Another paint mine has been discovered in Oregon, this time near Monroe, Benton county. The ochre is of a dark red color, and experiments have been made with it to the satisfaction of the men who propose developing the find. It is clear of grit and susceptible to many changes in color by heat. It mixes readily with oil. Underlying the red ochre is a good vein of yellow.

Damages Awarded.

Marion county juries have awarded verdicts of $5000 and $3000 damages respectively to representatives of Miller and Guthrie, the engineer and fireman who were killed when on duty on a Southern Pacific train at Albany some months ago, through running into a switch that had been opened by drunken hoodlums "for fun." The wreck is one well remembered, not only through the loss of the lives of these two men, but because of the wantonness of the mischief that caused it, and the slight punishment that its perpetrators received. The railroad company may be censurable—it clearly is so, in the estimation of the juries in these cases—in that sufficient vigilance was not exercised over its track at that time and place to prevent the accident, but this cannot excuse the lax administration of justice in the matter, and the failure to adequately punish but one of the real criminals in the case.

The Country Editor.

He riseth in the morning and knoweth not what a day may bring forth. If he telleth all the news he runneth a great risk of having a tin ear put on him, and if he telleth not the news the people say he is n. g., and there is no joy in it. The crafty man cajoleth him into giving him a 50-cent puff for a 5-cent cigar, and fond mothers frown on him if he fails to flatter their freckled faced broods. And all his ways are ways of woe, and his days are full of sorrow. The life insurance man setteth snares for him, and on the whole he hath a deuce of a time.—Germantown Republican.

J. S. ANTONELLE'S LOVE.

Sensation Over the Guarded Secret of a Twenty Years' Family Compact.

S. F. Examiner.

Joseph S. Antonelle, the well-known contractor, has a little surprise in store for his family. The story of his domestic infelicities has just been brought to light by the elopement of the woman he called wife. Some twenty years ago Antonelle met in Philadelphia a buxom young girl who was known to him as Miss Annie McNulty. He fell deeply in love with her and she reciprocated his affections. The couple agreed to come West together, the contractor all the time urging his lady love to become his wife. She demurred, however, at all times, on one pretense and another; but finally, when two children were born to her, she told her secret to her lover, to the effect that she had a husband living whom she had deserted, and hence she could not marry him without committing bigamy. Antonelle, however, loved her, and introduced her as his wife and allowed her to assume his name; not only this, but he built for her a handsome home at 1123 Myrtle street, where they lived with their children and to the world the woman was known as "Mrs. Antonelle."

About a year ago the woman's husband died, and shortly after that the contractor began to suspect that all was not right with his lady love. He employed a detective and the discovery was made that one Domingo Zazueta, the father of a family, and a gay young man, paid too frequent visits to the home of Antonelle during his absence. The contractor was convinced that the woman of his choice was untrue to him, and upon learning that he turned her out of his home.

The woman went away and shortly after Zazueta disappeared, leaving his family in destitute circumstances. Mr. Antonelle is now having considerable trouble in settling his property affairs, as he finds that some of his lands stand on the records in the name of "Mrs. Antonelle." He is the contractor who had considerable trouble about his contract for building a section of the seawall near the narrow gauge landing. He is quite wealthy. His two sons, born of the woman that left him, are in his employ and take sides with their father.

Oregon Crops.

Following is crop weather bulletin No. 14, of the Oregon Weather Bureau, co-operating with U. S. Signal Service. Central office Portland, Oregon. For the week ending Saturday June 14th, 1890.

The week has been cool and partly cloudy, with light sprinkles of rain on Sunday, Monday and Saturday. The rainfall was light and not much more than to lay the dust. Vegetation of all kinds would be benefited by good heavy rains, and especially would the wheat crop be benefited. The weather, has, however, not been injurious to crops, the cool, cloudy weather, being more beneficial than cloudless warm weather would be, but rain is what is needed for the growth and maturing of grains, vegetables etc. Haying is generally in progress and light yields are generally reported. The continued dry weather proved to be quite injurious to the hay crop in most sections.

The fall and early sown spring wheat are in good condition. They would be benefited by rain, but if no dry north winds prevail, the crop will average very well. The late sown spring grain continues to be in a poor condition, and less than one-half the average, from spring sown grain is expected. Barley, rye and oats are doing quite well. Corn has a slow growth owing to the cool weather. Hops are reported as progressing nicely. Vineyards are healthy and excellent prospects are shown by them. Eastern Oregon crop reports are more hopeful than from the Willamette valley. Fruit, however in the Willamette valley is in as fine a condition as could be desired, and southern Oregon promises to eclipse former years by her fruit yield. The strawberry crop is becoming exhausted and cherries are now plentiful in the market.

Oregon's Exhibit.

Astoria Columbian: The Oregon movement for a creditable display at the World's Fair does not move very fast. If three or four energetic men would get together and call a meeting, the matter could be pushed along without any trouble. Oregon must have a large and creditable exhibition at Chicago, and we cannot afford to loose any time in getting ready for it. The work will require many months of preparation and the sooner we begin the better will be the display. We have to much to show to think of slighting this matter.

General Order No. 14.

Owing to the armory being occupied there will be no drill on the 17th and 24th of June 1890. All members of F Co., will assemble uniformed, armed and equipped for inspection on Saturday evening June 28th, the same being the third anniversary of the company's organization. Done this 16th day of June, 1890, under order of O. H. Irvine Capt. commanding F. Co., 2d Reg't., O. N. G.

F. J. OVERMAN,
1st. Sergeant.

Excursion to the Front.

