Not to see our stoves and ranges before buying is a mistake. Mistakes are always costly. In heating stoves we have the largest as well as the most carefully selected stock in the city. The stoves we offer were not bought as an experiment but as a certainty. We know what each stove will do, and they were bought for cash, so the price is right. We have specialties in heaters, besides our regular lines of Garland, Argand and Superior stoves and ranges.

BOARD OF TRADE

Special Meeting to Arrange for C. F. Huntington's Visit.

A special meeting of the Board of Trade was held at the city council chambers last evening. The meeting was called to order by C. W. Wright, who acted as secretary.

The matter of what should be presented to Mr. Huntington at the time he may signify that he will be in Albany.

C. W. Wright was elected chairman and E. D. Cusick secretary for the evening.

On motion a committee of five were appointed on arrangements, with power to act in the matter of the necessary expenses.

The committee consists of Mayor J. L. Cowan, S. E. Young, president of the Board of Trade, Judge J. Flinn, Judge R. S. Strahan, Capt. E. J. Lanning.

The secretary was instructed to notify the members of the committee of their appointment.

The meeting then adjourned until Tuesday evening, May 6, the date of the public meeting at the opera house.

The Myrtle Creek Mines.

Dr. J. M. Taylor, business manager of the Myrtle Creek Consolidated Gold and Mining Co., is in the city.

A limited number of shares will be put in the market here, the stock books having been closed by the directors.

Dr. Taylor has some wonderfully rich specimens taken from the mines, which are considered promising.

The capital stock of the company is $250,000, divided into 25,000 shares, each of $10.

Dr. Taylor has recently been taken out. The company numbers among its board of officers some of the wealthiest and influential men of the county.

Dr. Taylor in a statement concerning the mines says: Long Slim Jim Weaver and John Weaver in one pan of dirt and gravel washed out $147, which was taken from one of the claims.

It is another claim made up with a few inches of water, washed a place about 50 feet long, 6 wide and 7 deep, taking out $200, and in another place in the same claim he drilled and made 5 oz. a day to the man.

In one of John Miller's claims with a very fine vein of water he washed out $400 from a place not more than 12 feet square.

When there is any water they all take out gold. As to the ground I believe there is enough, with the amount of ground now controlled by the company, which is 100 acres, to last 50 years with a labor force of 1,000 men and dump sufficient to carry it away.

The ground is loose without any large boulders, the largest not being more than 75 or 80 pounds, and I only saw one that large. Should the dirt average but 25 cents to the ton, a very small estimate, with 1,000 inches of water at a pressure of 200, it would wash away 100,000 per day, which would yield $25,000 a day. I think some of the ground will go as high as $100 to the ton.

The mine can be worked in working order with a few hundred men in four months from the commencement of work on the ditch, which the company now propose to construct.

Y. M. C. A. Beneficial.

The Y. M. C. A. of this city has arranged for the appearance on Monday evening, May 5th, of Fowler's Tableaux d'Art and Concert Company.

The company numbers among its members Miss Carrie Northey Roma, the celebrated soprano; Miss Marie Lawrence, the lady xylophonist; Miss Miriam C. Jehu, the talented recitator, who will give a grand concert programme of rare excellence, combined with the latest eastern novelty, Fowler's Tableaux d'Art, consisting of graceful artistic poses, enlivened tableaux, chaste Grecian statuary effects, groupings from Longfellow, Shakespeare, Scott, and other famous poets, charming old mythological legends, attractive biblical scenes, etc.

Given instantaneously by six handsome young ladies costumed in Grecian draperies, with brilliant and beautiful colored calcium effects. The entertainment promises to be most interesting and impressive.

Run Over by a Hack.

Wm. Johnson, while driving a delivery wagon yesterday for the Willamette Packing Company, was thrown from his seat by the hack running against a cross walk.

He fell beneath the wheels and the vehicle passed over his body, but he was not seriously hurt. The team ran with the hack into the canal and were stopped without much damage.

Shaving in coats at Viarek's.

Viarek's is shaving in coats at the city.

