

Morning Daily Herald

ON SALE. The DAILY HERALD will be on sale each morning at H. J. Jones' book store, where it can be procured at 5 cents per copy.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

Coming! Miss Neally Stevens!! Concert Grand Piano!!! Celery at C. E. Brownell's. French keeps railroad time. Hot-stuff oyster cocktails at Boenicke's. Egan & Achison are selling monuments at Portland prices. Coming! Miss Neally Stevens, H. F. Miller's concert grand piano. Regular devotional meeting at Y. M. C. A. hall at 4 o'clock. All men are invited. You can save money by buying your children's dresses ready made at the Ladies' Bazaar. The Merrill-Abbott combination at the opera house Monday and Tuesday evening. The only water filter that gives perfect satisfaction is for sale by Matthews & Washburn. For a fine silk umbrella with a gold or silver handle call on French, (the corner jewelry store). Piano that gives perfect satisfaction you can find at Mrs. Hyman's. Call now and give your order to Mrs. Hyman for the juvenile book so they will be here for Xmas. Dr. J. P. Wallace is filling in his lots on Sixth and Ellsworth street preparatory to erecting an elegant residence. Mrs. Irvine, of Salem, wife of Dr. E. L. Irvine, of the asylum, is in the city, visiting her mother, Mrs. Houk. Mr. George W. Pugh and Miss Elsie Davidson were married at the residence of the bride's parents on October 15, 1890. $1.50 will buy you a pair of those elegant eight-button length trimmed Mosquitto kid gloves at the Ladies' Bazaar. Go and get reserve seats for the wonderful exhibition at the opera house on Monday and Tuesday evenings. No extra charge. Some of the latest styles of elegant bed lounges can be seen at Fortmiller & Irving's, as they have just received a large invoice. If you want a durable monument go to Egan & Achison, who are handling nothing but the best grades. Have you seen those beautiful cement walls in the cemeteries, put up by Egan & Achison, at half the cost of stone. Miss Louise Huclat and Miss Belle Golden, of Salem, are visiting in the city, the guests of the Misses Pfeiffer. Hon. H. B. Miller, of Grant's Pass, manager of the Sugar Pine Lumber Co., was in the city yesterday on his way to Portland. It is not surprising that Matthews & Washburn sell the most stoves from the fact that they carry the line of goods at prices that convince even the skeptical. Messrs. Will & Stark have just received a new line of beautiful silverware, solid gold watches, rings and jewelry of all kinds. Call and see their fine selections. One of the grandest events of the season is the coming piano recital of Miss Neally Stevens, using an artist's grand piano. Reserved seats at a low price at Will & Link's music store. The contractors of the Salem bridge, the bondsmen and the Marion county court, are all in a row over the badly constructed piers for the new bridge, and the work has been abandoned until next year. Messrs. A. M. and Harvey Shelton (father and son) were in the city yesterday. The little son of the latter was the child treated by Dr. Maston for hair-itch, spoken of in yesterday's HERALD. Don't fail to visit the Ladies' Bazaar when you get ready to buy your new fall hat or bonnet. Their elegant styles and superior quality of goods, together with the low prices, are the wonder of the town. F. E. McMillan, of Tacoma, arrived in this city last evening and has accepted the night position in the Western Union telegraph office, made necessary by the Herald's all-night press report. Two tramps were lodged in the city jail last evening: Chief of Police Hoffman. One was found near the Southern Pacific depot in a state of beastly intoxication. Although it was raining hard and he was soaking wet he had three umbrellas lying by his side. There is a dearth of social amusement in Albany at present. Winter is almost at hand, and would be well for our society people to bestir themselves and find some means to employ the long evenings pleasantly and profitably. Why not organize a few social clubs. A bright little girl of nine summers came home from school the other day and said: "Auntie, a school teacher supposed to teach little children politeness. 'Yes,' said her aunt. 'Well, my teacher don't put her hand over her mouth when she yawns so I am not going to any more.' Prof. H. A. Shorey, will preach at the Congregational church today. Subject, morning, "Heaven and the Way to It." Evening, "Address to Business Men." Prof. Shorey is an entertaining and instructive speaker, and being practical, his evening discourse will be worth the attendance of business men.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

