

Morning Daily Herald

SPECIAL, 12:30 A. M.

Not to see our stoves and ranges before buying is a mistake. Mistakes are always costly. In heating stoves we have the largest as well as the most carefully selected stock in the city.

GEORGE W. SMITH.

ON SALE.

The DAILY HERALD will be on sale each morning at the new stand of W. F. Kub's, where it can be procured at 5 cents per copy.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For Albany and vicinity—Following is the forecast for 24 hours, ending at 8 p. m. to-day: Rain; slightly warmer.

NOTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

John S. Lindsay Monday evening. See adv. elsewhere in this issue.

The annual school election for the Albany district will occur next Monday.

A lot of very nice California cabbage just received at Spencer & Blackburn's.

Fresh candies, nuts, figs, oranges, lemons, etc. at Spencer & Blackburn's.

Try Silver Quarter plug out. A splendid smoke. Progressive dealers keep it.

A good second hand organ for sale cheap at the art studio over Linn County bank.

James Elkins has returned from Portland, where he sold a drove of eighteen horses.

Geo. A. Wagner, clerk of the state railroad commission, was in the city yesterday.

A fine fruit farm for rent, extra inducements offered. Inquire of the Oregon Land Co.

A new weekly paper is soon to be started at Halsey. This will make six in Linn county.

M. J. Monteith left yesterday for Spokane Falls. He will be joined by his wife in a few days.

A new lot of very nice dried beef, which will be shipped to order at Spencer & Blackburn's.

We will guarantee you as good or better goods for the same money as any house in town. Spencer & Blackburn.

The river is a trifle over sixteen feet above low water mark. The snow is steadily disappearing from the mountains.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society will be held at the residence of Mrs. L. E. Blain on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

J. L. Wigle, of Muddy Station, was in the city yesterday and informs us that his young nursery of fruit trees is doing remarkably well.

New residences continue to dot the city from one end to the other. They all rent readily at fair prices. There are no vacant residences in Albany.

Samuel Daw, who lives above Peoria, was over at Corvallis and the rising water of the Willamette shut him off from home, causing him a trip via this city yesterday.

At the annual school meeting at Stayton the proposition that a $2000 building be put up and that a 20 mill tax be levied and that the board be empowered to borrow what should be lacking, was carried, 21 to 19.

F. H. Pfeiffer has added a new and delicious drink to his soda fountain. It is the popular Eastern beverage, "Whipped Cream Soda." He has secured the exclusive right for it in Albany and will supply it regularly to his customers.

Dr. Patton treats successfully all diseases of women, and guarantees to cure all curable private diseases. He has a sure remedy for catarrh of the head. He sleeps in his office and answers city calls day or night. Consultation is free and everything is strictly confidential. He can be found in his office in Blumberg's block from 10 to 12, 2 to 4 and 7 to 8.

A Seattle young lady found a horse shoe and, wishing for good luck, placed it under her pillow with her false teeth. In the morning she substituted the shoe for the teeth and wore it for some time before the mistake was discovered.

Visitors and strangers in Albany and citizens also are cordially invited to visit the photo parlors of Crawford & Paxton in Forman's block and look at our large collection of views and portraits, and you could not please your friends East better than by sending them some of our fine views of Oregon, which we sell very low.

As an instance of the loss of stock in the John Day section, it is related that two piles of dead horses were found on Bridge Creek, one of eighteen and the other nine head. They had evidently huddled together to escape the cold, and perished one by one.

The senate committee on military affairs has ordered a favorable report upon the bill to appropriate money to reimburse the states of California, Nevada and Oregon for expenses incurred to aid in suppressing the rebellion. The amounts are: To California, $428,892; Oregon, $76,272; Nevada, $400,907.

A BIG STEP FORWARD.

The "Herald" Will Take the Associated Press Report, Creating a Night Telegraphic Office.

A short time ago the HERALD announced that it was making arrangements for the enlargement of its regular daily issue and the publication of a larger and more complete telegraphic news service. These arrangements have now been perfected, and beginning on the 15th inst. the HERALD will present its readers with the regular Associated Press telegraphic service, received up to about 2 o'clock each morning. This is an undertaking of no small magnitude.

We have heretofore paid a considerable amount for telegraphic news, but the service at best has been meager and unsatisfactory. There is but one Associated Press, and it furnishes the news to all the principal newspapers of the country, and will do so regularly for the HERALD. Our special telegraphic service will also be continued, one column being added to each page, and the local news department will receive special attention.

In order to meet the expenses of these improvements the price of subscription to the daily issue, as well as the advertising rates, will necessarily be raised somewhat, but not beyond the legitimate remuneration due to an enterprising public journal.

