HORTICULTURAL MATTERS.

ALBANY, June 12, 1890.

To the Editor of the Herald.

Through the columns of your valuable paper I would like to ask your agricultural readers if any of them have used bone dust for fertilizing? If so, for what kind of crops? and how applied? and in what quantity for a giving surface.

Also, what experience any of them have had with the green fly on apple trees? what harm do they do? and what connection have the small black ants with the fly and what is their remedy.

The foregoing questions are a few out of many which I have to ask of your readers, but these may suffice for the present.

I would suggest that all questions be numbered and the answers could be given by numbers to correspond in place of names.

ENQUIRER.

CELEBRATION AT LEBANON.

The nation's holiday, July 4th, will be celebrated at Lebanon.

There will be a succession of entertaining surprises. Following is the programme:

Hose contest.
Foot races.
Fat man's race, free for all, 200 yards and over.
Ladies race.
Sack race.
Wheelbarrow race.
Baseball.
Music by several bands.

J. R. Kirkpatrick will be grand marshal of the day, assisted by Hon. R. A. Irvine and Geo. Humphrey, of Albany. The celebration promises to be a big affair.

An Important Industry.

A gentleman living in Albany has received a letter from a friend in California inquiring about the land of the Willamette Valley, as to whether or not it is suited for the raising of sugar beet, etc. The writer also stated that a representative of the great sugar king, Claus Spreckles, would visit Oregon during the summer for the purpose of ascertaining its adaptability to the sugar beet with a view of erecting a beet sugar factor. His attention has been called to Albany on account of its splended shipping facilities. It might be mentioned in this connection that Mr. Ashby Pearce and others of this city have made a test of growing sugar beets, and have found that they grow luxurently and mature well in this portion of Oregon.

In the City.

Commander James A. Varney, of the Department of Oregon, G. A. R., is in the city and will attend the Post meeting to-night of McPherson Post, No. 5, and will also visit the meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps, at 2 p. m. Mr. Varney is also commissioner and fruit pest inspector of the State Board of Horticulture and his special business here is to meet the fruit men of this vicinity, consult with them and give and receive information in regard to the fruit pest. Those interested in fruit raising—and that includes everybody—should meet with him and give him all the aid and assistance they can. He is making very many valuable suggestions to the different sections he visits. He will remain over to-day

A FATAL TRAGEDY.

A Wife Shoots Her Husband and Then Suicides at Her Home Near Lebanon.

Special to the Herald.

LEBANON, June 12—A terrible tragedy was enacted near this city early this morning. About daylight Mrs. Aurnspaugh shot and killed her husband, Grant Aurnspaugh, and then shot and killed herself. The cause of the shooting is supposed to be jealousy on the part of the wife.

Justice Wallace has been called upon to hold an inquest on the parties.

They reside some 7 miles north of Lebanon, in Santiam precinct. They were well respected in the community, and the fatal ending is greatly deplored. They leave two young children. He was shot through the heart and then she shot herself through the head.

Aurnspaugh was aged about 30. His father and brother lived in houses near his own, both the brothers being married. About 3 o'clock this morning the woman who did the shooting arose and found her husband in her sister's apartments. Both were in their night clothes, and she was sitting upon his lap. The young wife, outraged at the shameful wrong of her husband, procured a gun and committed the tragedy as related. The husband lived only long enough to say that his wife had killed him, she fell dead upon his body, and he was to weak from his own wounds to remove her body, and in this position they were found.

The deed had been premeditated as the wife had written a letter the day before to her parents in California, stating that she had repeatedly witnessed such exhibitions of perfidy on the part of her husband, and that she intended to kill him and herself. The letter was taken out of the Lebanon post-office this morning and read setting fourth the above facts.

LATER PARTICULARS.

Mr. O. H. Black, who was at the scene of the shooting, was seen in this city last night by a HERALD reporter. He said that the first report of the particulars sent out was somewhat incorrect. Mrs. Ornbaugh, he said, shot her husband while he was asleep, and he did not speak afterwards. The wife had found her sister and husband in a compromising situation the previous morning. She had upbraided her sister about it during the day, and the girl and the perfidous husband had taunted her with the threat of running off together. Goaded to desperation, she waited until her husband was asleep in the morning and shot him. Her sister, on hearing the shot, came into the room, but quickly fled when the unfortunate woman shot herself in the head. The letter had not been sent to the postoffice, but was yet in the hands of a neighbor, who had been requested to take it to Lebanon.

