SPECIAL, 12:30 A. M.

Not to see our stoves and ranges before buying is a mistake. Mistakes are always costly. In heating stoves we have the largest as well as the most carefully selected stock in the city. The stoves we offer were not bought as an experiment but as a certainty. We know what each stove will do, and they were bought for cash, so the price is right. We have specialties in heaters, beside our regular lines of Garland, Argand and Superior stoves and ranges.

A Salem View of It.

The Salem Capital Journal says: County Clerk Babcock returned this morning from Albany, where he had been in consultation with Judge Blackburn in relation to the bridge across the Santiam at Jefferson. It appears that at the time the Marion county court passed the order making an appropriation for the bridge the Linn county court had adjourned for the term, hence it becomes impossible to take definite official action until the April session. But this will not prevent the taking of preliminary steps which will leave no cause for delay if everything proves satisfactory. The county judge and one of the commissioners of Linn are in favor of joining this county with an appropriation of $6000, providing the bridge can be built for the combined amount, $12,000. To ascertain this it is thought best to advertise for bids and when the courts convene next month it will then appear what can be done. In accordance with this arrangement, County Clerk Babcock has to-day drawn up the necessary notices for bids. The other commissioner of Linn county is opposed to any appropriation for the bridge, but he lives in the south end of the county, and has no sympathy with the movement.

To Move, A Town.

Regarding the moving of the town of Prineville, in Eastern Oregon, the Review, the leading paper of the town says: "There is no use to conceal the fact that the business men and capitalists of this place are only waiting for the advent of the O. P. railroad when they will lose no time in doing it. Where the road crosses the great Deschutes river will spring up a town in as many weeks as it has taken years to make Prineville what it is to-day. There is no secret about this, as our merchants all say they are ready to pull up at a day's notice."

An Eastern Oregon Scene.

Riley Thompson relates having seen quite a discouraging sight while coming down the Ochoco the other day. A sheep owner had just begun to harvest his crop of pelts and had disrobed the first carcass. He stood with pet in one hand and knife in the other, surrounded by some 200 carcasses, as if contemplating which to begin on next. Such a situation is, indeed, disheartening, for the dead sheep no doubt represented the hard earnings of the owner for years.—Ochoco Review.

BOARD OF TRADE OF MEETING.

New Life Infused Into the Organization—Printing Committee Appointed.

A special meeting of the Albany Board of Trade was held at the W. C. T. U. hall last evening. The meeting was called to order by the president, S. E. Young. Several enthusiastic speeches were made, and a general desire was shown to place the Board of Trade upon an active working footing.

The secretary, Jay W. Blain, read the constitution and by-laws of the organization.

On motion it was ordered that dues amounting to $5 be collected from all old members, and that all new members pay $5 as an initiation fee.

T. L. Wallace was appointed to fill the vacancy on the membership committee caused by the removal of Charles Monteith.

The following new names were added to the list of members: Dr. M. H. Ellis, J. V. Pipe, E. G. Beardsley, A. J. Anslin and E. D. Cusick.

The secretary was authorized to appoint an assistant secretary and to pay him for his services.

The following committee on printing was appointed, with instructions to report at the next meeting: F. P. Nutting, T. L. Wallace, L. Viereck and J. K. Whitney.

One or two members were inclined to criticize the Oregonian correspondent at Albany because this city has not occupied a big space in the Oregonian's columns after the fashion of Anacortes or Pasco. They probably did not realize what a lot of gall it was to expect a local correspondent to undertake the task of getting such a volume of advertising matter published free of charge. It certainly was in bad taste for members of the board of trade, which has done nothing for many months toward advertising the city, to lay the blame for the lack of such advertising at the door of the newspaper correspondent.

On motion the board adjourned to meet on the first Monday in April.

CIRCUIT COURT PROCEEDINGS.

The following cases were disposed of yesterday:

Stock Losses in Crook County.

The Ochoco Review says that although the loss of stock in Crook county has been great, it is not believed to be so severe as was at first reported. Some have lost nearly everything, but there are many who have lost very little, and it is now believed that the loss will not exceed 40 per cent.

GRAND ARMY BOYS.

Department of Oregon In Session at Eugene City.

The department held no evening session on Wednesday, but were the guests of the Women's Relief Corps of Eugene, at an entertainment at the opera house, which was largely attended and enjoyed. Mayor Hovey made an excellent address of welcome which was replied to by Commander McElroy. During the exercises of the evening a national flag prepared for J. W. Geary Post G. A. R. by the J. W. Geary Woman's Relief Corps was presented to the public school of Eugene, being made by Mrs. Delano in a truly eloquent manner, replied to by Prof. J. M. Williams, principal of the public school. The entire programme was interesting and superbly rendered.

The morning exercises of Thursday were suspended for an hour, by invitation, to participate in the unfurling of the flag presented to the public school, upon the public school grounds, where the children of the public school were assembled under the able generalship of Prof. Williams, and were joined with the Women's Relief Corps. The colors were thrown to the breeze from the prepared staff on the apex of the building; at the moment Frank Taylor, one of the pupils of the school, stepped from the ranks and proposed three cheers for the Post and Corps, which were given with a will. Three hearty cheers were given by the G. A. R. boys for the public school and the old flag when the department returned to its work.

