THE TARIFF CHANGES
That the new tariff rules will inure to the general benefit of the entire country, is unquestionably a fact that time and trial will demonstrate.

feel glad that the woman had a pistol and was quick and ready enough in its use to frustrate the brutish designs of the burly beast who attempted to assault her.

The Chronicle sizing up of that matter is probably correct. It thinks that the talk of George Q. Cannon shows how complete is the hypocrisy of the claim of President Woodruff and others that the Mormons are willing to abandon polygamy and obey the laws like others.

A CALIFORNIA fruit man, who still plines in single misery, has taken a novel method to advertise for a wife. He inserted two letters in the fruit boxes he was packing asking correspondence and marriage, and the novelty of the affair has procured him a wide-spread notoriety.

On the other hand, it must be admitted that the McKinley bill is not regarded with favor by foreign nations. Great Britain is not enthusiastic over it. Austria does not like it, France objects to it and Germany is out of conceit with it.

The undersigned having purchased the butcher business of Wm. Emmerich opposite the Russ house, would solicit a share of the public patronage. I will keep on hand the best of fresh beef, pork, veal, mutton and everything in the butcher shop line.

THE MCKINLEY bill is simply an assertion in positive form of our national individuality. It is notified on by the world of our absolute independence and of our ability to rely on ourselves for all the necessities of and many of the luxuries.
