ON SALE. The Daily Herald will be on sale each morning at H. J. Jones' book store, where it can be procured at 5 cents per copy.

NOTICES AND TOWN.

C. L. Brush was in the city yesterday. Ladies fast black corsets and underwear at E. C. Searle's. Mrs. Harris, of Benton county, was in the city yesterday. Mrs. Joseph Klein leaves today for Eugene to visit relatives. Fine line of dresses in the latest styles just received at E. C. Searle's. Jas. F. Powell & Co. have just received a large lot of fresh fruit. M. C. Beatty, of the West Portland Park Association, is in the city. Dr. Hill navigates a safety Columbia bicycle to visit his patients now. Miss Margeria Brink has returned from a trip to visit relatives in California. Our citizens will be glad to learn that Judge D. R. N. Blackburn is recovering. For rent, a building suitable for small business or a dressmaker, on First street. Inquire of E. L. Thompson. Mrs. A. E. Woodin and sister, Mrs. H. Warner, came down from Mr. Woodin's homestead, in the Green Basin, yesterday. The visitors who were whisked over the Oregon Pacific on Monday returned to this city yesterday and started east, via Portland. A private letter received from John Guise, J. A. Cummings and party says they are preparing to ascend the Three Sisters. Three deer have been killed. Joseph Webber went to Portland yesterday on his way to attend a meeting of the veteran firemen in San Francisco. He will meet many old friends and acquaintances there. The Watsburg Times says that all the property owners burned out in the recent Dayton fire will rebuild this fall, though in some instances the owners will build one-story in height in place of two. M. C. Bingham came in from the Albany Mine and Milling Company's mines, on the Santiam, yesterday. He reports the work progressing finely and that the prospects grow better as the veins are further opened up. J. R. Neill and family and Aug Lange and family left yesterday for Portland. They made many new friends while here, and added much to the social and business circles of Albany. Success to them wherever located. W. A. Cox and family have returned from their trip to San Francisco, where they have been for treatment for their little girl. They are very much pleased as the treatment bids fair to permanently cure the child. Our old friend Samuel Daw, the veteran orchardist near Halsey in this county, sends us a fine box of prunes and plums of different varieties. It is superb fruit and shows that Mr. Daw is making a success of his specialty as a prune orchardist. Mr. Frank Miller and family who have been spending several months in the southern part of the state, returned to Albany yesterday. Mr. Miller will look after the business of Grant's Pass Sugar Pine Sash and Door Factory here during the illness of the bookkeeper. There have been fewer forest fires in the Northwest this season than for many years past, says the Lakewick Examiner. The smoke that usually renders the air offensive through July and August has, as a consequence, been absent, and this, added to the fact that there have been but few really hot days, has made the summer an unusually pleasant one. Dr. Templeton and family are in the city visiting at Mrs. Templeton's brother, E. L. Thompson. They are on the way from California, and stopped over to visit the doctor's sister and sister-in-law, the two ladies who were so severely injured in falling with the bridge across the Cataract above Crawfordville. They found the ladies slowly recovering from their injuries. The company shortly to start out to advertise the East India Cataract Remedy, will consist of Dr. and Mrs. Rowland, Miss Stratton and Miss Adams. They will have a first-class piano and give a musical program and lectures upon the scientific subjects in the halls in the places that they visit. Their lectures will be purely scientific and form the chief attraction with the music furnished. Albany students and graduates of the college are scattering out and making good records elsewhere. Among those recently departing for other fields are Miss Lillie Robertson to Monmouth, Ill.; Mr. Lewis E. Lee to Williams-town, Mass.; Mr. J. E. Love to Knoxville, Tenn. These go to enter colleges and pursue their studies further. Miss Inez Robertson has returned to her place as principal of the Academy at Watsburg, Washington. Messrs. Bowdoin & Connolly, who have recently taken charge of the Klamath County Star, say in their salutatory: "Here in the midst of glossy herds, overflowing granaries and men of push and energy, where the roaring cataraet calls to the manufacturer, and the lofty crystal lake, glittering high above all the harvest ground, promises to battle forever the worrying drought, we see a section of Oregon destined to take high rank as an agricultural, stock, dairy and manufacturing region, and we are here to stay."

