WHAT WE ARE AS A NATION

The extent and influence of our country, as a whole, is hard to appreciate. We have grown not only in extent of territory but also in resources and influence...

The Globe-Democrat says that ten years ago the population of the United States, as shown by the figures collected by the enumerators of the Government, was 50,155,443. Today, according to the most conservative estimates, it reaches 65,000,000.

thrustable in the cause that promises more assistance and benefit to humanity than all the other philanthropic human endeavors put together.

A fresh dose of love comes from Victoria. We are told that the Amphion is to cruise in Behring sea and look out for the small British seal packers.

Oncoos is again blessed with a good healthy rain, and the farmers are happy as they are by its irrigating effect upon crops.

Oncoos has done well for the people in favor of the money. The people want it and the people should be responsible for the tax.

FOR LUNCH. Newspaper food, our most important objection, is that it is not good.
