ALBANY'S MINING INTEREST.

It Promises Bright for the Future and Will Be an Active Factor for Growth.

The interest that Albany has in the Santiam mining district is one of the leading interests of the city, and one that promises much for the future.

Our capitalists have embarked time, money and labor in them, and their prospects now are that they will receive ample pay for all that they have invested and a handsome profit into the bargain.

Every returning prospector or workman from there brings the same report, and it is that immense wealth is being found in the shafting and tunneling that is in progress.

All this indicates that in a short time one of the grandest industries of the country is going to be opened up in that Santiam mining district, and Albany is going to thrill with the life-giving heat of a successful mine supplying city.

The Albany Mining and Milling Company, to whom is due the credit of having carried forward this work in spite of all difficulties and against all odds, is deserving great credit for their pluck and enterprise, and will reap an abundant harvest through their stamp mill and reduction works have been put in position with a great deal of labor and expense, and will be ready for work just as soon as the rest of the supplies are taken in, which will be in a few days.

Judging from the specimens brought out, when the stamps begin to work the yield of the precious metal will surpass any ever brought to light and there will be a rush to the Santiam mines equal to any mining excitement on the coast.

Brilliant Financiering.

The Tillamook Headright record is the following brilliant piece of financiering as a specimen of county work in that place: "C. E. Donaldson received an order from the county court for $14.80 for material and work furnished on the road. Mr. Donaldson sold his order to G. O. Nolan for 70 cents on the dollar, receiving $10.35. Mr. Nolan, acting in the capacity for attorney for Mr. Donaldson, applied to the county court for reimbursement for what Mr. Donaldson lost by discounting his order. The court issued another order for the sum of $14.80, the amount of the discount, and Mr. Donaldson allowed Mr. Nolan to keep the second order, also, as his fee for securing it. Now, the county will pay $19.25 and interest for work that should have been done for $14.80. Should Mr. Nolan sell his order at the same discount, 70 cents on the dollar, he would receive $13.47, and we see no reason why he should not receive additional county orders to compensate him for his loss (?) A little of this geometrical progression in financiering would soon bankrupt the county. Our county court needs a guardian."

Change the Time.

Perhaps during the camping out season there was sufficient reason for adopting the present time-table to the front on the Oregon Pacific railroad, but it is doubtful. The present arrangement would allow of the trains coming from Salem, to take an outing to the North Santiam, to make connection here and go immediately to their destination. That is all the convenience there is in the present arrangement. The present time is to run to the front in the afternoon, lay over all night return in the morning. By this arrangement, people wishing to come to Albany to trade are obliged to spend two days and one night to make the trip and do any trading. Under the old time, running up in the forenoon and returning in the afternoon, they could make the trip, have ample time to trade and spend but one day and one night. The people all along the line are wishing that the old time would be resumed, and if it is not it will result in a falling off of the trade for Albany.

Great Respect for Hunt.

If the "Hunt line" is transferred at all it will either go into the control of the Great Northern, Jim Hill's road, or there is a possibility of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy acquiring it. In any event Mr. Hunt has kept, and will keep, faith with the people; and, as far as it lies in the power of mortal man, he will keep the promise made them when he first shouldered the burden of the enterprise, not to "sell out" to the Union Pacific or Northern Pacific in any emergency. He has been flattered, bulldozed and threatened by men with powerful financial backing, who wished to get him out of the way, but without a success. For our part we have great respect for a man who has made such a good fight, and would have retained this respect even if the battle had been lost.—East Oregonian.

To Picture Crater Lake.

Three gentlemen connected with the department of the Southern Pacific railroad that does the illustrating and descriptive writings of the scenery along their route, arrived in the Rogue river valley several days ago and on Sunday morning were driven to Crater Lake to sketch and write it up. They are E. M. Johnson, H. C. Tibbets and W. C. Morrow, well-known for ability in this line, and as the atmosphere has cleared up in that part of the state some grand views of Southern Oregon will undoubtedly be placed before the public.

MINISTERIAL CONVENTION.

EAST PORTLAND, Oct. 10. The second convention of the Oregon Evangelical conference was full of interest throughout.

The papers upon the different topics show much research and careful preparation. The criticisms were earnest, friendly and most profitable.

Rev. L. Buehler a prominent member of the Wisconsin conference, was introduced, and received as an advisory member of the convention, and by special request addressed the convention. The following resolutions were passed:

WHEREAS, It is our privilege to have in our midst L. Buehler of the Wisconsin conference, who has been one of our faithful and energetic ministers and through whose instrumentality many have been saved and brought into the church, and

WHEREAS, He has given to this convention fatherly advice; therefore, be it,

Resolved, That it gives us, as loyal sons of the church much pleasure to have him in our midst and that we feel grateful to him for his aid and faithfully establishing the laws and regulations of the church;

Resolved, That we have listened to his address, coming from a heart of long and ripe experience in the gospel of Jesus Christ, with pleasure. And that we think him for his kind and encouraging words.

A recommendation of a committee on worship Rev. S. P. Sorenson of Cleveland, Ohio, editor of the Evangelical Messenger, offering a series of appointments, one being at Albany October 20th, at 7:30 p. m., reopening the Evangelical church.

The following preamble and resolution was unanimously adopted by the convention:

WHEREAS, The contract of Bishop R. D. D. D., L. D., has been such as to make an investigation, thereof necessary; and

WHEREAS, He was properly tried by the rules of our church and suspended from all his ministerial functions of the church and

WHEREAS, He accepted his suspension at first, but now denies it, and is going through the country preaching and lecturing; and

WHEREAS, He, editor of the Deusch Algemeine Zeitung, is pursuing a course of abuse upon his church, which formerly nursed and fostered him, and which called him to the highest office within her gift; and

WHEREAS, He, in said paper is sowing the elements of strife and dissension in the church; and

Resolved, That we consider his appointments in the Willamette valley a violation of his vows to the church, and a denial and defiance of his recognized suspension;

Resolved, That we regard his present visit to the Pacific coast as mischievous in its intention, full of intrigue, having for its purpose to further the cause of sowing the element of schism in the Evangelical Association on this coast.

