THE CRANKY COLONS

Serious Complications in the Washington Legislature.

SCOTT'S CASE CONTINUED.

His Son Did Not Commit Suicide as Was Reported—Four Alaska Whiskey Smugglers Drowned.

OLYMPIA, Wn., March 27.—A large amount of business cannot be done now at this season.

To-morrow much time will be spent in enrolling the bills already passed, and as they are assigned in an open session there will be time to act on but a few in order to get them enrolled. The most important and significant action was taken by the house in indefinitely postponing the appropriation bill passed by the senate. It was held as unfair by the house, in that it divested the small counties of at least one representative each, now allowed and apportioned according to population. The constitution requires this legislature to make the apportionment, and it is gravely doubted if the legislature can ever be convened again in Washington. The only remedy will be a special session of the legislature.

The house passed the general appropriation bill making the total appropriation as made by this legislature $700,000.

The senate passed the bill prescribing the fees of county officers. Governor Eery to-day made the following appointments:

State Librarian, Phillip D. Moore, of Clatsop county.

Trustees of the Seaside asylum, D. T. Denny, vice L. B. Andrews, declined.

Regents of the state university, John Leary and Thomas Burke, of King county; J. W. Sprague and John P. Judson, of Pierce county; J. S. Colman, of Walla Walla, and John P. Govey, of Thurston county.

State board of education, E. S. Ingraham of King county, O. A. Noble of Whitman, W. B. Turner of Columbia, and L. H. Larch of Clarke.

Trustee of Washington soldiers' home, M. M. Holmes of King county, W. R. Dunbar of Klickitat, Geo. H. Boardman of Pierce, John S. McLean of Walla Walla, and S. S. Colman of Walla Walla.

All these nominations were confirmed except W. B. Turner, for state board of education.

Gov. Terry today signed the following bills:

SMUGGLERS DROWNED.
Four of Them Lost With $1,000 Worth of Whisky.

PORT TOWNSEND, March 27.—The steamship Topeka arrived today from Alaska ports, bringing the news that four whisky smugglers, Frank Mussey, John Aekerson, Wm. Bennett and a man named Mitchell, were drowned near Douglas Island.

They were in two small boats, laden with whisky valued at $4,000, when a storm arose and capsized the boats. The bodies were picked up on the beach a few days later.

The steamer "Lone Fisherman" has left Juncos with a party of miners for the head waters of the Yukon river. They will cross the mountains at Takon river for the upper Yukon and remain until autumn.

THE SCOTT MURDER.
Postponed Until June—Young Scott Did Not Suicide.

PORTLAND, March 27.—Advisers from McMinnville to-day state that the trial of Wm. Scott for the murder of his wife, was today postponed till June third.

The report that Vardeman Scott, a son of Wm. Scott, committed suicide at Wheatland yesterday, proves to be erroneous. The young man was present in court today.

RAILROAD CONTRACT LET.
The East Portland, Sellwood, Milwaukie Road to Be Built.

PORTLAND, March 27.—The East Portland, Sellwood & Milwaukie Railroad Company signed a contract to-day with N. J. Blazen for the construction of the proposed railway. The contract price for the construction of the line is $45,000. Under the terms of the contract the road is to be completed and in operation by December.

Disastrous Explosion in a Sugar Refinery in Chicago—Run Over and Killed by a Train.

CHRYSENE, March 27.—The news of the passage of the Wyoming admission bill by the house was received with great enthusiasm to-night. The city is handsomely decorated.

Cannons are firing and bells are ringing.

DISASTROUS EXPLOSION.

Frightful Scenes in a Chicago Sugar Refinery.

CHICAGO, March 27.—A disastrous explosion occurred this evening in the Chicago Sugar Refinery Company's plant on Taylor and Beach streets.

One man was fatally hurt and twenty others severely burned.

The explosion occurred in the starch drying room, and is supposed to have originated from spontaneous combustion.

The building where the explosion occurred is a two-story brick, separated from the main thirteen-story building. Twenty-seven men were at work in the room, when without warning there came a tremendous report, which shattered portions of the building, and the machinery was hurled in every direction. The workmen were buried beneath the mass of debris, which took fire. The 200 men who were employed in the main building were panic-stricken, and rushed into the street. The fire was subdued in a short time.

