He, in reply to the petition says: "I have no power to act in the matter. If I were to call out the militia I would be committing a greater crime than the people have.

It devolves on the sheriff of the county to call out a posse and enforce peace, when they have used all their available means to restore order, it is then within the province of the peace officers to call on me."

A Delicate Appetite.

From The Pittsburg Chronicle.

It takes very little to satisfy the hunger of some people. Now here's a colored gentleman named Bruce, who used to live near Groome, Prince George's county, Md. We say used to live, because he lives no more. He is dead and by what we can gather from the telegraph dispatch announcing his demise, he must have died of starvation. His last meal merely consisted of two and a half pounds of cheese, a quart of boiled navy beans, three pounds of cakes and the same of crackers, washed down with a half gallon of sweet cider. The doctor said that the cheese had failed to digest and that death resulted from cheese failure. This opinion is given for what it is worth but we adhere to our ideas on the subject. The deceased Mr. Bruce lived with the Rev. Mr. Curtiss, and that gentleman had probably endorsed a donation party a short time prior to the starvation of his colored retainer.

The Catarrhal virus is soon displaced by its healing and penetrating nature. Give it a trial. Six months treatment $1.00, sent by mail $1.10.

A BIG HAUL.

Canadian Officials Gobble a Quarter Million.

CHICAGO MAY DAY PARADE.

Decrease of the National Debt—The Man Who Preached Websters Funeral—Eight Hour Movement.

QUEBEC, May 1.—A sensation has been created by the charges which have been brought against the government department of public works, presided over by Sir H. Langevin and against Thomas McGreevy, member of parliament, Sir Hector's bosom friend McGreevy, is alleged to have received nearly a quarter of a million dollars from the government contractors in the shape of commissions, and for procuring information respecting rival bidders, thus aiding them to buy out lower bidders and obtain higher prices for big contracts. The charges are made by McGreevy's brother, Robert, that he himself paid his brother $215,000, using his position as a member of parliament to furnish them with the prices of the other bidders and then get their contracts.

MAY DAY IN CHICAGO.

Immense Gain Day Parade But No Disturbance.

CHICAGO, May 1.—May Day with the demonstration by the labor union in behalf of the eight hour movement, has come and gone and the predictions of a riot and bloodshed and an almost universal strike have not been realized. Labor indeed was in a great measure suspended, and thousands of laborers quit work for the day to march in the great parade, and many more thousands made it a holiday. There was an orderly, good natured crowd and orderly parade. The marching line was about four miles long. It occupied two hours in passing a given point, and the number of men in the line was estimated at about 35,000 carpenters who had been placed by the American Federation of labor in the van of the eight hour movement and led the demonstration. One of the features of the parade was the large number of banners carried. Among many mottoes were the following: "Arbitration is Our Motto," "Down With Monopoly," "To Carpenters Eight Hours of Labor and Arbitration for Just Demands," "When Arbitration is Compulsory Strikes will Cease." After parading through the principal street of the west side, they marched to the front park, where they listened to addresses from several stands.

EIGHT HOURS IN PORTLAND.

Practically Admitted to be a Ruling Day's Work.

PORTLAND, May 1.—The builders' exchange of this city to-night formally notified the builders' union of this city that the employes and contractors who were locked out on the 15th inst., can return to work next Monday at the old rates, but that the contractors reserve the right to employ whom they please. It is generally believed that the 8-hour question will not eat an important factor in the labor troubles, as contractors are willing to admit that eight hours shall constitute a day's work. The 8-hour question has not yet reached the meeting of the builders exchange to-night.

TINNERS WANT MORE PAY.

Carpenters Ask For Eight Hour Day System.

PITTSBURG, May 1.—Labor day in this city was uneventful and business was quiet save cornice and tin workers. Three hundred tinners came out this morning for an advance of 25 cents per day and seven firms have already granted the demand. Throughout western Pennsylvania, a number of strikes are reported. Carpenters and joiners came out for eight hours work or an increase in wages. The demands have not been granted and building operations have been suspended. At McKeesport there was a demonstration to-night under the auspices of the carpenters union, in which several thousand workmen took part.

Eight Hour System.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—The eight-hour system went into effect in Oakland to-day without any conflict between the carpenters and their employes. The men went to work at eight instead of seven this morning.

He Preached Webster's Funeral.

JACKSONVILLE, Ills., May 1.—Rev. W. Barnes, who preached the funeral sermon for Daniel Webster, died this morning.

Died from Pierced Ears.

SACRAMENTO, May 1.—A young woman, Miss Boyd, of Winters, Yolo county, died here last night from the effects of blood poisoning, caused by the colored silken thread which was run through her ears recently when she had them pierced for rings.

QUIET IN PARIS.

Up to Eight O'Clock—Paraders Clash With Police.

PARIS, May 1.—All was tranquil in the provinces to-day. In the city a large crowd assembled at various points, but perfect order was maintained till 8 o'clock this evening when a body of workmen trying to march down Rue De La Croque Charps Elsee palace was stopped by the police. The paraders tried to force through and were charged on by the police. The municipal guard and many men were hurt. A large number were arrested but will be released at 12 M.

The Future of Our Planet.

Among the writings of those who love to speculate on the future of our planet there is probably somewhere, though we have not had time to discover it, an essay on the cosmical changes which man will be able to produce in the earth. The data for solving this problem are striking. In a few centuries man has acquired all those powers over large and solid objects represented by his knowledge of explosives and his use of steam. Multiply the centuries, and with them the history, by convenient figures (a familiar process in this kind of problem) and there is no reason why the earth's axis of rotation should not be shifted considerably by human agency.—Nature.

