I am now prepared to administer either gas or vitalized air for the painless extraction of teeth. I employ the latest methods of inserting artificial teeth, artificial crowns for broken teeth and roots, and bridges where teeth have been lost, doing away with the necessity of a plate. Respectfully, O. C. Awbrey Office in Odd Fellows' temple.

Saturday, about northeast of Lexington, Elmer Beeman's team attached to a mower, ran away while he was oiling up. The horses ran through the grain toward the house, making everything fly, and were finally brought to a stop by not being able to mow the woodpile down. The horses were uninjured, but the mower was a total wreck.

Mrs. Parrish, who has just returned from a visit to Crawfordsville, informs us that Mrs. Templeton, who suffered such serious injuries at the bridge accident above that place, is improving and will recover if no serious relapse takes place, and will retain the sight of one eye. It was feared at first that she would lose both eyes.

The company who have recently located and are now developing the new mines at the head of Butter creek, in Umatilla county, say that as depth is attained prospects grow richer. The miners are now in free milling ore which assays $60 a ton. The Mammoth ledge, the principal one in the district, is now making arrangements for the purchase and erection of a large mill. Water and timber are plentiful. The mines are about 40 miles from Pendleton, and are easily accessible with a team.

Will Go to Portland.

Prof. H. C. Palmer, of this city, has given up his conservatory of music here and will go to Portland in about three weeks to engage in the same business there. He will return to Albany once a week to instruct his pupils here. He will also devote a considerable portion of his time to composing music. He has recently contributed some brilliant selections to the musical productions of the state. His grand march written for the dedication of the Masonic temple in this city is now being published in the East.

Fine Assortment.

Everybody went away well pleased and smiling from Mueller & Garrett's yesterday. They had the finest display in the city. All kinds of fruits and vegetables, and as for their delicious lunch goods they they take the lead. Swiss cheese, chip beef, comb honey, etc. Delicacies a specialty.

Enterprise.

Did you see that new delivery wagon on the street yesterday afternoon? Nice, wasn't it? Messrs. Blackburn & Pironi have added a fine delivery wagon to their already prosperous business. It is a very handsome turnout and goes to show that these gentlemen are up with the times.

Farmers.

DALLAS MEN IN TROUBLE.

They Are Held on a Charge of Selling Liquor to a Half-Bred Indian.

Young Dowd, the half-breed Indian, who was recently fined by Judge Deady in the United States district court for taking liquor upon the Siletz reservation, has paid his fine, and in addition has entered information against three men whom he charges with having sold liquor to him. The parties are all residents of Dallas, Polk county, and two of them have been arrested and taken to Portland. One of them is Hale Backensto, a saloon man of Dallas formerly of Albany of whom Dowd says he bought a pint of whisky and a glass of beer on the 16th of July, the same day on which he claims to have bought a bottle of alcohol from James Wilson, the son of A. K. Wilson, a druggist at that place. After paying the fine and making the complaints, young Dowd went with Deputy United States Marshal Sinnott to Dallas and identified the men. Young Wilson and Backensto were taken to Portland and Saturday they were given an examination in a United States commissioners' court. Dowd swore positively that he bought whisky from Backensto last Friday just after getting into Dallas, he went to the defendant's saloon and had a glass of beer. Backensto was held in bonds fixed at $100 to await the grand jury.

The informant looks so much like a fullblooded white man that he could undoubtedly procure liquor from any saloon. Backensto stated in court that while he did not remember selling him whisky, he would have done so, not suspecting the boy had any Indian blood in his veins. Dowd says his father is an Irishman, but that his mother is a squaw, and as he is in charge of the Siletz reservation, he is legally a full Indian.

Sunken Mountain in Coast Range.

Roseburg Plaindealer.

L. A. Sanctuary, C. W. Parks. M. and A. Abraham, C. L. Hadley and C. Merton returned last Thursday from their hunting and fishing expedition in the Coast range. They make a report of the astounding discovery of a hole in the ground one-half by one and one-half miles in extent, or thereabouts, where last year stood a noble mountain nearly a thousand feet high. At the foot of this mountain was located Cedar lake, a small but exceedingly transparent body of water, which is now no more, the botton having been forced up whenthe mountain went down and the water all spilled out. The mountain is now an island, as it were, surrounded by almost perpendicular walls of rock about one hundred feet in height. The theory of the discoveries is that the mountain was located over a vast cave and the weight of the heavy snows last winter crushed it in. The noise made by the sinking mass of rocks and drift and trees was heard several miles away, but the parties did not know until recently what caused it. The lake can not be shown in corroboration of this story as it has disappeared, but the hole is there with the mountain in it and may be viewed by doubting Thomases, who will take the trouble to visit it. It is a sight well worth going miles to see. It is three miles from Laird's on Coos Bay wagon road.

Turned Out the Lights.

Quite a disturbance was created at Rheinhart's theater at Eugene, on Saturday night, resulting from some difficulty between the Chicago Comedy Company and Mr. Rheinhart. The comedy company had the theater contracted for for the week and had been playing to fair houses every night, and on Saturday evening the company wished to play a short bill and then have a short dance, to which Mr. Rheinhart objected. When the company was preparing for the dance the lights were turned out and the audience left in the darkness. The company claimed the hall under the contract, and then attempted to play a short farce, but as fast as they could bring lamps they were put out. The trouble has not been settled.

Death of Mrs. Eubanks.

