DEVASTATING STORM

A Train Goes Through a Trestle at Parkesville.

CUSTODIANS TRICKS EXPOSED

An Oil Ship Explodes—An Embezzler Joins the Canadian Colony—An Editor Shot—Hot Weather.

ST. PAUL, June 5.—Reports of damage from the storm are now coming in from various parts of the northwest. In general the rain was a benefit but the wind that came with it, in some places washouts and floods that resulted from it, caused many thousands of dollars loss to railroad, farms and towns.

The damage at Red Wing and Zumbroa, Minn., are very heavy, many dwellings were ruined and families forced to vacate. In Belle Creek valley all the tracks on the Minneapolis & St. Paul division of C. M. & St. P. were destroyed.

Cattle pastured on the bottoms are reported drowned. In some places tracks are buried 15 feet under the earth.

A GAY CUSTODIAN.

He Forges' Checks and Draws Money on Dummy Orders.

SEATTLE, June 5.—McCombs, the custodian of the funds of the general relief committee organized after the great fire of a year ago, was convicted in the superior court to-day of forging the name of one of the committee's beneficiary's and endorsing the checks drawn by the committee. McComb's stealings amounted to several thousand. He forged hundreds of dummy applications for relief, passed them himself, had checks drawn by the committee and then forged the endorsements of the parties for whom the checks were drawn and had the checks collected.

CHANGE OF PLACE.

Troops Going to their New Location.

PORTLAND, June 5.—The Second Cavalry, U. S. A., for some time at Walla Walla, Washington, arrived here to-day en route to their new post in Arizona. The train consists of forty cars and is divided into three sections.

THE INDIAN TO HANG.

The Scaffold is Erected for That Purpose.

PORTLAND, June 5.—The scaffold on which "Hello," the Umatilla Indian is to be executed to-morrow, was erected in the county court house yard to-day. He was convicted of the murder of a squaw on the Umatilla reservation, but he still asserts his innocence. In the United States circuit court to-day Judge Deady made an order that the remains be delivered either to Dr. Cauthorne or the Oregon state medical college.

A MAGNIFICENT EXHIBIT.

California to Send a Section of Redwood Trees.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Preparations are being made to take out a section of the large redwood trees of Tulare county, California, for exhibition at the world's fair at Chicago in 1893. The section of the tree which will be sent is to be nine feet in height and sixty inches in circumference. The tree itself measures 99 feet in circumference. The work preparing the section was already begun and will employ 10 men two months. Three flat cars will be required for its transportation of the exhibit, which is expected to weigh about 65 thousand pounds.

ESTIMATES OF POPULATION.

Wait Until the Enumerators Ascertain.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Census Supervisor Davis estimates the population of this city at 356,000, with the Chinese population at [illegible].

Fatal Explosion on An Oil Ship.

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—This afternoon an explosion occurred in the tank of the steamer Hausenkurt, lying at the Atlantic Oil Refining company's dock. The breeze of the vessel was ruined and 800,000 gallons of oil together with considerable household property, was destroyed by fire. The fire is atributed to spontaneous combustion. Joseph Quinn, the shipping clerk, was covered with burning oil and died. Thirteen other men were burned of whom three may die.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

The Silver Bill Receives a Pretty Thorough Discussion.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—In the senate the silver bill was taken up and Hiscock addressed the senate on the proposition of free coinage. He believed the majority of the people opposed the opening of the mints to free coinage.

Stewart gave from his point of view a resume of the legislative proceedings which have resulted in the demonetization of the silver dollar in 1873. He declared that the amendment that demonetized silver was never read in either house.

Sherman produced the original bill of 1873 from the files of the senate to show that not only was the amendment read and voted for in the senate but was amended on his (Sherman's) motion.

The silver bill then went over without action.

The senate bill to authorize the construction of a bridge across the Columbia river by the Oregon Railway & Extension company adjourned.