Golden Rule Bazaar.

Julius Gradwohl has decided to add to his mammoth stock of crockery and fancy goods a complete line of groceries. He has en route a large invoice of sugar, and will keep a complete assortment of choice groceries, and the best of coffees and teas to be had in the market for the benefit of his customers. He will also enlarge his hardware department. He informs us that he buys all his goods for net cash, which will enable him to sell goods as low as any house in Oregon, and there is no need of people going abroad when they can do as well at home, or even better.

Elsie Russell's Sick Mother.

From the Buffalo Courier.

Ramsay Morris tells a rather cute story about little Elsie Leslie the famous child actress who is now appearing in "The Prince and the pauper." When the company of which Mr. Morris was then business manager was in Chicago recently, Elsie's mother was taken suddenly ill one morning and was unable to eat any breakfast. The little actress hit on a scheme to make her drink some coffee. She decided to buy a pretty china cup by mean of which to tempt the invalid, and after searching about the city for a while, finally saw just what she wanted displayed in a shop window. She entered the store and told the clerk all about her mother's illness, winding up with a request that he show her the admired cup. The clerk handed it over, and Elsie examined it carefully. "How much is it?" she asked. "Twenty-seven dollars," was the reply. "Good gracious," she gasped, "my mother isn't so ill as that."

Japanese Sensitiveness.

The Japanese sensitiveness to the outside world is something much more delicate and complex, and contemplative, and at the same time more natural, than ours has ever been. Outside of Arcadia I know of no other land whose people hang verses on the trees in honor of their beauty where families travel far before the dawn to see the first light touch of the new buds. Where else do the newspapers announce the spring openings of the blossoms? Where else would be possible the charming absurdity of the story that W—— was telling me of having seen in cherryblossom time some old gentleman, with capacious sake gourd in hand and a big roll of paper in his girdle, seat himself below the blossom showers, and look and drink, and drink and write verses, all by himself, with no gallery to help him? If there is convention in a tradition half obligatory, and if we western lovers of the tree do not quite like the Japanese refinement of growing the cherry merely for its flowers, yet how deliciously upsidedown from us, and how charming is the love of nature at the foundateon of the custom.—John La Farge in The Century.

You Cannot Afford.

At this season of the year to be without a good reliable diarrhoea balsam in the house, as cramps, colic, diarrhoea and all inflammation of the stomach and bowels are exceedingly dangerous if not attended to at once. One bottle of BEGGS' DIARRHOEA BALSAM will do more good in cases of this kind than any other medicine on earth. We guarantee it. G. L. Blackman, druggist.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

Immigration Inspection for New York a Farce.

SERVICE PENSION ESTIMATES.

National Railroad Commission Convention—Eight Hour Resolution—Most Combine.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The house passed the senate anti trust bill with very few slight changes. Cannon announced that the tariff discussion will begin next week.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted at the convention of the state railroad committee last year, the committee appointed at that meeting have issued a call for a national convention of the railroad commission, to be held in Washington May 28.

Representative Biggs of California to-day, introduced a bill to repeal the civil service act.

In the house to-day Reilly, of Pennsylvania offered a resolution declaring that it is the sense of the house that the laborers' demand for eight hours' work is a reasonable and just demand, and that it is the belief that the inauguration of said system of eight hours for a day's work would be conducive to the public weal and calculated to advance the industrial and commercial, intellectual and moral welfare of the people. Referred.

In a letter to the speaker of the of the house, the secretary of the interior estimated that it will need $83,806,752 annually to give a service pension to every survivor of the late war not now on the rolls; $6,142 817 annually to increase the pension of those on the rolls to $8 per month and $9,776,768 to the widows of deceased soldiers; total annual expenditure, $100,226,327.

The report of Vests committee accompanying the bill handed the senate to-day regarding the transportation and sale of meat products, the committee says the dressed beef and canning business is practically in the hands of four men in Chicago, Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Nelson Morris & Co., and Hammond & Co. Inquiry which Connor was directed to make was to the existence of the combination by reason which the diminish prices are paid the producers without lessening the cost of the meat consumers. Facts developed, the committee thinks, proves overwhelmingly such a combination, and as to remedies the committee says that congress in a bill recently passed by the senate on the subject of trust, has gone as far as its power extends, to the state legislation supplement, that by congress to punish combinations operating with state railroad lines.

IN THE SENATE.

A joint meeting of the house and senate committee on immigration was held to-day. Representative Owen, chairman of the house committee which investigated the subject at New York, made the statement that the inspection of the immigration at Castle Garden was a farce. Aliens are coming in hordes without money or clothes. Owens said the Italian bankers in this country, send agents to Italy to solicit the natives of that country to come to America. These agents charge them as high as $90 for a ticket from Naples to New York, the price of which is $26. Arriving at New York they go to the boarding house kept by these Italian bankers and thence are sent out to labor under contracts. Within the past eight years they have almost entirely supplanted other races in the ranks of unskilled labor in New York city. In one square mile in New York there are 270,000 people, 85 more than any other square mile on the earth's face; these people speak a foreign language. The Italian system of immigration on the whole is deliterious. The percentage of Germans and Swedes is decreasing, and Italians and Hungarians is increasing.

I have a small line of spring jackets in colors I wish to close out and have reduced the price to cost. They are the latest style and a bargain. I also have a line of spring stockinet jackets for $5.50 each, which is the nicest jacket for the price in the market. Samuel E. Young.
