

ORIGINAL DEFECTIVE Morning Daily Herald

20 CENTS A WEEK.

ALBANY, OREGON, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1890.

VOL. V.—NO. 195

TOO PROUD TO WORK

Horrible Fate of an Austrian Nobleman Near Spokane.

Spokane Falls, Sept. 10.—Two hunters John S. Gentle and Joseph Hentonburg rode to Spokane yesterday, with news of a ghastly discovery in Moran mountain, when they were out hunting for pheasants and discovered in a dark canyon a human body half eaten by coyotes, jackals and carrion birds. Particles of flesh were strewn around and the bones of the limbs which had been torn from the body by wild animals were scattered about in hideous confusion. The skeleton it is believed is the remains of an Austrian nobleman. Particles of clothing found show that the dead man had been stylishly dressed. In the pockets were found a Catholic bible and a letter, the superlatives of which was deciphered by Sheriff Pugh yesterday. It reads: "Christensen, Earl Del Mer, U. S. A." This name is evidently an assumed one, for Mr. Gentle has seen papers on the man marked "Baron Von Strauss." He was penniless and friendless. He left Budapest, Austria, two years ago with a portion of his patrimony. He came to America and went to Chicago. There he squandered some of his inheritance and came to Spokane, where he was easily deceived by a man who wrote to Austria for more money, but learned that his brother had misappropriated the family estate to himself and had gone to India. In uttermost poverty the wanderer landed at Portland, and when he came to Spokane he was penniless. His misfortune made him despondent and he wandered in the country for two or three weeks. He was seen about the vicinity of Giles' ranch, six miles east of Spokane. He would apply to farm houses for a morsel of food and for shelter. The last day he was seen alive, he called at Giles' ranch and left an elegant, but empty purse, saying that it was the only remnant of his former fortune, and that he was going to the mountains to starve. Little attention was paid to what he said and no one followed him. He walked off toward Moran mountain, and the finding of his body revealed his horrible fate.

ARRIVAL OF DEFEW.

New York, Sept. 10.—The White Star steamer Teutonic came in winner to-day in the great ocean race with the Inman Line steamer City of New York. The Teutonic passed Davitt's Rock lightship, at 3:11 p. m. on the 14th instant and arrived at Sandy Hook light at 7:05 a. m., making the run between the two points in five days twenty hours and fifty-four minutes. The best previous run of the Teutonic between the two points was five days, nineteen hours and five minutes. The most prominent passengers on the Teutonic were Archbishop Corrigan and Chancery M. Depew. Two steamers went down the bay to meet the Teutonic, one with a party to greet Depew, the other to meet Archbishop Corrigan. They were taken off without waiting for the Teutonic to reach her pier. Among the first to welcome Depew were General Manager Toucey and Vice-President J. Webb of the New York Central. Depew was conducted below, where he and Webb held a consultation.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

Speaker Reed Receives an Ovation.

A YOUTHFUL TRAVELER.

Would Get Married Horribly Cut in the Face—His Own Dead—That Census.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Reed reached Washington this morning and appeared at the Capitol at about 11. He went at once to his room, where he remained, seeing no one. It was expected that he would take his seat at the opening of the session, but he did not respond to the summons of the doorkeeper and speaker pro tem. Burrows called the house to order. On his way to the Capitol the speaker was warmly greeted by both republicans and democrats and received congratulations on all sides. Later in the day he held a series of impromptu reception in room at the Capitol, many members coming to greet him. His reason for not immediately taking the chair was because he thought it proper that Burrows should first announce the fact that he (Reed) had signed a number of bills that passed the house. When the house was called to order by Burrows, Dunning, of Minnesota, chairman of the house committee on the eleventh census, introduced an appropriation of $178,271 of population. The bill provided for a total representation of 335. Under the present census of 1880, Michigan, Missouri, Oregon, Texas, Washington and Wisconsin would each have one member.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The little city of Lancaster, in Central Kentucky, was excited yesterday when it was learned that Miss Lulu Sandier had eloped the night before with young J. T. McRoberts. Both are under 21 years of age. Miss Sandier's father, who is very wealthy and is cashier of the Middleborough bank, objected to the match because of the tender ages of his daughter and her suitor. Monday night McRoberts went from his city to Lancaster, and after getting two friends to accompany him, went to Miss Sandier, who was waiting. They left at once for Stanford, catching the 3:25 a. m. train for Louisville. They had to drive about fifteen miles after midnight to reach the town and arrived at Louisville at 11 o'clock the following morning. As soon as they got breakfast, they went to Jefferson and were married. McRoberts is a drug clerk.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The Herold says the marriage of Lord Lawrence Petre to Miss Jennie Williams, the American society belle, will take place on the 20th inst. at the home of Mrs. Furness House, Copthall Hall, Ignastone, England. The ceremony will be private.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 10.—Ex-President Andrew D. White, of Cornell University, and Miss Helen Magill, eldest daughter of President Magill, of Swarthmore College, will be married this afternoon. A number of distinguished persons will be present.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Wheat—$1.40; buyer, season, $1.43; barley—$1.28; season, $1.44; corn, sept. 10.—1:15 P. M. Close—Wheat—Firm; cash 110; December, 102; May, 106; corn—Firm; cash 46; October, 46; May, 48; oats—Firm; cash, 36; May, 30; barley—Steady; 76; wheat—Quiet; cash, $6.25; October, $6.30; $6.32; January, $6.67.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

TIED OF LIVING.