Sherman then addressed the senate and he said he had consented to the increase of circulation proposed in the bill to 54 millions a year. He believed the treasury notes based on silver bullion would be as safe a substitute for paper money as could be conceived. He did not object to their being legal tender for all debts, public and private. That was far preferable to the free coinage of silver, because with all efforts made to get silver dollar into circulation there was not one of them in circulation for every inhabitant of English shillings or four francs. In conclusion Sherman said he would vote for any measure that would in his judgment secure and maintain by metallic standard, one that would not demonetize gold because it to be hoarded or exported but that would establish both gold and silver as a common standard at fixed ratio not only in the United States but in all the nations of the world.

IN THE HOUSE.

McKinley from the committee on rules reported a resolution providing that the house shall proceed at once to the consideration of the silver bill and that the consideration shall continue till Saturday, when the previous question shall be ordered. The resolution was adopted.

The republicans that voted in the negative are, Anderson, United States; Bartine, Connecticut; Dehaven, Featherate, Tunston, Kelleme, Morrow, Hermann and Townsend of Colorado.

The democrats voted in the affirmative, the bill having been read by Conger and offered the caucus bill as a substitute. It is substantially as follows: The secretary of the treasury is directed to purchase from time to time, silver bullion to the amount of 4½ millions worth of fine silver each month, at its market price, not exceeding one dollar for three hundred and seventy-one and twenty five five one hundredths grains of pure silver, and issue in payment treasury notes to be prepared by the secretary of the treasury. Section two provides that the treasury notes be redeemable on demand in coin, and such treasury notes to be legal tender for all debts, public and private.

Section three provides that the secretary of the treasury shall coin such portion of the bullion purchased as may be necessary to provide for redemption of the treasury notes provided for.

Section six provides that whenever the market price of silver as determined in pursuance of section 1, one dollar for 371 25-100 grains of pure silver, it shall be lawful for the owner of any silver bullion to deposit the same at any coinage mint of the United States to be turned into standard silver dollars for his benefit as provided for in the act of January 18, 1837.

Representative Mills from the committee on Pacific roads to day reported to the house a bill agreed on by the committee for refunding the government indebtedness on Union and Central Pacific roads. The report says that settlement should be made with reference to consideration that they should be of such a character as not to destroy the value of the stock. They are house and senate bills and said bills agree in fixing rate of interest at 3 per cent. for the Union Pacific and 2 per cent. for the Central Pacific and places the adjustment at 72 years for the Central Pacific and 50 years for the Union Pacific.

The report says these are changes demanded by the differences in the situation and earning capacity of the properties and the financial abilities of the companies.

After long debate the house adjourned.

We have our new spring stock of kid gloves, and the best value ever shown in Albany at W. F. Read's.

SCOTT MURDER CASE.

On Trial at McMinnville at the Present Term.

WHISKEY AND INDIAN RAIDS.

New Postmaster at Palouse—Reed Receives Home Endorsement McKinley Bill on Its Merits.

MCMINNVILLE, June 5.—The testimony in behalf of the state in the Scott murder trial was completed this morning. But little new testimony other than that produced at the coroner's inquest. The finding of ammunition to reload to fire the second shot, and the gun being placed in its accustomed place shows familiarity with the premises that the prosecution claims was the work of a stranger.

Defendant was the first witness called in his own behalf. He told a straightforward story; that he might have blooded his clothes while butchering or marking hogs, or he might possibly have attempted to raise his wife when he found her dying on the porch. A large number of the representative citizens testified as to Scott's good character, and relatives of Scott testified as to the affectionate relationship of Scott and his wife.

The defense rested at 5 o'clock. The state furnished rebutting testimony at 6 o'clock. The court adjourned till 8 to-morrow, when the argument will be made to the jury.

THE INDIAN RAID.

Whisky as Usual at the Bottom of the Trouble.