LOOKING FOR A LOST MINE.

A Party of Portlanders Prospecting for a Convict's Silver Claim.

It is now about three years since Fred Thornton killed a man about six miles back of Vancouver. While in subsequent hiding from the law's pursuit he was joined by his brother Phil in the Cascade mountains in the Mount Hood country, at the base of Bull Run. While here Fred found some rocks which looked to him like coal. He took the specimens with him and was immediately afterward apprehended by the officers of the law, stood trial and was sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment. These mineral specimens were in his possession when he was arrested, and subsequently found their way into the custody of the law's agent, George Ross, a roofer and prospector, in some way got his eyes on them, and found upon examination that they would assay in silver some $6000 to the ton. He interested the warden of the penitentiary at Walla Walla in the matter, and with his assistance obtained a diagram from Thornton, showing, as he thought, where the ore was located, where the ore was found. Thornton also said that if his brother Phil could be found he could undoubtedly go to the same place again. Phil, he said, was working on some steamboat plying in and out of Portland in an open cargo rig set out to find the brother. He traced him all over the Pacific Northwest, at Portland, Tacoma, Victoria and Seattle, and at last found him about a year ago at Victoria. That is, he found that he was there; but Phil has just been caught in an open cargo rig, and Ross was unable to obtain an interview with him. Then he thought he had better do what he could with the diagram. One after another he got interested in the scheme, and as an outcome of his efforts on Monday, August 18, three men, George Ross, Al Cody and H. E. Kidder, left the city on an exploring expedition. They went from here to Latourelle Falls on the train, and there packed their blankets, guns, etc., going out past Brower's mill, they pursued their way about thirty miles into the mountains, accompanied by two guides. They then prospected every fork of Bull Run, Gordon creek, the head of the sandy, and in the mountains northeast of Mount Hood. They then ran out of provisions and had to come back. They did not get to the end of the route laid out in Thornton's diagram and left Dan Ross, Larvis' son-in-law, there to follow up the trail. They found a number of leads which justify the expectation of finding rich paying ore. They will return about the middle of this month with pack horses.—Oregonian.

The Paint Mine.

The Salem Statesman says: E. C. Herren arrived home yesterday afternoon from his business trip to the paint mine in Linn county. He also visited Lebanon for the purpose of viewing the block of land offered by the people of that place as an inducement for the company to move their mill there. Owing to its being too far from railroad facilities, which is one of the main requisites, the offer has not yet been accepted. The citizens of Seio have also made propositions to this paint company to secure the location of the manufacturing. They will deal six lots with water power in the heart of the city, and they having already raised a bonus to induce the Oregonian railroad company to switch from the main line into that place, this is considered by Mr. Herren a generous offer. Besides the property offered, $300 was also tendered but this was not wanted by the company. Seio is a wide awake city and is not going to be left when it comes to engaging manufactures to be built up within its boundaries.

Dug From a Grave.

Mr. C. A. Grove has a curious, old-fashioned silver spoon and a coin used by the Northwest Trading Company in 1820, which were found a short time since in an Indian grave at Oregon City. The coin is apparently of brass with a profile of some one on one side and a beaver on the other. The spoon is a peculiarly shaped one, the bowl being broad and shallow and the same width at each end. One often hears of people being buried with silver spoons in their mouths, but the old Indian in whose grave the spoon was found could hardly have been so fortunate. The spoon has evidently been worn as an ornament, perhaps suspended from the nose or ear, as there is a small hole in the end of the handle and a part of another hole by which the spoon had been suspended until one side of the hole was worn out.—Oregonian.

Resigned.

Mr. J. K. Elderkin has resigned his position as secretary of the Albany Farmers and Merchants Insurance Company. The place will be filled temporarily by Hon. J. K. Weatherford until some competent and experienced insurance man is secured to fill it. The business of the company is in a flourishing condition. Our citizens will regret to lose Mr. Elderkin, as he is a general gentleman, a good and enterprising citizen, and a most efficient business man. The success of the Albany company is due to his foresight and energetic management. We understand he has been contemplating resigning for some time and will engage in business in Portland. The departure of Mr. and Mrs. Elderkin will remove active and popular leaders in our Albany society circles. The best wishes of our citizens will go with them.