A Lively Prize Fight at St. Joseph, Missouri.

THE TARIFF BILL PASSED.

California Admission Day Celebration Closed—Engineers to Congress—Senator Quay Arrived.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—A school-keeper named Adolph Jordan, 32 years of age, attempted to kill his wife, Catherine, aged 45, and then take his own life, early this morning. He took a common knife and made a great gash in the left side of her face, and both his own arms; also stabbed himself in the left breast. Both were badly cut, but will probably recover. Jordan is a cripple and gave as a reason for the deed despondency over ill health and loss of business. He had repeatedly spoken to his wife of his desire and she had told him that they must both die together. Several times he was about to commit the deed, but his courage had failed him and his wife had called him a coward. Last night, however, he determined to end both their lives, with the above result.

A LIVELY PRIZE FIGHT.

Eight Rounds Fought for a Purse of $500.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 10.—Jim Hightower, of Minneapolis, and Harris Martin, of El Paso, Texas, fought eight rounds with three-ounce gloves in the amphitheatre at Wyatt Park tonight in the presence of 1000 people for a purse of $500. The fight was lively up to the third round, when Hightower broke his right thumb on Martin's head. When the ninth round was called Hightower was unable to respond to the call of time.

A SPEECH BY POWDERLY.

Addressed an Immense Mass Meeting at Oswego Last Night.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Sept. 10.—General Master Workman Powderly addressed an immense mass meeting here last night. He was received with great enthusiasm by the Knights of Labor and escorted to the hall under a blaze of red fire. Hundreds of people were turned away from the hall. Mr. Powderly reviewed and expounded the principles of the Knights. He referred to the Central strike, condemning the corporation for its course and asked suspension of judgment regarding the men arrested for wrecking trains until they could be heard and tried. He declared that laws should be enacted that would prevent a corporation from doing anything to

WIRE CLIPPINGS.

The Olympia & Chehalis Valley railroad, between Tenino and Olympia, was wrecked on a new section of the line yesterday. The road now belongs to the Oregon Improvement Company, and will become a part of the Port Townsend & Southern railroad. The new steel laid forty-four pound rails.

WIRE CLIPPINGS.

The contract for carrying the daily mail between McNamara and Grand Rapids, by Bellevue, Sheridan and Williams has been awarded to Allen Young, of Sheridan, for $4800 per year, six vice to begin September 16. This is the route that was discontinued under the last administration.

WIRE CLIPPINGS.

A desperate fight is reported from Gold Creek, about thirty miles east of Trumansburg, between thirty United States Conley and a gang of horse thieves. The horse thieves had fourteen head of horses and Conley came upon them in an open space in the timber. At their refusal to surrender, Conley opened fire and shot the "Kid" through the body and immediately sent another bullet into the fellow's shoulder, but the "Kid" clung to his horse and escaped. Conley was alone, but securing help he started in hot pursuit, and will no doubt catch the thieves and recover the horses.

WIRE CLIPPINGS.

World's fairs are all the rage now, and our neighbors on the north have caught the contagion. Delegates from various states and representatives from various counties met at Olympia Tuesday to discuss the Washington World's Association, and to adopt a plan for organization. Dr. Blakely Walla Walla, was elected president; E. C. Ferguson, of homish, vice-president; and E. Cushing, of Tacoma, secretary. These three officers were required to select an executive committee to report to-morrow.

WIRE CLIPPINGS.

The Masonic grand lodge of Idaho commenced a session at Boise City Wednesday. Eighty-one of the subordinate lodges and delegates, and about sixty delegates are in attendance. One of the lodge was installed at 4 o'clock. During the day the order has been in a splendid condition throughout the state. Shoup's introductory address was pronounced a masterpiece. The lodge will be in session three days. The citizens cordially received the delegates and the delegates are well pleased with Boise.

WIRE CLIPPINGS.

