

Morning Daily Herald

SPECIAL 12:30 A. M.

Not to see our stoves and ranges before buying is a mistake. Mistakes are always costly. In heating stoves we have the largest as well as the most carefully selected stock in the city.

GEO. W. SMITH.

ON SALE.

The Daily Herald will be on sale each morning at the new stand of W. F. Kuhns, where it can be procured at 5 cents per copy.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For Albany and vicinity—Following is the forecast for 24 hours, ending at 8 p. m. to-day: Fair; slightly warmer.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

Ala Harris, of Corvallis, was in the city yesterday.

Lawrence Helm, of Corvallis, was in the city yesterday.

Dr. E. A. McAlister was called to Halsey and Shedd yesterday having to take private conveyance to make the trip.

Dr. Ellis started for Portland yesterday to meet his little sister, who had arrived there from Minnesota on her way to this city.

The well boring outfit of Mr. J. A. Roberts of Salem will be here a few days longer. Parties wishing work done may leave word at Kenton's grocery store.

Matthews & Washburne are anxious to make a wager that Martin Ludwig, who will remain with them, makes the best wash boiler made in this valley.

At a special meeting of the Masonic lodges last Monday it was decided to postpone the dedication of the new Masonic temple in this city until June 24.

The lodges propose to make the occasion one long to be remembered.

The only pleasant form of La Grippe is found in a choice brand of cigars of that name manufactured by S. I. Guiss. They are on sale at Stanaard & Cusick's drug store. It is pronounced the best five cent cigar in the market.

Messrs. Stanaard & Cusick, the new proprietors of the drug store, have the store fitted up in elegant style, and their stock is displayed in an attractive manner. They are energetic young business men and will do a thriving business.

Some very neat lithographed invitation cards for the Masonic dedication, which was to have occurred on the 21st of this month, have been received by the committee on invitation, but as the dedication has been postponed until June, the cards will have to be reprinted.

Bridge Superintendent F. J. Miller, of the Oregon Pacific, has been actively engaged with all the men that could be mustered, in repairing the breaks in the road between this city and Corvallis, and reports good progress. Probably a train will be over either to-day or to-morrow.

Under direction of County Judge D. R. N. Blackburn, Duncan Rankin went with a force of men yesterday to do some needed temporary repairs upon the Sanderson bridge, on the rock between here and Seio. The high water had washed the rock out from the piers undermining one of them so that the bridge was in danger, and action was required to save it.

The Challenge Accepted. In response to a challenge published in the Herald by Matthews & Washburne offering to wager that Martin Ludwig, in their employ, can make a better wash boiler than any man in the valley, I hereby accept the challenge, and will wager any amount from $50 to $100 that I can make three boilers to his two, they to be equally as good, if not better than his. The work to be done in the workshop of G. W. Smith, in this city. T. G. HOPKINS.

An Answer to Mr. Hopkins. While we have only been in Albany about one year, we find the intelligent buyers prefer quality not quantity, neither is it what a person can do, but what they do. We will give you odds on a wager that our shelves contain a better made line of tinware made by our Mr. Ludwig previous to February 1, 1890, than yours at the same date. MATTHEWS & WASHBURN.

Timber Land Wanted. One hundred and sixty or 320 acres of good timber land wanted. Must be accessible. Call at once and state terms on which the same can be had. E. G. BEARDSLEY, real estate agent, Albany.

A Good Investment. Twenty-four feet on First street, in the best block in Albany, for sale at a bargain. The property will double in value in two years. WALLACE & CUSICK.

Astoria. Special attention is called this morning to the advertisement of E. G. Beardsley in another column. He has obtained the sale of the extension to the railway addition property, and it is sure to sell rapidly.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Public Meeting to Be Called to Act on the Revestment Question.

The full board were present at the council meeting last evening, Mayor Cowan in the chair, Recorder Henton and Marshal Hoffman present.

The committee on ordinances was granted further time on the resolution requiring permits to erect or repair buildings within the city limits.

The fire and water committee reported the engines in good order and were granted further time to repair cistern tops.

The ways and means committee reported that they had let the contract for printing the city ordinances to C. W. Watts.

James Laurent's bid on the sewer across Ellsworth street was accepted.

The petition of E. F. Truax and others for a sidewalk was granted. The mayor directed that a public meeting be called to make up a petition to congress for an appropriation to build a revetment to protect the banks of the Willamette at this city.

The street commissioner recommended repairs on the Santiam canal on Sixth street and Ferry street, and for the alley in block 3 on Ferry street, and on Lyon street from First street to the river, also for a bridge across the creek near the fruit cannery.

An old petition for a bridge across the water ditch at the junction of Thurston and Third streets was taken from the table and referred to the committee on streets and public property.

The committee on streets and public property reported in favor of an electric light at the junction of Washington and Third streets.

The petition for a sidewalk on the south side of First street in block 11, was granted, and the work ordered done within thirty days.

