A VOICE FROM TANGENT.

To the Editor of the Herald.

We the undersigned having received the nomination for justices of the peace at the hands of the two great political parties of this nation at our primaries in Tangent precinct, beg to state the following facts to the voters and the public generally of Tangent precinct, Linn county, Oregon. Well founded rumor has it that neither of us is the man for the people and portion.

We further understand that both parties have agreed and are going to unite and concentrate their forces in a united effort to elect Mr. Aaron Barnes justice of the peace. Realizing full well that we are not the choice of the people, and that the office of justice is a judicial matter and not a party affair, we as a quorum in the movement and step down and out. We further state that we are in accord with the movement and will give Mr. Barnes our hearty support on the second day of June as he is a man well qualified and of sound character and unimpeachable integrity.

J. W. Stevenson, J. E. Evans.

The Proposition Rejected.

At a special meeting of the Board of Trade last night to consider the proposition of the Tacoma Steam works to establish a factory in this city, only a few members were present. The proposition was discussed, and as its terms were not favorable to this city, it was voted to reject it. The question of advertising the Willamette Valley was postponed until the next regular meeting.

The Masonic Temple Dedicated.

The dedication of the new Masonic temple in this city on June 24th, promises to be of unusual interest. Prominent Masons will be present from different parts of the state. The Knights of the Templar Commandery have arranged to give a grand ball in the armory, and will give a magnificent ball supper. It will be a rendezvous for all. Music will be furnished by Parson & Ross' orchestra of Portland. The invitations will be issued in a few days.

Oregon's State Printer.

Mr. Frank C. Baker, state printer, was in this city yesterday. In the person of Mr. Baker Oregon has had a state printer who has filled the office to the satisfaction of all parties. He has prepared good material and performed honest and faithful work, doing great credit to the state and honor to himself. He is a candidate for reelection on the republican ticket. He has performed his whole duty faithfully and should be re-elected.

Notice.

E. G. Beardsley, real estate agent, leaves in the course of a few days and requests that all persons having claims against him present their claims at the office for immediate settlement.

Art studio, Mattie E. Martin, room 12, McIlwain building.

THE NEXT GOVERNOR OF OREGON.

Hon. D. P. Thompson Knows the Wind Out of Gov. Penney's Sails.

Hon. D. P. Thompson and Hon. Lydell Baker addressed the people of this city yesterday at 1:30 at the court house.

The meeting was called to order by Hon. S. A. Dawson, member of the republican state central committee, who nominated Hon. C. E. Wolverson as chairman of the meeting. The latter in a brief speech reviewed the progress of the campaign in Oregon, and spoke encouragingly of success at the polls next Monday.

Hon. Lydell Baker was the first speaker. He said that the democratic party in Oregon with Penney at its head had adopted a platform practically in favor of free trade. He reviewed the history of the tariff question, Thomas Jefferson, the father of the protective tariff, but that party has now fallen into the hands of free traders. He said the platform of the democratic party today in Oregon is about the same as the tariff question as it was two years ago when the voters of the state proclaimed in favor of protection by an overwhelming majority. He read a dispatch from Senator Mitchell at Washington, which stated that in the tariff discussion in the house on the 8th inst. every democrat present voted in favor of an amendment favoring free trade and that every republican voted against it.

MR. THOMPSON'S SPEECH.

The chairman then introduced Hon. D. P. Thompson, the next governor of Oregon. Mr. Thompson is a plain, business man and wasted no time in preliminaries. He said if elected he should favor the Australian ballot system; a registration law; better assessment laws and the mortgage tax law.

He reviewed the speech of Governor Penney at Lebanon, in which he said that the governor takes credit to himself on account of the increase of the irreducible school fund. This increase, he showed, was due to the sale of school land, and not from any act of Governor Penney. He also said that there is $427,000 not accounted for by Governor Penney. He said this must either be locked up in the treasury or loaned to individuals.

He referred to the notorious "syndicate" of land grabbers at the Dalles, in which Governor Penney is implicated, which promises to result in a sensational investigation, and read a letter from his register and treasurer at the Dalles land office, showing that this "syndicate" has sold large tracts of indemnity lands for $2.50 per acre, for which the state received but $1.25 per acre, the latter being a copy of one sent to the general land office at Washington.

Mr. Thompson ventilated Governor Penney's Portland water board bill veto, and his signing of similar bills for Baker City and The Dalles.

He read a list of queries sent to him by Governor Penney for him to answer.

The first was the Oregon city lock and dam matter. He said he had long ago sold his stock in the Locks Co., and only owned one share in the Electric Light Co.

On the charge of Gov. Penney that he had received $100,000 from the change of the wharf line in Portland, he said that the governor had since acknowledged that he was mistaken in the accusation.

He referred to the mining suit of M. V. Bilyeu and others of Albany against Dr. E. O. Smith in the possession of the Red Bull mine in the Santiam district, in which Dr. Smith said Mr. Thompson was backing him up. Mr. Thompson said that the only interest he ever had in the matter was that he advanced a few hundred dollars toward the development of the Santiam mines, but that as soon as he found that the Albany company were the right owners he notified Dr. Smith several weeks ago that he would have nothing more to do with it. It might be mentioned here as a significant fact that Dr. E. O. Smith is now working hard for Penney.

He said the office of the governor of Oregon should be conducted on business principles, honestly, and thoroughly in behalf of the people. He said that if elected he should remain a citizen and devote his entire time to the duties of the office.

