LOCAL AFFAIRS.

The Usual Budget of News About the City.

GOVERNMENT REVETMENT NEEDED.

The Willamette Threatens to Destroy Valuable Property at This City - Prompt Action Necessary.

The receding of the flood has disclosed the fact that the high water in the Willamette has caused the river to begin to cut a new channel opposite and above this city, which threatens to destroy much valuable garden lands and to injure the city's water front and shipping by turning a portion of the current down a new formed stream.

An examination of the break will be made by the mayor and city council, with a view of petitioning congress for an appropriation to construct a revetment or break-water to confine the river to its present channel.

The Mails and Trains.

The HERALD's dispatches this morning show that the situation on the Southern Pacific railroad in Southern Oregon is worse than ever. There is no prospect of a through train within a month. In the Willamette Valley the condition is not so bad, but there is no hope of a train from Portland before Monday or Tuesday. The track is about open between this city and Aurora, and a train will probably be up from Salem tomorrow, and it will no doubt bring the first installment of the delayed mail. The pile-driver came up from Jefferson last evening and returned with more material.

Damage at the Woolen Mills.

Since the flood has receded and the waters gone down a more accurate estimate of the damages can be ascertained. At the woolen mills in this city a portion of the flume was carried away and about a ton of soap for washing wool was damaged to the extent of $100. The foundation of the Union Pacific wharf was found to be all right. The drive way was wrecked but it can be repaired at a cost of perhaps $300 or $400.

A Chinese Pheasant Item.

A full plumaged Chinese pheasant, no doubt actuated by the ozone of the atmosphere of these fine days, flew into the city yesterday morning, and in some unaccountable manner became entrapped in G. M. Strong's store on First street. It quickly flew out, however, through the window glass in front of the store. This may sound a trifle fishy, but it was an actual occurrence and was witnessed by several bystanders.

Wheat Damaged.

News has been received from Miller's station that the wheat stored in the Wills warehouse on the river, near that place, has been seriously damaged by the flood. The wheat stored by the firm Wills and slight hopes are entertained for its recovery. This news will be received with regret by the many friends of Mr. Royce in this city.

Dangerously Ill.

A dispatch received Wednesday from Mrs. Geo. S. Royce, from San Bernardino, Cal., states that her husband, who has been suffering from pneumonia, is much worse and slight hopes are entertained for his recovery. This news will be received with regret by the many friends of Mr. Royce in this city.

Drummers Invest.

Wallace & Cusick sold yesterday to some San Francisco drummers one block in Woodlee's Addition, Albany for $2,000. It being 14 feet above high water mark and located on the line of improvement introduced them to buy. Already several fine houses have been built in this addition.

LEBANON NEWS.

How the Flood in the Roaring Santiam Drove People from Their Homes.

The Lebanon Express contains the following additional details of the flood in the Santiam at and near that place:

At Lebanon the Santiam river flooded all the bottom between the bridge and slaughter house west of the river, having risen to the top railing of the bridge across the slough, entirely submerging it. A boat was secured by Joseph Harbin, Lee Boise and Wm. Osborne, who started out to take those who had already been surrounded by water to places of safety. They first went after the family of Mr. Junkers, who lives about a mile above the bridge, consisting of Mr. Junkers, his wife, who was quite sick, and a son. They then took the boat to the Houk hop yard and helped out the family who had recently moved in from the states, and not knowing what had happened were well nigh frightened out of their wits, and had moved to the upper part of the dry house and prepared to make the best of it, but were only too glad to leave.

They then went to see about the McCormick family, who live about four miles south of here. They started at dark, and then had to go through woods and underbrush, and cross a slough, and as neither had been there before they had a tough time of it. However they reached the house about ten o'clock and found everything flooded, and the family badly scared, but owing to its being late they waited until morning before venturing out. It was a considerable of an undertaking to go in to the family. As it was they hardly escaped being drowned, the river having broken one of the bars, and they only escaped by clinging to the picket fence.

The high water washed out both of the head gates of the Albany canal about four o'clock Sunday afternoon. At about ten o'clock Sunday night the flume of Nickerson's planer was swept away by the flood and the flume of the grist mill badly impaired, besides the mill dam being damaged, the structure, which will necessarily delay work for several weeks.

There has been some stock lost. G. W. Wheeler lost most of his logs, but no other damage was done to the saw mill.

REAL ESTATE SALES.

The following real estate sales were recorded yesterday: J. M. Ralston's 3d addition to Lebanon, 120 acres, filed L. A. and I. N. Woodlee to C. W. Crowder, block 15, Woodlee's Riverside addition to Albany, $150. Jemima Ralston to Anna M. Smith, 3 acres in township 12 south, range 2 west, 405. E. Kirkendall and wife to J. Nichols, 1/2 interest in lot 4, block 11, Ralston's addition, 1000. E. G. Cox to Elias Maxwell, 30 acres in township 10 south, range 2 west, 200. A. Hackleman and wife to W. C. Cassell, lots 6 and 7, block 9, Hackleman's 2d addition, 2500.

Above High Water Mark.

As the high water has now receded and the lily of the valley has once again shown its beautiful foliage, and the water which was sent out from the ark has returned with the green leaves of the maple, we may now feel assured that the high waters are over and that the ones who purchased lots in Goltra's Park addition, the highest and most highly addition around the city, are safe and always above high water mark. Lots for sale in this addition on the installment plan, $30 down and $10 monthly. Burkhardt & Malin, agents, Albany, Oregon.

THE HAIRPIN.

What is home without a hairpin. When the glove hook can't be found. And the great cat is approaching. To the northern depots bound?

Or the paper cutter's missing. As the thrilling tale she reads. And the hero's planned elopement. On an uncut page succeeds?

What is home without a hairpin. Dotted bent upon the floor. When one finds it, walking barefoot. Hark, was that a voice that swore.

Sending echoes through the darkness. With a swift profane dispatch. Until they swarm upon a toothpick. And become a parlor match?

Oh! the wicked little hairpin—Treachorous wire of dual point. You were better hid in a corner. Than in wrenching out a joint!
