. They waded through six feet of snow in order to reach the railroad in returning to this city.

A pleasant birthday party was given Harry Woodin at the residence of his parents Monday afternoon. It was the occasion of his 21st birthday, and a number of his friends were present. He will return to his place of business in Portland in a few days.

2,000 pieces of sheet music just recieved at Jones' Book Store. Not a copy. This is regular size, has nothing about it to indicate its remarkable cheapness, but is identical with that for which you are usually asked to pay from four to ten times the price. Call and get a catalogue.

Wedding Bells.

At the residence of the bride's parents in this city last evening, Mr. Alfred Dawson and Miss Augusta Bridgeford were united in marriage, Rev. L. J. Trumbull officiating. The groom is an enterprising and popular young man and holds a position in the drug store of Foshay & Mason. The bride is one of Albany's accomplished young ladies, and both have many friends who will join in the wish that their lives may be full of happiness and attended with success.

Steamer Ice-Bound.

The O. R. & N. steamer got ice-bound yesterday near Salem and was unable to get here. Messrs. Mueller & Garrett got a dispatch to that effect, and they immediately telegraphed to have their car load of groceries transferred to the Southern Pacific. They will be here to-morrow afternoon.

Delays Are Dangerous.

IMPORTED SEED WHEAT.

A Movement to Improve the Wheat of the Willamette Valley.

Some of the leading wheat growers and shippers of this portion of Oregon, who appreciate the necessity of improving the seed wheat of the country, have imported and will shortly receive two tons of Australian white wheat. A portion of it will be used in the spring, and a portion for fall seeding. The wheat will arrive in Albany within a few days.

On this subject an article in the New Year's Oregonian says that one great trouble now found is that in grinding valley wheat it has deteriorated so much in the past few years that it requires more of it to make flour, and it is is not as strong when made. There is no doubt of the fact that the whole wheat of this valley requires a radical change, in order to bring it back to what it was ten years ago. If we keep on as at present, growing the same wheat, in a few years more there will be nothing left for the mills to grind but a thick husk. The flour products will be so weak and poor that we will be unable to find a market for them. It is a serious matter and the farmers should realize at once that they must give it more attention, otherwise they will be the losers to that extent. Eastern Oregon and Washington have made great strides in improving their wheat during the past few years. It is to be hoped that the valley farmers will take hold of it in the same liberal way. Just what kind of wheat it is necessary to substitute cannot be ascertained until it is tried. No doubt there are many kinds now being grown in other states that would do well here. The Scotch Fife has been tried to a limited extent. It has proven a success so far as holding its superior qualities for flour making, but it is claimed that the yield was very much less. One well informed in the values of that grade of wheat states that the difference in the values to-day in Chicago is 15 cents per bushel in its favor. Suppose it is estimated at 10 cents, then the whole product of the Willamette valley could be increased in value 10 cents per bushel. What would be the result?

The Ellsford-Brophy Company.

This excellent company began a week's engagement at the opera house last evening, playing the Southern drama, "The Planter's Wife." This company came so highly recommended that the people expected something really good, and they were in no way disappointed in last night's performance. The audience was delighted from first to last. James M. Brophy is an actor of power, and made a capital Col. Graham. W. J. Ellsford is a most clever comedian, and as Simeon Simcoe brought down a storm of applause, while Emile Collins as the villain was all that could be desired. Lottie Beaumont, in the role of Edith, the planter's wife, won a hearty applause. She is a charming actress, and her elegant and beautiful costumes were a source of much admiration and comment. Miss Jessie Norton is a talented songstress and sang some of the most popular songs in a pleasing manner. The play concluded with the laughable farce, "Turning the Tables," which sent everybody home in a good humor. This evening the fourth emotional drama, Hazel Kirke, will be presented, in which Mr. Brophy will appear in his great part as Dunstin Kirke.

State Tax Levy Made.

The state executive board consisting of Gov. Pennoyer, Secretary of State McBride, and Treasurer Webb, met in the office of the latter Monday, and made a levy of [illegible] for state purposes. It is [illegible] Of [illegible] for general expenses, [illegible] mills; for the university and [illegible] for interest on [illegible] mills; for the agricultural college and experimental farm, one-fifth mill, making six mills in all. The net valuation of the state is put [illegible], and will [illegible] which will raise a revenue of [illegible] for general expenses, [illegible] for the university and [illegible] for interest. The net valuation of the state is put [illegible], and will [illegible] which will raise a revenue of [illegible] for general expenses, [illegible] for the university and [illegible] for interest.—Salem Statesman.

Severe Weather.

This is the severest weather Albany has seen for several years. Butter and eggs are very scarce. Messrs. Mueller & Garrett expect to spend a fine holiday season [illegible] also some fine [illegible] wheat flour, Oregon fruit in bulk, fine apples and potatoes and an endless variety of good things.

Severe Fall.

Rev. S. C. Irvine had the misfortune to fall from the loft of his barn yesterday, inflicting severe injuries. He fell upon the corner of the manger, fracturing a rib and injured him internally. The fall though severe will not, it is thought, prove dangerous.

