World's Last Great City

Rome, on her seven hills, was as nothing to Seattle's snow-crowned Olympics on the north and west Cascades on the east and south, and from those mighty bulwarks of health, energy inspiration-giving, there arises the mighty Mount Rainier, a-w-a-y above every competitor on the Pacific, reminding one of

WASSOM'S ADDITION

Is the place where people of money, sense and refinement will make their homes, and why? Because the college, the mineral springs, Ravenna Park, the view of Mount Rainier, (which is grander here than anywhere else on Puget Sound) if for no other reason, would make it most desirable.

In Seattle a mighty city is building. Take hold of the best while you have a chance at lowest prices.

TO THE PIONEER A WORD:

Why did you cross the plains? Why did you take your life and that of others in your hands and come to the Coast? What pen can write the history? You have conquered this land, made the growth of great cities imperative and the amassing of colossal fortunes, almost in a day, possible. Now, by the investment of a few thousand, or hundred dollars, you may reap the harvest that belongs to you. Will you do it? The greatest corporations, the ablest financiers of Europe and America are investing thousands, nay, millions, in Seattle. Will you not invest? Your chance is NOW. Seize it. I have a 60 acre tract, an 80 and two 40 acre tracts. Only a few left—cheap; ripe for planting, as you one of which will make you a fortune in a short time. Buy quick. I can't duplicate them.

Rev. J. R. Kirkpatrick is among you and the sole agent for Wassom's Addition in Oregon. Call on him at once.

I will be in Albany in a few days and will remain only a day. I would be glad to meet you personally and urge you to join us in the material up-building of Seattle, the Queen City of the Pacific. When in Seattle be sure and call at room 348, Seattle Block, where I will take pleasure in showing you the city.

OVER THE WIRES.

Congressman Hermann Urging for Public Land Forfeiture.

EARTHQUAKE IN CALIFORNIA.

Whisky Smuggling Across the Canadian Border—News East of the Rockies and Elsewhere.

The Herald's Special Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Congressman Hermann appeared today before the house committee on public lands in favor of the bill forfeiting the land grant of the Northern Pacific railroad from Wallula Junction to Portland. He showed that 2,500,000 would be restored to public domain and settlers greatly relieved.

WHISKY SMUGGLING.

A Systematic Traffic Carried on Across the Border.

Ottawa, Can., March 7.—Attention has been called in parliament to the fact that houses for smuggling purposes have been built on the boundary line between Canada and the United States. Bowell, minister of customs, said his department made efforts to secure cooperation of the United States government in dealing with such resorts. Whisky was frequently stored in those houses on the Canadian side, and on the approach of Canadian officers it would be removed to the United States side where it could not be touched, and vice versa.

Slight Earthquake.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—There was a shock of earthquake here last night. No damage was done, but fears are entertained of recurring shocks. This city is located in the valley thirty miles north of Los Angeles, where many slight shocks have been felt. An earthquake in October, 1868, shook down many chimneys and light fire-

The Dead Come To Life.

BIRMINGHAM, Conn., March 7.—Mary A. Burr was married recently in Santa Cruz, N. M., to O. S. Moses. When a child she lived with a family named Andrews in this place, but one morning she was missing. Search was made and pieces of her clothing were found strewn along the Saugatuck River. It was supposed that she had committed suicide and search was made for her body, but it was never found. Many people suspected foul play, but no evidence of this ever came to light, the only grounds for the supposition being the cruelty of Andrews. The news of her marriage was, therefore, a surprise, as this was the first that had been heard of her since her disappearance. The cause of her disappearance was that a brother, hearing of her miserable life, abducted her.

Transfer of Army Headquarters.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—A member of the Kansas congressional delegation had a conference with Secretary Proctor today in regard to the proposed transfer of the headquarters of the department of the Missouri from Leavenworth to St. Louis, and the secretary consented to defer action a few days. The reason for the proposed change is that it is regarded as undesirable to have the department headquarters and post headquarters at the same place. The secretary has under consideration also the transfer of the headquarters from Vancouver barracks to Portland, Or., but there is no likelihood of an immediate change.

Wild Animals Feasted on the Corpses.

CALISTOGA, Cal., March 7.—The body of Walter Rice, who disappeared while stopping at Lawley's toll house, on Mount St. Helens, early in November last, was found a few hundred yards from the toll house, a short distance from the road. The body had been covered with snow much of the time, and wild animals had been feeding upon it. Death is attributed to exposure.

Failed for Half a Million.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Belloc & Co., one of the oldest banking firms in the city, assigned for half a million dollars today.

Fire in a California Town.

PASADENA, March 7.—A destructive fire was caused by a lamp exploding and destroyed the Nevada house early this morning. Loss, $6500; insurance, $4000.

