A beautiful woman must be healthy, and to remain healthy she should take Dr. J. H. McLean's strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It imparts tone and flush to the skin, strength, vigor and pure blood; is equally adapted for all ages, from the babe to the aged, of either sex.

Take the Union Pacific railway for the East, thirty-five hours quicker than any other transcontinental line. Elegant new dining cars, Pullman palace sleepers, free family sleeping cars run through to Denver, Omaha, Council Bluffs, Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago. C. G. Rawlings, city ticket agent, foot of Broadalbin street.

Death of J. J. Finlayson.

On Tuesday evening, August 12, Mr. J. J. Finlayson died at his home in Philomath, aged 71 years, after a lingering illness. The deceased was a native of Scotland, and came to Oregon in 1849. He was one of Albany's pioneers, having resided here until 1884, when he removed to Forest Grove, and thence to Philomath. He leaves a wife and two children, Mrs. Judge J. C. Powell, of this city, and Christopher Finlayson, of Colorado. The funeral will take place from the United Presbyterian church at 2 o'clock to-day, which the friends of the family are invited to attend.

Excursion to Newport.

Owing to numerous requests the excursion train for Newport will leave Albany at 2 P. M., Saturday August 23d, instead of the late hour previously announced. This will give excursionists all evening on the beach at Newport, arriving at that place about 5:45 P. M. Capt. Winant, of the steam schooner Mischief, is back from a cruise in Behring sea and will have his vessel all cleared up nicely for the accommodation of those who wish to go over the bar for pleasure or fishing. Ample accommodations at the hotels.

Death of Mrs. Burkhart.

Mr. C. G. Burkhart, of this city, received a telegram last evening from his father, C. P. Burkhart, at Pendleton, announcing the death of the latter's wife at that place. She had been in ill health for several months, and had gone with her husband to Eastern Oregon in hopes of benefitting her health. The remains will be brought to this city for interment.

Fruit Prospects.

There is a great deal of fruit in Oregon this year, and there is a great demand for it from outside the state, so fruit growers are in a fair way to make something this year. If one has good fruit of any kind he has no trouble in finding a market for it. The commission men are very busy, and one of them said yesterday he wished there were more firms in the business to relieve him of some of the work.—Oregonian.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT AT THE FERRY

McKnight Bros. Lose a Span of $2000 Horses in the River.

Last evening about 6:30 Mr. Frank McKnight was crossing over the ferry into this city, driving a team of standard bred trotting mares, owned by McKnight Bros., when an accident occurred that resulted in both horses being drowned.

The boat had landed on this side of the river, and a team that was ahead of him on the boat had driven off. Mr. McKnight came next, and started to drive off. As he did so the apron of the boat moved, which frightened one of the horses, and they both ran off of the apron on the upper side. The buggy top was up, and the vehicle followed the horses into the water, which at this point is very deep. Mr. McKnight sprang out, and with some difficulty reached the shore. He then ran upon the boat and with the ferryman seized the horses' heads, they having been washed down against the ferry-boat, but the buggy had been drawn underneath the boat, and the force of the current drew the horses under also. They came up some distance below, but soon disappeared and [illegible] were both drowned.

They were both fine blooded mares and were valued at $2000.

The buggy, to which the horses were still attached, was recovered an hour later.

Such an accident, viewed in the light of the already loud demand for a wagon bridge at this city, should hasten the arrangements for the building of this much needed public improvement.

STATE DISPATCHES.

Pauline Koldeway, of Albany, Wants a Divorce—Killed by a Train.

Special to the HERALD.

PORTLAND, August 13.—This morning Pauline Koldeway, a resident of Albany, began divorce proceedings in the circuit court of this county, against Robert Koldeway, to whom she was married in Washington city on the 3d of May, 1884. The plaintiff alleges that 20 years ago her husband began drinking to excess, until four years ago when he became an habitual drunkard and incapacitated him from attending to his duties as a veterinary surgeon.

MANGLED BY A TRAIN.

PORTLAND, August 13.—At 6:30 this morning Coroner River received a message that a man had been killed on the Union Pacific track near E. J. Jeffrey's brickyard, in the rear of Mount Tabor, about six miles from this city. The accident must have occurred last night, as the first Union Pacific train coming this way this morning discovered and picked up the remains.

The trainmen say that the remains were scattered on both sides of the track, and presented a horrible sight. A more thoroughly mutilated body resulting from a railroad accident has never been brought to this city. One leg was completely severed from the body and the hands mashed into a pulp. Near the place where the fragments of the man were distributed were found the remnants of a whisky bottle and his purse, the latter being saturated with liquor. From this it is surmised that he might possibly have been intoxicated when death met him on the rail.

Later in the day a stranger visited the morgue, asking to be allowed to view the remains above referred to. The visitor, who was greatly affected, identified them as those of his brother, George Strachan, a paving block cutter, resident at St. Helens, who leaves a wife and four children. The brother was unable to state what took the deceased to the vicinity where the horribly mangled body was found this morning.

Escaping from the Cyclones.

Kansas emigrants are not particular as to the means adopted to flee from the raging cyclone and the hot breath of the demon drouth. A dilapidated covered wagon, with a man and woman in the front seat and filled with the usual load of household articles and frowsy children, passed westbound through Pendleton the other day. The team was a unique one. The wheelers consisted of a white faced cow and a black muley cow harnessed together, and the leaders were a couple of worn out horses, which looked as though the least breath of wind might scatter their anatomy throughout space. It was the first "cow team" ever seen in Pendleton.

The Albany & Astoria Road.

Charles Pfeiffer and J. O. Writsman, directors of the Albany & Astoria railway company, have returned from a trip over the line between Astoria and Tillamook. The surveyors are now within ten miles of Tillamook. When the line is finished to that place it will complete the survey from Albany to Astoria, the line between this city and Tillamook having already been surveyed. It is expected that graders will begin work on the Astoria end of the road this fall.

Forest Fires.

The amount of smoke and the great heat in the valley, proclaim that the annual fires are raging in the mountains, probably destroying thousands of dollars worth of timber. A traveler in the Cascades cannot help grieving at the immense amount of destruction caused by those fires in the past, as some of the very best belts of majestic trees for miles and miles have been left black and bare monuments of ruthless accident or carelessness.

The best watch in the world for the money at F. M. French's.

SLIGHT RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

Two Pullman Coaches Derailed Near Shedd, But No One Injured.

A special train left this city Tuesday evening, going south, with Messrs. Koehler and Fields, of the Southern Pacific company and the state railroad commissioners. Near Shedd a cattle guard had been torn out for repairs, and a red danger signal had been placed beside the track, but the engineer did not see it and ran into the break. The engine passed over safely, but the two Pullman coaches were derailed. No one was hurt. The Lebanon train went up from this city and assisted in putting the coaches back on the track.

A choice and complete line of bottled delicasies have just been added to my stock call and see them. C. E. BROWNELL.

DIED.

EUBANKS—In this city, on Wednesday, August 13, the infant child of Mr. and John Eubanks.

Estray Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the following described horses came into my enclosure about three miles southeast of Halsey on the 21st day of July, 1890: One sorel horse, with white or blaze in face, and left hind foot and leg white, and is about 12 twelve years old; also one sorrel horse with white or blaze in the face, all four feet white and is about eight years old. One of the horses had head stall and bell on when taken up. The owner of said horses is requested to take them away and pay charges.
