A rare musical treat at the opera house, on Monday evening, September 22, to listen to the Oakes Swiss Bell Ringers and Comedy Sketch Club. They give a genuine, enjoyable entertainment.

Southern Oregon Fair. The Southern Oregon district fair promises to be the best ever held in Southern Oregon. Entries began yesterday. Thirty horses from all parts of the district, that will be entered for the races, are already on the grounds. Secretary Miller says that the demands for spaces are perfectly unpropor-tioned and carpenters are busy enlarging the buildings.

Special Meeting. St. Johns Lodge A. F. & A. M., will meet in special communication this evening. Work in the first degree.

The Usual Advance Interest. At the Albany Building and Loan Association last evening G. W. Ellis took $1000 at 60 months interest in advance and James McHargue $200 at the same advance.

Baptist Meeting. The Rogue River Baptist Association is in session at Grants Pass. The Corvallis Association will meet next week.

THE FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

A Magnificent Assortment of Fruits, Vegetables, Cereals and Ores.

The Farmers' Institute convened in Union Wednesday evening, and has proved a very interesting affair.

While we believe it was not generally understood among our farmers that the products of the county would be placed on exhibition, says the Scout, we are pleased to state that a large amount of fruits, vegetables, cereals and ores are already unpacked at the court house and the display will be much larger before the Institute closes.

Dr. Jay Guy Lewis, of Sparta, has a collection of ores from the mines in his vicinity, which are truly wonderful, and indicate the remarkable richness of the mines. In the grand exhibit of minerals is seen a collection of rich and rare specimens from the cabinet of Hon. J. A. Wright, of Sparta. The exhibit of fruit and country produce by Mr. Benjamin Longley and Capt. C. H. Craiz, of Eagle valley, is the finest we have ever seen in the state.

The immense variety, all of the best and most perfect quality, proves that Eagle valley is what it is claimed to be, "The Garden Spot of the World." Mr. H. A. Barrows, the well known bee man of Eagle valley, has a colony of bees on exhibit besides some choice specimens of the product of his apiary. We have no hesitancy in saying that a sight of the rich and rare specimens already on exhibition will simply repay any farmer for the trouble of a visit, even from the remote corners of the county. It is to be hoped that all who can will take advantage of this opportunity, and be in attendance at the Institute.

Good Water.

The East Portland Vindicator says: The flowing well, which has been secured by the East Side Water Company on its grounds, has attracted attention far and near, and many hundreds of people have visited it. There is quite a volume of water flowing from this well and it has increased considerably since it was first put down.

The water is as clear as crystal and free of cold. What more is wanted? It is the purest water that can be obtained anywhere in the world. It is obtained after going through beds of impervious sand and rock, which renders it impossible to be contaminated by surface water. Other wells will be drilled to lower depths so as not to interfere with each other. In Albina all the wells were drilled to the same depth and it is found they interfere with each other. By thus tapping different strata an inexhaustible supply can be obtained. It may be that a great flow will be secured. At any rate the question of a water supply will be considered settled.

Oregon City's Paper Mill.

The water power at the falls of the Willamette at Oregon City, is being rapidly utilized, and the Willamette Falls Paper and Pulp Company have begun sluicing on the site selected for their new paper mill, which is to be erected as soon as possible. The ponds as drawn up are for a one-story building on stone or cement foundation.

The main building, consisting of the machine room will be 100 feet long, with a pulp engine room 100 feet long. One large paper machine for making "news" has been ordered and is now being constructed while all other machinery has been ordered and a part of it is already on the route from the coast. Other machinery than the paper machine proper will have power and capacity to handle the stock of two machines, and the building itself is to be fitted to machines whenever the demands of trade require more than one. The mill will be completed as soon as possible.

A Peculiar Schoolmaster.

A Bethel correspondent of the Dallas Observer, in speaking of their school says: "A wired skeleton (human) has been procured for the school, which will begin Sept. 29th. Its beginning is prolonged in order that the fall work being done the large scholars may enter at the first of the year. We anticipate a large and enthusiastic school. Many persons from abroad have signified their intention of coming to make an early start and to remain the entire year."

Went to Jail.

