A CAPTAIN'S CRIME.

Arrested for Shooting a Disobedient Sailor.

THE BIG PORTLAND STRIKE.

It is Interfering with Building Jobs Has Design to Disrupt Judge's

ASTORIA, April 30.—The real estate agent, Pessio Rutter, who left here ten days ago, returned last evening, bringing a sailor who had been fatally shot by Captain Henry Olsson last Sunday. The captain went to the force at the Astoria wharf on Sunday, who would not get up. The captain went down two times and ordered him up. The latter applied a fine epithet to the captain. Finally Stevens came on deck and advanced toward the captain, who seized a shot-gun, at the same time warning the sailor to keep away. Olsson ordered him several times to go forward, but Stevens kept coming, and when about six feet from the captain he fired, striking him in the groin, inflicting a fatal wound. The steamer came here and Stevens died in the hospital this morning. The captain was placed under arrest by the United States deputy marshal.

PORTLAND NEWS.

An Estate Valued at $121,000.—The Carpenter's Strike.

PORTLAND, April 30.—The appraiser of the estate of the late E. S. Statten filed his report in the county court today. The estate is valued at $121,000. The situation of the striking carpenters is practically unchanged, but it is said a movement is on foot among the workmen to form a new union, which would include a number of the strikers, and that the new association will be ready for operation Friday morning.

Both employers and employees are firm in their respective positions. The union building trade league which is making the fight for the men, demands the resignation of each and every one of the five propositions made to it. Members of the exchange are willing to make some concession and compromise on others, but they do not deign to concede every thing.

As far as the eight hour proposition is concerned it would appear to be the only point in question. Most of the strikers are willing to concede to grant a striking delegate to the employees free access to buildings and to demand that union men shall be given preference under all circumstances.

A meeting of the building exchange will be held tomorrow night, and it is quite likely that action will be taken in regard to the present trouble. The men say they are prepared for a long siege and will give in under no circumstances. The building association on the other hand, it is only too ready to concede, and it is believed that the reason is rapidly advancing with little or nothing having been done, and they do not know but eventually they will have to concede.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

The City's Right to prevent the Spread of Contagious Disease.

PORTLAND, April 30.—Last December John Touts and John Caspary instituted proceedings against the city of Portland to recover $150 and $200, respectively, for lost tools and wearing apparel seized by the health officers in 1888 and destroyed, by reason of the property being affected during the time the smallpox was prevalent. The city filed a demurrer, holding that the health officers were vested with power to prevent the spread of contagious disease.

In the case of Mrs. Anna R. Under against the Portland & Vancouver Valley Railroad, where the plaintiff sued for $15,750 damages for injuries alleged to have been received by her while riding on the company's road in March, 1888, the jury today brought a verdict for Mrs. Under in the sum of $1500.