Corvallis has a damage suit.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Reed reached Washington this morning and appeared at the Capitol at about 11. He went at once to his room, where he remained, seeing no one. It was expected that he would take his seat at the opening of the session, but he did not respond to the summons of the doorkeeper and speaker pro tem. Burrows called the house to order. On his way to the Capitol the speaker was warmly greeted by both republicans and democrats and received congratulations on all sides. Later in the day he held a series of impromptu reception in room at the Capitol, many members coming to greet him. His reason for not immediately taking the chair was because he thought it proper that Burrows should first announce the fact that he (Reed) had signed a number of bills that passed the house. When the house was called to order by Burrows, Dunning, of Minnesota, chairman of the house committee on the eleventh census, introduced an appropriation of $178,271 of population. The bill provided for a total representation of 335. Under the present census of 1880, Michigan, Missouri, Oregon, Texas, Washington and Wisconsin would each have one member.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The little city of Lancaster, in Central Kentucky, was excited yesterday when it was learned that Miss Lulu Sandier had eloped the night before with young J. T. McRoberts. Both are under 21 years of age. Miss Sandier's father, who is very wealthy and is cashier of the Middleborough bank, objected to the match because of the tender ages of his daughter and her suitor. Monday night McRoberts went from his city to Lancaster, and after getting two friends to accompany him, went to Miss Sandier, who was waiting. They left at once for Stanford, catching the 3:25 a. m. train for Louisville. They had to drive about fifteen miles after midnight to reach the town and arrived at Louisville at 11 o'clock the following morning. As soon as they got breakfast, they went to Jefferson and were married. McRoberts is a drug clerk.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The Herold says the marriage of Lord Lawrence Petre to Miss Jennie Williams, the American society belle, will take place on the 20th inst. at the home of Mrs. Furness House, Copthall Hall, Ignastone, England. The ceremony will be private.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 10.—Ex-President Andrew D. White, of Cornell University, and Miss Helen Magill, eldest daughter of President Magill, of Swarthmore College, will be married this afternoon. A number of distinguished persons will be present.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Wheat—$1.40; buyer, season, $1.43; barley—$1.28; season, $1.44; corn, sept. 10.—1:15 P. M. Close—Wheat—Firm; cash 110; December, 102; May, 106; corn—Firm; cash 46; October, 46; May, 48; oats—Firm; cash, 36; May, 30; barley—Steady; 76; wheat—Quiet; cash, $6.25; October, $6.30; $6.32; January, $6.67.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Reed reached Washington this morning and appeared at the Capitol at about 11. He went at once to his room, where he remained, seeing no one. It was expected that he would take his seat at the opening of the session, but he did not respond to the summons of the doorkeeper and speaker pro tem. Burrows called the house to order. On his way to the Capitol the speaker was warmly greeted by both republicans and democrats and received congratulations on all sides. Later in the day he held a series of impromptu reception in room at the Capitol, many members coming to greet him. His reason for not immediately taking the chair was because he thought it proper that Burrows should first announce the fact that he (Reed) had signed a number of bills that passed the house. When the house was called to order by Burrows, Dunning, of Minnesota, chairman of the house committee on the eleventh census, introduced an appropriation of $178,271 of population. The bill provided for a total representation of 335. Under the present census of 1880, Michigan, Missouri, Oregon, Texas, Washington and Wisconsin would each have one member.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The little city of Lancaster, in Central Kentucky, was excited yesterday when it was learned that Miss Lulu Sandier had eloped the night before with young J. T. McRoberts. Both are under 21 years of age. Miss Sandier's father, who is very wealthy and is cashier of the Middleborough bank, objected to the match because of the tender ages of his daughter and her suitor. Monday night McRoberts went from his city to Lancaster, and after getting two friends to accompany him, went to Miss Sandier, who was waiting. They left at once for Stanford, catching the 3:25 a. m. train for Louisville. They had to drive about fifteen miles after midnight to reach the town and arrived at Louisville at 11 o'clock the following morning. As soon as they got breakfast, they went to Jefferson and were married. McRoberts is a drug clerk.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The Herold says the marriage of Lord Lawrence Petre to Miss Jennie Williams, the American society belle, will take place on the 20th inst. at the home of Mrs. Furness House, Copthall Hall, Ignastone, England. The ceremony will be private.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 10.—Ex-President Andrew D. White, of Cornell University, and Miss Helen Magill, eldest daughter of President Magill, of Swarthmore College, will be married this afternoon. A number of distinguished persons will be present.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Wheat—$1.40; buyer, season, $1.43; barley—$1.28; season, $1.44; corn, sept. 10.—1:15 P. M. Close—Wheat—Firm; cash 110; December, 102; May, 106; corn—Firm; cash 46; October, 46; May, 48; oats—Firm; cash, 36; May, 30; barley—Steady; 76; wheat—Quiet; cash, $6.25; October, $6.30; $6.32; January, $6.67.