AGAINST POLYGAMY. High Winds Cause Great Damage in Seattle.

SAILING IN THE AIR. A Large Army of Pensioners—General Returns—Booth Looking After Investments: A Murderous Indian.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Oct. 6.—At the general conference of the church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints this morning, the official declaration of President Woodruff, forbidding in the future any marriage in violation of any of the laws of the land, was read, and the congregation, numbering nearly 10,000 persons, including apostles, bishops and leading elders of the church, by a unanimous vote recognized the authority of the president to issue manifesto and accepted it as authoritative and binding. George R. Cannon publicly announced his endorsement of the manifesto and his recognition of the supremacy of the laws that had been declared constitutional by the Supreme court of the United States. The conference also re-adopted the original articles of faith, among which is this: "We believe in being subject to Kings, Presidents, rulers, and magistrates, in obeying, honoring and sustaining the law." The action taken settles the vexed question and places an effective bar against polygamous marriages in Utah. It is the most important step taken by the church for more than a quarter of a century.

ALMOST A HURRICANE. The Wind Rages at Seattle and does Much Damage.

SEATTLE, Oct. 6.—The highest wind known for years blew here today, from early morning until late in the evening. Several large panes of plate glass were broken by flying signs. The roofs of several temporary structures were blown off, and the harbor was rough that it was unsafe for small boats to venture upon it. Clara's new steam barge and the Occidental Tug & Barge Co.'s barge Occident, pounded together at the wharf and the former was damaged over $1000, and the latter about $700. In north Seattle R. E. Johnson, a hack driver, drove his car over a live electric cable, which had been knocked down from the electric railway poles by a flying awning, and both horses were instantly killed. The Telephone and American District system were damaged more or less, and an electrical storm in Lake Union district, kept the electric road from running for some time.

Notorious Criminal Captured. NASHUA, Oct. 6.—Four weeks ago John Saucier, a notorious criminal from Montreal, charged with rape and horse stealing, broke jail at Beauharnois, Que., and escaped to the states. He was traced to this place and arrested and will be taken back to Canada.

MURDERER CAPTURED. Michael Coleman Charged With Killing Several Men.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Michael Coleman, who was arrested on suspicion a few nights ago and sent to Bridewell, has been identified as the murderer of Officer James Mahoney, of the Chicago police, and Michael McMahon, treasurer of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, this city. He is thought to be the murderer of ex Mayor Bowman, of East St. Louis. About twelve years ago, the police say, Coleman and his pal entered the house of James Brennan. They were surprised by Officer Mahoney, who started in pursuit, firing his revolver. Coleman then turned and fired, killing the officer instantly. Not long after, Michael McMahon was found murdered in his bed, by a man who entered his house in the night. Mrs. McMahon caught a glimpse of the man's features and afterwards identified a picture of Coleman as that of the murderer. Coleman then went to East St. Louis and got among the tough element that the mayor was trying to root out. Bowman was afterwards found murdered, and Coleman, it was thought, was the slayer. A reward of $1000 still stands for the murdered.

PROTECTING THEIR WOMEN. A Horse Stealing Chimed at Large—The President at the G. A. R. Reunion—Eastern News.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—A printer here tells the story that a man named George, who was from work in Montreal, when they met Prince George and his two companions, who were taking up the whole of the walk. The printer would not yield and the result was the little encounter and the arrest of all parties. The printer made himself known and the air was lashed up and the printer liberally paid to clear out, one to South America and the other to Australia. The man here is on his way to the latter place, where he will draw another allowance.