Harry Preston, the printer who was arrested at Corvallis for the alleged larceny of certain articles in a tailor shop at Jacksonville, had a preliminary examination before Justice Plynale at that place, and was held to await the action of the next grand jury, with bonds fixed at $500. Failing to furnish the same, he was remanded to the custody of the sheriff and is now in jail.

A Good Recommendation.

The Linn county jail is at present without a prisoner, and with the exception of the short sojourn that Isaac Banta took therein, such a condition of affairs has existed since the officers took their seats in July. This would indicate that Linn county's citizens are law abiding.

Pleasant Social.

Last evening a number of young people enjoyed themselves immensely at the social given by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church. Games were played and a general good time had by all present.

The Union Pacific.

Is the only line running two fast trains daily from Portland to Omaha, St. Paul, Kansas City, Chicago, St. Louis and all points East and South. Buy your tickets at C. G. Rawlings, foot of Broad-albin street, Albany.

A STATUTE OF WASHINGTON.

To Be Given by the Women of America to France.

The people of this country have always had a warm sentiment of gratitude to France for her generous aid in our struggle for national independence, a feeling which has occasionally found expression, most notable towards the persons of Gen. LaFayette, when nearly fifty years after the Revolution, he revisited our shores and the whole nation rose up to do him honor. Yet this just recognition of our obligation, so graciously shown to him, has never found expression to the nation at large, although in late years we have been reminded of the continued friendship of the French people, in their gift to the city of New York of the fine statue of LaFayette that stands in Union Square, and also of the colossal statue of "Liberty Enlightening the World," which is fitly placed on an island in the harbor, where she holds aloft her torch, emblem of the light and freedom which she proclaims and guards.

To supply in some small measure, at least, this omission on our part, it seemed that once a year would be a fitting thing for the women of America to offer to France some memorial which shall convey to the present and future generations our grateful remembrances, and strengthen the ties which bind the two great Republics of the old world and the new.

An association of women from all parts of the country has therefore been formed, who propose for the purpose of the gift of a bronze statue of Washington, whose life and character symbolize not only to the American mind but in a great degree to the world, and especially to France, what is most valuable in our national life and constitution.

The headquarters of the association are at Washington, and the names of the officers are: at once a guaranty for the performance of the trust and an evidence of the general desire for its accomplishment.

It is estimated that about $25,000 will be sufficient for the work, and that the amount the association asks the co-operation of all who feel interested in the object. Mr. E. Francis Riggs, of Riggs & Co., Bankers, Washington, will act as treasurer.

Small donations can be sent to any of the ladies whose names are appended.

Mrs. STEPHEN J. FIELD, President.

The vice presidents for Oregon are: Mrs. H. D. Green, Oregon; Mrs. D. P. Thompson, Oregon; Mrs. James K. Kelly, Oregon. All of Portland.

The Jetty at Yaquina Bay.

The government plant at this point is in perfect order and nothing new is needed to resume work. But as there is an immense amount of dirt to be removed from the top of the rock at the quaries it is doubtful if any encroachment can be done this season. The government has expended a lot of money in water up the river, sufficient to complete the north jetty. These piles are paid for and are ready to be towed down. The north jetty is to be extended 1500 feet, about 1000 to 1200 on the present alignment, then curved so as to run parallel with the south jetty. For this distance it will parallel the south jetty, the two jetties being just 1000 feet apart. The piling of the south jetty will probably answer for the next season's work with slight repairs, but many of the top timbers will have to be replaced. The south jetty rock work has settled considerably, and a large quantity of stone will have to be used on that side to bring the embankment to the required height. It will be only a few days now before it will be known what amount and kind of work the department will do this season.—Yaquina Republican.

Thought It Was Not Loaded.

