F. L. Kemton continues to receive subscriptions for all the leading newspapers and magazines at the cash grocery store near the postoffice. All orders left with him will be forwarded without delay, saving the subscriber the trouble and expense of forwarding the same to the publisher.

THE TRUE REASON.

Why the Tax Levy Was Not Maintained. The statement having been made that the Willamette Valley and Coast Railroad had offset their tax levy in this county, by pleading a mortgage given to secure bonds, as indebtedness and thus wiping out the entire levy, has been published in some of the papers.

We deem but simple justice to the road to say that such is not the case. The facts of the case are that the legislature passed an act exempting the road from taxation for twenty years, and Benton county assessed all the same, but the road has claimed the exemption and that county has not as yet been able to collect the taxes. The case is still in litigation. Our county court, when the matter was brought to their attention, decided even if the claim was not a valid one—which can only be ascertained from the supreme court decision—that having to pay the full amount of state tax upon the assessment without getting any returns was not good policy, and therefore ordered the assessment cancelled, and the railroad gains the simple force of the act to exempt it from taxation. The law is upon the statute book, and is in force until it is declared unconstitutional.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

A Chinaman and a Boy Raped in a Heinous Crime. Salem tatesman John Sing, one of the lowest order of Chinamen, was caught in the act of committing a heinous crime on Charles Jones, a 14-year-old boy, in a building near the new Bank block, Sunday evening by Chief Officer Mitt, and was promptly arrested, along with the boy, and placed in the city cooler. The Chinaman was taken before Recorder Court Monday, when he waived examination and is held to await the action of the grand jury. It is understood that this is not the first time this pair has been at such outrageous business. The Chinaman is a laborer from the country and his willing partner in crime is a bit subject for Oregon's reform school, which will be ready none too soon. The punishment for those convicted of this most heinous of crimes is a long term of years in state's prison for the guilty ones. Their offense was the same as that practiced in the long ago and which caused the fall of the ancient city of Sodom.

The boy was detained in jail all day yesterday and confessed to the officers that he had been for the past year very frequently indulging the lecherous Chinaman in the commission of this inhuman crime, receiving in consideration silver pieces of the size of a half dollar. Last night his mother applied to the city jail warden and District Attorney Bingham to have the boy released. The warden, making the arrest is surprised as well as disgusted at having the youth given his freedom, since the law provides punishment for just such a case. The boy got out during the conference last night, sat smugly smoking a cigarette, blowing the smoke from it into the face of his mother, who sat by him suffused in tears.

FRUIT GROWERS IN LUCK.

The Oregonian says that Dr. Cardwell is not the only fruit-grower who is fortunate this year, for his fruit bear a high price. Dealers in Montana are engaging carloads of apples here at $1.00 per bushel. A. Clarke, for good winter fruit, and pears at $1.20 or $1.40 per box. Fruit growers should know this, and not lose the opportunity and give too good bargains to speculators. Prunes are averaging 15c per pound. Dr. Plummer has a good thing, among others, a Clark tree, the "journalist," who planted trees to have some outdoor interest, now has 10,000 trees, mostly bearing, including one of the old apple and pear orchards we read of, "caged as torn," but full of fruit. He complains that his buttered side is down, as he hasn't over half a good crop this year when prices are "way up," but has three or four carloads of prunes, besides $2500 worth of cherries, peaches, apples, pears and strawberries and cranberries that he sells gross. His sales will exceed $10,000, and may reach $12,000, even with only this half crop, which isn't so bad for an "journalist." The Pacific coast has not averaged over two good crops of fruit this year, but it is a happy fact that no other section of 3 or 4 America can show any surplus at all this year, and prices run as high as they can possibly go. That's all.

A New Publishing Company.

The Oregonian says that the matter of publishing a paper in the interests of the Christian church of the northwest, has been talked for some time among the leading members of that church. The movement took definite form last night, when several of the moving spirits of that church in this city met at the office of the Equitable Insurance company, on First street, and incorporated a publishing company under the name of the Northwest Christian Publishing Company, with an authorized capital of $20,000. An $18,000 of the stock was subscribed at once, and it is expected that all the remainder will be taken in a few days.

The Salem Statesman says: At the entertainment at the opera house last night Prof. Gentry demonstrated to a very large audience that dogs and horses have about as much sense as people. His equine paradox can be commended as first-class in every respect. His dogs show a remarkable intelligence and are as well trained as any in the world. They all but talk, and reason with as much logic as do many members of the family of a higher type. The horses were also thoroughly trained and performed their duties deliberately and in good form. The entertainment given last night was an educational one and fully deserving of the large house that greeted it.

The Right Girl.