BROWNSVILLE NOTES.

Newly Items From That Flourishing City.

William Dunn left for the Calapooia mines on Wednesday. L. M. Howe and G. H. Coshov returned Saturday from Salem. J. A. McFeron and family left on Saturday for Waterloo and Soda Springs. Rev. J. R. Kirkpatrick, of Lebanon paid Brownsville a business visit on Friday last. J. A. says is acting as cashier of the Bank of Brownsville, during the absence of Peter Hume. Mrs. Martha Widge and daughter of Prineville are visiting John Brown of South Brownsville. John Warner, foreman of the East Portland Lime works, is visiting his father-in-law, A. C. Hansman. Greatly to the regret of his many warm friends, the Rev. A. L. Roy, will shortly leave Brownsville. George C. Stanard and wife of Albany, passed Sunday returning home on the following Monday morning. Hops are fast reaching maturity, and looking well, picking will commence about the first of September. Miss Ellen Blanchard of Oregon City, who for the last week has been visiting at this place returned home Friday. The cost of the electric light plant, shortly to be introduced throughout the E. W. M. Co's buildings, will be $1000. The water in the Calapooia is low and consequently the E. W. M. Co. rate is very low, necessitating the use of steam to operate nights at the factory. During the past week the Eagle Woolen Mills purchased two wagon loads of wool, weighing 6500 lbs, brought from Harney Valley by the Hogan Brothers. Threshing in this section is nearly ended, the work has been quickly done, the weather being very favorable, the yield has been large and the grain of fine quality. W. A. Calder, for some time past engaged on the Brownsville Times, left on Monday for Salem to attend the Willamette University, for a four years course of study. E. W. Orabang and wife, having disposed of their residence in South Brownsville, will on account of the ill health of Mrs. Orabang shortly depart for Cedar Town, Oregon. D. Irvine, of the G. C. Cooley & Co. accompanied by the Smith brothers on Tuesday started for the Lower and Upper Soda's Fish Lake and other points of interest in the mountains. Business in mercantile lines for the past week has been unusually quiet, owing to the harvesting and hauling of grain, which has occupied the entire attention of our farmers. On Tuesday the infant son of A. S. Rowland, aged 18 months, received some very painful burns on the neck and face from scalding hot water, a pail full of which the little boy upset upon himself. The remains of Dr. R. H. Crawford, who died in Portland last winter, on Tuesday arrived in Brownsville via the O. Ry., were received by friends and interred in the cemetery east of town. The M. E. conference recently in session at Grant's Pass, appointed Rev. F. H. Calder, late of Lebanon, pastor of the South Brownsville M. E. Church, in place of Rev. H. E. Elworthy who was appointed to Shields. C. N. Scott, general superintendent of the Oregonian railroad Co., on Thursday passed through this city by special train, returning north accompanied by R. Koehler vice-president, and chief engineer Theseria on the following Friday. O. P. Coshov on Thursday sold to the M. E. South church a lot on the northwest corner of Oak and Levent-street, upon which will be built a new church. Rev. C. Derrick late of Hillsboro, the presiding pastor, has purchased the property of M. E. Orabang, South Brownsville, where he will reside. The fall terms of the Brownsville public school will commence Sept. 15. Prof. A. J. Garland, principal; Mrs. A. J. Garland, first assistant; Miss Sarah Coshov, second assistant. The school building is at present undergoing a thorough overhauling and receiving all needed improvements. On the afternoon of Tuesday last, Rev. L. Y. Bailey, pastor of the Christian church of South Brownsville, while passing the Post Office was attacked by a sudden faintness, and fell to the side walk in an insensible condition. Medical aid was summoned and in a short space of time consciousness returned. The water "melon" crop, has greatly to the joy of the small boy turned out innocense, and young American now luxuriates on the succulent fruit, in many instances shortly after having in the neighborhood of the waistband of his pants, symptoms of an embryo watermelon, necessitating an immediate call upon the family physician. Dr. L. W. Starr, on Wednesday afternoon started for Grant's Pass, having been summoned by telegram to the bedside of his father, Rev. Phillip Starr, who is suffering from injuries received by being thrown in a moving wagon. The doctor found his father in a very critical condition, the injuries being of the nature of paralysis of the lower limbs and a portion of the body. Although Brownsville has not been laid prostrate, or had its nervous organization shattered by any cyclonic booms, terrible but transient, real estate is steadily advancing, building going on and permanent improvements being made, that are not of a wild cat nature "will not crawl." Parties who but a short time back, purchased lots in both Hausman's and Galbraith's additions, have sold for double the money invested, and in some cases refused to sell.