The Astorian says that last Tuesday, after W. E. McCormick had finished his day's work in the logging camp on the Lewis and Clarke he started home to his ranch, and while on the way he discovered elk signs. He then went back to tell his brother that he was going down to Dan's house to place to borrow a gun. He then went to Ingalls, and got the gun of Mrs. Ingalls, who also gave him some cartridges. McCormick stood in the kitchen and put on the cartridge belt. Mrs. Ingalls handed him some cartridges and he leaned the rifle against his left side while he put the cartridges in the belt. The gun was supposed to be empty and the children were playing about the floor without suspicion of danger, when there was a terrific explosion and McCormick with a smothered exclamation staggered into the dining room and fell dead near the front door, about twenty feet from where he was standing. This was between 6 and 7 o'clock in the evening. Examination showed that the bullet from a ballard 40-60 had entered his left side a little below the heart ranging upward and coming out close to the spine, between the shoulder blades. After passing through the unfortunate man's body the ball lodged in the roof of the house.

A Good Record.

R. N. Morris during the harvest made a run of 45 days and an average of 1271 bushels of grain per day. His outfit was a 28 inch Westinghouse separator on a six horse power Ingersoll engine, with a Reeves automatic stacker, stacking all the straw. Certainly an excellent run.

A Nebraskanite Speaks.

No wonder the farmers of Nebraska are arising in rebellion against the conditions that confront them. S. F. Barry arrived here from Buffalo county in that state, last week. He says he had 100 acres of corn on his farm and 100 acres in oats. He did not harvest enough from the 200 acres to replace the seed. The drought which has blighted agriculture in nearly the entire state has brought fat steers down to 1 1/2 cents. Seven-eighths Jersey cows sell for $9 a head, hogs of 150 pounds at $3 and pigs from 15 to 30 pounds in weight at 50 cents apiece. This is the first great failure of crops in Nebraska for eight years, says S. F. Barry, but notwithstanding many fruitful years, pretty much the entire estate is plastered with mortgages.—Courier.

Work Commented at the Hatchery.

Work at the Clackamas salmon hatchery has been commenced, and in a few weeks eggs and young fish may be seen in all stages of growth. The artificial propagation of salmon is an interesting study. Upon its success, to a large extent, depends the future of the salmon industry of this state, as three months since, the fish is not sufficient to keep pace with the heavy annual catch. United States Fish Commissioner Hubbard this year has charge of the hatchery, and the usual success is expected. The output of young fish this year, however, will fall short of that of last year, owing to the high water and delay in building the racks. If 4,000,000 young fish are obtained, the fish commissioners will realize their expectations.

Gas Fields.

The Lebanon Express says: "That there is an immense gas field lying in part within the limits of our town, cannot be doubted by anyone who has the slightest acquaintance with this luminous agent. Since its first discovery some three months since, the tests have been both varied and numerous, and the settled conviction of our citizens is that we have in our little town the elements of a thrifty little city. All thoughts of marsh gas have been dispelled, as none of the properties of the gas ascribed to the late discovery. Organized effort will soon bring to the surface what seems to be an inexhaustible supply of this gas, and fuel and light will cut but a small figure in the annual expenditures of the families in this and more distant parts of the country."

A New City.

Thos. Kay, of Salem, and J. K. Weatherford, of Albany, have acquired a valuable property at Waterloo. The immense water power at this place, the soda rings, and two hundred acres of land covering a beautiful town site have all passed into their hands. It is the purpose of the owners to form a syndicate with a capital stock of $60,000, build a ten-thousand-dollar hotel, construct an electric railway to Lebanon, farm their water power and thus build on the banks of the South Santiam an industrial city of no mean proportions.—Lebanon Express.

Cumming, druggist, Blumberg block, Albany, Oregon.

To the Buyers of Shoes.

We are offering some rare bargains in men's and ladies shoes. We are going down to Dan's house to place to borrow a gun. He then went to Ingalls, and got the gun of Mrs. Ingalls, who also gave him some cartridges. McCormick stood in the kitchen and put on the cartridge belt. Mrs. Ingalls handed him some cartridges and he leaned the rifle against his left side while he put the cartridges in the belt. The gun was supposed to be empty and the children were playing about the floor without suspicion of danger, when there was a terrific explosion and McCormick with a smothered exclamation staggered into the dining room and fell dead near the front door, about twenty feet from where he was standing. This was between 6 and 7 o'clock in the evening. Examination showed that the bullet from a ballard 40-60 had entered his left side a little below the heart ranging upward and coming out close to the spine, between the shoulder blades. After passing through the unfortunate man's body the ball lodged in the roof of the house.