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Reed reached Washington this morning and appeared at the Capitol at about 11. He went at once to his room, where he remained, seeing no one. It was expected that he would take his seat at the opening of the session, but he did not respond to the summons of the doorkeeper and speaker pro tem. Burrows called the house to order. On his way to the Capitol the speaker was warmly greeted by both republicans and democrats and received congratulations on all sides. Later in the day he held a series of impromptu reception in room at the Capitol, many members coming to greet him. His reason for not immediately taking the chair was because he thought it proper that Burrows should first announce the fact that he (Reed) had signed a number of bills that passed the house. When the house was called to order by Burrows, Dunning, of Minnesota, chairman of the house committee on the eleventh census, introduced an appropriation of $178,271 of population. The bill provided for a total representation of 335. Under the present census of 1880, Michigan, Missouri, Oregon, Texas, Washington and Wisconsin would each have one member.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The little city of Lancaster, in Central Kentucky, was excited yesterday when it was learned that Miss Lulu Sandier had eloped the night before with young J. T. McRoberts. Both are under 21 years of age. Miss Sandier's father, who is very wealthy and is cashier of the Middleborough bank, objected to the match because of the tender ages of his daughter and her suitor. Monday night McRoberts went from his city to Lancaster, and after getting two friends to accompany him, went to Miss Sandier, who was waiting. They left at once for Stanford, catching the 3:25 a. m. train for Louisville. They had to drive about fifteen miles after midnight to reach the town and arrived at Louisville at 11 o'clock the following morning. As soon as they got breakfast, they went to Jefferson and were married. McRoberts is a drug clerk.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The Herold says the marriage of Lord Lawrence Petre to Miss Jennie Williams, the American society belle, will take place on the 20th inst. at the home of Mrs. Furness House, Copthall Hall, Ignastone, England. The ceremony will be private.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 10.—Ex-President Andrew D. White, of Cornell University, and Miss Helen Magill, eldest daughter of President Magill, of Swarthmore College, will be married this afternoon. A number of distinguished persons will be present.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Wheat—$1.40; buyer, season, $1.43; barley—$1.28; season, $1.44; corn, sept. 10.—1:15 P. M. Close—Wheat—Firm; cash 110; December, 102; May, 106; corn—Firm; cash 46; October, 46; May, 48; oats—Firm; cash, 36; May, 30; barley—Steady; 76; wheat—Quiet; cash, $6.25; October, $6.30; $6.32; January, $6.67.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Reed reached Washington this morning and appeared at the Capitol at about 11. He went at once to his room, where he remained, seeing no one. It was expected that he would take his seat at the opening of the session, but he did not respond to the summons of the doorkeeper and speaker pro tem. Burrows called the house to order. On his way to the Capitol the speaker was warmly greeted by both republicans and democrats and received congratulations on all sides. Later in the day he held a series of impromptu reception in room at the Capitol, many members coming to greet him. His reason for not immediately taking the chair was because he thought it proper that Burrows should first announce the fact that he (Reed) had signed a number of bills that passed the house. When the house was called to order by Burrows, Dunning, of Minnesota, chairman of the house committee on the eleventh census, introduced an appropriation of $178,271 of population. The bill provided for a total representation of 335. Under the present census of 1880, Michigan, Missouri, Oregon, Texas, Washington and Wisconsin would each have one member.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The little city of Lancaster, in Central Kentucky, was excited yesterday when it was learned that Miss Lulu Sandier had eloped the night before with young J. T. McRoberts. Both are under 21 years of age. Miss Sandier's father, who is very wealthy and is cashier of the Middleborough bank, objected to the match because of the tender ages of his daughter and her suitor. Monday night McRoberts went from his city to Lancaster, and after getting two friends to accompany him, went to Miss Sandier, who was waiting. They left at once for Stanford, catching the 3:25 a. m. train for Louisville. They had to drive about fifteen miles after midnight to reach the town and arrived at Louisville at 11 o'clock the following morning. As soon as they got breakfast, they went to Jefferson and were married. McRoberts is a drug clerk.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The Herold says the marriage of Lord Lawrence Petre to Miss Jennie Williams, the American society belle, will take place on the 20th inst. at the home of Mrs. Furness House, Copthall Hall, Ignastone, England. The ceremony will be private.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 10.—Ex-President Andrew D. White, of Cornell University, and Miss Helen Magill, eldest daughter of President Magill, of Swarthmore College, will be married this afternoon. A number of distinguished persons will be present.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Wheat—$1.40; buyer, season, $1.43; barley—$1.28; season, $1.44; corn, sept. 10.—1:15 P. M. Close—Wheat—Firm; cash 110; December, 102; May, 106; corn—Firm; cash 46; October, 46; May, 48; oats—Firm; cash, 36; May, 30; barley—Steady; 76; wheat—Quiet; cash, $6.25; October, $6.30; $6.32; January, $6.67.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Rain has fallen in the lower lake region and Lower Mississippi valley, Gulf states, Eastern New York and Central New England. The temperature remained nearly stationary throughout the country.