EDITORIAL NOTES

The King of Dahomey is reported to have enough of the war with France. His Amazon female regiments, with all their cruel valor, failed to be a match for the modern guns of French infantry. Science is victorious over brute force all the time.

It is said that Japanese cannibals upon the Frazier river have vanquished the Chinese who were engaged in the same occupation. The Japs out do the Chinese at every place and time they are brought into competition.

The extreme heat that is prostrating people in the east makes the average Oregonian think his stars that his lines are cast in pleasant places. It gets warm here occasionally but never to the extent of prostrating people, or interfering with sound sleep of nights—if the conscience is clear.

NATIONAL SURGICAL INSTITUTE
319 Bush Street San Francisco.

A bill introduced into Congress, to make it necessary for all legal cases against railroads to be brought in the federal courts, is a pernicious one. The railroads should be amenable to the local courts just as much as individual

This Institute is specially devoted to the treatment of curvature of the spine, disease of the hip and knee joint, crooked limbs, club foot, and all bodily deformities. Their success in treating these troubles as well as all chronic diseases has made for the Institute a national reputation. All persons who are suffering from any of these complaints, should not fail to take advantage of this opportunity for relief. Reference may be had to the following residents: E. N. Condit, Albany; L. McFarland, Albany July 15; and the Occidental Hotel Corvallis.

The Senate has passed the Wyoming admission bill, and the present outlook is that both Idaho and Wyoming will become states before the close of the present session of Congress. The vote upon them will be strict party votes, but its record for historical purposes will not be detrimental to the interests of the republican party.

SECRETARY NOBLE has received a telegram stating that the Potowatamie Indians, in Indian territory, have signed an agreement with the Cherokee commission ceding to the government the surplus lands of their reservation. Before these lands can be opened to public settlement, the agreement must be ratified by congress and the lands must be allotted to the Indians. The secretary does not expect that any lands in Indian territory will be available for settlement until late in the fall.

The troubles of the postmaster at White Springs, Florida, it appears are not yet over, and the Postmaster General Wanamaker has been obliged to send an armed force to protect his life. The trouble appears to be of a local nature. It appears that C. L. Morrison was appointed to succeed O. K. Paxton who was a hold over from Cleveland's appointment. Not content with boycotting the office by mailing all letters at the office of an adjoining town, the malcontents went so far as to threaten the life of Postmaster Morrison, even having him arrested and incarcerated under a false warrant, and continuing the annoyances until the guard was sent there. The malcontents will find that Uncle Sam's mail service is too huge an affair to successfully kick at.

The extension of our commerce to South American nations, and the cultivation of a fraternity of feeling between the American republics that shall result in cementing them together in matters of common interest, and more essential than all the rest to extend the enlightening influences of modern civilization to every nationality. This has been the view of most progressive statesmen for years.

The recent Pan-American Congress, and the efforts now making under the leadership of Mr. Blaine to establish these close commercial relations between the United States and the Southern Republics recall to mind the concluding passage of an article by Eugene Lawrence, published in "Harper's Magazine" twenty years ago. It