The following bills were ordered paid: N. Hoffman, $50 00; A. W. Wheeler, 58 05; James Whitesides, 20 85; John Maxwell, 8 82; W. F. & Co. Express, 18 60; Electric Light Co., 180 50; N. J. Henton, 33 10.

NO BOATS FOR A MONTH. The locks at Oregon City were seriously damaged by the recent high water.

The following dispatch was received yesterday by C. G. Rawlings, Union Pacific agent in this city: PORTLAND, Feb. 11.—The locks will not open for a month. I cannot say when the boats will start.

J. W. TROUP. Mr. Troup is the port captain. The damage to the locks consists in the washing away of the wing dam, and the upper flume, and these must be repaired before the locks can be opened.

Some of the boats are loaded for Portland, and there is no place to unload them, all the docks being washed out, those at Corvallis, Albany, Independence, Salem and Oregon City. These boats will not be able to do much business until after the locks are repaired.

Waiting for the Oregon Pacific. The Ochoco Review says: There is no use to conceal the fact that the business men and capitalist of this place are only waiting the advent of the O. P. railroad when they will lose no time in going to it. Where the road crosses the great Deschutes river will spring up a town in as many weeks as it has taken years to make Prineville what it is to-day. There is no secret about this, as our merchants all say they are ready to pull up at a day's notice. And why shouldn't they? The Deschutes river is the only stream of any importance between the Cascades and Snake river on the eastern boundary of the state. And when it is known that the Deschutes is the grandest water power in the Northwest we might say, it seems natural to indulge in unlimited expectations concerning it. Already there is a rush for land in that vicinity, our local capitalists are investing there, and already have manufacturing industries planning, and under way. The simple fact that an effort might be made to embark any business scheme of this kind will amount to nothing in the end. We all wait for the completion of the railroad to the summit and into this country. God speed the day! While we have one of the prettiest little villages in the world, we are conscious of our painful isolation, and are happy to know that it will soon end.

Traveling Under Difficulties. A. B. Slauson, of the Oregonian editorial staff, was in the city yesterday, having walked over from Corvallis. He started from Portland on Saturday, coming by the West Side and viewing the washouts and wrecks along the route, riding, walking and pumping a railroad tricycle on different portions of the route. The Derry bridge he found to be the most serious break on the West Side. Independence he thinks will not lose very much, as the washed out sawmill and other buildings can be placed back on their foundations. The break in the Oregon Pacific railroad between here and Corvallis he found to be serious, the track in one place being piled up against the trees some distance below looking like a picket fence, and some of the track gone entirely, the most diligent search failing to find it. Mr. Slauson went on down to Salem on the special train that ran down yesterday forenoon.

Institute Postponed. The district teachers' institute, which was to have convened in this city on the 12th of March next, has been postponed to the 19th, 20th and 21st of March. All interested will take due notice and govern themselves accordingly.

NEWS FROM BENTON COUNTY.

A Family Barred by a Landslide—One Man Killed—Damages at Corvallis.

The greatest loss in Benton county by the recent flood occurred in Aisea valley. The Aisea river overflowed its banks, and in many places the water was several feet higher than ever before known.

Several head of stock were drowned, and much fencing was washed away. The mountain side in many places moved into the canyon. Some of these slides were 500 feet square, and so deep that in many instances large trees were carried hundreds of yards downward, and are now standing erect.

In other cases trees were broken off and piled up with earth fifty feet deep, forming a dam in the mountain streams.

The only death reported in Benton county occurred near Aisea bay early Monday morning. A large slide came down the mountain side burying Robert Barclay's residence and imprisoning Barclay, two children and Robert Brown. The father and two children were extricated after some difficulty, but Brown was found dead, having been crushed by heavy timber. A barn near by was wrecked and ten head of stock killed.

The bridge over Mary's river is a total wreck. During the high water it was tied to each bank, but when the water subsided it was found that the piers had washed away. Estimate of the loss to the county, including Mary's river bridge, which will cost $6000 to repair, is placed at $25,000. It will cost $2000 to repair the government revetment work above Corvallis. The Oregon Pacific will run trains to Albany from Yacquina to-morrow. The Oregon Pacific's loss will probably not exceed $2000.

The Trains. The train which has been lying at this city left for Salem at 11:10 yesterday and returned at 3:15. A small amount of local mail and express was brought up. It is expected that a train will arrive from Roseburg to-day, a train will arrive from Portland about Saturday. The complaints over the non-arrival of mail are growing loud and deep. It is an outrage upon the public that some arrangement has not been made several days ago to have the Albany mail shipped up on the Narrow Gauge and transferred, as has been done with the Salem mail.

Needs New Blood. Astoria Pioneer: If there is anything more than another that needs an infusion of new blood, it is the postoffice department. For upward of six years now it has been run upon a plan which completely ignores the Pacific coast, and although some hope was entertained from a man of business, such as the present incumbent is known to be, yet the same state of affairs exist as relates to the west. Here, if anything, there should be some record of the growth and increasing demands upon the service, but, unfortunately for the country, none seems to be taken.

COAST NOTES. The wreck of the Idaho is to be beached near Port Townsend and will be burned in order to get out and save the old iron.

