WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For Albany and vicinity.—Following is the forecast for 24 hours, ending at 8 p. m. to-day: Rain; stationary temperature.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

Geo. C. Will, of Salem, is in this city. Judge McFadden, of Corvallis, is in this city.

Mrs. T. J. Black, of Halsey, is visiting relatives in Pendleton. E. C. Pentland, editor of the Independence West Side, is in this city.

R. F. Ashby, of the Oregon Land Company, returned last night from Roseburg.

W. G. Steel, of the firm of Steel & Co., real estate brokers of Portland, is in this city.

A big oak tree which has stood in the yard of H. Kenton, in this city, for many generations, was blown down yesterday by the wind.

It is said that Mrs. Minnie Washburn, widow of the late Judge Washburn, of Eugene, is likely to secure the postmastership at that place.

The subject for the regular gospel meeting at the Y. M. C. A. at 4 o'clock this afternoon will be "The Young Man Walking with God." Scripture reference: Amos 3-3.

The Calapooia is very high. A gentleman down from Shedd last evening stated that it has formed a lake four miles long and has carried away considerable fencing and small bridges.

Dr. W. C. Negus returned from Lebanon yesterday, where he was called to remove an ovarian tumor, the sufferer being Mrs. James Scanlan. A large tumor was successfully removed and the patient will recover.

W. E. McPherson yesterday sold to Dr. O. C. Aubrey two lots on Ferry street, belonging to S. W. Smith, of Greeley, Wash. The doctor was offered quite an advance on his purchase before the papers were made out, but declined the offer.

The editor of the Newport Republican has recently received letters from Kansas people making inquiries about Oregon. All of them assert that large numbers of Kansans will come to the coast in the spring. His advice to them is to come, and they will not regret the move.

Again it is announced by the newspapers that "the star of Bethlehem," which makes its appearance only once in 315 years, will soon be visible again, for the seventh time. It will be of great brilliancy for about three weeks, after which it will wane, and in seventeen months will disappear.

Mass Meeting at Halsey.

A mass meeting of citizens was held at Halsey yesterday to consider the question of constructing a water canal from the McKenzie river to that place, the ultimate plan being to invite the co-operation of the citizens of Albany in extending the canal to this city.

The Trains.

Owing to the storms and washouts the trains on the Southern Pacific have been very irregular recently. Last night the belated north bound train reached this city only to find two more washouts between this city and Salem and it went no farther north. It is expected that it will leave for Portland some time to-day. The south bound train in the meantime is tied up at Salem, and this city is without mails.

A Rare Opportunity.

The Astoria Improvement and Investment Company, No. 47 First street, Portland, Or., are offering a block of 16 lots in Rosedale Addition to Astoria for $170 cash, or $180 on time; $50 down, rest at $20 per month. Single lots, $10; corner, $15 cash. This addition is within a quarter of a mile of the river, overlooking the river, and is high and level. There is a bridge now being built right opposite the addition. Blocks in Rosedale Addition to Astoria that are to-day selling for $170 cash will be worth $200 within two years. Wm. Reid, the manager, will be at the St. Charles hotel, Albany, on Monday next. Call early and get a bargain.

THE STORM.

Wires Prostrated and Trains Delayed Everywhere.

BRIDGES WASHED AWAY.

The Bridge at the Jewish Cemetery Wrecked—Another Big Landslide at Yaquina.

The storm which has been raging for several days, while it is not "the worst known for years," is playing havoc with the railroad lines, and has interrupted the regular course of business in a thousand different ways.

The bridge on the Southern Pacific railroad near the Jewish cemetery, three miles below this city, was wrecked yesterday by the flood, two bents being washed away. The break, however, was repaired last night. A bridge across Mill Creek, this side of Salem, is washed out and the water is pouring over the track.

The north bound overland train arrived at 7 o'clock last night, 12 hours late. The delay was occasioned by a washout above Eugene. A passenger on this train from this city furnishes the HERALD with the following observations of the delay there:

We are waiting aboard the train one half mile south of the slide, where about fifty men are now at work in the about that has been pouring down, and which is now coming down in torrents, while many of the passengers are becoming very nervous to get away, yet we realize that the company is doing all in their power to span the gulf that now separates us from the passenger cars that stand upon the north side. We can only wait and anxiously wait to hear the words from that melodious voiced and accommodating and gentlemanly acting conductor Mr. Young, "All aboard!"