DENVER, June 5.—J. H. Holt, purchasing agent for the Importing Cattle company, of Wyoming, arrived here this morning and gives a brief account of an Indian massacre occurring in the upper Green river country several days ago. He says that a party of Indians that had become intoxicated with whisky furnished by ranchmen, came to the camp of the government surveyors and demanded more "firewater." It being refused the Indians attacked the party, killing the chief engineer, Crittenden in the third division of the government survey and chain bearers E. W. Timberlake, Geo. Woods and Henry Overmeger. Jesse Lee, assistant engineer, was left on the field for dead but recovered sufficiently to get to a neighboring ranch where he now lies in a precarious condition.

GOOD MARKSMEN.

Cadets Succeed in Hitting the Mark Admirably.

WEST POINT, June 5.—This afternoon was the firing drill at the sea coast battery on the river shore. The guns were manned by cadets of the second class with relief detachment from the first class. The target was a patch of whitewash on the precipitous side of Crow's Nest several feet above the river shore. The marksmanship was excellent, particularly with rifles, and the target was hit many times.

Challenge for a Duel.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Colonel Andrew H. Dawson, assistant district attorney, to-day sent a challenge to ex-Judge Gunonisy S. Bedford, another assistant district attorney to fight a duel. The trouble grew out of the conduct of a murder case by Bedford. An application for a warrant for Dawson's arrest for sending the challenge was made in the name of John Doe. The judge reserved his decisions.

Findings Another Will Case.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Judge Beach signed the findings in the Tilden will case, declaring the bequest to the Tilden trust illegal and void. It gives a judgment for Col. Geo. H. Tilden, the plaintiff. Judge Beach directs the executors to account for the residuary estate and to distribute it among the plaintiff and the other heirs.

Railroad Accident.

WHEELING, W. Va., June 5.—A report has reached here to night that a train with B. & O. officials on board, went through the trestle between here and Parkersburg. A wrecking train left for the scene with an Associated Press reporter on board. Details will be late.

Gen. Clarkson and Party.

DENVER, June 5.—Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson, wife and party of friends arrived here this morning from Des Moines in a special car attached to the U. P. fast mail. Gen. Clarkson stated that the trip was purely one of pleasure.

They will go to Portland, Seattle and San Francisco.

Barn and Stock Burned.

MODESTO, Cal., June 5.—Last evening the large brick barn of J. W. Roberts at Harris' Ranch, 20 miles east of Modesto, was burned to the ground, with two mules, six horses and 80 tons of hay. The fire is supposed to have been set by a tramp. Loss, $6000; insurance, $2500.

Estimated Losses.

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—The Republicans York Nebraska special says the fatalities in Bradshaw are 15. The wounded have been removed to other towns or into the country.

Estimated loss will reach $250,000. Of the stricken household it is estimated that not 10 per cent. will be able to erect roofs over their heads.

NARROW GAUGE DESTINATION

Bound to Go Through to Winnemucca.

EUGENE, June 5.—Parties working between Coburg and Springfield in the interest of the Southern Pacific company, securing the right of way for the proposed extension, stated that construction would commence in a short time and that the Southern Pacific company will build direct to Winnemucca as soon as possible.

Apaches on Reservation.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—A message has been received at the army headquarters that no Apaches had left the San Carlos reservation.

It is thought that Hardie's murderers have crossed the Mexican line and troops are changing positions all along the line.

Orders have been issued to shoot the murderers on sight and permission is expected from the Secretary of War for troops to enter Mexico.

He Skips to Canada.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 5.—A case of embelzlement which occurred here several months ago, by which several prominent residents of Trumbull and surrounding towns were victimized out of $80,000 has just come to light. The alleged embezzler is Robin Beers, son of Lagrande L. Beers, a young lawyer of much promise.

It is thought Beers has gone to Canada.

Hot Weather.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Exceedingly hot weather has prevailed, followed by furious lightning and wind storms. Two men were fatally hurt and others slightly injured.

Crook County.

Ochoco Review.

