Cards are out for the marriage of Mr. Jas. F. Powell and Miss Maude Van Horn at the residence of the bride's parents in this city Wednesday, Oct. 8. Stewart & Sox have added a line of guns and ammunition to their immense hardware stock, and are ready to meet any demand in that line.

Farmers all feel happy over the rain, as it came just in time to prepare the soil for the sower. Teamsters who have been swallowing dust also rejoice. One of the most essential things for farmers in this part of the country to look after is grass seed. Messrs. Stewart & Sox keep a full supply of the different varieties and can meet all demands.

Miss Lou Cochran, a composer at Oregon City, successfully manipulates an engine that runs the presses, and thoroughly understands the working of the machinery to the minutest detail. The many friends of Mrs. M. W. Orton will be glad to learn that after eleven months of sickness, the last five of which she has been confined to her bed, is now slowly improving.

The largest and heaviest girl of her age that ever lived has been unearthed at the little village of Cokeville, Westmoreland county, near the Indiana county line, about a quarter of a mile from Blairville Intersection and Blairville. Her name is Della Beck, her age is 16 years and she weighs 450 pounds.

The citizens of Jacksonville and Medford have donated the terminal grounds and a subsidy of $20,000 with which to build and equip a motor line between the two points. Grading work has already commenced and Honeyman, Hart & Co. have signed a contract for delivery of the necessary steel rails. The distance is about five and a half miles.

While the races were in progress at Cottage Grove on Monday, one of the running horses became excited and as soon as the rider was mounted darted to one side through the fence and through the crowd of spectators. Several persons were knocked down, but the horse stepped on the 8-year-old son of Frank Lovelace, and broke his leg below the knee.

The Jefferson Review says: We are not a lawyer and know but little about Oregon laws, but we do know that it is injustice for a trumped up charge and taken 20 miles from home, and then, when no proofs of a misdemeanor can be furnished turn him loose without a cent to pay his way home, and but for the opportune finding of a friend would have had to walk home or get there the best way he could. This so we have been informed has been the treatment of Steve Miller, of this place, by E. M. Croissant, sheriff of Marion county.

FOUR WILD CATS.

John Smith's Encounter with the Four Beasts. The Astoria Pioneer says: John Smith, who lives on the Klatskanian just back of Olney, killed four wild cats all at one time last Saturday. He was out in a gulch back of John Logan's place when he saw one of the beasts, the mother of three young ones standing in the trail. She showed fight and he hit her with a rope he was carrying, but instead of fighting she skulked away. Smith went to Logan's house and procured his gun and dog and went back to where he had left the cats. The dog had no difficulty in finding and sending them into a tree, from which place Mr. Smith shot one after the other until the last one fell to the ground dead.

UNPUBLISHED INFORMATION. Captain Charles King, who recently visited St. Paul and Minneapolis for the Cosmopolitan Magazine, has prepared for that monthly an illustrated article entitled "Twin Cities of the Northwest" which will prove interesting reading not only to the citizens of these two cities, but also to a great number of readers scattered throughout the country who have watched with astonishment the marvelous growth of these towns. His article will appear in the October issue, which will also contain the second part of a story by Julien Gordon, the non-dramatic one of New York's famous society women, a story which has attracted wide attention throughout the east, the writer bidding fair to make a reputation far in advance of Amelie Rives, or any of the American stars appearing upon the literary horizon within the past two or three years.

Travels of an Envelope. George B. Markle, the well-known banker, has an envelope that has done considerable traveling of late. It inclosed a letter which he mailed to a friend in Paris August 15. The friend was traveling, and the letter followed him from Paris to Vevey, Switzerland, then to Milan, Italy, then back to Paris and then to Vienna, where it overtook him. At every point more stamps were put on and the stamp of the receiving office affixed. It cost the gentleman to whom it was addressed 52 1/2 cents to get it out of the Vienna postoffice, which, added to the postage of 5 cents from Portland made 67 1/2 cents all told. The envelope has been returned to Mr. Markle.—Oregonian.

A Peculiar Accident. A most painful and dangerous accident happened to Viva Campbell, the little 2-year-old daughter of Judge Fremont Campbell, of Tacoma, on Wednesday. The little girl had got hold of a button-hook, and in playing about the house fell in such a manner that the ugly instrument penetrated her face near the eye, entering to such a depth that the mother was afraid to remove it. Judge Campbell, who was absent in Olympia, was summoned by telephone and arrived in the course of three hours with a surgeon, who succeeded in removing the button-hook, the child having first been placed under the influence of chloroform. While the resultant inflammation may threaten the eyesight, the attending physician is in hope that it may be saved.

A Power in Concerted Action. Eugene Register: A spirit of self-reliance is always commendable, but it does not change the fact that there is a power in concerted action by a union of forces, which will accomplish great results where individual effort is unavailing. Now let us build up our local Board of Trade, and make it an efficient force to work for the advancement of every legitimate local enterprise, and become a potent factor in the Oregon State Board of Commerce, that will labor for the advancement of all the material, industrial, and commercial resources of the whole state.

