Sunday Night's Alarm. The fire bell pealed on an alarm about midnight on Sunday and scurrying footsteps soon told of the rapid gathering of the fire ladders. That was all there was of it, however, for on getting together it was found that the danger was over and a broken lamp and considerable damage was done. The locality was in the Waverly boarding house. A broken wire was tied up with a string, which soon burned off, letting the aforesaid lamp fall to the floor. It was hurled into the street and the cry of fire raised.

A Successful Operation. DDr. J. P. Wallace performed a successful and delicate operation yesterday at the Exchange hotel, in this city. MacCalavan, of Scio, has been suffering for months with what was called consumption. He emaciated and suffered extremely, and the action of the heart was removed from the left to the right side. The doctor diagnosed the trouble as a collection of puss in the thoracic cavity, pushing the heart from its normal situation and impinging upon and retarding the action of the lungs. The cavity was punctured, a tube inserted and a large quantity of puss was drawn therefrom exactly at the location of his diagnosis. The patient was relieved at once.

An Ancient Vessel. Probably the oldest vessel in the world is now running on the Pacific coast. This remarkable vessel, a fore and aft schooner of about eighty tons register burden, called the Vigilant, is now and has been regularly running from Santa Cruz to St. Thomas and vice versa, as a passenger, freight and mail packet, for upwards of four-score years. The Vigilant, it is said, was built in Baltimore, Md., during the first years of our national independence, making her upwards of 110 years old. She was of the Baltimore clipper class, so famed many years ago for speed, and must have been a wonder and a beauty when launched.—Astoria Columbian.

Fire at North Yamhill. The McMinnville Reporter says the barn of W. G. Sappington at North Yamhill was discovered on fire about two o'clock Monday morning. It was situated only twenty-five feet from his store building and about thirty feet from his dwelling, so that it is little less than a miracle that they were not also consumed. The activity of the citizens, who turned out so promptly, is doubtless all that saved them. The fire was probably the work of an incendiary and is known to have started in the loft where about three tons of hay was stored. Several citizens of the place have joined in the offer of a reward for the detection and conviction of the supposed villain, and there is a chance for some one to earn a thousand dollars.

Solid Facts. The East Washingtonian says: The Indians living on the Umpqua river complain that the men carry bundles of trout from camp, carry away only enough for one meal and leave the rest to rot on the banks. There is a law against the wanton destruction of game that should be rigidly enforced. There is no longer a place on the Northwest for the man who, armed with dogs and catches fish with giant powder.

Strange Fish. John Koop, Louis Smith and Albert Sealbacht caught a strange fish on the sand of Upper Columbia as the Pioneer. By examination it is known as a "lance fish," and its proper elements are in the deep sea. Its peculiarities are that it is very light and its body can be easily counted. It has a reddish tinge and this one was about seven inches long, although they have been caught in drag nets off the coast, that were 18 inches long. So far as known this is the first that has ever been caught in the Columbia.

Cause of the Smoke. Vast forest fires are raging on both sides of the Columbia and an east wind has filled the region around the mouth of the river with a dense cloud of smoke that renders navigation a very difficult task. This smoke has followed the stream and its tributaries up, which fact is in a great measure responsible for the smoky appearance of this vicinity at present.

The Jefferson Bridge. Ex-County Commissioner Wash, Phillips, was the first man to cross the Jefferson bridge with a vehicle. The structure lacked one apron, but he improvised a temporary one and drove over. The bridge, it is said, will be completed and opened for traffic on about Wednesday of this week, and its opening will form an epoch in the prosperous growth of the city of Jefferson.

Celebrated Shooting Case. MONTREAL, Sept. 15.—The celebrated case of C. C. Hale, of Cleveland, O., for shooting and wounding his brother-in-law, E. H. Cowles, in this city last June, was called this morning. Hale pleaded guilty to aggravated assault and was fined $500, which he paid and the case ended.

A Wedding. The marriage of John Schmeer, proprietor of the lively stable, to Mrs. Kuleway, took place in this city last evening. Justice George Humphrey performing the ceremony.

The Union Pacific. Is the only line running two fast trains daily from Portland to Omaha, St. Paul, Kansas City, Chicago, St. Louis and all points East and South. Buy your tickets at C. G. Rawlings, foot of Broad-albin street, Albany.

A STARTLING CASE.

