Unoccupied Lands.

Lying between the valley proper and the source of the Santiam river there are thousands of acres of fertile land which need only the process of a diligent husbandry to make them as productive as the finest portions of our territory. If the scores of immigrants who come to this country and are not financially able to buy a 160 acre farm in the old and well improved farming sections would only inspect this portion of our country they would find everything to invite a permanent location. The land, it is true, belongs to the government and is unsurveyed; but this need be no barrier to its early settlement. A very easy matter would it be to settle this country by colonies, apply to the government for a survey, and thus acquire a title to these rich bottom lands at a trifling figure as compared with the Oklahoma and other land crazes. Come and see for yourselves and we have no fears as to early occupation of the lands.

Body Found.

Last Wednesday morning, says the Corvallis Gazette the body of Fred J. Reed was discovered lying under a tree on the farm of his father, T. J. Reed, who lives on the Kings Valley road about 10 miles northwest of Corvallis, with a bullet hole in the left side. It is learned that on Tuesday evening Reed left his father's house to drive the stock home from pasture, taking his gun with him expecting to shoot some birds. This was the last ever seen of him alive. Nothing was thought of his failure to return that night, but on Wednesday morning a search was made which resulted as above stated. It is supposed that he in some way accidently shot himself. The deceased was about 20 years of age and had been dead about 24 hours when found. The funeral took place at the farm on Thursday.

A Boy's Neck Broken.

Near Salem, Thursday afternoon, Loren, a six-year old son of R. A. Dickson, on the Alf. Savage farm, was killed by his pony.

The little fellow was riding his pony, which was a present from his father, when he was thrown off and the rope caught about his neck dragging him about four rods and striking his head against a tree by which his neck was broken, resulting in instant death.

Spring Jackets at Cost.

I have a small line of spring jackets in colors I wish to close out and have reduced the price to cost. They are the latest style and a bargain. I also have a line of spring stockinet jackets for $5.50 each, which is the nicest jacket for the price in the market. Samuel E. Young.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The Decoration of the Graves and Exercises at the Opera House.

Decoration Day was appropriately observed in this city yesterday.

At 9 o'clock the members of the G. A. R. and Sons of Veterans, preceded by F. Co., O. N. G., headed by martial music, marched to the cemetery, where the graves were beautifully decorated with flowers, citizens generally participating.

The ceremonies were held at the grave of the late Fred Mueller, and the other graves were then decorated by detail.

At 10 o'clock the procession marched back to the opera house, where the memorial exercises were held. The auditorium had been profusely adorned with flowers and on the rostrum was erected a beautiful monument dedicated to the unknown dead.

The services were conducted in a beautiful and impressive manner. At 10:30 the service was opened with prayer by Rev. I. B. Fisher, followed by the song America by the choir. After the roll call Mrs. A. B. Woodin the president of the W. R. C. came forward and said:

Comrades of the Grand Army, and members of the Relief Corps: —A year has sped swiftly away since we last came together to deck with our garlands of sweet flowers this symbolical grave, which represents to us the last resting place of thousands of brave hearts—hearts that once beat high with hope and glowing with ambition and love of country. Though yearning for home and the dear ones they left behind, went bravely forth to fight for the cause of freedom. They now sleep in unknown graves. Loving friends can never find their silent resting place. Comrades, today we crown in our hearts those dead heroes, with the chaplets so nobly worn, as they fell on hillside and in glen, in their country's cause; and though they are buried far from here the gentle zephyr's of spring waft the fragrance of wild flowers over their lonely beds.

Then bring your bright flowers, all sparkling with dew-drops, oh mothers, and twine them about the white stone though your tears fall afresh with the dreaming of your brave soldier sleeping among the unknown.

It seems yesterday only your boy stood before you.
And softly you smiled on your soldier in blue.
It seems yesterday with his arms caressed you.
O mother he sleeps with the brave and the true.
Let us lovingly scatter our spiritual treasures
With a thought for some dear one who waited in vain.
Who wearily longed for her brave soldier's coming
While his fragrant grave lies in the field of the slain.

The Ladies then lead in the beautiful ceremony of depositing flowers upon the monument, representing the last resting place of all who fell on land and sea in the cause of freedom.

The address of the day was then delivered by Hon. H. B. Miller, of Grants Pass. It was an able tribute to the country's defenders and was full of lofty patroitism.

The response was delivered by Hon. G. W. Wright, of this city, on behalf of the Sons of Veterans. His was an eloquent address, and was listened to with marked attention.

The exercises were interspersed with music, and were attended by an assemblage of citizens.

DECORATION DAY AT JEFFERSON.

At 1:30 P. M. the citizens of Jefferson and surrounding country assembled on the street near Smith & Russell's hall, and, headed by the Jefferson cornet band, which discoursed a fine national air, marched to the M. E. church which was already nearly filled with people who had gone early to secure seats. The house was filled to its utmost capacity, many not being able to get on the inside. After the song "Some Sweet Day" had been rendered effectually by the Jefferson glee club, prayer was offered by Rev. B. N. Longsworth. The choice recitation, "The Veteran and his Grandson" was nicely recited by Miss Florence Young, after which the choir produced another well selected song. Rev. I. B. Fisher, of Albany, then made a very appropriate and able address which was listened to with marked interest by the entire audience and was the principal feature of the day. After another well selected piece by the band, the singers contributed that famous and patriotic song "America," when the entire congregation marched to the cemetery in the following order: The Jefferson band, the veterans, among whom were several G. A. R. men from Albany, the school, and lastly the citizens, the entire parade consisting of about 500. After reaching the cemetery the usual ceremonies were gone through with under the auspices of the men who once wore the blue. Nearly a wagon load of flowers, it would seem, were carried by the long procession and many were the handsome bouquets that were contributed to the graves by the friends of the noble dead."

