

Morning Daily Herald

SPECIAL 12:30 A. M.

Not to see our stoves and ranges before buying is a mistake. Mistakes are always costly. In heating stoves we have the largest as well as the most carefully selected stock in the city. The stoves we offer were not bought as an experiment but as a certainty. We know what each stove will do, and they were bought for cash, so the price is right. We have specialties in heaters, beside our regular lines of Garland, Argand and Superior stoves and ranges.

WEALTH IN OUR COAL

Important Developments Made in the Santiam Mines.

THE MINES WILL BE WORKED

A Wealthy Syndicate to Open and Operate Them—Another Impetus to Albany's Growth and Progress.

The fact that valuable deposits of coal exist along the several forks of the Santiam river has been known for many years, but it is only recently that active efforts have been made, by men acquainted with the business, to locate these deposits, develop and open them upon a practical working basis. The facts connected with the history of these coal discoveries have been regarded with interest by the people of Albany, and indeed throughout the state, and the details of the same have been carefully noted and published from time to time by the HERALD.

It is now learned that important developments have been made in the coal mines of the Santiam district, which will lead to the immediate undertaking of a work that cannot but prove a great factor in the growth and prosperity of this portion of Oregon.

A practical mining expert who has been connected with some of the great coal mines of the country, and who represents capitalists engaged in this business, has been for the past three months examining and testing the quality and quantity of the coal discovery made above Scio. While he found good coal deposits in a number of places the latter was found so much the largest and best that work on all the others will be stopped for the present, and the systematic opening and working of this recent discovery will be undertaken.

This gentleman, whose name, as well as the company he represents, is not published at present, for obvious reasons, was in the city yesterday.

He was interviewed by a HERALD reporter, who was shown some of the specimens of other coal lately taken out of the mine. It is a fine quality of lignite coal, and was found in a continuous vein of remarkable thickness, which leaves no doubt as to the fact that it can be worked on a paying basis. The company, which has abundant capital, proposes to lose no time in beginning the work of developing the mines and placing the coal upon the market.

Such an enterprise will prove a wonderful influence in the promotion of business and aiding the growth of this portion of Oregon. Our informant stated that there was no longer any doubt as to the value of these coal deposits, and that his company would undertake the work in a business like way. It will not be confined, he said, to one lead, but will include a number of veins. It will, he added, lead to the building of a branch railroad line twenty miles distant from Scio to connect the mines with Albany, thus making another feeder that will concentrate business and trade in this city.

The work promises to be of the greatest importance to the commercial interests of Albany, and some further particulars concerning the details of the undertaking may be expected in the columns of the HERALD before very long.

Miss Couthouli.

Of this fine artist who is to give readings at the opera house on Friday and Saturday evenings under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., the Oregonian says: "The dramatic readings of Miss Jessie Couthouli at the Y. M. C. A. hall last night were received with warm and continued applause. Each selection received a hearty encore. Miss Couthouli more than fulfilled the expectations of her audience and succeeded in delighting all. She has rare powers of mimicry, and her varied facial expressions are remarkable. She possesses a round, full and rich voice, which is under remarkable command, whether impersonating the cold and haughty King John or the pleading voice of little Arthur. Her reading of 'Uncle Reuben's Trials,' in which she introduced the way down South melodies, moved the audience to constant laughter. Mrs. Walter Reed's vocal selections were heartily received, as was the playing of Miss Lolla Dalton. An entire change of programme to-night, in which Miss Couthouli makes her last appearance for the season." The lady should and probably will have full houses in Albany.

Farmers Institute.

A letter received from Prof. Grimm, of the agricultural college at Corvallis, states that arrangements are being made to hold a district farmers institute in this city in February. A programme will be arranged, which will include addresses by well posted agriculturalists and others. It is also expected that an address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor Cowan. The institute will continue in session two days. The full programme will be arranged in a short time.

German Colony Coming.

Major Hoffman, of Alton, Illinois, was in the city yesterday on his return from a trip to Yaquina. He has spent six weeks in Oregon, looking for a location for a colony of 50 German families from Illinois, who will come to Oregon in the spring. Major Hoffman has decided to locate the colony between Toledo and the Siletz Indian reservation near Yaquina, provided sufficient land can be obtained in a body, which will probably be secured.

