SEATTLE'S

Mighty growth the last ten years into one of the world's great cities is without a parallel. No one can now portray her resources or the continued prosperity that the years of the future will pour into her

WORLD-RENOWNED HARBORS

And her scenic shore lines on lakes and sound. Never has the hand of nature been so lavish in her gifts as to make the Worlds Last Great City.

Rome, on her seven hills, was as nothing to Seattle's snow crowned Olympics on the north and west. Cascades on the east and south, and from those mighty bulwarks of strength, energy inspiration-giving, there arises the mighty Mount Rainier, a peak above every competitor on the Pacific, reminding one of SEATTLE, THE QUEEN CITY.

At the base, which, in another score of years, will pass in population every city on the Pacific, the world's largest ocean.

THE WASSOM ADDITION

JUST PUT ON THE MARKET.

Lots $200 and upwards. Will be taken off the market in 30 Days.

Some of its Advantages:

Every lot in full view of Mount Rainier and Lake Washington; on railroad at depot; adjoining Ravenna Park; an electric railway as soon as can be completed to it; half dozen fine residences already under contract on addition; a $25,000 female college to be opened September, 1890. Without doubt the

WASSOM'S ADDITION

Is the place where people of money, sense and refinement will make their homes, and why? Because the college, the mineral springs, Ravenna Park, the view of Mount Rainier, (which is grander here than anywhere else on Puget Sound) if for no other reason, would make it most desirable.
In Seattle's mighty city is building. Take hold of the best while you have a chance at at lowest prices.

TO THE PIONEER A WORD:

Why did you cross the plains? Why did you take your life and that of others in your hands and come to the Coast? What pen can write the history? You have conquered this land, made the growth of great cities imperative and the amassing of colossal fortunes, almost in a day, possible.
Now, by the investment of a few thousand, or hundred dollars, you may reap the harvest that belongs to you. Will you do it? The greatest corporations, the ablest financiers of Europe and America are investing thousands, nay, millions, in Seattle. Will you not invest? Your chance is NOW. Seize it.
I have a 60 acre tract, an 80 and two 40 acre tracts. Only a few left—cheap; ripe for planting, any one of which will make you a fortune in a short time.
Buy quick. I can't duplicate them.

Rev. J. R. Kirkpatrick is among you and the sole agent for Wassom's Addition in Oregon. Call on him at once.
I will be in Albany in a few days and will remain only a day. I would be glad to meet you personally and urge you to join us in the material upbuilding of Seattle, the Queen City of the Pacific. When in Seattle be sure and call at room 348, Seattle Block, where I will take pleasure in showing you the city.

OVER THE WIRES.

The Day's Proceedings at the National Capital.

THE IMMIGRATION MATTERS.

The Jury in the Case Against Sarah Althea Terry Disagree and Are Discharged—Eastern News.

The Herald's Special Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The senate concurred in resolution for the investigation of emigration matters was laid before the senate with two amendments extending the investigation to the purchase of American industries by foreign capital and the use of Bedloe's Island, in the New York harbor as an immigration depot. The amendments were concurred in and resolution passed both houses. Senate then agreed to the resolution to exclude from the congressional records the interpublic made by call in the report of a discussion with Chandler on the 20th of February. Year 36, nays 14. The democrats voting in affirmative: Payne, Pugh, Cockrell and Vance.
The senate then proceeded to consider the resolution declaring it competent for the senate to elect a president pro tem who shall execute the duties thereof when the vice-president is absent.

SARAH ALTHEA IS FREE.

The Jury Disagreed and They Were Discharged.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—The trial of Mrs. Sarah Althea Terry in the United States district court on a charge of contempt in resisting the United States Marshal in the circuit court room in September 1888 closed yesterday.
The jury after remaining out all night came into the court this morning and announced that they had disagreed and were discharged.
They stood 8 for acquittal and 4 for conviction.

THE CONTRACT CLOSED.

Final Arrangements Made for the China Steamers.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—General Traffic Manager Mellen, of the Union Pacific, and Ben Campbell, general freight agent of the Pacific division of the same road, which comprises the Oregon Short Line, spent the entire day in consultation with Fourth Vice-President Stubbs and General Traffic Manager Gray, of the Southern Pacific.
They finally closed the contract with Frank Upton, of Japan, for a monthly steamer each way between Portland and Yokohama and Hong Kong. The terms of the contract between Mr. Upton and the Union Pacific are not known, but the Union Pacific will exclusively enjoy the benefits of the arrangements. The establishment of this new trans-Pacific line requires rate adjustments which it is understood the gentlemen mentioned are attending to.

THE SWELLING FLOODS.

Ohio Does Not Compare With Ohio and Mississippi Floods.

CAIRO, Ill., March 12.—The Ohio River has been over fifty miles wide at this point. It extended from Cairo level, which held its banks up forty feet above the lower water mark in Kentucky till it struck the hills there, forming one solid sheet of water, except for the narrow strips of rock-bound earth upon which the Mobile and Ohio and Illinois Central railroads run South. A mile below here it joined the Mississippi, which in turn extended into Missouri another fifty miles, making the combined width of the two rivers over 100 miles. The current is terrific, and brings great quantities of heavy drift, making navigation perilous. The ferryboat Three States made two trips to East Cairo, Ky., and one up the Mississippi to Missouri, rescuing people stranded out on ground which they supposed was beyond the reach of the flood, but which was being rapidly submerged.

ON THE CUSTOMS UNION.

Reports Presented to the Pan-American Congress.