Yet some are growling a little, others are snoring, some playing whist, others are crying, seeming to keep time with the patter of the rain upon the roof, and others of us are trying to figure out the area of the surface of the earth that is covered with water visible to the naked eye. We shall not give it here, for some one would say we are exaggerating, although we can see water standing on the track. In places fences crossing the valley are being washed up, and the future great railroad center of the state of Oregon, in time for supper. We do not feel as though we ought to close this little diary until we have said a word in behalf of our genial and ever cautious conductor Mr. Young, who found it necessary at times to walk and examine the track in person for the safety of the passengers, and last but not least the able and efficient judgment manifested by Jimmy Burns, who stands at the throttle, and whose eyes were ever alert, and constantly watching the effect of his heavy iron horse upon the ever giving track. We say that the railroad company is very fortunate in having such men at the helm.

AT YAQUINA.

YAQUINA CITY, Feb. 1.—Another big landslide occurred at this place last night. A huge mass of earth and rock slid down from the hill upon the machine shops and foundry of the Oregon Pacific Co. The buildings were shaken upon their foundations, and somewhat wrecked, but not severely. The accident, however, stopped all work in the shops. Several small slides have occurred along the Oregon Pacific line, and the streams are very high, but as yet trains are running regularly.

AT EUGENE.

EUGENE, Feb. 1.—The river has risen two feet to-day and is rapidly rising this evening. The high water has compelled the mills to shut down.

Finally Settled.

The settlers of Crook county who have been applying through the U. S. land office at La Grande for special information in regard to making final proof of land formerly of the Warm Springs Indian reservation will be pleased to know that the question has been finally settled. The question at issue was whether settlers who were to have made proof during the vacancy in the receiver's office will now be required to make new proof, and if not what are the proceedings necessary to secure title from the government. The matter was presented to Senator Mitchell, and by him submitted to the government officials at Washington, who decided that proof made before the register alone is not sufficient, and as there are no provisions made for cases of this kind Mr. Mitchell has prepared a bill for such contingencies, which has been introduced in the senate, providing for the relief of all persons who were to have made final proof during the interval in which the receiver's office was vacant. If the bill becomes a law the land claimants who have acted in good faith will not be required to go to the trouble and expense of making new proof.

A New Paper.

Some juvenile printers working in one of the job printing offices of this city has commenced the publication of a new monthly paper. It is called "The Joker," and is a genuine little boy's paper, containing a continued story in a vest pocket edition.

The River.

The Willamette at this city last night reached 20 feet above low water mark and is rising rapidly. The river raised two feet at Eugene yesterday. The continued downpour of rain threatens to make very high water through the Willamette valley.

NEWS FROM LEBANON.

News of Interest from this Thriving Town—The Canal and Paper Mill.

Lebanon Express.—It is learned that Mrs. J. Shay, of Sweet Home, died yesterday morning. A great deal of sickness prevailed in that neighborhood.

Dr. W. C. Negus, of Albany, was in Lebanon Wednesday. He came in answer to a call to remove a tumor.

Several new additions to Lebanon are to be laid off as soon as the weather will permit.

Lebanon needs a good bakery and a tailor shop. Both of the above could do well during the coming spring and summer.

Owen South and Eva Crabtree were married last Sunday at the residence of the bride's parents, about ten miles east of this place.

A young man named Story died at the farm of R. C. Miller, about four miles south of town. He took a relapse of the la grippe.

Married, on December 28 by Rev. J. Case, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. M. Sheehan Bellinger and Miss Maggie M. Brun, all of Linn county, Oregon.

Lebanon's board of trade meeting on last Monday evening was something for the citizens to be proud of, for a large per cent. of the citizens were present, and they demonstrated beyond a doubt that they meant business.

There is no town in Oregon with brighter prospects than Lebanon. It is being situated near the center of Linn county, the finest agricultural county in the state, located on south fork of the Santiam at the terminus of the Lebanon branch of the S. P. R. R. with three trains a day, giving us good mail facilities, and better than many towns with much larger populations than we have.

Laying to the west of our town is some of the finest grain and fruit lands in the county; to the north is land suitable for grain, hops, fruit and vegetables; to the south and east is a large stretch of country suitable for grain and stock raising. These lands are occupied by a thrifty, enterprising class of farmers and stock raisers, some of them owning large tracts of land which they are willing to subdivide into smaller tracts to suit purchasers, having learned from experience that small farms with better cultivation will give more favorable results.