Watered Whiskey Seized in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 7.—Collector Mauer has seized a number of barrels of whiskey selected from various houses doing a wholesale whiskey business here, and the peculiar methods they have been following to meet competition in the trade have at least the element of novelty. The collector said: "We discovered that a number of dealers are in the habit of reducing the proof-standard of whiskey and selling it to their customers fully 20 per cent below the proof guaranteed by the United States certificate. After the whiskey is seized and the proof found to be a certain standard, 20 or 30 per cent of it is withdrawn from the barrels which are then filled up

AFRICAN SLAVES.

A Suggestion for the Prevention of the Horrible Traffic.

One suggestion has been made which is worth mentioning, as coming from an able writer, says Blackwood's Magazine, who, parading and acquainted with West Africa, has a special right to be heard on the question. Dr. Blyden suggests the establishment of black regiments with native officers, under, as we understand him the British flag, to be stationed at important trading centers in the interior. We have been so accustomed by writers like the author of the biography before us to condemn slavery and all the miseries of Africa with Islam alone that we are apt to forget what a large proportion of African slavery is carried on among the heathen negro tribes who have nothing to do with Islam at all. It seems, indeed, an inherent propensity of the race.

Professor Henry Drummond says that you cannot send three negroes with a message but two of them will seize the third man and sell him. And the main object of this domestic slave trade makes it more horrible still, for a large proportion of the victims are purchased for the purpose of sacrifice, not less than half a million of lives, it is said, being thus consumed yearly. It is sometimes suggested that the practice of selling prisoners of war at all events saves them from being massacred, but there does not seem to be much in this argument, since most of the wars are probably undertaken for the sake of capturing slaves.

It is obvious, if only from the vast extent of the regions involved, that this internal slave trade could never be counteracted by such means as the armed bands above suggested. The best hope, probably lies in the gradual operation of the great chartered companies, as the British East African and Niger Company, who will encourage legitimate industry and, especially if backed up when needful by our own Government, will make war difficult for the tribes under their control.

How He Bathed a Sailor's Sword Cuts in Salt Water

New York, March 6.—The World prints at length a statement made by Fireman Walker, of the United States corvette Enterprise, regarding the conduct of Commander McCalla toward him.

Walker, it will be remembered, is the man who was cut down by McCalla with a sword. Walker swears he was not drunk, that he was put on water and given a man who was drunk and raising a big row when McCalla came on board from a ball ashore. Lieutenant Mulligan reported both Walker and the mate for drunkenness. Walker, in the meantime, had been chained up to a gun.

He endeavored to explain to McCalla that he was not drunk, but the latter ordered the officer of the watch to cut him down. The officer hesitating, McCalla sent for his sword and did it himself, amid the loud murmurs from the crew. When Walker was lying senseless and bleeding on the deck, McCalla had him dosed repeatedly with salt water.

Walker tells of the repeated punishment inflicted upon him, causelessly and says he was finally forced to desert the ship to save his life.

From the actions of McCalla and other commissioned officers Walker says he believes they wanted him to desert, so he would be out of the way and prevent a possible investigation when the Enterprise returned home. At every port entered McCalla would pay him all the money due up to that time.

Roads To Be Built This Year.

"The Engineering News" of this week will say: The map of prospective railway construction in 1890 shows that the work of railway extension during the coming season promises more activity than in any season since 1887. The summary of our detailed list of various enterprises shows 5,038 miles of railway partly completed or in process of construction; 7,041 miles surveyed or under survey, and 2,831 miles of lines not yet surveyed, but whose projectors are pushing them with such energy that the prospects seem fair for the beginning of actual work before the close of the year. This makes a total of 14,910 miles of lines in the United States which have a prospect of being completed or placed under construction before the close of the year. The total for Canada is: Construction, 914 miles; surveys, 438 miles; projected, 786 miles; total, 2,138 miles. As seen by our map, the bulk of the enterprises now under way are in the South and Southwest, on the coal roads of Pennsylvania and Ohio, and in extreme northwest of Montana and Washington. In the totals of prospective mileage for separate States (including all the classes of work, construction, surveys and projects), Pennsylvania and Georgia stand at the head with over 900 miles; New York, Ohio, North Carolina and Tennessee have between 700 and 800 miles on our map, and Texas, Alabama and Washington between 600 and 700 miles. Virginia and West Virginia show each over 500 miles of prospective lines, of which a large proportion are certain of completion. Almost all of the lines in prospect are rather short, and are generally furthered to develop comparatively local interests. The majority of lines shown will so shorten distances or develop new territory that they have a legitimate right to eventual success.