A Resident of Union County Talks the First Time for Seventeen Years. A singular case is reported to the La Grande Gazette of a Union county man who speaks his first word on Wednesday of last week, after a silence of seventeen years. The name of the man who has undergone this agreeable change is James Smith, brother of a well-to-do farmer living near Island Creek in that county. In 1873 Mr. Smith was stricken with a severe attack of fever, and during his sickness lost all power of speech. He recovered his faculties in every other way, and has since been physically as strong as the average man. He had taken a land claim, and came to the land office Wednesday to see about it. In some transaction with the officials, which he probably did not readily understand, he conceived the idea that he was being defrauded, and he seized with a fit of passion almost bordering upon insanity and immediately commenced to talk a "blue streak." His conversation was disconnected, but every word was a titillation as plainly as if he had never been deprived of the power of speech. He has since been able to talk readily, and seems to be making up for lost time.

A singular feature of the affair is that his conversation is principally upon topics that were prominent before the public at the time he lost his speech. The theory of the physician who is attending the man at La Grande is that part of the brain controlling the vocal organs had become paralyzed during his long sickness and had again become stimulated to action by violent passion.

Provocation Enough. Among the men in the Portland police court Monday, charged with drunkenness, was John Neilson, from Deer Island, says the St. Helens Mist. At first he pleaded guilty and was fined five dollars, but a short time after, he asked the court's permission to say a few words on his own behalf. "Gentlemen," said he, "this is the first time I have been in jail. I came to Portland to look for my wife, who ran away with another man. She was keeping house for me, but I was in the woods most of the time. This man who took her off with him was also working in the camp. He said that he was going to California, but I found out that my wife went with him to Portland. They had been registered at the International hotel, but left the night I arrived. I felt so bad and was so sorry that I took a few drinks too many." It is needless to add that Justice Tanner gave Neilson his liberty.

They Both Run. Last week while Alvin Axtel was up on the range looking for cattle he had the good fortune to find a fortune to run a to a young black bear, which was a little larger than a small dog. Here was a chance for Alvin to show his bravery, having in his possession a rifle, he sprinkled salt on his tail and captured it single handedly. But what a bear, the instant he caught the animal it began to growl, and by the time Alvin got away it was as large as a horse, had torn his clothes in strings and had begun to tackle his flesh. The bear rushed for his horse and the bear for his brush; thus dissolving partnership by mutual consent, leaving the man to pay all debts, and receive what credit he could on the affair. Alvin cannot bear the burden of the matter any longer and wants the people and the business shut up.—Centerville Leader.

An Oregon Musician. The McMinnville Reporter says a citizen of that place, Henry L. Betman, who has spent the last five years in Europe, studying music under leading instructors of Germany and France, returned home last Friday evening. He has already been tendered and has accepted an excellent position in the conservatory and college music at Toronto, Canada, where he will enter upon his duties about October 1st. The engagement is evidence that Mr. Betman's attainments are of a high order, and his many friends in McMinnville heartily congratulate him upon the successful completion of his education and safe return home.

Court Reports. The force in the state printing office is now engaged in the publication of the nineteenth supreme court reports, which will come from the press about October 15. This volume will consist of about 650 pages, containing a roster of attorneys, together with the rules of the court, making it more complete than any report previously published. After this volume is finished State Printer Baker will be ready to commence on the biennial reports of the state officers.

Nearly Fatal. Mrs. W. H. Roberts, living near Salem, had quite a narrow escape from death. She was starting a fire in the yard preparatory to cooking out doors, and it was not blazing enough, she added some coal oil. The flames followed the stream of oil to the can, which exploded, setting her clothes on fire. With wonderful presence of mind she procured a blanket and after a few slight burns succeeded in smothering the flames.

Police Court. The man Cook, arrested Saturday for being drunk and disorderly, was arraigned in Recorder Henton's court yesterday and fined $5 and costs.

Albert Bond was arrested Saturday evening for being intoxicated, and on being arraigned, pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and costs, which was paid.

The Oakes Swiss Bell Ringers and Comedy Company which pleased the citizens so much on their appearance here about a year ago, are coming again. They will be here on the 23d of this month, and will be greeted by a full house, for they are good. On their appearance at Huron, Dakota, the Leader of that place said: "Those who attended the vocal and instrumental treat at the opera house last Saturday night pronounced the Oakes Swiss Bell Ringers and comedy club a little out of the common order of traveling troupes. They frequently stirred the house in attendance, who favorably expressed themselves in relation to the entire exercise. The solos were excellent. The English comedian, Harry Eades, with his mirth provoking melody and his funny faces, interested the crowd amazingly. Frank Hollister, the artistic banjoist and character vocalist, was encored to the echo. It was an acceptable and interesting affair. The company will do well to come again."