On Sunday Mrs. J. W. Eubanks died in this city at the residence of Benj. Johnson, after a lingering illness. She was a sister of Ed Moore, of this city, and leaves a husband and little child. Her husband has been summoned from Idaho. The deceased had been a resident of Albany nearly all her life and had many warm friends here. The funeral services will be held from the residence of Mr. Johnson at 6 o'clock this evening, Rev. S. G. Irvire delivering the discourse. The remains will be interred in the Masonic cemetery.

Fair and Entertainment.

Arrangements are in progress for a fair and entertainment to be held in this city on two evenings at some date in September later than the 15th, to be announced hereafter. Various fancy and useful articles will be offered for sale, while the "Woman's Dollar Experience Meeting," and the "Flower Concerts" by the young ladies, together with early historical incidents of Albany will afford a variety of entertainment. The proceeds will be applied to the payment of the W. C. T. U. hall indebtedness.

Fell From a Building.

Wm Hedley, a painter at work on the residence of J. M. Ralston fell from a ladder yesterday, afternoon, striking his head upon the ground about 15 feet below. A gash was cut over one eye and severe bruises inflicted. His injuries were attended to by Dr. Maston.

Great reduction made on sailor waists, silk wool and fine flannel at G. W. Simpson's.

DROWNED IN THE WILLAMETTE.

R. D. Murray Meets Death While Bathing in the River at Spring Hill.

R. D. Murray, who resides on a farm at Spring Hill about four miles below Albany, was drowned while in bathing in the Willamette Sunday evening.

In company with some other men he had gone to Independence in the morning and on returning in the evening they had been drinking. On reaching a point where some boys were in swimming the deceased tied up his team and joined the bathers. He got into deep water and was seen to sink. His companion hastened to his assistance, but the unfortunate man did not rise, and was drowned. His body was recovered several hours afterwards, by the aid of grappling hooks.

Mr. Murray formerly resided in Albany, having been engaged in the dray business. He came to Oregon about 13 years ago, and was 40 years old. He leaves a wife and four children. The funeral services were arranged for Wednesday at 9 o'clock.

THE BOHEMIA MINES.

CRESWELL, July 28, 1890.

Thinking probably you would like a few items from the Bohemia district, I decided to write to the HERALD. In the first place Bohemia has never been written up, nor am I able myself, to give the district justice, but nevertheless, as still as matters have been kept, we certainly have the finest and richest mining district on the coast. This is saying a good deal, but nevertheless, I know whereof I speak. I have had now ten years experience on the great belt of mineral from Mount Rainier in the state of Washington to Gold Hill in Southern Oregon. I find in the Bohemia District the true fissure veins, both rich in gold and silver. We are running a lead there and we have taken out free gold for a distance of 5000 feet.

We have quartz that will make all the way from $10 to $20,000 to the ton. I have one piece about the size of a hen's egg which contains lacking two pennyweights of $18; we have many others nearly as rich. The formation is granite and porphery, strongly pregnated with silica, which is true quartz. There are a great many visiting the camp and we have parties from all over the coast and several fine experts acting in the interests of New York and San Francisco syndicates. We will have some of those fine loads opened up as soon as time permits. I will say this right here, it is useless for a man to run in and locate and go out, especially without means to give a showing. We have had too much of that already; I believe that to be the case in all new camps.

A number of prominent Albany men are interested in the Golden Star ledge, in the district, which is certainly rich. The distance is 36 miles from Creswell. Men of even moderate means who mean business will do well in this district.
G. S. MILLER.

The Reform School Contract.

The Oregonian says: D. C. Sewell, who has been awarded the contract for building the state reform school, proves himself a careful man in refusing to accept the same unless a guarantee of the amount of his bid, over and above the sum appriated by the legislature for the building, is given. The state cannot afford to put up a building of this kind, upon which the contractor is losing money. It wants no "cheap" work such as is the natural result in such a contingency. While it does not propose to pay a fancyprice for its work, it is able and should be willing to pay a good price, conscious that by doing this only it will be able to get good work. The bid of Mr. Sewell which was of course the lowest received, is $9000 in excess of the appropriation, and he exercises a prudent man's prerogative in refusing to jeopardize his profits on a responsible undertaking. It is hoped that the required guarantee will be furnished, if possible, by the board of commissioners, as to delay the construction of the building until another season would be a matter of regret.

Harvest Progressing.

The work of threshing this year's crop of grain is progressing rapidly and satisfactorily. Yesterday Messrs Scott, Smith and Co. fitted out with a Buffalo Pitts separator, already having an engine, and will commence work at once. The price of threshing has been established at very low rates, but certainly the farmers will have no occasion to growl at that although they were not the parties that fixed the rates, they being fully satisfied at the old prices. The machine men are the ones to stand the racket on that score, and probably know what they are about.

Oregon Press Association.

The fourth annual meeting of the "editors and publishers" of Oregon will be held in Portland, the session commencing at the hour of 10 A. M. Aug. 14th, and continuing four days. The principal business will be Thursday evening and during Friday. A full attendance is desired.
E. C. PENTLAND, Secretary. CHAS. NICKELL, President.

A Chinaman Suicided.

A Chinaman at work in a laborers gang employed on the Narrow Gauge railroad, near the crossing of the Oregon Pacific, committed suicide Sunday night by hanging himself to a tree, and on Monday morning his dead body was found dangling at the end of the rope. He had been sick for some time. Coroner Farrell was notified and went out and held an inquest.

Accident Insurance.

The matter of insurance has become a fixed principle, and needs no talking about. The only question now is, where to place the insurance. Mr. Joseph Tait has engaged his services with the Union Mutual Accident Association, which presents features that are commendable and will be adopted upon examination. Mr. Tait can be found in Mr. Montaye's office. Those wishing to place accident insurance should consult him.
