THE BOOMERS CHECKMATED.

President's Proclamation Brought Them to Their Senses.
KNOX, Kan., 15.—The laugh is on the "boomers," that is an expression of the sentiment with which the president's proclamation was received here. The boomers who had the good sense to refrain from yesterday's invasion are doing the laughing, while the more hot-headed companions look upon the matter as anything but laughable.

A third, perhaps, of the number of boomers who crossed the line yesterday have already returned or are on their way to this place. The boomers misconstrued the passage of the Oklahoma bill into an act providing for the immediate opening of the country to settlement.

ENFORCED BY DRUOPS.
WASHINGTON, March 15.—Adjutant-General Nelson, has telegraphed General Merritt, of the Second Louisiana regiment, to use the troops if necessary and with prudence as heretofore to enforce the proclamation issued by the president relative to intruders on the Cherokee strip of land. This order was sent by direction of the secretary of war.

STAKING OF CLAIMS.
ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., March 15.—Nearly every quarter section of land for eighteen miles south of this city is at present staked off, and many of them occupied by squatters. At 1 o'clock the news that the president had issued an order ordering all settlers off the strip was received. In a few minutes a large number of men had staked off claims and returned here for provisions.

Some counselled prompt compliance with the president's order, but others insisted that it was a good plan to hold the claims until expelled troops, and then assign the soldiers were out of sight to return and begin farming operations. The advocates of the latter plan are in the majority. Should the soldiers attempt to remove them there will be no organization, but it is believed that they will take an army of men to keep them from settling back on the strip.

BURNING THE PRAIRIES.
ARKANSAS CITY, March 15.—From several points in the outlet comes the news of the burning of the prairies. It had been generally agreed upon that the first thing for the settlers to do was to start prairie fires, and much of the strip has been burned over. The flames drove most of the cattle before them and also destroyed the fodder which those remaining might have fed on. Cattle men are depressed over the gloomy prospects.

Said Henry of the Cherokee Strip Cattle Co. today: "There were before the invasion about 80,000 head of cattle on the strip. I do not believe the most energetic action on the part of the cattlemen and government can save us from great loss. If left in the strip the cattle will starve, and we can't ship feed to them. So we have 80,000 head of cattle good for nothing but hides, glue and bone fat."

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

New York Has Not Yet Given Up All Hope.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—For the first time since the house decided the question of the site, the full committee on the world's fair met today and received the report of the sub-committee in the shape of a bill providing for the fair with amendments made to suit the wishes of the Chicago people.

The proceeding was not entirely harmonious, and before the conclusion of the session it became evident that the New York representatives were disposed to differ from the sub-committee in respect to the financial scheme and other important details.

Becken offered a resolution to the effect that it is inexpedient to adopt a bill on the subject of the world's fair until Chicago furnishes the site and a $1,000,000 security. The resolution was modified to read as follows:

When a guaranty of $1,000,000 is secured, the sufficiency and legality of which is satisfactory, the committee will report the pending bill with such amendment as the committee may agree upon.

ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Associated Press is closely allied with the Reuter, Havas and Wolf news bureaus of Europe, and is thus enabled to cover the news of the world daily its cable and wire connections penetrating every part of the globe where any news of interest can be found.

The general plan of the organization is to grant franchises for stated periods to one or more newspapers in each city where telegraphic news is desired. The cost of this franchise is large and the telegraphic tolls must be paid in addition. Prices vary with the number of words furnished per day and with the difference in telegraphic facilities. The price of the franchise goes to the Associated Press to pay its newsgatherers and every member of the association is employed by it, on a salary, to furnish the news of its particular territory for the benefit of the entire association. The news is sent by dispatches from all the members within its field, condensed them and transmits all that is of general interest to every member in this country. Important matters such as large shipping, railway or other great disasters are cabled across the oceans to Australia, Japan, China and Europe and published there simultaneously with their publication in this country.

The Herald is now a member in good standing of this gigantic organization, and will give its readers the news of the world, as well as our own state, fresh each morning. Great newspapers are the result of a steady growth. The Herald is not as large now as it publishes as much news as the New York Tribune, but it promises to give Albany a good newspaper and to enlarge its size and quantity of news, as well as to improve in every department if the people of Albany encourage such a course.