Editor Flagg of the Hillsboro Democrat, gives notice that about February 7th, he will move his paper to Forest Grove.

Astoria was expecting a wood famine when last we heard from that section. Scows engaged in the wood business were unable to breast the heavy weather.

The Oregon City Transportation company has completed all arrangements for a new boat for the Oregon City and Portland route to be used for through business only.

J. T. Hart, of Tacoma, has purchased twenty acres of property in Clatsop county from J. C. Dement, paying therefor $1000 an acre. This is the highest price yet paid for outside or acreage property in that section.

In Oregon the following property is exempt from execution: Musical instruments, books and pictures, $75; household effects, $300; clothing, $100; and clothing to each member of the family, $50; team, tools, instruments or library or whatever is needed in the trade or profession of debtor, $400; ten sheep, two cows, five hogs, three months' provender. No exemption is good against a claim for purchase money; no homestead.

The differences existing between the Astoria & South Coast Railroad Company and Charles Ehlund in regard to the right of way through his property have been settled by arbitration. The committee visited the ranch and decided that a strip of land sixty-five feet wide across the northeast quarter of Section 86, in Township 7, was worth $400.

Business Change. We have sold our line of guns and ammunition to Messrs. Deyoe & Froman Bros., and in the future will devote all our attention to pianos, organs, musical merchandise and sewing machines. We will have rooms fitted up for our use but for three or four weeks we will be found at our old stand, where we keep all the leading sewing machines, also the famous Earhart mouse and dust proof organs and the favorite Bauer pianos. Come and see our instruments and sewing machines before buying. WILL & LINK.

Scissors. Immense stock at Stewart & Sox's. The best quality and any size or style. Call and examine our stock. Stewart & Sox.

LINN COUNTY'S GAME BIRDS.

Something About the Law Protecting the Festive Mongolian Pheasant.

The following from the Oregonian concerning the Mongolian pheasants of this state is not wholly reliable: It has long been known that an indiscriminate slaughter of Mongolian pheasants was being made in Linn and Lane counties, and other parts of the valley in violation of the law. Some persons have been investigating the matter, and are taking steps to secure the punishment of the guilty parties. It is reported that some sixty indictments were found against persons in Linn county and that no action was taken on them as Judge Boise expressed what may be probably called an "unjudicial" opinion to the effect that the law made for the protection of Mongolian pheasants, only protected those originally brought here, and their young.

A gentleman speaking of this matter yesterday said it would be rather difficult to tell when a pheasant had been a gunner whether it was one of the original imported stock or one of those hatched and raised here. Another said if the judge had expressed such an opinion it might with equal propriety be held that a law to punish one guilty of murder would not effect a person who killed one born after the law was passed. However, these things may be, it is certain that the pheasants are being wantonly slaughtered, and that an effort is to be made to put a stop to this.

It there has been any such wholesale indictments found in Linn county no one here has heard of it nor is it probable that Judge Boise has expressed such an opinion. The report is no doubt due to an enlargement of the imagination of the young man who wrote the item.

DECISION AGAINST THE CITY.

The Damage Suit of Dr. E. A. McAlister Remanded Back for Trial.

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD. SALEM, Feb. 11.—In the supreme court to-day, in the damage suit of E. A. McAlister, appellant, vs. the city of Albany, respondent, the judgment of the lower court was reversed and the case remanded for such further proceedings as may be necessary in accordance with the opinion; opinion by Lord, J.

P. A. Moses, resp., vs. S.P.R.R. Co., app., appeal from Linn county; judgment reversed; opinion by Lord, J.; Strahan, J., concurs; Thayer, C. J., files dissenting opinion.

CROOK COUNTY NOTES. PRINEVILLE, Feb. 8. Hay sells at $20 a ton now.

There is not an egg in the market, and they are quoted at 50 cents a dozen.

Fresh butter has been selling at 50 cents a pound, and none in the market at that.

It is said that the Burns land office is now doing more business than any other land office in the state. It is a grand convenience to the settlers there.

The Harney country is again coming to the front as a Mecca for the home-hunter. They expect an immense immigration into Harney next summer.

Next season—the year 1890—will mark an epoch in the growth of the southern part of Crook county, all due to the coming of the railroad.

Quite a rush will be made in the spring for all kinds of land over on the Deschutes. Some filings have recently been made—applications to purchase timber land.

All the game in this vicinity, excepting rabbits, and an occasional scared duck seems to have emigrated. We are told that in a few miles of town in a certain direction are a few poor deer, but they are poor, and besides, it is now unlawful to kill them.

Valentine Party. The Dolce far Niente club will give a social dancing party at the opera house Friday evening, Feb. 14th. Good music will be in attendance and a pleasant time assured.

Teachers' Examination. Notice is hereby given that the next regular public examination of teachers for Linn county will be held in Albany, commencing at noon on Wednesday, February 26, 1890, and continuing until Friday noon. All teachers desiring examination will please be present at the commencement. L. M. CURT, Co. Supt. of Schools.
