EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE danger that lurks in land slides has been amply illustrated, this season. In various localities the treacherous slides have not only destroyed property, but have also caused the destruction of lives, and cast sadness and gloom over communities.

THE lack of the requisite coin, or the brains and cunning to draw the coin from other individuals who could use him as a tool for vengeance or spite, has at last retired the Tichborne claimant from public view in England. He can now go back to his butcher's block or starve.

IT makes a great differance whose ox is being gored. The Washington legislature has been held up as one of the worst of legislative bodies, nntil it opens out upon the mortgage tax law subject, when lo! and behold it is a pattern of wisdom and propriety. Ah! yes, anything to make a seeming plea on that side of the question.

THE English elections this season seem to be resulting in liberal gains. Gladstonian candidates are in the ascendant having been elected in nearly every case. These facts, and indeed all practical pointers from Continental Europe point to tho rapid advancement of liberal ideas. The days of monarchies is rapidly drawing to a close.

THE spirit of North pole exploration, which has been dead since the return of the ill starred Greely party, is again on the revive, this time by the Norweigian people, who have been urged into enthusiasm over the prospect of being first in at the pole and flying the Norwegian colors from its apex. To them be the glory if they want it, and the rest of the world can complaisantly look on and appland vociferously when they gain it. To the victor belong the spoils and if they can find such an article at the North pole for mercy sake let 'em have it.

THE peculiar phase of mind that enables persons, who claim honesty, foresight and calculation, to see a bettering of the farmer's condition by admitting free raw material, thus increasing competition and still lowering the price of commodities which is the present cause of the farmers embarrassments, is truly a wonder, and approaches to the condition that assumes white is black and black is white. To assume that the tariff is the cause of low prices of farm products is a claim without foundation, for the present tariff ruled when farm products brought good prices, and to scape goat the tariff is disingenuous to say the least, and savors very much of an effort to create a false impression on grounds perfectly untenable.

ONE of the claims of the English people, and those who are enamored of every thing that is "English you know," is that a national debt is a blessing. That the bonds that the government pays such heavy interest upon are really tho anchor sheet of the ship of state. The thinking man, however, is not yet ready to admit the proposition that a nation is benefited by being obliged to pay heavy interest charges to holders of "consols," for the fact is too obvious that one set of people must be taxed in order to raise the money necessary to pay interest charges to the other set, but there is no doubt something in the idea that so long as the government can meet its obligations the existence of a debt is an element of stability. This being the case, the question naturally arises, What would be the result if Senator Stanford's scheme were put into practice, and the national government were converted into a money lender? If everybody owed the government what incentive would there be for people to come to its rescue in times of peril? Would they not all stand aloof and trust to a new deal to relieve them of their obligations?

THE Burchell case, which has resulted in the finding of Burchell guilty of the murder of the young Englishman Benwell, will cause a more thorough examination into the methods and practices of the so called emigration agencies in London. These places offer great inducements for pupils to learn the farming, stock-raising and fruit growing business in America. The youth who signs a contract with the agency is forced to pay so much down and to defray his own expenses. The chances are that he soon becomes disgusted and either leaves for other parts of the country or returns to England. They have had considerable experience with these frauds in California, the fruit-growing school farm in Fresno being an example. If the English people had any accurate knowledge of the United States they could not be swindled in this way, but their ignorance of America is almost as dense as that of the French or the Russians. Probably not all of the agencies were based in the same plans of work as was the one which Burchell seems to have been the main conspirator. His working plan seemed to be to murder the victim in order to pocket all the swag and leave no clue behind but his crimes found him at last.

Take Simmons Liver Regulator One Dose

WORTH

100 Dollars!

DEAR S. L. R: I consider one dose of Simmons Liver Regulator worth $100. I was constipated, had Headache, could eat nothing with satisfaction or appetite had the blues, and felt altogether out of sorts. I resorted to Blue Mass, Calomel, Quinine, and every remedy suggested, but only obtained temporary relief. One dose of S L R did me more good than $100 worth of doctors and doctoring. Resp'y, J C MARTIN.

I have been a teacher for twenty years, and during that time have had repeated attacks of headache, produced by torpid Liver, and have been entirely cured by Simmons Liver Regulator. I found it to be of so mild a character in its action, as not to interfere, in the least with my duties in the school room. To those similarly situated and subject to the same, I cannot too highly recommend Simmons Liver Regulator.
