VOLUME OF THE CURRENCY.

The question of the amount of circulating medium, and whether it is adequate to meet the requirements of the commercial transactions of the country, is one that engages the attention of many and forms the bone of contention in lengthy and theoretical discussions. The overburdened currency is made the scape goat to bear the varied sins of omission and commission that hang upon the skirts of the mythical female who rules the commerce of the world.

Upon the subject of the amount and variety of the money of the country we glean the following: According to the report of the secretary of the treasury there was in circulation on March 1, 1878, $805,793,807, divided as follows:

Gold coin	$82,530,163
Subsidiary silver	50,573,583
Gold certificates	44,994,169
United States notes	341,426,971
National bank notes	275,888,740
Total	$805,793,847

According to the same authority there was in circulation October 1, 1889, $1,405,018,000, divided as follows:

Gold coin	$375,947,715
Standard silver dollars	57,554,100
Subsidiary silver	52,031,351
Gold certificates	116,657,349
Silver certificates	276,619,715
United States notes	325,510,758
National-bank notes	199,779,011
Total	$1,405,018,000

The comment of the secretary on these facts is as follows: "The net expansion since March 1, 1878, has therefore been $599,224,193. The average net increase per month has been $4,342,304—$52,106,451 per annum. The total net increase has been a little over 74 per cent., while the increase in population has been about 33 per cent. In 1878 the circulation was $16.50 per capita, and 1889 it was $21.75 per capita."

Undoubtedly there are many that will see in these plain and unvarnished figures, the Pandora box that is responsible for all our ills. They can easily elucidate therefrom that wheat is low and beef cattle are cheap because there is not volume enough of circulating medium per capita. Probably that will also account for the fact that "taters" are so high this season, and will therefore be a great solace to the consumer as well as the producer, for we can bear our ills so much better when we know just what causes them.

The Chicago Journal sums up upon the National bank note circulation as follows: "The shrinkage in the amount of the National bank notes would be the cause of serious financial disarrangement were not the full volume of currency kept in circulation from other sources. As it is, the fact should arrest attention and cause careful thought on the part of those who believe that the National bank currency is an important part of the money system of the country, and should not be allowed to disappear. With the gold, the greenbacks exchangeable at par for gold, and the National bank notes redeemable in greenbanks or gold, there is no difficulty. The three forms of currency constitute as perfect a circulating medium as could be desired. But the silver money—either the coin or the certificates representing coin—are liable to vicissitudes that may occur with any financial disturbance originating in this country or in any other important commercial country. This fact makes the study of currency subjects one of superior interest, especially as it involves the gradual reduction of the National bank circulation. During the twelve months commencing March 1, 1889 and ending February 28, 1890, the decrease in the circulation of the National banks was more than two and a half million dollars a month, or $32,098,219 in all. The circulation outstanding at the end of last month was $192,120,406. This currency is secured by $148,197,000 in bonds, at 90 per cent. of their face value, and $64,710,155 in legal money. If the reduction in the National bank currency shall continue at this rate, it will be but $160,000,000 in 1891, $128,000,000 in 1892, and $96,000,000 in 1893. In three years from that time it will have been entirely extinguished."

The remarks of the Journal apply very well with but one exception, and that is the silver allusion. Evidently a nightmare has seized upon its mental vision upon that subject. Every one will agree with it as to the useiulness of the three forms of currency, but why except the fourth. Gold is all right, greenbacks are all right, and national bank notes are good and safe—though to costly to remain—and their retirement into greenbacks desirable, but no sane, unbiased man can see anything wrong with silver. It is liable to vicissitudes is it, subject to speculation is it; probably if the cobwebs of selfish leaning towards the money power of the country were brushed from the eye, just those elements could be discovered in gold also, but the two placed side by side as the basic elements of the circulating medium can be made to defy those conditions when backed up by a safe amount of greenbacks.

THE failure of the Panama canal, and the final acknowledgement of DeLesseps that it is a failure, brings into prominence, in French circles, in a very unenviable light, the aged French engineer. That he should have clung to the project so long and even used deception to obtain funds to keep it going, will be a blot upon his otherwise fair escutcheon.

Take Simmons Liver Regulator One Dose

WORTH

100 Dollars!

DEAR S. L. R: I consider one dose of Simmons Liver Regulator worth $100. I was constipated, had Headache, could eat nothing with satisfaction or appetite had the blues, and felt altogether out of sorts. I resorted to Blue Mass, Calomel, Quinine, and every remedy suggested, but only obtained temporary relief. One dose of S L R did me more good than $100 worth of doctors and doctoring. Resp'y, J C MARTIN.

I have been a teacher for twenty years, and during that time have had repeated attacks of headache, produced by torpid Liver, and have been entirely cured by Simmons Liver Regulator. As I found it to be of so mild a character in its action as not to interfere, in the least with my duties in the school room, To those similarly situated and subject to the same, I cannot too highly recommend Simmons Liver Regulator.