The railroad connections of this city, together with her natural advantages and the forces now at work for her improvement and growth, are destined to make Albany one of the chief cities of Oregon, and as a factor in such growth the HERALD proposes to use every legitimate endeavor to promote all deserving public enterprises, to work for the rights and interests of the people and the city, and to publish as wide a scope of news as possible. It is for this purpose that the HERALD has expended a large amount of money to secure the Associated Press telegraphic service, and to give the people of Albany a newspaper in the full sense of the word—one that is a credit to the city, and which will return value received to readers and business men who patronize it.

A PUBLIC PARK WANTED.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:

Believing that the public press is the proper vehicle for the expression of public opinion, I desire to ask for sufficient space in your columns to suggest that one important needed improvement in Albany is being sadly neglected. I refer to the necessity of a public park. The city is growing, and land for this purpose cannot always be obtained as reasonably as now. A well kept public park would be an ornament to the city, and is not a very expensive luxury either. Men who are real town-builders would not hesitate about the matter as many years as Albany has done, when such natural resources for this purpose are at hand. Along with the other improvements of the coming summer the question of a city park should be taken into consideration, and a park established. An excellent way to start it would be for some enterprising land owner to donate the grounds, providing the city would improve and keep up the park.

CITIZEN.

ALBANY, March 7, 1890.

Farwell Party.

A pleasant farwell party was tendered Mr. Walter T. Wiles at the residence of Alfred Dawson Thursday evening. Mr. Wiles has resigned his position in Foshay & Mason's drug store, and has accepted the position of cashier in the Benton County Bank of Corvallis. The members of the V. L. Society of the Baptist church, of which he has been president for several years, assembled to bid him good-bye. They presented him with a beautiful gold diamond set locket, inscribed with his name and bearing the names of the original thirteen charter members of the society.

A Purifier of the Drama.

The Pendleton Tribune remarks: Actor Bandmann told a very unpleasant truth about the decadence of the drama in a neat little appeal for better patronage on Friday night. He said that vulgar plays and players drew better houses and more diamonds than tragedies and tragedians. We might suggest to Actor Bandmann that if he won't descend from the high pedestal as a purifier of the drama he occupies and become sufficiently steeped in vulgarity to realize that Hamlet didn't wax his mustache and wear suspenders, he too would get more patronage.

The Democrats Will Meet.

A meeting of the democratic state central committee of the state of Oregon is called, to be held at the Chemekete hotel parlors, Salem, Oregon, at 2 o'clock p. m. on Wednesday, the 19th day of March, 1890, for the purpose of appointing the time and place of holding the democratic state convention.

Pocket Cutlery.

The largest and finest display every brought to this valley just received at Stewart & Sox's. Call and examine.

Try Hubbard's flavoring extracts; they are pure.

TOOK TIME BY THE FORELOCK.

The Yaquina Board of Trade Did Not Let the Grass Grow Under Foot.

The Yaquina Board of Trade hastened to take advantage of the flood in the Willamette and the consequent disarrangement of mail service to memorialize congress for liberal appropriations for the jetties at Yaquina bay.

They submitted the fact that during the recent floods "the Oregon Pacific" railroad was the first line in operation from the seaboard to the Willamette valley, and that for the last week past the United States mails have been and are now being sent over the Oregon Pacific Company's road from Corvallis to Albany, thence giving the northern and southern part of Oregon and California mail facilities; in other words, nearly all the interior is indebted to this line for mails and transportation. Thus the importance of the harbor at Yaquina bay is made plain, connected, as it is, by a railroad crossing at right angles all other lines of travel, both rail and water, in the Willamette valley.

Lindsay Monday Evening.

The reappearance of the celebrated tragedian John S. Lindsay at the reopening of the opera house Monday will no doubt be the occasion of a crowded house. The Salem Journal says of the play in that city: "The play of Ingotman was last night listened to by a highly selected audience. The drama is purely Greek in its construction and simplicity. There is hardly a breath of levity in its lines, and it inculcates the noblest principles of truth and honor and reveals the shallowness, corruption and base treachery of the Greek civilization. As Ingotman, Mr. Lindsay reveals his noble powers as a tragedian. His majestic force, his powerful presentations of noble heroic virtues, and yet tender and sympathetic as a child, wins the heart of all. One of his daughters, Miss Luella Lindsay, took "Parthenia" in a most lovely manner. Her Greek figures and feature; her noble and chaste impersonation of maidenly purity; the lesson of the power that womanly charms and chastity wield over brute strength and animal passion—all these grand conceptions this sweet young actress carries from beginning to end with force and power."