TRouble AT JEFFERSON

Reported Failure of the Mill Company, Entering a Heavy Loss Up a Premier.

A gentleman who was in this city yesterday from Jefferson states that a big excitement has been caused in that town from the discovery that the lumber in that vicinity are not about 25,000 bushels of wheat and 12,000 bushels of oats from the failure of Grant & Co., proprietors of the Jefferson Flouring Mills.

Grant & Co., it is said, made an assignment yesterday for the benefit of the creditors, when it was discovered that fully that much grain could not be accounted for. A number of farmers assembled and a stormy scene ensued.

Timon Ford, an attorney of Salem, went up last night and he said had already been shipped away or ground up. This he considered adding insult to injury.

An informant stated that he would lose several hundred bushels of grain, and what made him the madder was that a few days ago, he paid the mill company for insurance on his grain, which he said had already been shipped away or ground up. This he considered adding insult to injury.

Again in Trouble.

The festive Chinaman Ah will go into trouble again yesterday. He was driving his horse across the railroad track south of the city when his horse's hind legs slipped between the planks, holding him fast.

The Mongolian saw the Lobson train approaching, and frantically endeavored to disengage the horse's feet, but in vain, and he ran wildly up the track, shouting vigorously for the train to stop. The engineer saw the sight in time to stop and the trainmen extended the pole lines.

Willamette Valley Cases.

Mr. J. H. Stewart, who has been visiting different portions of this county during the past few days, states that the prospect for an abundant harvest of grain is good.

He says that the grain is growing well, and that the farmers are generally well satisfied with the prospect.

He also states that the weather is very favorable for the crops, and that the farmers are generally well satisfied with the prospect.

EARLY CLOSING.

From Editor of the Herald.

This early closing movement is causing a good deal of talk, and rightly so. But it is going to end in talk.

I have in mind of the business men in town and all agree that the right thing to do is to keep the stores open until a reasonable hour.

Now, what is the condition that all signs say, and what I want to say is this: In those who have a right to their business, and to sign the agreement, what will you get out of it? Are you going to get out of it a business, that makes an extra dollar? No, you do not keep open the other stores will not, and therefore you will be no better off.

But, because so many people cannot very well get all their shopping done before eight, and you want to be there to supply your customers. You do, but I will tell you and you will have an old customer come in at that hour. I don't care how late you keep open, or how early you close, but I am bound to get it past midnight, and the business men to keep open after eight.

Count your profits after that hour and then deduct your light and the wear and tear on yourself, and I doubt if it pays for the light alone. Now, just look at the position you are putting yourselves in. You are obliging yourselves of an hour's recreation, an hour's work around your home, an hour from your family, while it is a gross injustice to keep your clerks waiting there. Is only business and honor sitting around your store half the time, and three-fourths of the time, and worse than that to the avocations, for you do not make any more money by it. Business men of Albany, do not ask you this question, would not the same amount of business be done if you closed at 10 o'clock as there is now? Then why not make it a general affair. It is not for my own personal interest that I advocate this, but on principle. All will benefit by it.

And now, gentlemen, if you can influence those in your own lines to close at 10 o'clock, a general movement to close at 8 o'clock for three months to give it a fair trial, you will not only be doing a justice to yourselves, but doing a justice to your homes and bringing upon yourself the well-deserved respect of every one.

EMIL DANSON.

Not Identified.

The Salem statesman says in regard to the body found in Mill creek, that the coroner's jury reported the place of finding, and proceeded to investigate.

Dr. W. H. Lynn was also present and gave testimony after viewing the remains. He judged the deceased to have been about 35 or 40 years of age, and 5 feet 10 inches in height.

He had been dead two or three months, as the body was badly decomposed, the flesh having slipped from the bones, and gave testimony, notably the face and hands.

On his person were found a carpenter's foot rule, match box, small phial of medicine, a strap and a torn letter, containing these words:

"Wichita, Kan., Sept. 26, 1889. Dear Sir: I am glad to hear you are well. I am well and hope these few lines will find you the same. Yours truly, C. H. Loring, district clerk."

