THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

A Stormy Debate on the Pension Measure.

SENATORS DEEPLY GRIBED.

Mexico to Be Asked to assist in Preventing the Smuggling of Opium Across the Border.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—In the house today, Hill, of Illinois, called up the bill granting a pension of $1200 a year to Delia I. Parcell, widow of Admiral Charles S. Parcell, with an amendment reducing the pension to $50 per month. The amendment was agreed to and the bill passed.

Representative Morrow from the committee on foreign affairs reported a resolution requesting the president to open negotiations with Mexico for the promotion of friendly commercial relations and the adjustment of the boundaries. A report accompanying the resolution proposed the necessity of Mexican cooperation with our officials in order to prevent Chinese from entering the United States through Mexico.

THE PRESIDENT APPROVED THE ACT PROVIDING FOR THE CLASSIFICATION OF WASTED CLOTHES BY WOODS.

Childs of Ohio, to-day introduced a bill to prevent the desecration of the United States flag by printing on it advertisements, etc., making such offense a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $50, imprisonment for 30 days or both.

THE DEBATE ON THE TARIFF BILL WAS CONTINUED IN THE HOUSE TODAY.

Assistant Secretary Tichenor's response to the senate resolution, calling for information relative to the evasion law, prohibiting Chinese emigration, was today sent to the senate with reports from special agents along the border. Agent Whitehead, of Niagara, says: Chinese persons are found unlawfully within the United States, smuggled from Canada, and the don't have certificates showing that they have paid the donation customs to the amount of $50 per head. The donation customs officers refuse to admit such persons into Canada without proper certificates.

Special Agent Brooks, under date of Toronto, May 1st, says he has had credible information that during the past year upwards of 200 Chinamen have been unlawfully sent to the United States from Canada.

A communication from the division of the laws against the entrance of Chinamen from China, was referred to the committee on immigration.

The general pension representative bill was then taken up, the question being on the amendment increasing the number of pension agents salary $4000 from 15 to 20, which was agreed to, Yeas 25, nays 20. It was a party vote, except that Payne voted yea and Allison, Ingalls, Plumb and Teller, no.

The bill having been reported back from the committee of the whole to the senate, the question of the amendment came up again for action. Cockerell's id that he was dissatisfied from the fact that the committee on appropriations, headed by the distinguished senator from Iowa, Allison, had just been taken over by the republican majority. There was no reason why ever for the increase of the two offices except for the benefit of the speaker.

Sherman suggested that Cockerell was making a very great affair of a small matter, and agreed for the pension office at Columbus is so crowded now that an increase in number was necessary. Sherman said he very seldom disputed with the committee on appropriations but when a new question came up the committee ought not to feel obliged that its work had been inquired into.

Allison said he felt aggrieved that the majority voted for an increase of the pension. It shows that the majority had no objection to the question with the exception of the speaker.

Gorman said in the interest of the soldiers that congress might bankrupt the government, and probably would, for in 15 years there would be more spent for pensions than it had cost to put down the rebellion. After a long discussion Sherman's amendment was agreed to, yeas 21.

Payne voted with the republicans and Allison, Ingalls and Plumb with the democrats. Teller did not vote.

The bill was then passed and the military academy bill was taken up and passed.

The army appropriation bill was then taken up. An amendment that no alcoholic liquor, beer or wine be sold or supplied to enlisted men in any such building.

Cockerell moved to amend the amendment by striking out beer and wine.

No quorum voted, and the senate adjourned, leaving Hale's and Cockerell's amendments pending.
