THE MERCHANTS MARINE.

What The Farquhar Tonnage Bill Proposes To Do.

The report of the Committee on Merchants Marine and Fisheries of the Tonnage bill, which has been submitted to the House, accompanied by the views of the minority, is an extremely interesting as well as elaborate document and is supplemented by a valuable appendix. Mr. Cummings, of New York, was the only Democrat that voted with the majority of the committee in favor of reporting the bill, and it is regarded as significant that the names of the three other Democratic members of the committee—Messrs. Wheeler, of Alabama, Price, of Louisiana, and Wise, of Virginia—General Wheeler is the president of the American Shipping League, which met in Washington several months ago and formally adopted a resolution in favor of the Tonnage bill. His opposition to it, under the circumstances, therefore, was as inexplicable as it was disappointing to the friends of the measure, and it has provoked much severe criticism among the members of the Shipping League. For months past Messrs. Price and Wise have also been confidently claimed as among its supporters by the friends of the bill, and their opposition to it also caused surprise and disappointment. No explanation of the failure of the three members named to sign the "views of the minority" has been forthcoming. In brief, the report, which was drawn and offered by Chairman Farquhar, states:

"Thirty-five years ago the merchant marine of the United States was one of our leading interests, a great source of our prosperity and a strong right arm of National power. Now our shipping in foreign trade has sunk almost out of sight. The National necessity for ships and seamen for an active commerce in our own vessels has increased with the giving of every new subsidy or bounty or protection that foreign nations have resorted to in the last fifty years to cut our merchants and shipping out of business, weaken our defensive power and threaten our National life." The report says that "one of the most useful and certain means of Government aid to the marine of the present day is a direct, regular and speedy postal service by able steamers forming part of the cruising force of the Navy. Wherever the facilities for regular, rapid and cheap communication exist, business will soon become established, as shown by the experience of England, which has spent enormous sums thus to increase her commerce and create employment for her shipping. The ocean transportation of the United States averaged $240,000,000 annually for the last ten years. Taking our share of this trade at 75 per cent. we have an amount of $180,000,000, 10 per cent of which is $18,000,000. Surely it would not be a bad investment for the Nation to pay out $18 annually to secure an opportunity to earn and save $180. There are no appropriations made that would pay so well as this would do. But if this is thought too large then make it 5 per cent. That would be double what the Bounty bill will call for in ten years to come."

The estimate of the committee is that under the terms of the bill the payment in bounties for the first year would be for sail vessels, $1,644,818; steam vessels, $1,715,922. total, $3,360,7 14. The annual increase would be about 5 per cent, so that it would be eight years before the annual bounty would amount to $5,000,000.

Mr. Fithian submitted the report of the minority, which says that the policy of paying subsides to ships would be creating and fostering a privileged class at the expense of the whole people.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

A Petition for the Admission of Idaho.

THE WORLD'S FAIR BILL.

President Harrison Reviews the Army—Appointments Confirmed by the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—In the senate to-day Hoar gave notice that on Monday he should ask the senate to remain in session until the Montana election case is disposed of.

Mitchell presented a petition of citizens of Nez Perce county Idaho, in favor of the admission of the territory as a state.

Miller reported favorably a bill providing for a steam vessel for use of the collection district of Puget Sound to cost $12,000. This is in lieu of the proposed legislation giving the district two steam launches at a cost of $150,000.

Among the bills reported from the committee and placed on the calander was the senate bill to provide and equip two steam lauaches to be used in the collection district of Puget Sound.

This afternoon Hawley reported the World's Fair bill with the amendment agreed on by the committee. The president empowered and directed the committee to hold the naval review in New York harbor in April, 1893, and to extend foreign nations invitations to send ships of war to join the United States navy in rendezvous at Hampton Roads and proceed thence to said review; the president further empowered the committee to make arrangements for the unveiling of the statue of Christopher Columbus at Washington.

A review of the District of Columbia National Guards and troops, and several branches of the army stationed at Washington, was to-day given in honor of the delegates to the pan-American conference. The president, several members of the cabinet, Gen. Schofield and other officers of the regular army occupied the reviewing stand.

The senate confirmed the following nominees: L. A. Grant, assistant secretary of war; Brigadier-General Nelson Miles as major-general; Col. B. H. Grierson, brigadier-general; Major T. H. Stanton, deputy paymaster-general.

IN THE HOUSE.

The house committee on agriculture to-day heard an argument against the Butterworth anti-option bill. Murray, of the Chicago board of trade, said that the organization and all the exchanges in the county were in sympathy with the first section of the bill to abolish trading in puts and calls and bucket shop dealings, but to enforce the provision against the trades for further delivery, which would force out of business small dealers and concentrate the trade in the hands of capitalists who are able to purchase crops and hold them for a rise.

Geo. C. Martin, of the New York produce exchange, maintained that the farmer never before received so great a per cent. of the value of his crops as now in his opinion. The low prices prevailing are because of the recent series of large crops, which have been accumulated in store. There are two hundred million bushels of corn, more than ever before in the history of the country.

O. Bloss, of the New York cotton exchange, read an argument against the bill, signed by the leading bankers of New York, in which they say the passage of the bill would work great damage to legitimate trade.

The Chicago Strike.

CHICAGO, April 11.—Now that each side of the carpenters' strike has issued its ultimatum the trouble seems to have settled down to a question of endurance, and the general impression is that the fight will be a protracted one.

Woman's Discovery

Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Luts." Thus write W. C. Hamrick & Co. of Shelby, N. C.—Get a free trial bottle at Foshay & Mason's Drug Store