Pan-American Congress discussed the report of the Committee on International Law, and finally adopted it. The first committee of the Conference to make majority and minority reports was that on Customs Union. They were presented to-day. The majority says that the establishment of a customs union, as generally understood, would require not only a partial sacrifice of the National sovereignty of the American nations, but more radical changes in their respective constitutions than they are willing to accept.

The majority believe that the principle of unrestricted reciprocity is acceptable, and that its adoption, would, in all probably, bring about as favorable results as those obtained by free trade among the different States of this union. A customs union on this basis, however, the majority deem impracticable as a continental system at present. But if it is not easy, says the majority, to arrive at once at unrestricted reciprocity, that end might be obtained gradually. The first step in that direction is the negotiation of partial reciprocity treaties among the American nations, whereby each may agree to remove or diminish their respective import duties upon some of the natural or manufactured products of one or more of the other nations in exchange for similar and equivalent advantages.
If a good result should follow the number of articles on the free list might be enlarged from time to time. Therefore the majority proposes: "To recommend to such of the Governments represented in the Conference as may desire partial reciprocity, to make commercial treaties with one or more of the countries, under such a basis as may be acceptable in each case, taking into consideration the special situation, condition and interests of each country, and with a view to promote their common welfare."

HEAVY LOSS.

Cold Rains in Southern California Destroy Valuable Horses.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 11.— During the recent cold rains a lot of valuable brood mares belonging to E. J. Baldwin, which had been turned out to pasture on his Santa Anita ranch, took cold and eight of them have been prostrated with congestion of the lungs. Two Aces, Fallenleaf, and another costly mare died. Maggie Emerson, dam of Mollie McCarthy, will not survive. She is valued far in the thousands. The loss will reach $150,000.

Importation of American Cattle.

LONDON, March 11.—John Leng, member for Dundee, in the House of Commons asked whether the Department of Agriculture was ready to grant the demand of the Scottish farmers for equal facilities with others for importing cattle from the United States and Canada. He also asked whether the condition of American cattle justified the regulation providing for their slaughter at the port where they were landed.

Mr. Ed Lyon, whose present field of duty lies somewhere up in the Spokane or Colfax country, look- ing after the Union Pacific lines, says the last snow storm there was a terror. The ground was about bare when it began, and there came down eighteen inches of the fleecy on a level. It made lively work for the snow plows, but the trouble is all over now, and there will be no more blockades this winter, sure. Mr. Lyon says that in some places the roads run through snow banks forty feet deep, where it has been thrown up by four gangs of shovelers from one to another. It will take the chinook some time to melt away such snow banks as these. Mr. Lyon says the loss of cattle through that section will be about 26 per cent., but some per- sons have lost all.

WHY NOT?

From The Chicago Tribune.
Chief Bushyhead, Indian Territory, is spending the winter in Washington lobbying for his people's interests in the custom strips.

"Look here, Bushyhead," said a friend, "I believe you are up to some mischief. What are you staying in Washington so long for?"
"I am here for my people," said the Indian.

"What are you doing for your people?"
The old chief drew his friend aside and, effecting the manner of secrecy, said: "I am lobbying for Senator Morgan's scheme to send the negroes back to Africa."

"What have your people to do with that?"
"Why," said Bushyhead, "when we have succeeded in deporting the negroes, then we will introduce a bill to deport the white people.
That will put the country in the hands of its rightful owners."

"Well," said the white man, "if that is your game I think we shall have to adopt the suggestion of that old itinerant preacher who used to be known throughout Ohio and Indiana as 'Immortal J. N.'"

"What was that?"
"Why, right after the war he went through the country telling the people how to pay the great National debt without expense to the Federal Government. 'Let Congress pass an act,' said he, conveying the entire public domain to the Indians and requiring the creditors of the Nation to look to the Indians for payment, and then to do as it has always done before—steal the lands back from the Indians.'"

A Good Washington Hotel.

Harry Askin, who travels ahead of the Casino Opera company, tells a good story about fun-loving Jimmy Powers and a member of the Casino chorus recently imported from England, says the Boston Globe. The company had just arrived in Washington and the Englishman asked Powers for information about the hotels.
"Oh, there are lots of them here," answered the comedian. "There's the Willard, the Arlington, the

"But I mean a bloody, good house—one for two and a 'd' or three dollars a day."

"It's a bang-up hotel you want, is it, my boy? Well, there's the White House. How'll that strike you?"

"It's a good 'un?"
"None better in the land. The president and his wife stop there all the time."

"Let's get a cab and drive over.
I'd like to see his nob's, you know."

Arriving at the gate leading to the White House, Powers told his friend to go and engage the rooms.
In less than three minutes the Britisher returned, looking ferocious enough to chew the joker into mince-meat. It was an hour or two before he became sufficiently calm to appreciate the joke.
Finally, however, he recovered sufficiently to relate his experience as follows:

"I went to the door, don't cher know, an' a blooming colored chap in buttons answered the bell.
When I asked 'im where the clerk's desk was he looked at me like as I 'was crazy, an' said as there was no clerk at the White House except a man named Halford, an' he was still abed. I thought this was strange, you know but I hoverlooked it an' asked the black bloke if I could 'ave a room.
Then the blarsted smoozer burst out a-laughing an' I got mad, and when he said as 'ow they didn't run a 'otel I thought as he was a-joking of me, and was going to punch 'is 'ead for 'im, when he told me the president's private residence was 'no 'otel. Then I knowed as 'ow you 'ad joked 'me."