Mr. Phil Metchan was present, but he was suffering from hoarseness and did not speak.

Mr. Thompson made a most favorable impression, and will receive a flattering vote in Linn county next Monday.

An Engine on Fire.

As the south bound freight train neared this city yesterday afternoon, it was discovered that the wood in the tender had caught fire and was blazing up several feet high. The engine stopped in the eastern suburbs and the fire was extinguished without damage.

Those who say it said it was a dangerous looking sight to see the big engine rushing along with the flames blazing away in a threatening manner.

Pure cider vinegar at Keaton's.

OREGON CROPS.

The Oregon Weather Bureau Furnishes the Following Report of Crops in Oregon.

Fall and early sown spring grain are beginning to head out; the stalks are generally reported to be very short. Rye is heading out and alfalfa is in bloom in Morrow. Cut worms are injuring the onion crop and gardens in Washington and Clackamas counties; in the latter the hay crop on hills will be short and the late sown grain did not germinate well and much did not come up. Through the Willamette valley more rain is needed. The showers on the 10th proved to be of great good. Linn county grain fell. The acreage of grain in Benton is reported to be less than for years. In southern Oregon counties everything is promising and large crops will be harvested, more rain would do no harm, though in most sections it is not yet badly needed. In these counties the winter rains were unusually heavy. The rain freshens up the vegetation in eastern Oregon though more is needed. Encouraging reports as to the prospects, comes from the entire section. A good rain before June 1st would insure the largest crop ever gathered in this section. The weather has been too cool for corn to do well. Late sown grain does not promise so well as winter and volunteer grain. In Gilliam, but-fall-grass is drying up. In Morrow potatoes and corn as well as wheat, are promising. In Umatilla the wheat is heading; nights have been cool. In Union, the valleys of Wallawa, Baker and other counties, report crops as growing well and giving promise of good yields.

There has been but little rain and rather high temperatures for the past few weeks. The snow continues to melt in the mountains, but during the night the rivers have remained nearly stationary or have fallen slightly.

MR. KIRK'S TIP.

Brownsville, May 26, 1890.

You have perhaps seen in a article in the Daily Democrat of May 22d, headed "Bundling," in which I am accused of some very bad things. I have not an answer to that paper, and would like to have you publish the following article in the whole and in part, except that I did stop my paper and had the day taken out, and as the editor of that paper is very independent and claims the right to do as he pleases, and that he can say what he pleases, I thought I'd right to stop the paper if I did not wish to, and also to stop the article after I consulted two of the attorneys of the Eagle-Wooden Mills, and they told me to do as I liked. He says in the article that I came in to the office with a check in my eye.

I had not been in the Times office for over a day before there was any talk about this business, and have not seen them since. Now, as on the board of directors, one is absent, and I have not heard any objection from either of the other three. I can do as I please, and what I believe to be for the best interest of the mills and shall continue so to do as long as the stockholders trust me with their business. Now this editor of the Times cannot tell the people of Brownsville and vicinity very much about me, or I have said here for over 47 years and I am pretty well known. There are a few scoundrels of Penney who are always glad to get a lick at any one that do not see as they do, and are taking sides with him now, but will be ashamed of their conduct in a week or two after the election is over and they get cooled down.

W. R. Kirk.

Meeting Obstacles.

In regard to the Hunt railroad from The Dalles to Klokhat county the Goldendale Sentinel says: Notwithstanding Hunt's surveys have succeeded in finding a route for a line of grade and a practicable route into this valley via Rock creek, they are not without meeting with some obstacles as they go along. While the party were coming up Rock Creek recently they came upon the camp of old chief Waleu, who, like the average old river hunter, is "monarch of all he surveys," and is not inclined to let them pass over his "domain," but council prevailed and he suggested, surveying the group, that they were only common laborers judging by their clothes, but they would hardly be right to kill them, but he declared that when the trees, the boss came along he would have his scalp. The boys are all now of the firm belief that it would be as much as a man's life worth going through the creek with a plug hat on, and that the old man's passport is a pair of overalls.

On last Thursday when one of the men was going down Luna Gulch with a bunch for the surveyors, who he had loaded on a pack mule, the mule lost his footing and fell over a bank 20 feet high. It did not seem to hurt the mule much, but the freight, from the beans to the biscuits, had to be eaten with a spoon.

A Fine Number.

The June Cosmopolitan Magazine has made its appearance, and as usual it is an improvement on last magazine literature. It is in fact a magnificent number, embracing a wide range of literature and a fine artistic display of illustrations. Miss Bishop continues her articles on the trip around the world, and they are full of interest. An article on American Beauty is adorned with likenesses of many beautiful ladies. Twenty-five cents is expended for this June number. $2.40 per year published in New York.

No matter what the price, our goods will always be first-class. SPENCER & BLACKBURN.

The Union Service.

The union church service at the opera house, on Sunday evening, in commemoration of decoration day, was attended by a very large congregation, and the service was carried out according to the program in a harmonious and pleasing manner to all. The choir of male voices under the management of Prof. Lee was especially fine and the discourse by Rev. Mr. Trumbull, consisting principally of a review of the events and causes of the war and the lessons taught therefrom, was forcibly given and well taken. These special services are being continued all over the land and give impetus to the cause of Christian unity as well as the patriotic sentiment of the citizens.