The Astorian Columbian says: A prepossessing young lady arrived in this city from Michigan last Monday and on Tuesday went down to Elk Creek, examined a tract of land, went to Astoria Thursday and flew on it. Returning she went back to the place and superintended the construction of a house and made arrangements for getting in a winter's supply of provisions. By this time she has probably begun house-keeping, in the expressive parlance of the day. "There are no ties on that young lady."

THE AMUSING PART.

The Woman Whose Eight Living Husbands Responded to Call. It is not often that a more humorous account is made by the wires than is the following, which came yesterday from Wilkes-Barre, Penn. A most peculiar case came up in court this morning, when the case of Harry Molenbeck, charged by his wife, Lavine, with desertion, was called. The prisoner was on hand and sat near the witness stand, and McGartney, when the two entered they were accompanied by seven men, who took seats among the audience. When the case was called, the wife failed to respond. She was not in court, and no attorney appeared in her behalf. "Why does this woman want to prosecute?" demanded General McGartney, rising to his feet. "Why, she has eight living husbands here in this court." "What's that?" asked the judge sharply, while the crowd listened breathlessly to the astounding revelation. "She has eight husbands in court. They'll respond if you call for them." "All husbands of Lavine Molenbeck stand up," ordered the judge, "and remain standing until

CITY COUNCIL.

Bids for the Railroad Street Sewer Extension Rejected. A special session of the city council was held last evening for the purpose of opening bids for the extension of the Railroad street sewer.

A communication from J. C. Tunning of Salem, offering to put in an electric fire alarm system for this city and referred to the committee on fire and water. The bids for the extension of the Railroad street sewer a distance of 384 feet with 30-inch cement pipe were rejected. The bids were: U. G. Hayne, $3.85 per foot, and Archie Mason $3.91. The recorder was instructed to advertise for bids for 20 and 24 inch terra cotta pipe also for 30-inch cement pipe.

A motion was made and adopted that all contracts made this year for either main or lateral sewers be made payable one year from date, with interest at 8 per cent. The committee on health and police were instructed to investigate the water closet in the Benj. Brenner building on First street. The council adjourned to meet next Tuesday evening for the purpose of opening bids for the extension of the Railroad street sewer.

About Hops.

Miles Martin of the Pike neighborhood was in Monday and told us about his hops. He was lucky enough to have six and a half acres that yielded six hundred boxes, estimated at about 10,000 pounds. He expects to sell at not less than fifty cents a pound, making a gross product of $5,000 from six and a half acres. Figuring that way, Mr. Martin naturally concludes that there is money in hops, and he will endeavor to do so another year. Many of his neighbors will do the same, and he thinks the acreage in that vicinity will be increased two hundred next season. One of his neighbors who has raised hops and sold as low as nine cents a pound in former years, saying all the labor is quoted as being that even at that figure there is more money in hops than in wheat at seventy cents a bushel.—Yamhill Reporter.

Passage Deferred.

Editorially the Oregonian says: The final passage of the tariff bill and the adjournment of congress is deferred for a day, and possibly for a week, on account of the indefinable delay of Senator Stanford's making. It is apparently settled that the bill is to be passed exactly as it came from the conference committee, with perhaps two or three Kansas and Nebraska republic votes against it. It has been demonstrated that the bill is worth bearing to say upon it, but it seems necessary that some of them should disabuse themselves.

Wanted to Marry.

A good looking couple of young people presented themselves at County Clerk Payne's office, yesterday, and wanted a license to marry. Being total strangers however, and not being able to find any reason to make affidavit for them, they could not procure a license, and consequently could not wed. They declined to give any names or place of residence, and will probably seek to have the hymeneal knot tied in some locality where they are known.

Quite a Lump.

On Monday there passed through Yakima on the east-bound Northern Pacific train the largest lump of coal ever mined on the Pacific slope. It was from the Kosky mines, and was being shipped to the Spokane Falls exposition. It measured 11 1/2 feet long, 4 1/2 feet wide and 2 1/2 thick; weight 4 1/2 tons.

Terrible Accident.

M. J. Cunningham of Stanwood, while endeavoring to start a log down a chute last week, was caught and dragged 200 feet down the hill. His right leg was torn off at the knee, and his right arm fractured so that it had to be amputated above the elbow. Despite his awful accident there is strong hopes of his recovery.

Funeral Attended.

The body of Dominic Mansfield, accompanied by the family, arrived on the noon train, yesterday, and was taken directly to All Saints Temple, from whence the funeral took place at four o'clock, and was largely attended.

A Fine Lecture.

The lecture at the Christian church last evening by Prof. W. H. Gregg, the blind orator, was listened to by a good sized audience, and was highly appreciated. His theme was the possibility of every one being able to accomplish a life task and earn a living, even if partially incapacitated, and he handled it well, making many allusions to personal endeavors that illustrated the subject. The audience was well pleased and pronounced the lecture a success. Prof. Gregg deserves and is meeting with good success.
