THE SANTIAM MINES.

Among the Richest in America—Smelting Works to be Erected in Albany.

Away back in the days of King Solomon, the mines of Ophir, located in the region of the Alps, from which were obtained the fabulous wealth of his kingdom, have to this day remained a secret to all modern searchers, but not so with the Santiam mine situated within a few hours ride of Albany. It is a well known fact that since the discovery of America that with few exceptions, one of which is the Leadville district of Colorado, all the great mines of this country have been discovered in the great chain of mountains reaching from the North to the South pole, and of which the Cascade range forms a part. It was in these mountains that existed the silver mines of Potosi, the most valuable the world has ever known. It was away back as far as 1533 that the Spaniards, headed by Pizarro, concluded the conquest of Peru, taking prisoner their prince, who offered as a ransom to give Pizarro a room filled with gold, afterwards computed at over $15,000,000. All this wealth was finished by the followers of the Inca prince in less than two months according to the stipulation, and all originally came from this same chain of mountains.

If to the north of us in Alaska may be found the rich Brown Bear mine recently sold to an English firm for over $2,000,000, and to the south all the great mines of California, why not find as rich right here where every indication is as favorable? There must be unlimited fortunes in our very door yards only awaiting development. In 1860 gold was first discovered at Quartzville and some machinery taken in. The works were eventually abandoned, however, and nothing more done for a number of years. Recently prospectors were sent up from this city and the remarkably fine specimens brought out by them induced capitalists here to form a stock company for the further development of the mines. A company with a stock of $750,000 was formed and the stock was soon all taken. Claims were located and for the past twelve months have been worked, the results being entirely satisfactory.

Last week the richest lead yet found were discovered, and if the vein continues as at present opened it will prove one of the richest mines in the United States. Quartz recently brought down assayed the enormous sum of over $25,000 to the ton, and the vein from which it was taken has been uncovered a distance of over 300 feet and is from 10 to 25 feet in depth. It has been said that there has been prospecting an area of 300 acres, upon any point of which a pan of dirt taken will yield from three to ten cents. Since the latest discovery has been made stock in the company has risen 200 per cent, and none can be purchased at all except from individual owners, and that at a sharp advance in the purchase price. Experienced miners have examined the ore and pronounced it equal to any ever taken from the great mines of Colorado, Idaho or California. Several specimens have been taken to Portland, and none is equal can be shown coming from the great Ceur d'Alene, where fortunes are being made by the owners and investors.

The attention of great capitalists have been called to these latest developments, and to-day the greatest mine owner in America is negotiating for the transfer of millions of tons of this ore to Albany, and the reduction works will eventually be erected. The mines are within a few miles of the Oregon Pacific railroad and it is only a question of time, and a very short time, when a branch of this road will bring the mines in direct communication with Albany, and they will prove a hundred-fold more beneficial to the city than many other schemes proposed. A steam engine and five stamp mill will be in operation within a month, and if the output in gold bricks proves to be what is expected, the citizens of Albany need not be surprised to see 1000 men at work in the mines in 1891.

Change of Building. Judge R. S. Straman is having one of his buildings on First street entirely renovated. It will be fitted with a glass front and other improvements made as suggested by Mr. Goetz, who will move the Delmonico restaurant into it when completed. It is reported that in the building now occupied by the restaurant will be opened the finest saloon north of San Francisco.

Another Testimonial. Mr. W. F. Crosby has just returned from San Francisco.

While there he made the acquaintance of J. B. Fall, of the firm of Merry, Fall & Co., one of the leading firms of that city.

Mr. Merry is the ex-president of the board of trade and Mr. Fall is a mining expert. As early as 1880 Mr. Fall, with a company of experienced miners, made a tour of the Pacific coast from British Columbia to Mexico prospecting for gold.

They visited Quartzville where the late rich discoveries have been made and found good prospects, but did not remain, from the fact that the mines would not prove profitable on account of inadequate transportation. He was not surprised at the recent discoveries and gave it as his opinion that these mines would some day rank among the richest in America.