The signature was torn off, but the letter was written on a bedspread in Kansas, official letterhead, on which was a picture of the county house and words which indicated that it was the office of C. H. Loring, district clerk.

After viewing the remains as best they could and getting all the evidence possible to be obtained in the case the jury returned the following verdict:

"We, the undersigned jurors, summoned by J. C. Smith, coroner of Marion county, to inquire into the cause of death of an unknown man found on Mill creek, six miles south of Salem, being duly sworn, find from the evidence offered, and from inspection of the body, that he probably came to his death by accidental drowning some two or three months ago, and name unknown."

The body was in such a condition that it could not be learned whether death had resulted from drowning or through violence. It was well dressed in a blue suit and dark gray overcoat.

The remains were interred yesterday afternoon in the grove near where the body was discovered. While the grave was being prepared a German farmer, living near the place, came along and declared that he had seen a stranger in the grove early in February walking along the Hensley lane near where the body was found. He said the man was carrying by a strap a valve that appeared to be of great weight. The farmer's description of the man tallied exactly with that of the dead man in whose pocket was found a strap. The mystery now is—who is the dead man, how did he meet death, and what became of the valve?

ON SALE.

The DAILY HERALD will be on sale each morning at H. J. Jones' book store, where it can be procured at 5 cents per copy.

A Queer Fish.

The Oregonian says: Among the many fish brought in by the schooner, Chinese was a very rare and curious and gruesome-looking one, which, for want of any better name, the fishermen called a sea boopard. It was a long, slim, snaky, lean, hungry, disgusting-looking beast, with fins like a eel, black spots along the sides, and a ferocious-looking head, large beyond all proportion with the body.

It was furnished with a wicked looking mouth, armed with cruel teeth. It was a genuine sea serpent on a small scale and made one shudder to look at it when dead. If there were any of these fish on the bottom where McGinty went down he is to be pitied.

Contract Let.

The contract for building the Salem bridge across the Willamette has been let to Hoffman & Bates, by Marion and Polk counties, each pay $20,000 and the city of Salem a like amount. The bridge is to be of steel, to cost $71,000. The material of the old bridge will meet part of the expense.

Good Investment.

A few reasons why the Goitra Park addition is the only sure and safe investment around the city of Albany. 1st. Because it is the closest addition platted to the city.

2d. Because it is at least 15 feet higher and is more sightly, and commands a better view of the city than any other addition. 3d. Because it is the only addition that has a proposed motor line to it, which will be completed within 60 days.

4th. Because it is the only addition that has a public park laid out in it. 5th. Because all the business men who want to make good investments buy in this addition. And last but not least, because every lot in this addition will double in value in the next 60 days. This property is yet very reasonable in price and is sold on the installment plan. For prices etc., call on Burkhardt & Malin.

Money to Loan.

We are agents for the Minneapolis National Building and Loan Association and can offer extra inducements to parties who wish to obtain loans for building purposes or other purposes with real estate security. On this plan of getting money for building purposes it is much better than other building associations, as it matures in five years, and is one of the most substantial institutions in the country. Call at our office and examine the plan.

BURKHARDT & MALIN.

At the Opera House.

Not a large but a delighted audience witnessed the performance of the Caroline Gage and Harry F. Keene's excellent company at the opera house last evening. Miss Gage is a charming actress. In the graceful rendition of her role as "Queen" she left nothing to be desired, and the admiration of the audience was attested by the hearty applause accorded her. Harry F. Keene and his estimable wife are veterans of the stage, and know right well how to please. Sent Thomas in his comic songs were a deserved applause. He amuses the audience at a time they desire it most. The support of the company is excellent, and each and every member is clever and talented. Tonight the company will present the great play Pearl of Savoy. They should be greeted with a large audience.

Declared Insane.

W. P. Smith, the veteran druggist of Halsey, who has been deranged in mind since he was lost in the consultation and nearly perished a few years ago, was declared insane yesterday and taken to the insane asylum at Salem. He was at one time a prominent business man of that place.