From present indications the Fourth of July excursion to the front on the Oregon Pacific is sure to be a grand success. Tickets are selling very rapidly in Albany as well as the neighboring towns, and those who intend participating should secure them at once as the number is limited. Tickets in Albany at Wells, Fargo & Co.'s office. Round trip only $2; children under ten, half fare.

THE FIRST CENSUS

Linn County First Reported in 1848. When There Were Only 963 People.

"Speaking of the census," said Jason Wheeler to one of the census enumerators the other day, "carries me back to the days of '49. I took the first census of Linn county; it was in 1848. The county was all the territory from the Santiam river to the California line and it took me just a little over a month to do the work. There were at that time in the county 963 people, 369 of whom were legal voters. In the Rogue river valley I found but one man, a Mr. Welch, with a wife and two children; the next family this side of there lived in the forks of the Willamette river and the next was Mr. Spores at Spores ferry, where I think he or his family still reside.

The now bustling city of Albany was then not started. Soon afterward however a store was built and a postoffice located.

There were then no farms or county roads over the now beautiful Albany prairie and when coming to town or returning to our homes out on the Santiam we were guided by the buttes as to locality. We would scarcely ever pass an ash swale, of a hot summer afternoon, that we did not arouse from the cool shade a deer or cayote and occassionally a bear.

Now the population of the county is over 20,000, and the census of this city will probably show between 5,000 and 6,000 people.

BOARD OF TRADE.

The Board of Trade held its regular monthly meeting in the office of Blackburn & Wright last evening and some important business was transacted. J. H. Townsend was appointed a commissioner to attend the Northwestern Industrial Exposition to be held at Spokane Falls in September and October. A communication from E. L. Stannett, of the Tacoma Starch and Glucose Company, was placed on file. Jay W. Blain was appointed to invite the State Horticultural Society to hold their fall meeting in this city.

A committee consisting of T. L. Wallace, Jay W. Blain and B. F. Tabler was appointed to circulate a petition memorializing congress to locate a soldiers' home at Albany. The city council and county court will also be asked to do the same.

The Athletic Club.

A meeting of the Athletic Club was held at the armory last evening. Harper Craner was added to the committee to collect the funds, begs today. Prof. Earnest Bradstreet was engaged for a period of one month to instruct the members and in company with W. H. Warner, will interview the members at a salary of $60. It is the intention of the club to organize a permanent gymnasium, with bath rooms bars and other paraphernalia. A meeting will be held at the armory to-night, to which all members, as well as those desiring to become members, are requested to be present.

Brakeman Injured.

At the Southern Pacific depot yesterday Ben Zehner, a brakeman, was coupling cars when he was caught between two cars on the short side of a curve in precisely the same manner as the accident that occurred several days ago. Dr Mason, the company's physician, attended him. No bones were broken though he was severely bruised. He was cared for at the Depot hotel.

COAST NOTES.

Jackson county has the only lady enumerator in Oregon in the person of Mrs. Effie Cawley, appointed for Woodville, Rock Point and Gold Hill precincts.

The child of Mrs. Hugh Glencross, of Astoria, born on Sunday, May 25th and which weighed barely eighteen ounces when twenty-four hours old, is still alive and is growing though it is very weak.

The editor of the Stayton Sun met John Crabtree up in the mountains. He is ninety years old and he had been mowing grass with a scythe; last year he made quite a number of rails. Among other things he told that he moved from Virginia to Jackson county, Mo., in 1833, and moved to Oregon in 1845, and that on July 11th 1846, he settled on the land where he met him. Himself and family were among the first settlers in Linn county.

The Pendleton East Oregonian says: A young man and his intended called at the county clerk's office this afternoon for a marriage license. Through some oversight Mr. Hartman got the bride's mother's name in the paper. The groom took his glory ticket and left, but after while rushed back and remarked: "I don't want to marry the old lady. Fix this thing." It was fixed.

Four railroad employes, two conductors and two brakemen were arrested at Baker City recently. One conductor and his brakeman are charged with having stolen a sheep at Express on June 3d, and the other two are charged with having broken open a car at the depot in Baker City on May 12th. Both complaints are sworn to by a man named Williams, a former brakeman on the road. The cases will be in Justice Farman's court this morning. District Attorney Rand appearing for the state and C. F. Rupel for the defense.

Those wishing screen door and windows should call on R. B. Vank, who will put them in complete on short notice. Shop on corner of Second and Ferry streets.

Anything in the bakery line at S. & B.'s.

Two hundred nickle alarm clocks just received at F. M. French's, the corner jeweler store. A big cut in prices.

NOTES FROM THE FRONT.

New Saw Mill and Lumbering Enterprises—The Old Minto Trail.

GATESVILLE, June 16.

The work of repairing the Minto Pass trail, up the North Santiam, where the Oregon Pacific had destroyed it, is being rapidly put through. Mr. D. St.Clair has taken the contract and has a force of men at work. They are now in the Neighborhood of Green Basin siding.

Mr. Don A. Smith who is supervisor of the work on the part of Marion county has a force of men at work near Breitenbush, putting the trail in repair on the portion that the county has in charge.

An effort will be made to have the county authorize the construction of a wagon road as far as Brown's mill. It is thought the county will accede to the petition for its construction.

The Green Basin Lumbering company have completed the road from the siding up the side of the mountain to the green timber and to-morrow the mill belonging to the Hiatt Bros., and formerly at work near Lyons, will be moved up to the siding and started up the newly made road. It will be used to saw out the timbers for the permanent mill that will be put in as soon as it can be arranged for, and which will cut from sixty to one hundred thousand per day.