Patents Granted.

The following patents have been granted to inventors in the Pacific States during the past week: D. Best, San Leandro, Cal., steering-wheel carriage; W. F. Bowers, San Francisco, rotary joint; E. A. Cochran, Pasadena, Cal., pendulum bar treadle; F. W. Cook, San Francisco, saw-dust burner. W. L. Crooks, Sonoma, Cal., hair-restorer; O. J. Fisk, Colterville, Cal., whiffletree connection; T. W. Heintzelman, Wash., harrow; C. Packard, Fresno, Cal., raisin-grader; S. H. Pratt, Brownsville, Cal., shifter for gang-edgers; H. S. Pugsley, Oakland, Cal., journal-box protector; W. S. Rogers, Los Angeles, Cal., printers galley; P. Seiler, San Francisco, call-box annunciator; G. W. Swan, San Francisco, mixer; C. W. Tremain, Portland, Ore., automatic cut-off valve; S. B. Whiteside, Los Angeles, Cal., duplex ledger-ruler; R. W. Whitney, San Francisco, telephone-mouth. Drawings and specifications of any of these patents will be sent to the government price, 25 cents, in stamps. Always give date of paper and address C. A. Snow & Co.

NOTES FROM JEFFERSON.

JEFFERSON, March 6, 1890. Jefferson, along with the other towns of Oregon, is growing. The Jefferson Flouring Mill Co. has remodeled and rebuilt the mills, making them among the best on the Pacific Coast. They are full roller process, consisting of Smith's purifiers, centrifugal and inter elevator bolts and Smith's scalp-ers. The mills are finished in California red-wood and are prepared to manufacture a fine grade of flour.

Among the leading merchants are Banzler & Co., who carry a stock of general merchandise, and are noted far and near for their liberal and fair dealing.

The people of this place are in earnest on the bridge question. There is considerable business here that should go to Albany, and would do so if the Santiam was bridged here. The people will expect and demand that the Linn county court join with Marion county's offer of $6000 and help build the proposed bridge.

For Sunday's Dinner.

Comb honey, Sauer kraut, Pickles, Chow chow, Cabbage, Oranges, Lemons, Smyrna figs, The mungs, Persian dates, Prunes, Dried apricots, Almonds, Dried plums, Pecans, Dried peaches, Walnuts, Celery, Bananas, Onions, Parsnips, Carrots, Ficcaililly, Chipped beef.

Fine dressed chickens. Call early and select from the above, just received at the Willamette Packing Company's.

Stall Fed Beef.

Haight Bros., of this city have purchased thirty head of fine, fat stall fed beef. Twenty-one head were purchased of Green McDonald, of Scio. The price paid was 4 cents gross, or about 8 cents net the drove. They will use them in supplying the market with the best beef obtainable in the country.

A Good Investment.

Twenty-four feet on First street, in the best block in Albany, for sale at a bargain. The property will double in value in two years. WALLACE & CUSICK.

THE CHINOOK SALMON.

They are in Danger of Extinction Through Illegal Fishing.

The salmon industry of the Pacific Coast is one of great importance, both to the people of this state and abroad. Oregon has a law on this subject, but it is defective.

Fish Commissioner Thompson recently said on this subject: "Although no instances have been brought to our attention, the probability is that the salmon law is still being violated by some fishermen. We are in some doubt as to whether we would be able to secure a conviction in case we should make an arrest. If there is any chance at all to convict we shall not hesitate to prosecute, but there is no use of going to needless expense. That a steeltine is not a salmon. The result is both Chinook salmon and steelheads are caught and few know the difference between the two kinds of fish. The law is really defective, for it gives fishermen too much latitude under the inducements to violate the law are too great. The law which we got through the last legislature was vetoed by Governor Penneyer. It was identical in its provisions to the law passed by the Washington legislature which will go into effect ninety days after the legislative adjourns. The law protects steelheads, Chinook salmon and bluebacks during the close season and that is the law that should protect our salmon in Oregon."

Another gentleman, speaking of this matter, said:

"If the Chinook salmon in the Columbia river have to wait for a new law to pass in this state or the Olympia legislature to adjourn, their chances for life are exceedingly slim. It is some time yet before the Oregon legislature convenes, and the Washington lawmakers are having such a good time that it would be unreasonable to expect them to adjourn before they have at least one July picnic. Ninety days thereafter the law will become a law in effect as well as in letter, but will there be any chinook to protect by that time. A naturalist, who was in the city a few days ago, wanted a few Chinook salmon for a college museum. The inference is not mystic. The salmon can expect but little protection until the protective party gets back into power."

The Handsomest Lady