A resolution offered by Comrade Allen, of Portland, was adopted, creating a committee of five to draft a memorial to congress asking that a national soldiers' home be located on the North Pacific coast. J. P. Galbraith offered a resolution which was referred to the committee to have the home, if established, located at Albany.

A resolution offered by F. M. Miller, of Lebanon, asking a memorial to our members in congress to support the pension bills recommended by the G. A. R. Also D. W. Matthews offered a resolution memorializing congress to so amend the pension laws so that the family of a pensioner, when deserving on his death, receive a continuation of the pension, both of which were adopted.

Post Commander A. E. Borthwick offered a resolution commending the recommendation of National Commander Warner that public schools flags be raised over the public school buildings, which was adopted with enthusiasm. Z. T. Wright offered a further resolution asking that a movement be made towards having the public schools sing as part of their exercises the national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner," which was adopted.

Comrade Swan, of Lebanon, offered a resolution asking the legislature to adopt a law requiring school districts to procure flags for each school district.

Among the committee reports was one on the report of the medical director, J. W. Haines, heartily commending his suggestion that a physician's certificate of the cause of the death of every member of the order be procured by the posts, to be used if necessary in evidence in procuring pensions for needy families.

An invitation from the university to visit that institution was accepted, and the department marched in a body to make the visit just before dinner.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Department officers were elected as follows: J. A. Varney, The Dalles, commander; T. M. Martin, Eugene, senior vice commander; F. M. Miller, Lebanon, junior vice; Dr. W. H. Saylor, medical director; J. F. Ellis, Forest Grove, chaplain; D. W. Matthews, H. F. McMillan, J. N. Patterson, G. W. Grannis, C. E. Dubois, executive council; B. B. Tuttle, F. D. Win ton, O. Summers, delegates to National Encampment; J. P. Galbraith, F. K. Arnold, F. M. Johnson, alternates. B. B. Tuttle, delegate at large, and J. P. Galbraith, alternate at large.

Women's Relief Corps officers: Mrs. M. H. Ellis, Forest Grove, president; Mrs. H. Sadden, senior vice; Mrs. M. J. Train, Albany, junior vice; Mrs. M. E. Chamberlain, Portland, chaplain; Mrs. Emma Odell, Forest Grove, treasurer; Mrs. S. E. Miller, Forest Grove, secretary; Mrs. J. Abraham, Roseburg, councillor; Mrs. Fannie Lounsbury, Port an instituting and installing officer; Mrs. E. Woodin, Albany, inspector; Mrs. H. Shane, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Matthews, Mrs. Swan, Mrs. Parker, executive board; Mrs. N. M. Fry, corresponding secretary.

On selection of place for the next encampment, Astoria received a majority of votes and the vote was made unanimous with enthusiasm and the second Wednesday in April, 1891, set as the time.

The officers of the corps and the encampment were installed at 4 P. M. Mrs. N. M. Fry installing for the corps and Commander McElroy for the encampment. Commander Varney named W. S. Myers, of The Dalles, assistant adjutant general, and A. G. Johnson, of The Dalles, assistant quartermaster general.

A committee on resolutions prepared a suitable series, one of which recognized the ability and accuracy of the work during the past year.

Appropriate and touching tributes were paid to the memory of those comrades who had responded to the roll call of the death angel during the past year.

E. C. Parkinson, of Nebraska, special United States pension examiner, was in attendance at the meeting and gave valuable counsel and entertaining talk.

The evening session of both encampment and corps was given to a reunion at the opera house, at which short speeches, song, piano, fife, violin and tambourine music enlivened the occasion and made it most enjoyable. The Eugene relief corps had prepared a magnificent feast, to which all of the visiting comrades and friends were given free and hearty access.

In the entertainment of the department and corps, the city of Eugene, which is one of the brightest of the Willamette Valley's growing cities, exhibited unbounded and profuse liberality. No pains were spared to make the meetings a perfect enjoyment to all who participated. In the matter of decoration every business house seemed to vie with the others to produce the most pleasing effects, and the result was a truly handsome display. The members and visitors departed for their homes with warm hearts for the generous local corps and post and citizens of Eugene.

BURNED TO DEATH.

A Little Son of Martin Bilyeu Meets a Horrible Death Near Scio.

On Thursday a little six-month-old son of Martin Bilyeu, of Scio, met with a horrible death. Mrs. Bilyeu was visiting at the residence of her mother, Mrs. F. P. Devaney, between Jefferson and Scio.

The mother placed the baby upon a rug in front of the fire-place, and with her mother left the room. Soon after they heard the child scream, and on rushing in found it enveloped in flames. It had crept up near enough to the fire to set its clothing on fire. The women seized the child and quickly put out the blaze, but it was frightfully burned, the tender flesh being almost cooked on several portions of its body.

It was conveyed at once to Scio for medical treatment, but it survived but a few hours.