Crooked river and Ochoco have gone down almost to low water mark. The snow is almost all out of the mountains east of here, hence low water.

The bulk of the wool shorn in Crook county this year has been shipped to The Dalles, where it will probably remain in warehouse until the market opens up. At present there seem to be little stir in the wool market, and it is feared that prices will be low when buyers begin purchasing.

A GREAT COUNTRY.

Speech of Hon. Chauncey M. Depew on The World's Fair.

A COUNTRY OF DEVELOPMENT.

The Marvelous Growth of the West, North and South in Population, Railroads and Manufacturing.

CHICAGO, June 5.—At the meeting of the Chicago Press Club this evening Hon. Chauncey M. Depew in an address said in part:

The question which has been assigned to me by your committee is the "World's Fair," and the success or the failure of this great enterprise will be dependent in a great measure upon the view which is taken of it by the press of the country. Bidden here to speak upon the "World's Fair," in one view I may appear as the captive, chained to the chariot-wheels of the conquer for the purpose of gracing his triumph, but a broader and more generous conception is, that after a healthy and friendly rivalry as to location, we are now all equally earnest and enthusiastic for a phenomenal success. I did all that I could and exhausted every legitimate resource to carry this great fair to New York. The arguments of that controversy are now ancient history. New York had no animosities, no jealousies, no enmities, and I am here to say that all that is in her power to do will be done for the exhibition in Chicago.

The Columbus quadri centennial celebration, will be the only one within recorded time in which all the world can cordially and fraternally unite. The occasion is at once our opportunity and our necessity—our opportunity to show to the nations of the world our marvelous growth in population, in settlement, in cities, in railroads, and our developement in agricultural, mineral and manufacturing resources; our necessity, in presenting to commercial peoples of all races and climes a view of our surplus in the products of mine and mill, of farm and factory which will furnish the incentives for barter and exchange in all the marts of the world, which by absorbing that which we can produce beyond our needs in almost infinite volume, shall burden the ocean with our freights, shall re-create for us a merchant marine, shall carry our flag once more upon every sea and into every harbor, and employ and enrich our own people. We forget that we are three thousand miles from the nearest of the oldest nations and that our traditional policy has prevented them from becoming acquainted with us. Our flag has almost dissapeared from the seas, our freight is carried in foreign vessels, our navy is a myth, and the resources of our diplomacy are wholly unequal to the task of reaching the intelligence of foreign lands.

With the broad, generous spirit which will inspire the visitors to this Exhibition, the West will discover that the East with its conservatism, intellectuality and prosperity has not lost its vigor, and the East will find that the West with its stalwart force and push and drive is abreast with the East in intelligence, culture and refinement. While the East and West will meet the South here with fraternal greetings and reciprocal respect, the representatives from every state will learn arew the lesson that peace, prosperity and power can be strengthened and perpetuated only in the Federal Union.

There was a time when the weekly Tribune reached every town in the West, and Horace Greeley's opinions werethe bond of common sentiment and national union, but the Associated Press distributes with impartial hand the news of the world to the newspapers in every city in the land. The result is that the journals of every town go to the public only as far as the train can carry them during the morning hour or before the family clock strikes the note for retiring. Universal circulation all over the country is no longer possible to any newspaper, and the editorials of the local press mould the opinions of their people. There has been no time since the inauguration of our first president so auspicious for a national and international exhibition in the United State. In 1876 we had only partially recovered from the most disastrous financial panic of the century. The south has not yet started upon its new developement, and was still suffering from the disorders and bitterness of reconstruction. But now we are at the very consummation of peace and prosperity. We are on on the pinnacle of a century of unexampled growth, development and progress. The vast region west of the Missouri river which was a wilderness in 1876 has been fruitful in new states added to the Union, the railroad has penetrated along the valleys and climbed to the mountain tops, carrying population, opening farms, developing mines, starting furnaces and mills, building villages and founding cities. The whole country is ripe and ready for the inspection of the world.