A Long Drive. Several weeks since Jos. Smith, residing at Camp Creek, 60 miles above Prineville, and one of the wealthiest stock owners in Eastern Oregon, brought to the valley a large band of horses, which he sold here and at Portland. After being there for some time he wrote his wife to meet him here and she accordingly drove down, coming over the mountains via the Lebanon route. The distance is over 200 miles and she was six days in making the trip. It was a long, lonesome ride and she had no company except her two little children, the oldest of whom is but 10 years of age. Mrs. Smith arrived here on the train yesterday.

At Least One. A Salem paper says that workmen are now busy throughout the big hotel—late the Chateau, but probably soon to be the Willamette making the needed improvements, preparatory to being reopened under new management. Fine new furniture was purchased and the house is undergoing a thorough cleaning throughout. The new telegraph office of the Western Union is to be in the room formerly occupied by the bar. This hotel changes hands every year, and it does seem that Salem should be able to support one hotel when Albany has five.

Salem is Behind the Times. The Salem Journal has an account of the recent Marion county court granting a free scholarship to Myrtle Knight in the State University. That county court is a long way behind the times. The State University has been free to all students having the necessary qualifications since the first of January.

The Jefferson Returned. Judge Blackburn returned yesterday from Jefferson, where he went to examine the work being done on the new bridge in connection with the place. He reports everything satisfactory as the contractors, Messrs. Hoffman & Bates are working according to contract.

Contract Let. The contract for furnishing the calvanized iron for the cornice and fancy work in P. J. Baltimore's new three-story brick has been let to Hopkins Bros., of this city. They will do the work themselves, having just received new machinery for doing such work from the east. Five thousand pounds of iron will be used.

For the Mountains. Next Monday Wm. Faber, Geo. Humphrey, and a gentleman from Seattle will start for Clear Lake for a two week recreation. Mr. Zeyss was originally one of the party but his unfortunate accident last evening will prevent his going.

Bridge Work. Linn county will expend during the year 1890 for new bridges, and repairing of old ones, over $25,000. The greater portion of this expense is the final re-ult of the heavy storms of last winter.

A PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

In Which Ed. Zeyss Loses One of His Hands.

Yesterday evening Edward Zeyss met with a most painful accident while at work in the Grant's Bazaar factory in this city. He was engaged in sawing a small plank on a rip-saw, when it struck a knot, causing the plank to fly up, striking him in the breast. The stroke was not a severe one, but unconsciously he threw out his left hand in protection, but unfortunately too far, for it struck the saw, which, quicker than a flash, severed all the finger—and so badly mangled the thumb that it was necessary for Dr. Maston, the attending surgeon, to amputate it.

The wound is necessarily a very severe one and it will be many days before Mr. Zeyss will be able to again resume work of any kind.

The Orphan's Home. The writer yesterday evening accepted an invitation to visit the orphan's home building in course of construction near this city. The building will be three stories high, one story of which is now nearly completed, and will cost, when finished about $15,000. The ladies having the work in charge will crowd the building forward to as early a completion as possible.

A Large Tank. Messrs. Smith & Sanders are completing a large 1500 gallon galvanized-iron tank for use at the hotel in Mill City. The tank will be furnished with water forced by No. 3. ran from the river. It will be placed 150 feet above the water level and pipes leading from it will supply the building.

Change of Business. Charles Essig, proprietor of the Third ward grocery store, has disposed of his business to John Bean, for many years an employee at the Magnolia mill. Mr. Essig will remain in Albany, but has not yet decided what business he will engage in.

Arrested for Fast Riding. An individual giving the name of Fagan was arrested last evening by a policeman for fast riding. He was released on his own recognizance to appear for trial Monday.

Mr. Charles Pfeiffer is in Astoria and John Giblin is on a business trip through the sound country.