Resolved, That we regard his course in the paper he edits as productive of pernicious fruit, and wholly unwarranted from a Christian standpoint, and as detrimental to the cause of Christianity in general.

Resolved, That we regard the advice in his editorial to certain elements in the church to organize into ministerial bodies contrary to the church he has promised to defend, as rebellious and unworthy of his ever high calling.

The Coal Supply.

The subject of a coal supply is not a very pertinent one for this locality, though it figures to some extent. It is now said that the probability of a scarcity of coal on Puget sound this winter is denied authoritatively by many dealers.

A man interested in the Roslyn mines states that while there has been a scarcity of cars, the mine has been supplied without trouble. He claimed that the Roslyn mine alone could supply the needs of the state, or 3000 tons a day if called upon. The Franklin mine had been shut down recently because of the large amount of coal on hand. While some of the mines are not getting out much, new claims are being opened, and the supply is almost inexhaustible.

Grand Officers of Eastern Star.

The grand chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star, of Oregon, met at Roseburg on the 9th and 10th, and held its first meeting since being organized last October. The grand officers elected were: Mrs. Julia Abrams, G. W. M., and A. C. Jones, G. W. P., both of Roseburg chapter; Mrs. J. N. T. Miller, G. A. M., and D. Linn, G. A. P., of Adair chapter; Mrs. J. M. McCall, G. T., and Mrs. J. D. Crocker, G. S., of Alpha chapter; Miss Frankie Homell, G. C., and Mrs. Clara Fullerton, G. A. S., of Roseburg chapter. The appointment of officers were apportioned among the other chapters in the jurisdiction. Robert A. Miller, past G. W. M., was appointed grand lecturer. The next meeting of the grand chapter takes place at Portland on the evening following the appointment of the grand lodge of Masons in June next.

Narrow Gauge.

The work on the Oregonian railroad is being prosecuted with vigor. A large camp of laborers are located at Sheburn, the crossing of the Oregon Pacific and the Narrow Gauge, and the preparations for the widening of the track are nearly completed.

A PERTINENT INQUIRY.

One Result That Is Likely To Follow the Refusal to Re-count.

The refusal of the department at Washington to order a re-count of the State of Oregon, is likely to have one effect not heretofore taken cognizance of, and that is if the present enumeration stands as one-fourth of the membership.

That is a subject that should have careful attention, and should be thoroughly understood by the people and rather than allow it to that way the legislature should make an appropriation and take the enumeration of the state itself for the basis of the apportionment.

It is manifestly unfair the way it stands, not only for Linn but also for Lane, and without doubt for Benton, Clatsop, and all the Eastern Oregon counties. If Uncle Sam cannot give us a census which will be fair enough upon which to base the state apportionment, let us have a census of our own, and pull Oregon out of the slough of despond, and place her in the galaxy of states clothed in her proper habiliments.

Committee Meeting.

A stand over committee of senators of the state legislature assembled in Salem this week, consisting of Chairman, Senator J. H. Raley, of Umatilla county; T. H. Tongue, of Washington; J. K. Wait, of Multnomah; Charles Hilton, of Gilliam; and Cogswell, of Lake. They are to consider the bill which was drawn up last session by Raley and Wager and introduced in the house by Ganbee. The opinion is expressed that an entire new bill will be drafted by the committee.

It is hoped that they will embody in the bill salient points enough to cause it to become a law, and not stand it upon the desert of controversy that is now being carried on so that it can never realize anything like successful consideration.

The End Was Different.

The recent sad death by suicide of William Spague, jr., at Seattle, has caused a comparison with the difference in the opening, and closing scenes of his ill-starred life. A gentleman who was present in Washington when the young man was born says the advent of the young heir was celebrated by a splendid reception at the residence of his grandfather, Hon. S. P. Chase, which cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. No one then imagined that the young man who was born into the world under such auspicious circumstances, would meet with such a tragic end. Yet such are the daily vicissitudes of life.

"Cap" Humphrey Converted.

"Cap" Humphrey has been converted to the true faith. He related to a group of friends this morning that he had become a democrat, despite his long and faithful service in the g. o. p. He had been presented with a wash bill by an unfeeling Chinaman this morning, and he had concluded to join the ranks of the great "unwashed and unperfected," wherein the use of water is unknown.

The Grain Store.

The footing up of the business of the Farmers Ware house in this city, exhibits a very lively season's work and one of immense proportions. They report having furnished storage room for 185,000 bushels of grain, 30,000 of which were oats. The amount gives an indication of the immense and fertile grain section of country that is contiguous to this city, and the amount of business done here. Taking into consideration that the Farmers warehouse is but one among the many warehouses and mills which store grain in some conception of the crop can be made.

Surveying Claims.

The Salem Mining Company that is operating the Dry Gulch claim, in the Santiam or Quartzville mining district, have had their several claims surveyed. E. J. McCasland, G. M. Redfield and R. A. Abbey returned from their yesterday, having been engaged upon the survey for several weeks.

Death of Clyde Marshall.

In this city, Sunday, Clyde Marshall, the 17-year-old son of Ans Marshall died after a lingering illness. The funeral occurred at 2 o'clock yesterday from the family residence. He had been a patient sufferer all his life. The family will receive the earnest sympathy of the entire community.