THE PENSIONERS. Quite an Army of them According to Report.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The annual report of Pension Commissioner Rains shows that there were at the end of the last fiscal year 57,944 pensioners upon the rolls, classified as follows: Army and navy pensioners, 32,839; army and navy widows, 104,456; navy widows and dependent children and dependent relatives, 2,400; survivors of the war, 182,413; widows of soldiers of the Mexican war, 17,188; widows of soldiers of the Mexican war, 6,764. There were 69,037 pensioners allowed during the year. The amount of the first payment in these 69,037 original cases amounted to $24,750.44. There has been received 469,282 cents to September 30, under the disability pension act of June 27, 1880. The care of such an enormous number of claims received in so short a time necessarily taxed the resources of the office to its full extent. The work of the mail division ran up to more than 32,000 pieces of mail per day to be opened, classified and properly distributed. In connection with the division is handling 10,000 claims a day. It is believed that there are probably 10,000 claims in the office which can be properly allowed under the provisions of the regulations approved September 18, 1889. In connection with the pension law in the history of the world which granted to soldiers and sailors pensions for disability not granted to any other class of men, the pension law is the only one of its kind in the world.

REHE. A Young Man Who Didn't Have Money Enough to Spend.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 6.—Justin Glenn, a wealthy young man of this city, committed suicide just before daylight this morning by plunging his head into the window. His widowed mother died in August leaving an estate of several thousand dollars. The terms of her will were such that she left an allowance of $1000 a month in addition to his living expenses. This amount was not sufficient to satisfy his fancy and he quickly spent each month. Just night when he reached his room, he took out the will and pondered over it for hours, reading the clause which kept the bulk of the property out of his hands. The morning a policeman found his dead body stretched out on the sidewalk under his window. His right wrist was broken and the stiffened fingers of his right hand grasped the pieces of the will.

He Was Equal To the Task. Yesterday an individual who from the "howling howl" or some other cause was landing on the "on compos mentis" condition, entered Parker Bros. store and while lounging around commenced a rather wholesale use of profane and obscene language in the presence of lady customers. Vigil Parker requested him to stop the use of such language, to which request he paid no attention when Vigil told him he did not stop he would put him out. This line was also unprovoked. As soon as the lady was through reading Vigil proceeded to enforce the decision, and seizing the obstreperous individual by the nape of the neck and the seat of his unmentionable and landed him across the sidewalk in the street face down.

A choice and complete line of bottled delicacies has just been added to my stock and see them. C. E. Brown.

CONFERENCE. Speeches by George Q. Cannon and President Woodruff.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Oct. 6.—At the morning conference yesterday George Q. Cannon spoke of the lofty conceptions of the future, especially regarding their future state. He believed the brethren in the penitentiary would be more numerous than they are now, because they could say that they had not broken any of the covenants they made. He thanked God that he lived among such people, those who were not afraid of the consequences and took punishment like men. The time is coming when the conduct of the latter day saints would stand out as the highest page in modern history. When sufferings would be acceptable to the Lord. Cannon then said the Saints would obey the law, bow in submission to the nation's flag and leave the consequences to the Lord. He said the people need not worry about the future. That must not come upon them. In the afternoon President Woodruff spoke. He said the Lord had about promised His witness in one last time; that the prophets would all like graves before the morning.

TO GO WITH THE CORSET. Girls of a New York School Forbidden to Wear Garters.

SYRACUSE, Oct. 6.—The edict has been issued and by it the young ladies of the Oswego State Normal School are forbidden to wear the garters now in vogue. Mrs. W. Lee, who has charge of the physical instruction of the young ladies, will see to it that they wear their history suspended by side elastic attachments to an undergarment at the waist or by some other means. The old style, she says, whether the woman below the knee, hinders the circulation, prevents development and is injurious. She believes a healthy, active mind should be supported by a healthy development. Dr. Lee first made war on corsets, then she gave attention to high heeled shoes, and both have been abolished.

Operations at the Hatchery. The Oregonian says that Fish Commissioner Thompson stated yesterday that operations at the Lockman salmon hatchery are progressing satisfactorily. Already over 1,000,000 eggs have been obtained and there yet appears to be plenty of fish on hand. The indications are that the output this year will be at least 1,000,000 young salmon, and while this number is not as large as the output of last year, it will represent a good season's work, considering the fact that operations were not commenced until after a good many fish had gone up stream.