AN EARLY MORNING ROW.

There Was Fighting and Shooting and Much Gore Spilled.

At an early hour yesterday morning John Casey and John Leonard, two employes on the Oregon Pacific railroad, became engaged in a quarrel on First street between Ellsworth and Lyon streets. There were two or three other men in the party, and they had been drinking until it was hard for some of them at least to distinguish their own identity.

Casey seems to have been the aggressor. He was knocked down by Leonard, who beat him about the head and cut his face until he was a bloody spectacle. Casey drew a revolver and shot at Leonard, but did not hit him. Casey's wounds were dressed by Dr. Paton, and last night both men were placed under arrest to answer to a charge of disorderly conduct.

Gold in River Beds.

At various times different persons have gone wild over the supposed rich nuggets in the bed of various mountain streams. The Avalanche talks in that strain upon the prospects on Snake river: "Yes, when the canals in the vicinity of Eagle Rock take all the water out of the Snake river near that place; when the Mill river ceases to flow into the great Serpentine stream; when the Little Salmon, the Bruneau, Boise, Owyhee and Malheur cease to flow, then, oh, then, the lively days of California will dawn upon us, when gold in the channel of Snake river will be more plentiful than acorns under a California oak in the fall of the year. When that time comes, we predict that those who write about the immense richness of the bottom of the Snake will not be here to gaze upon it. No wonder the gold is there, but the water is over it." Probably if the Avalanche's ideas could be carried out and the Snake's bed disclosed all the gold found thereon could be put in his eye and be none the worse. That at least was the result, not a generation ago, when some sanguine miners bared a portion of the Rogue river bed.

Will Dedicate the Temple.

The Masonic fraternity are making arrangements to dedicate their beautiful new temple in this city on February 21st in regal style. An elaborate programme is being prepared, and the affair will be conducted with the éclat befitting the occasion. Prominent Masons will be present from different portions of Oregon. Addresses will be delivered by eminent speakers, and a royal banquet provided. The arrangement of the programme is now in the hands of the committee appointed for that purpose.

Finely Located.

A HERALD reporter, in looking around the city yesterday, called into the office of Dr. Patton, the physician who has lately located in this city. He has rooms in the Blumberg block, and has them well fitted up, making a very pleasant office. The latest and best appliances in his profession are in his office, and everything necessary for skillful practice of medicine. A perfect operating chair forms a prominent feature of his furniture.

From the Mines.

A party of ten miners from the Galena claim and the Albany Mining & Milling Company's mines have arrived in this city from the Quartzville district. They made the trip on snow-shoes to Gatesville in two days. They crossed over 15 feet of snow at the summit. They brought some fine specimens of ore taken from the mines. A force of men are working on the Albany ledge now, having driven in a tunnel 35 feet long during the past month. A. B. King, a heavy stockholder of the Galena mine, was one of the party.

Another Line to Lebanon.

A car load of telegraph wire, tools, etc., were received at this city yesterday by the Western Union Telegraph Co., to be used in constructing their line to Lebanon, work on which is to be commenced at once.

NEWS FROM BROWNSVILLE.

BROWNSVILLE, Jan. 11.

Heavy snow is reported in the mountains and foothills all around here and there will be plenty of water for mining and for stock in Eastern and Southern Oregon.

A meeting of the incorporators of the new railway company will soon be called and stock books will be opened. It is expected to go to work immediately on the survey.

The woolen mills are driven with orders, and are turning out large supplies of fine goods. It was pay day to-day and the snug amount of a little over $2000 was paid to the hands.

Mr. E. J. Montgomery, the young man who got a bullet in his neck here on Christmas night in attempting to rescue a prisoner from the marshal, is able to be about again, and with Mr. Jerry Keeney has given bonds to appear before the grand jury the coming term of court.

Messrs. Brown, Coshaw, Cable, Hume, Elswick and Kirk, of this place, and McKercher, of Crawfordsville, have lately bought the old Findley dist mill, and it will be put in first-class repair and run in good shape hereafter—and when the railway gets to running above here it will be a very valuable piece of property.