Louis Nettels was the victim whose injuries were fatal. General Manager Behl and Foreman Hobbs were fearfully burned about the face and hands. The other men are not thought to be in danger of death.

The pecuniary loss by the explosion is about $10,000.

ATTEMPTED BANK ROBBERY.

A Sharpener Made to Disgorge $1000 in Tacoma.

TACOMA, March 27.—A man giving the name of H. Garland today deposited in the Tacoma National Bank a draft for $1000 on W. H. Bradley & Co. of Lockport, N. Y. He was identified by W. H. White, a harness dealer, with whom he had dealings. White, becoming suspicious, notified the bank. In the meantime Garland had drawn the money out, and was about to leave on the boat when he was found and made to give up the money and the draft was returned to him. He was not arrested.

THEY WANT THE EARTH.

An English Syndicate Buying Big Breweries in 'Trisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.—The Alta California will say to-morrow: "The sale of the United States brewery to the English syndicate was made to-day, when a part of the purchase money was paid. The full purchase price is understood to be in the neighborhood of $50,000,000."

"The Philadelphia brewery is contracted to be sold on the 1st day of August next, the price named in the bond being $265,000,000."

THROUGH COLOIAD CANON.

Railroad Surveyors Penetrate the Historic Fastness.

DENVER, Col., March 27.—Chief Engineer Robert B. Stanton, who left here with a corps of surveyors last November to make a preliminary survey of the Denver, Colorado, canon and the Pacific Railway from the Grand Junction to the Gulf of California through the grand canon of the Colorado river, returned home to-day.

Stanton and his party are the first men who have passed through this dangerous canon since Major Powell made the trip in 1829. He says the construction of a railway through the canon is perfectly feasible.

A BRUTAL SEA CAPTAIN.

Held for Attempting to Murder One of His Crew.

VICTORIA, B. C. March 27.—In the police court to-day the case against Captain Dan McLean, on a charge of an attempt to murder a seaman, was concluded and the prisoner committed for trial, being refused bail.

McLean made a statement admitting the assault on one of his crew, but pleaded that the offense was committed in a moment of passion.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

The Wyoming Admission Bill Passed by the House.

THE PACIFIC RAILROADS.

Congress Orders the Purchase of Tents to Shelter People Left Homeless by Mississippi Floods.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The house to-day passed the bill providing for the admission into the Union of Washington. Yeas, 139; nays, 127.

The house committee on Pacific railroads to-day reported a frame single bill looking to the payment of the indebtedness of both the Union and Central Pacific to the government instead of by separate bills.

IN THE SENATE.

A bill passed the senate to-day authorizing the secretary of war to purchase 25,000 tents to shelter people driven out by floods in the Mississippi valley.

The anti-trust bill was referred to the judiciary committee, with instructions to report in twenty days.

Blair of Missouri and Williams of Illinois, from the committee on coinage, have submitted to the house a minority report opposing Window's silver bill.

Among the bills reported and placed on the calendar to-day was a senate bill to reorganize and establish a customs collection district on Puget Sound.

Coping A Mountain Lion.

Dallas (Tex.) dispatch to the Denver News. A mountain lion has been captured by George and Uri Hotchkiss of this place. They have killed ten since New-Year's day, and hereafter will try to catch them all.

The lions are captured by a method of riding most of the time, which accounts for their seeing so many. They have had several colts and calves killed by lions this winter, and have determined to rid their range of them if possible. The lions are run up a tree by a small shepherd dog which they always take along. The lion is very cowardly, but will make a hard fight if cornered. When once in a tree it is very easy to bring down with a gun. The one captured today was a male, and was about the hunters rode up close to the tree and began throwing at it with lassos. One soon succeeded in catching it around the neck, and the other caught it by the foreleg. They pulled it down from the tree, dismounted and tied each of the ropes to a tree. The other rope was thrown around its neck and stretched so tight that it could not move in any direction. Then a strong collar was fastened around its neck, and two-log-chains fastened to the collar. The ropes were taken off and the lion allowed to rise. It was worried so by this time that they were able to hold it without the help of their horses. They mounted, each one holding a chain, and rode into town with the lion between them. The lions were spruced and men, women and children rushed out to see the sight. They crowded around dangerously close, but the chains were kept stretched so that there was little danger of any one being hurt. The lion was desperate, but taken off and staked where some one would venture to touch it would turn and make a furious plunge, snapping, snarling and roaring.