An infant child was lying upon the bed, but it was uninjured.

Return of McKanlass.

Following is what the Spokane Chronicle has to say of the McKanlass minstrels who will give a performance in this city this evening: The McKanlass operatic minstrels opened last night to a good house. We must acknowledge that the show is first class in every respect, and the jokes and songs are all new and fresh. McKanlass is a great commedian, a good singer and a graceful dancer, and his violin and banjo playing is phenomenal. Master Willie is a little wonder, and with his little sister they make the greatest little team that ever appeared in Spokane. They are the most finished children performers we have ever seen; and Miss Griffin, the vocalist, sang some very difficult and pleasing songs, receiving several very hearty encores. Mr. Sales is very funny indeed, keeping the house in a roar from the time of his entrance until his exit. The company all through is good, the best of color that ever visited our city. The choruses, orchestras, and band are away up.

The Athletic Club.

At a meeting of the Athletic club at the opera house last evening the following officers were elected: President, Geo. E. Chamberlain; vice-president, O. H. Irvine; treasurer, Wilson Blain; secretary, R. L. Dorris. These were made directors and a board of seven directors was completed by the addition of the names of J. R. Wyatt, Watt Monteith and J. R. Whitney. A committee of two, consisting of W. H. Warner and Londa Gray was appointed to circulate the roll of members for additional names. The initiation fee was fixed at $2 and the monthly dues at $1. The meeting was preliminary, as the constitution and by-laws have not yet been completed, and the business transacted was made subject to the ratification of the club when fully organized. The club starts out with the hearty support of the business men and should meet with success.

Of Interest to Horse Owners.

Horses boarded by the day or week at L. Sender's stables. All driving or other horses will be well cared for, being under the immediate charge of Mr. Fred Moist. Charges will be very reasonable. Farmers' horses will also be furnished with the best of accommodations. Owners of good horses will always find sale for the same at this stable at good prices. Stables located on Sixth and Ellsworth streets, one block south of school building.

The Oregon Pacific steamer, the Three Sisters, which has been lying on the county road near Oregon City since the flood last winter, was successfully launched at that place yesterday and will again begin making trips on the upper river.

GLEANINGS FROM LANE.

The Government Work at Heceta Head—No Flowers This Year.

Eugene Register.

Last Sunday while W. L. Dysinger was working with a colt, which was harnessed, he got away from him and started to run. His young bull dog was standing near at once understood the situation. He ran after the colt and caught hold of the lines, which were dragging, and succeeded in stopping him, but he got away again and again the dog caught the lines. The dog stayed with the colt in this way, though he was tumbled around in all shapes, until he stopped him about two miles west of town. The colt was brought back by a gentleman coming in from that way, but as the dog did not show up Mr. Dysinger went after him and found him so badly used up that he could not walk back.

George W. Freeman, government engineer, was in the city the first of the week and left on the stage Monday morning for the Siuslaw, where he will make a survey for the new lighthouse station at Heceta Head, and also for a road from the north side of the river, near the mouth, to the light station. We understand he will hire assistants down there, thus distributing money appropriated for the work among the citizens in that section. The people there are anxiously looking for the work to commence.

The faculty has made a ruling that during the graduating exercises at the University this year no flowers will be allowed sent on the stage. If friends of the graduates wish to present them with flowers they must wait until after the exercises or send them to the ante-room.

All kinds of boxes can be procured of the Sugar Pine Door and Lumber Co., in this city at very low prices. Fruit growers and others in need of boxes should call and leave their orders.

THE SCIO FIRE.

A Third Attempt of an Incendiary to Destroy the City.

Night before last a third attempt was made to burn the city of Scio. This time the fire was started in the rear of a small wooden building adjoining the brick building on the west side of the main street. A can of coal oil had been split open by cross cuts in the head and the cut flaps turned back and some of the contents spilled upon the floor. The fire was discovered and extinguished before it had gained headway enough to reach the coal oil, and only damaged the inside of the back room by blackening the contents. It is thought the author of the fires has been discovered and an arrest is likely to be made.