To Be Built in a Year. The Golden Gate Sentinel says: Two hundred tons of railroad iron has arrived at Grant, we are informed, for the portage railroad on this side of the river, and another contract is about to be let for 5000 more ties. We have just learned from reliable authority that this road is to be completed within the next year, and that the company that now has hold of it means business and is not simply a man who has surmised an obstruction company. They expect the locks to be completed in two years.

Grand Lodge Meeting. The Dalles Times-Mountaineer says: The Knights of Pythias, in convention will meet here Oct. 14, and the members will comprise some of the representative men of the state. It will be to the advantage of the Dalles to give them every facility to become acquainted with our resources. By such means we shall advertise the city to an advantage, and we shall reap the benefit in future.

Excitement. Runs high in Albany over System Builder, as everybody is using it for Catarrh of the Stomach, Dyspepsia, Constipation and Impure Blood. Try it and tell your friends about it, as it must possess wonderful merits when all speak well of it.

QUARTERLY MEETING.

The regular quarterly meeting of the State Horticultural society will be held in the city council chamber in Portland, on Tuesday Oct. 14th, at 10:30 A. M. The following papers will be read and discussed: Small Fruit Culture—C. H. Welch, Tabors. Horticulture in the Hood river valley—C. P. Head, Hood River. The Young Orchard—R. D. Allen, Silverton.

The committee on legislation will report on the following subjects: "A permanent room at the capital in which the society may keep its library and records." "Legislation against pernicious trees." It is hoped and expected that there will be a large attendance at this meeting as it is "Horticultural Day" at the exposition. The state board of horticulture will be present and some leading horticulturists from distant parts of the state are expected.

As this will be the last meeting of the society before our next legislature convenes all members and others interested in Oregon's horticulture ought to be present and take part in the discussions on questions of legislation that will come before the society for consideration. There is a deep interest being manifested in the horticulture of our state and it behooves this society as a state institution to take all legitimate steps in the direction of advancement of this industry. We trust that the members will feel a deep personal responsibility in making this meeting one of special interest and importance.

The S. P. R. R. will give the customary reduction in return fare. Very Respectfully, E. R. LAKE, Sec.

Clara Morris. Manager Friedlander writes that he will play the famous emotional actress Clara Morris in Albany on the night of October 30th, providing a sufficient amount will be subscribed here to guarantee this great artist from loss. This is a rare treat for the public of our town, and no one should fail to add his name to the list. It is seldom that we have an opportunity of seeing so celebrated an actress, and it may be the last and only visit Miss Morris will make to the coast. She will come here supported by a fine company of ladies and gentlemen, especially selected for the presentation of her plays on the present tour. She travels in her own special palce car, luxuriously fitted up, and furnished so as to make it a veritable home. Clara Morris' name is too well known to require comment; it is unnecessary to speak of her high talent as the greatest living emotional actress. There is but one that has ever approached her in "Camille" and that is Sarah Bernhardt. Should the engagement prove profitable, this city can be assured of securing occasionally some of the grand attractions now playing at the Marquam Grand opera house. It will be appreciated and reciprocated.

Caught More Than They Thought. The Ashland Tidings says: The two innocent men who were arrested by Sheriff Endert, of Del Norte county, California, and Sheriff Birdsey, of this county, over on Applegate a few weeks ago with two fine mares and their colts, which they were taking to the fair, turned out to be desperate criminals, with long records and faces well known in the rogues' gallery. Sheriff Endert who took the men to San Quentin last week to serve out their sentence of five years each, writes to Sheriff Birdsey that they are well known to the different sheriffs of California. Barber has recently completed a fifteen years' sentence for stage robbery in Siskiyou county, while Buck has served three times for robbery, once for stage robbery. If the judge in Del Norte had known of their record he would have given them the full limit of the law—ten years—instead of only five. The sheriffs were lucky in getting "the drop" on the desperadoes just as they did—otherwise somebody might have been hurt.

Taken In. I often use to read the newspaper aloud to my wife, said a gentleman in our town the other day, but once I was fairly taken in by one of those little advertisements of groceries and patent medicines. The paragraph begun with the modest account of a sea serpent but ended by setting forth the virtue of Blackburn & Pironi, say; if you trade with them you will never get taken in.

LINN COUNTY COUNCIL.

A large number belonging to the Linn County Business Council were present, and two more were added to the list. A communication from Sherman and Wasco counties was read by J. H. Scott. A resolution was introduced by Bro. Irvine on an important grange matter and it was thoroughly discussed by several of the brethren. The time for dinner was then announced.

The resolution was referred to a special committee of five to report at the next meeting. The lecturer of the Agricultural college being present was called on for an address, which was listened to with great interest.

The professor of agriculture was present and was also called on for information on his experiment farm—what sort of experiments had been made and the results, etc., which he very fully explained. The professors also spoke about the Farmers' institute, where different subjects are brought up and talked about and the best plans and methods given for certain things. All the farmers were invited to attend these institutes.

A motion was made and carried that the next Council be held at Harmon's grange the first Saturday in November. It was moved that the Council extend their thanks to the members of Oak Plain grange for the use of the hall and the reception given.
