A MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

Harry Ward Gets His Throat Cut from Ear to Ear.

A serious stabbing affray occurred yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock at the Waverly hotel. Doc Logan, who lives about 6 miles east of this city, cut Harry Ward in the throat with a pocket knife.

The men had been drinking heavily, and got into a quarrel over some trivial matter in the bar room. They came out in the hall of the hotel and indulged in language that propriety will not permit being repeated. Logan told Ward to leave him alone, and pushed him away with his open hand, at the same time stepping inside the bar-room door. Ward followed and caught Logan by the coat collar, and the latter drew his pocket knife and slashed at Ward's throat, cutting a frightful and deep gash about four inches long. The windpipe was nearly severed. Ward staggered into the hallway and walked back its full length to the back door, where he was found lying on his face in a pool of blood. When turned over his head dropped back, exposing a gapping wound in which a man's fist could be inserted. He was picked up and carried to No. 2's engine house, where Drs. W. H. Davis and G. W. Maston dressed the wound. Late last evening he was removed to the Waverly hotel.

Immediately after the stabbing Logan rushed out of the saloon and went up the street at a rapid pace, nearly a run, wiping the blood from his hands on his coat the while. He went to a store where his wife was doing some trading, and gathering up what had been purchased, started for a back street where his team was tied. They got in and drove to Fifth street, down which they went with the horses in a run. Crossing a place where the streets had been graded one side of the seat fell down, and in this manner they went out of town through Hackleman's grove and toward Knox's Butte.

Constable C. G. Burkhart and C. W. Watts went after Logan. On arriving at his house they found no one at home, but in a short time they saw him driving across the field toward the house, having taken a different route from the one the officers took. They went out and met him, and when arrested he broke down and cried. He got in the buggy and was driven back to this city and lodged in jail last evening.

The injured man has been here only a short time and came from Snohomish, Washington, where it is said he has relatives. He has been working for A. B. Bond, near Knox Butte. Those who are acquainted with him say that he is very quarrelsome.

He was removed from the engine house to a room at the Waverly hotel, and at a late hour this morning he was sleeping easy, had been sitting up once or twice, drank some water and talked freely. There is every prospect that he will recover.

New Supreme Court Clerk.

Yesterday E. R. Skipworth, clerk of the supreme court tendered his resignation, to take effect at such time as the court might fix, which was accepted, and is to take effect on the 1st day of March, 1891. J. J. Murphy, of Salem, was then appointed clerk, his term to begin the day the present clerk retires. In announcing this appointment the court took occasion to say that while the statute of this state did not expressly prohibit the clerk of this court from practicing here, and that when an attorney appeared or a party in any court he continued to be an attorney in the case if it should be removed to the higher court, and, as almost all cases are appealable, the court thought the correct practice to be for the clerk not to appear as an attorney in any court of this state. The court further suggested that the present incumbent afford the new clerk access to the office and every facility for acquiring a knowledge of the workings of the office before his term begins. After his term of office is concluded Mr. Skipworth will return to Eugene, there to resume the growing and already extensive practice of law he left to accept the clerkship of the supreme court. None can say he has not made a good clerk. He has been punctual at all times and just with all. It is to be regretted that Salem will be his home no longer than until spring.—Statesman.

More Attorneys.

The eight members of the law class, who were examined Tuesday before the supreme court, passed through the questioning in a most creditable manner and were shortly afterward admitted to the bar as lawyers of Oregon. They were Loring K. Adams, Oregon City; C. J. Bright, Wasco; John O'Shea, Salem; Russell Wyatt and O. P. Coshow, Albany; H. G. Platt and W. W. McCredie, Portland; and Edwin D. Sperry, Lakeview. This class is somewhat smaller than usual, owing to the fact that a number of others were examined and admitted at the May term of court held at Pendleton. Yesterday the following persons were admitted, upon their presenting certificates from the states where they formerly resided, to practice in any of the courts of Oregon: Benjamin P. Welch, upon a certificate from North Dakota; C. J. Dye, from Iowa; and T. J. Geisler, from New York City.—Statesman.

LANE COUNTY.

Death of Mrs. J. K. Jones of Harrisburg—Siuslaw Railroad Grading.

Eugene Register

At her home near Coburg Friday, October 2, 1890, Mrs J. K. Jones, aged 56 years.

The funeral services were held Sunday and the remains laid at rest in the Purdy cemetary three miles east of Harrisburg. The deceased leaves a husband, seven children, and a number of relatives in this vicinity to mourn her death. She was a sister of Robt. Hayes. She came here from California in 1855 and has resided here since that date.

Immigrants are going into Siuslaw country every week and taking up what vacant land there is left. A Corvallis paper states that several wagon loads of immigrants passed through that city on Tuesday last on their way to Siuslaw. A great many claims have been taken up in that region the past year.

The following preparation is recommended for spraying fruit trees. It has been used with good results: Take 12 pounds of whale oil soap, and dissolve in 10 gallons of warm water. Add 90 gallons of cold water and spray. This can be used at any time of the year. It is a cheap preparation.

Grading on the Oregonian railway extension is being pushed right along and the graders have reached Springfield. The depot building at this place will be on the banks of mill race, opposite J. J. Walton's residence. The contractors on the bridge across the McKenzie are at work and are now filling in the piers.

The trespass case of Henry Spores against the Oregonian Railway Co., has satisfactorily settled by the railway company taking the line first surveyed and paying the cost of proceedings.