Removal.

The office of the Daily and Weekly HERALD has been removed into the Foster block on stairs in the rooms formerly occupied by the Masonic lodge, which larger and more commodious apartments have been fitted up. Friends of the paper will please observe the change.

Ten Days Only.

Buy a machine now! Following the voice of the most successful and successful men of our town. Buy an acre of land in Albany's addition to Astoria, which to-day costs you less than $25 per lot, and which will double in value in less than one year. Now don't be a gump, but buy now. STATE DISPATCHES.

The Salem-Silverton Motor Line—Supreme Court Notes.

Special to the HERALD.

SALEM, Jan. 7.—The Marion County Improvement Company to-day signified its intention of at an early day building a steam motor line between Salem and Silverton, and also a belt line around Salem, by advertising for forty thousand ties, to be delivered by the 1st of April. The projectors say the line will be built in the early spring. The material will be ordered to arrive by the time the ties are delivered and the grading commenced.

The council met to-night, it being the first meeting since city election. Mayor Williams, in his message, says the city is in a good shape financially, and recommends the extension of the fire limits and a change in the city boundaries. Also that the city make preparations to own its water works.

The bids and awards for furnishing the state insane asylum for the next six months are as follows: Dry goods—J. J. Dalrymple & Co., of Salem, $1006.20. John Cran & Co., of Portland, $828.45. Taking into consideration the better quality of the goods the contract was let to Dalrymple & Co. In the other awards the Salem bidder were generally successful, including the Salem mill for flour.

In the supreme court to-day the following cases were disposed of: John Smallmon, appellant, vs. Peter Powell, respondent, appeal from Linn county; argued and submitted.

H. C. Porter, Amity ville, A. R. Kanaga, Astoria, L. W. Hibbing and William W. Roberts, of Portland, were appointed notaries public to-day.

ANOTHER UNION PACIFIC ACCIDENT.

PORTLAND, Jan. 7.—At 8 o'clock this morning the Union Pacific passenger train No. 4, west-bound, met with an accident at tunnel No. 1, a short distance beyond Troutdale. A dining car and coach left the track and were wrecked pretty badly. Several persons were injured, but no one seriously.

LINN COUNTY COUNCIL.

TANGENT, Jan. 7.

Linn County Council met with Oak Plain grange Jan. 4, 1890. Owing to the roughness of the roads the number of delegates and visitors was rather small, however, there was enough for a quorum and the president, F. M. Kizer called the house to order and proceeded with the usual business. Minutes of the last meeting read by Bro. N. Payne secretary pro tem and adopted. Special committee on matters of importance to the members of the order were granted further time. The matter of aid for the needy members of the order in Eastern Oregon was taken up, and all the granges represented responded liberally. A communication from Bro. Riddel in regard to the brothers who were without means to buy seed grain for the coming year was read. Bro. Payne offered a resolution in regard to changing the bylaws of council; motion made for its adoption after quite a lengthy discussion it was indefinitely postponed.

A motion to reconsider the report of the legislative committee was tabled until the next meeting.

Dinner being announced an adjournment was taken, and all helped themselves to the bountiful repast furnished by the good sisters of Oak Plain grange.

Council resumed business and on motion the election of officers for the ensuing year was taken up, which resulted as follows: President, F. M. Kizer; vice-president, E. H. Scott; secretary, Miss Clara McCracken; treasurer, S. Frohnmayer; agent, Matt Miller; gatekeeper, James Archfield; chaplain, T. S. Pontius; ceres, James Davis and A. Blevins. E. A. Irvine was appointed to take charge of the lot set apart to the different granges and for the use of the Eastern Oregon members, and send it to the agent of the Wasco and Sherman county councils.

An invitation was extended by the Knox Butte Grange for the council to meet with them, which was accepted.

A vote of thanks was extended to Oak Plain Grange for the use of their hall and repast furnished.

Bro. Lorimer Simpson of Corvallis made a short address on the importance of co-operation by doing more of our own business, and not allowing so many monopolists a chance to take undue advantage of those who entrust their business in such hands. If the suggestions of Mr. Simpson were carried out, which could very easily be done, a big tonnage would be lifted from the farmers of the state.

On motion the council adjourned.

S.

TO STRANGERS OF LINN COUNTY

At a regular meeting of the Linn County Council, P. of H., held with Oak Plain Grange, January 4, 1890, the following resolutions were adopted for the benefit of the strangers of Eastern and Western Oregon, who, subscribers to the HERALD will forward the same to the agent of the Wasco and Sherman county councils.

ASTORIA.

The Gate City of the Columbia.

Burkhart & Malin have now secured the Astor addition to Astoria. This addition is one of the closest additions to Astoria, and is unlike the other additions, as it is all level land, every foot of it, and there is a motor line and wagon road which passes directly through this addition, which makes it the most accessible addition to the city. These lots are now offered for sale for a short time only at $25 per lot, which makes this the cheapest Astoria property ever offered for sale. Maps and plats can now be seen at the office of Burkhart & Malin.