The excitement on account of the recent discovery of very rich gold bearing quartz, found in claims situated on the Calapooia River, is unabated and numbers are daily leaving for the mineral district. On Tuesday morning, R. C. Warner, S. P. Barger, J. W. Thompson, S. Percival, W. W. Robe, F. M. McKenzie, Prat Nettleton and James Wolf, started for the mines to locate claims. ***

Articles of Incorporation.

The Oregon Pacific Land company, with J. R. Neil, R. F. Ashby, and August Lange, of Albany, an incorporation, have filed articles with the secretary of state. Principal office to be in Portland, and capital stock is $100,000, divided into 1000 shares. Object is to do a general real estate business, loan money, etc. The Multnomah Box company also filed articles. It wants to deal in real estate, to borrow money on notes and bonds, to manufacture boxes, tubs, barrels, and all other articles manufactured or constructed out of wood. Capital stock is $15,000, divided into 150 shares. Chas. Schenker, S. E. Wrenn, and T. H. Brickell are the incorporators.—Statesman.

A Sure Cure for the Whisky Habit.

A good, fresh milk cow. For particulars enquire at the Depot hotel. The Tillamook headlight says the Chinaman living at Gardfield, an attaché of the cannery, was gaily with hooks and then breaking their legs and turning them loose to perish. They frequently tie the strings around their bills and let them fly away to starve. The scraps of fish and garbage that accumulate in the cannery would produce pestilence were it not for these useful scavengers. C. C. Rodney, a former clerk in the Oregon Picture Frame Co., of Portland, and who walked off about a year since, has been apprehended in the East and will be brought back to Portland for trial. J. F. Halloran, formerly editor of the Astorian, and Major Wood, an attaché of the cannery, were while attempting to ford Elk creek, back of Astoria, were thrown off in the water and Mr. Halloran came near drowning, as he could not swim. Take the Northern Pacific Railroad to all points East, shortest time of any road East. No change of cars, best accommodations and the most pleasant route to travel. Tickets for sale over this road to any and all points east at the lowest rates by Burke & Keeney, who are the authorized agents of this company at Albany. The Union Pacific are now running two daily trains through to Chicago in three days, carrying all classes of passengers on both trains, having Pullman sleepers, tourist sleepers and free reclining chair cars attached. Passengers can now leave Portland at 7 A. M. and 9 P. M. For sleeping car reservation, etc. apply to C. G. Rawlings, foot of Broadalbin street. Thomas Brink has just received the finest stock of upholstered goods ever brought to this city. It will do you good to call and see his goods, even if you do not buy. If you feel unable to do you work, and have that tired feeling take Dr. J. H. McLean's Sarsaparilla; it will make you bright, active and vigorous. I sell only the most reliable make of shoes and guarantee every pair as represented. E. C. Searle. Before purchasing your Artists materials examine the new stock just opened at the drug store of J. A. Cumming, successor to H. C. Hubbard. Latest styles in dress buckles at E. C. Searle.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

A Prominent Citizen is Seriously Injured.

Yesterday while Mr. Denny, proprietor of the new warehouse at Mukers, on the Oregon Pacific, was driving in a buggy between that place and his home some two or three miles east of Jefferson, he was met by a Chinaman carrying loaded baskets on a pole. The Chinaman paid no attention to Mr. Denny's signals but kept steadily approaching although he could see that the horse was frightened. The horse finally reared and became unmanageable, throwing Mr. Denny out and then running off. Mr. R. A. Roberts of Salem, was driving on the road and saw that Mr. Denny was injured and taking him into his buggy carried him home. The injuries were to the spine and were very serious. The Chinaman meandered unconcernedly upon his way. BUSINESS LOCALS. Cumming's for choice soda water. Gentlemen's fine shoes at E. C. Searle's. Adjustable window screens at Matthews & Washburn's.