Lebanon has a population of from seven to eight hundred, being the second largest town in the county. The business of Lebanon is well represented by an enterprising class of business men. We have good public schools, an academy and a number of churches. The citizens of our town have made arrangements with O'Neil Brothers of California, by which they agree to erect and operate paper mills with a capacity of five tons of paper per day, with a payroll of four thousand dollars per month. Our citizens are taking steps to organize a company for the construction of a water ditch, by tapping the Santiam river at or near Cheadle's Falls and bringing water into the city limits, giving us a good water supply and power sufficient for a number of mills and factories. With all these improvements we may reasonably expect to double our population within the next eighteen months.

LINN COUNTY BUSINESS COUNCIL.

In spite of the severest rain and wind storm of the season, quite a number of patrons gathered at Knox Butte grange hall on Saturday to attend the regular February meeting of the Council.

President F. M. Kizer and Secretary Clara McEneen were promptly in their places, and on roll call a quorum of granges was found present, and business taken up.

The agent of the Council, Mart Miller, reported, presenting the business part of the Council. N. P. Payne, R. A. Irvine and others discussed the matter, and the agent's report was acquiesced in.

On the call of reports of special committees, Hon. R. A. Irvine, as the committee to disburse relief to Wasco and Sherman counties, reported progress in the matter, and on motion a committee of three was appointed to settle the manner of sending the aid. R. A. Irvine, Mart Miller and N. P. Payne were made the committee.

The special committee upon the argument in relation to the repeal of the mortgage tax law and usury law reported that the argument on the repeal of the law presented no reason for their repeal, and recommended that the resolution in favor of not repealing the law be adopted, and that the exemption of any part of mortgages is a violation of the law and an injustice to bona fide taxpayers of the state. The matter was discussed by Irvine, Payne and others, and the report adopted.

An intermission was then taken and the ladies of Knox Butte spread a bountiful repast.

The committee on the relief fund, recommending the funds be sent to Linn county, Riddell, leaving the Wasco County Council to disburse it as they saw fit. The report was adopted.

The special committee on co-operation offered a partial report which was discussed and laid on the table until the next meeting.

The report of the committee on legislation made on the resolutions sent from Lane County Pomona grange in regard to pledging candidates for the legislature was considered after a discussion by Irvine, Payne, Train, Miller, Blevins, Kizer and others.

The president announced the standing committees as follows: Legislative committee—R. A. Irvine, L. C. Rice, S. A. Dawson, John Bryant, N. P. Payne.

Good of the Order—Thomas Froman, C. M. Vanderpool, E. P. Upmeyer, Henry Freerksen, M. H. Wills.

Finance—R. H. Wright, P. Swank, C. P. Burkhardt.

Wagner Grange, No. 240, of Jackson county, was accepted as a member of the Council.

The next meeting of the Council was fixed with Harmony Grange on the first Saturday in March.

A series of resolutions upon the subject of necessary legislation was offered and referred to the committee on legislation, after discussion by Davis, N. P. Payne and Mart Payne and others.

A vote of thanks was given to Knox Butte Grange for the use of the hall and the dinner furnished. The Council adjourned and those present started out to face the still raging storm, but well satisfied with the pleasant meeting they had participated in.

Unfounded Rumor.

A report was circulated in this city last evening that the Jefferson bridge had been washed out, but inquiry at the telegraph office revealed the fact that there was nothing whatever in the report.

ALBANY.

The queen manufacturing city and railroad center of Oregon, Albany, to-day has the brightest future before it of any town in Oregon, and she will certainly by the end of 1890 have a population of from 10,000 to 15,000 souls. She is maintaining a steady and healthy growth, and is destined to be the great railroad center and manufacturing city of Oregon. Real estate to-day in Albany is cheap compared with other towns in Oregon and Washington that have not one half the future before them that Albany has. It will only be a short time until the speculator will prefer Albany to any other town in Oregon or Washington to invest his money in and those now who are smart enough to embrace the present opportunity to buy real estate in Albany while it is cheap will be the ones that make the money. The real estate firm of Burkhardt & Malin have some excellent bargains in inside property, as well as some good bargains in some of the closest additions. They have lots for from $50 to $1000 and on the installment plan. Parties who wish to get in on the ground floor should call at their office and be shown their large list of city property, which embraces residence property in all portions of the city. A few special bargains we note below, to which we respectfully invite the attention of the public:

A good 2 story house and 96 front by 110 feet deep, corner of 4th and Montgomery streets, for $3800; part cash, balance on time.

Two good vacant lots corner of 6th and Montgomery streets for $2500; a bargain.

A good new house and one lot with in two blocks of the court house for $2500. A No. 1 bargain.