Lake Labish Drainage. Marion county's surveyor is hard at work preparing for the extensive work of draining Lake Labish. The main ditch will be two or three miles in length, and it will receive the overflow of the lake through numerous lines of ditches along the ditch which will be soiled, and as soon as the contract is let work will be commenced. When this ditch is completed it will drain about 4000 acres of land, and the intention is to have the land reclaimed by the summer of 1892.

How a Young Editor's Wife Helped Things Along. "Darling," murmured the wife of the young editor, "don't these literary cares sometimes seem like a heavy burden?" "They do, Carrie," he said with heavy sigh. "The load seems at times too great for me to bear. But the work must be done."

"Is there no way, Richard," she said caressingly, "by which you might be relieved of a portion of this severe mental labor and worry?" "I know of none. I cannot afford to hire any help in this department, and if I could I do not know of any one whom I would consider fully competent."

"It has not occurred to you, I believe say, Richard, that I might relieve you of much of the work myself?" "You Carrie? Soil your pretty fingers with ink stains and furrow that lovely brow with literary cares? No, sir!"

"Do not shut me out from your cares and sorrows, Richard. I am sure I could lighten your burdens if you would give me a chance. I was one of the best essayists in my class at school, and I have always thought I would succeed in literature if I had an opportunity."

"Carrie," said the young husband, his voice trembling with feeling. "I appreciate the tender devotion that moves you to make this offer. You might if it were, do much to help me. Darling! With your aid and your generous sympathy there is much of the drudgery of my editorial life that would become easy."

"And I will do just what you want me to, Richard," exclaimed the young wife.

"Then, Carrie," he said wiping away a tear of joy, "look over this bushel of poetry that's going in next week and see if there are any heavily dahl-dilled acrostics among them."—Chicago Herald.

Had Shot Six Scouts. TUCSON, Oct. 6.—Information was received this morning that the "Kid" in the mountains near Fort Thomas that shot young White was a mountain Apache. He said the white and Indians had killed all his friends, and he would kill everybody he met. An unconfirmed telegram from San Carlos states that six scouts had been killed by the "Kid."

BOUND TO MARRY. A Reverend Bigamist in Minnesota.

THE CORSET MUST GO. The Speedy Success—The Murderer is Caught—The Mormon Indigo in Glorification Bragadoles.

MILACA, Minn., Oct. 6.—Wm. Reno, of this place, and Miss Mary Ellen Reed, of Spokane Falls, Wash., were married at Tacoma yesterday. Mr. Reno is a Protestant and Miss Reed is a Catholic and her parents tried to prevent the union. The young folks were determined to get married, however, and planned to meet in Ogden, but Mr. and Mrs. Reed had kept a close watch of their daughter's movements and made their appearance soon enough to prevent the marriage. Mr. Reno and Miss Reed decided to go to San Francisco, but again the parents divined their scheme and went to San Francisco to meet the fugitives when they arrived there. Mr. Reno and Miss Reed then left for Tacoma where Mr. Reno's aunt gave them every assistance, sent with them to a justice and saw them safely united. They traveled over 200 miles to accomplish their object. They are on their way back to Minnesota.

WILL CLOSE UP. The Scotch as Well as English Like American Business.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—The Anglo-Nevada Assurance Corporation, which recently disposed of its Eastern business to the California Insurance Company of Edinburgh, has disposed of the London and Lancashire Fire Insurance Co. The Anglo-Nevada will retire from business as soon as its affairs can be formally disposed of. Colonel William McDonald, at present vice-president of the Anglo-Nevada, will become manager of the London and Lancashire Company's interests in this city. The business of the Anglo-Nevada, which is transferred to the California Company, amounted to $600,000 annually in premiums, and the premiums which are now transferred to the London and Lancashire amount to $390,000 annually.