Boat Movements.

The Salem Statesman says signs for an early resumption of traffic on the upper river are first class. The employes of the Oregon Pacific's three boats have been ordered to report at Corvallis for duty and from present indications their sonorous whistles will soon be chasing echoes amid the Willamette hills. They will probably start the boats to running in a week or ten days. There are large quantities of freight along the river waiting to be moved, but it is to be regretted the Oregon Pacific company has no facilities at Salem for handling it. That company has not the sign of a wharf or a warehouse here, although Salem is the best shipping point on the river for its boats. The Union Pacific will not be far behind in starting the Modoc. The river is rising at a satisfactory rate, registering yesterday a foot and a few inches above the low water mark. That rise all came within two or three days and the water is still coming up. The resumption of shipping by water is something much to be desired, although but for the costly delay of congress in making appropriations to remove the three insignificent bars the boats need not have been taken off at all during the summer. Last year they didn't miss more than one or two trips, and there is no reason why the same should not have been this year. But now that the government appropriation has been made for clearance of the channel of the river why don't the United States engineers get to work and pull the snags and scrape the bars while the water is low.

Did He Get Home.

The following appears in the volume of "Resources of Southern Oregon," just from the press of the state printer: "Bartolome Ferrelo, a Spanish navigator, in his search for the mythical Straits of Anian, reached, on March 1, 1540, the 44th degree of north latitude. This was off the coast of the northern boundary of what is now known as Douglas county. To Ferrelo, then, belongs the honor of the discovery of Oregon, and to the promontories of the Southern Oregon coast will rest like the halo of romance the credit of being the land of all the Northwest territory on which the eye of civilized man first rested. Sir Francis Drake, in trying to elude the vigilance of the Spanish by attempting a northern passage to England, arrived off the Oregon coast in 1578. He landed at the mouth of the Umpqua, and put on shore his Spanish pilot. This was the first Caucasian upon Oregon soil, 3500 miles from his Mexican home, left to find his way through trackless forests and desert wastes alone."

A SELECT PARTY.

The Music to be Furnished by the Great Liberati.

Invitations are out for a very select concert and cotillion under the auspices of Temple Commandery No. 3, Knights Templar, of this city, given in honor of the meeting here of the grand commandery of Oregon on Tuesday, the 28th inst.

It is understood that the committee in charge of this affair have arranged with Sig. Liberati, the great musician and leader, who is now playing at the Mechanics' Exposition in Portland, to furnish the music on the occasion, with his entire orchestra consisting of 51 drilled musicians. The opportunity to hear so great an artist as the famous Liberati does not often occur in a life time, and the presence of his immense orchestra in our little city will be appropriately appreciated by our citizens on that day.

We heartily congratulate our local commandery for their good taste and public spirit in furnishing so rare a treat to our people and their guests, as we opine it is no small undertaking on their part on account of the great expense attending this venture. But then our Albany boys never do things by halves and do not allow anything to stand in the way to prevent them from entertaining their guests from abroad and friends at home in a royal manner. We, therefore, bespeak for them a very liberal patronage and a most hearty co-operation of the entire community for the very high compliment paid it. Members of the committee inform a representative of this paper that a programme is in preparation, which will not fail to meet with general approval, the principal feature of which will be the great Liberati concert at the opera house in the evening.

A Long Trip.

The Times-Mountaineer says that the steamer Bozeman was launched at Bozeman, in Eastern Montana, last Friday, and Commodore A. C. Hitt started on a trip with her to the coast of Florida. The steamer was built of mountain fir within the shadow of the mountain where the timber grew. She is twenty-eight feet long and five feet beam, and thirty inches depth of hold. She has a screw propeller, with a marine engine and boiler of one and a half horse-power. The object of the is presumed to be connected with a scientific treatise on the subject of shallow river navigation and river obstructions. The Bozeman was launched at a point a stone's throw from the mountain head of the Missouri, 400 miles above the head of navigation. A portage will be made around the great falls on the Missouri, and then the vessel will have clear sailing to the gulf.

LADIES, ATTENTION, We want to tell you that we have the best shears and scissors in this city, and we can prove it to you at any time. Every pair warranted and they can be returned if they do not give satisfaction. This is no brag or bluster, we mean what we say. STEWART & SOX.

WASHING MACHINES We have three kinds and can give you something you will like. Bring your "better half" around and see what we can do for you. STEWART & SOX.

BABY CARRIAGES We keep on hand a large assortment all the time embracing hood, parasol and canopy tops, and ranging in price from $8 to $40. There isn't a nicer lot of "matrimonial fruit baskets" in the valley. We also have a few that we rent. STEWART & SOX.

KNIVES AND RAZORS The passage of the McKinley bill raises the value of cutlery considerably, but we have a large stock already bought and prices will remain the same as usual until it is sold out. Come and see what we have and learn prices. STEWART & SOX.

GUNS AND REVOLVERS, The idea has got out that we have disposed of this part of our business. That's a mistake. We are in it now deeper than ever. We have a nice line of Marlin and Winchester rifles, and breech loading shot guns ranging in price from $12 to $65. Also all the late improved revolvers. STEWART & SOX.

AMMUNITION, ETC., We carry a nice line of shot powder, loaded shells, cartridges, etc., and will sell at reasonable figures. Don't forget us when you come to lay in your winter supply of ammunition, to protect your ranch from the inroads of that ring-necked emigrant.