K. of P. Celebration.

Thursday evening Laurel Lodge, No. 7, K. of P., celebrated the eleventh anniversary of their organization in grand style. Visiting members from Brownsville, Corvallis and Salem made the number of Knights present about sixty, who had the pleasure of conferring the rank of Knight upon five new members. After the completion of the work adjournment was made to the Delmonico, where justice was done to a good supper. Though rosy dawn was appearing in the east when the work was completed, every one went home happy and contented over the prosperous condition of Laurel lodge, No. 7, and had none but the best of wishes for the lodge and the order.

COUNTING THE PEOPLE.

The Enumerators Ready to Begin Work Next Monday—Albany's Population.

The census enumerators appointed for Albany have received the necessary blanks and all instruction for beginning their work next Monday of taking their part of the eleventh census of the United States. They will visit every house in the city. The HERALD predicts that Albany's growth will be found to have swelled her population to nearly 6,000. The questions that will be asked, call for the name of every person residing in the United States on the first day of June, with their sex and age, and whether white, black, mulatto, quadroon, octoroon, or Chinese, Japanese or Indian. Inquiry will be made also of every person as to whether they are single, married, widowed or divorced, and, if married, whether married during census year. The place of birth of each person, and the place of the father and mother of each person will also be called for, as well as a statement as to the profession, trade or occupation followed and the number of months employed during the census year. For all persons ten years of age or over a return must be made by the enumerator as to the number able to read and write, and the number who can speak English. For those who cannot speak English the particular language or dialect spoken by them will be ascertained. For children of school age also, the number of months they attended school will be recorded by the enumerators. In the case of mothers an inquiry will be made as to the number of children they have had, and the number of these children living at the present time. This inquiry is to made of all women who are or have been married, including all who are widows or have been divorced. Foreign-born males of adult age, that is, 21 years of age or over, will be asked as to the number of years they have been in the United States, and whether they are naturalized or have taken out naturalization papers. Of the head of each family visited the question will be asked as to the number of persons in the family, and whether his home is owned or hired; also, if owned whether the home is free from mortgage incumberance. If the head of the family is a farmer, similar inquiries will be made concerning the ownership of the farm. In addition to these inquiries, all of which are made on the population schedule, the law under which the census is taken makes provision for special inquiries concerning such of the population as may be mentally or physically defective in any respect, that is, insane, feeble-minded, deaf, blind, or crippled, or who may be temporarily disabled by sickness, disease, or accident at the time of the enumerator's visit. Certain special inquiries will also be made concerning inmates of prisons and reformatories and of charitable and benevolent institutions. Besides this, a statement will be called for concerning all persons who have died during the census year, giving their name, age, sex, occupation, and cause of death.

This official count of the people comes but once in ten years, and every family and every person should consider it to be their duty to answer the questions of the census enumerators willingly and promptly, so that definite and accurate information may be gained concerning the 65,000,000 people living within the bounds of this great country.

STATE GRANGE.

The session of the state grange closed yesterday forenoon.

The next session to be held on the 4th Tuesday in May 1891, will be in Hillsboro, Washington county.

The labors of this session were quite varied in nature and included the adoption of a resolution favoring amending the assessment laws so that there be no exemption for indebtedness.

The Governor was asked to appoint one or more ladies as members of the board of regents.

A resolution was passed favoring the establishment of experiment stations in eastern and southern Oregon.

Also favoring the election of United States senator by the direct vote of the people.

The election of precinct assessors.

Objections to state appropriations for making roads.

The officers were installed on Thursday evening and the degrees conferred upon a class of over fifty.

James G. Clark, the celebrated composer and singer was present at the meetings before work and sung some beautiful songs.

Past Lecturer Simpson was presented with a beautiful gold headed cane.

Much Salmon.

The Dalles Times-Mountaineer says that the run of salmon is almost unprecedented in the history of the city. Yesterday we understand Seufert Bros., in their wheels, caught fifty-one tons. The cannery is running to its full capacity, and cannot can the fish caught. For this reason many of the wheels have been hauled out of the water.

ON M'KAY CREEK.

A Sportsman's Paradise—Deer And Trout Plentiful—Also Rattlesnakes.

East Oregonian.

Van Shull, who is looking out for Hank Vaughan's band of 325 cattle at his ranch on McKay creek, at the foot of Wood Hollow, was down to-day. Van reports that that neighborhood is a perfect paradise for the angler and sportsman. Deer are plentiful, a fine buck being seen within a few rods of camp, and the stream is alive with trout. Rattlesnakes are the only drawback, being unpleasantly numerous. No less than fifty were killed near the camp, some of the monsters wearing from ten to fifteen buttons. Van brought down a quantity of rattles to prove his snake story.

Miss Flora Batson.

It was a delighted audience that heard Miss Flora Batson, the talented colored songstress at the opera house last evening. She possesses a rich, sweet voice, and the case with which she modulated it from the clear soprano heights to the purest baritone was a source of wonder and admiration among the musical critics present. Her numbers were repeatedly encored, and the large audience was enthusiastic in their applause. She certainly deserves the title she has of "The Colored Jenny Lind."

Over the Mountains.

Charles Knuden arrived in Lebanon last Saturday from over the mountains. He reported about five feet of snow on the summit and says that if the road was cleared of fallen trees, wagons could cross in about three weeks. Mr. Knuden crossed the mountains with a wagon by the O. P. R. R. route in February, being the first team to cross this year.—Lebanon Express.