A Real Romance That Occurred in the Quiet Town of Harrisburg. The prosaic records in the court house in this city reveal the fact that at the last term of circuit court the married life of Mrs. McMurray and her husband was terminated by a divorce granted to Mrs. McMurray and thereby hangs a tale. They were middle aged people, and were proprietors of the hotel at that place. Life at the hotel was running in quiet and peaceful channels, when one day there came a trim little lady in modest attire, who announced that she was a missionary collecting funds for the purpose of converting and civilizing the poor heathen across the water on the wild and wicked shores of Africa. She was a golden-haired creature, although some of her enemies afterwards termed her "red-headed." She set about her work, and seemed to possess a faculty of readily securing a listening ear from the men who were supposed to be ready to contribute to such chaitable purposes,—especially was this true of Mr. McMurray, who took a lively interest in the little lady and her work. She was introduced here by a generous disposed citizen. Her success was phenomenal, and she soon collected a considerable sum for the poor heathen. If report can be relied upon—and it sometimes can—some interesting development then followed for the story generally related at Harrisburg as true is that Mrs. McMurray grew distrustful of the growing familiarity between her wife and the golden-haired missionary and kept her eyes open; that her vigil was rewarded sooner than she anticipated by finding the guilty pair in her spare bed room. An explosion followed. The golden-haired missionary with her heathen and her well turned ankle, left instant for fresh fields, while Mrs. McMurray sued for a divorce, and of course secured it. She was then left a saddened widow, yet fair to look upon. Her thoughts went back to her husband's home and her earlier life, when she had stood at the altar a bride with her first love, whose name was Hall. They had lived happily together until a few thoughtless bitter words and a cruel fate separated them and a decree of divorce was placed as barrier between them, which resulted afterwards in marrying McMurray and coming West. Being once more the old love was rekindled in her breast, and the little winged god carried swift messages between her and the lover of her girlhood who had meanwhile removed to California. A few days since the prosaic records again told the story of the marriage of Hall and the bride of his youth, and after many years they have reunited their lives and live quietly at the hotel at Harrisburg.

WILL DISSECT TRAFFIC TO ALBANY.

The widening of the Oregonian or East Side narrow gauge railroad line to a standard gauge means more for Albany than a good many suppose. It is the announced intention of the Southern Pacific Company to extend the road to Springfield, in Lane county and eventually to construct it eastward, forming another trans-continental line. In a few years no doubt this once divided little road will form a part of a great line connecting the Willamette Valley with other great trunk lines at Ogden. This means much in the way of shipping facilities to cities and towns along the line, and promises to direct a large traffic to Albany. It should be remembered that the Lebanon branch road is also owned by the Southern Pacific company, which will connect the new line directly with this city, and it is believed by many that the Lebanon branch will become a part of the main line, and that the principal traffic will go over that portion of the company's lines to connect with their main road at this city. There would seem to be good reason to believe this when it is considered that the roads already centering here, extending east, west, north and south, constitute advantages in shipping which would naturally lead other roads to connect here. The Lebanon branch will at least form an important connecting link between this city and the new line, and will divert no little business to Albany.

Church Notice.

Public services at the Presbyterian church today will be as follows: Preaching by the pastor at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 12:15 p. m. Young people's meeting at 6:45 p. m. in the lecture room. Subject of morning sermon, "Duties—The Two Ways of Regarding Them." The topic of the evening discourse will be "A Question of Values." All are welcome at these services. Doc Logan Agate. Dr. Egan, who participated in the cutting affair a few days ago in this city has been a resident on a charge of deathly conduct and fighting, and will be arraigned for trial in Recorder Heaton's court Monday at 2 o'clock. Miss Neally Stevens is to-day one of the best American pianists and the piano forte she will use on the 20th of October is from the factory of H. F. Miller & Sons, of Boston. These pianos have been used nine years in succession by the National Music Teachers' Association, and have received the highest honors to be conferred on any instrument of the kind. Be sure and hear this artist and artist's grand piano. Reserved seats at Will & Link's music store. Lowest rates east by Burkhardt & Keeney.

A FIGHT OVER A HOG.

Two Men Pinned Each Other to Their Hearts' Content. Henry Struckmeyer and Wm. Mespelt, who live about eight miles east of this city, got into an altercation yesterday forenoon over a hog, and as a result the aforesaid gentlemen are carrying very sore heads. Struckmeyer found one of Mespelt's hogs running at large, and shut the porker up. Yesterday morning Mespelt went after the animal, but Struckmeyer ordered him to leave the premises, which he refused to do, and a quarrel ensued. Mespelt seized a large club and struck several blows at Struckmeyer, but only hit him once. The latter by this time had succeeded in getting hold of and wrenching the stick from his assailant. They then indulged in a "rough and tumble" wrestle, in which Struckmeyer came out on top, and he at once proceeded to belabor Mespelt over the head and in the face. Mespelt called to his 10-year-old boy, who was quietly watching the fun, for assistance, and the boy hit Struckmeyer on the head with a cudgel, dazing him and he fell over. Then Mespelt, who evidently thought his turn had come, administered another beating to Struckmeyer. After the fracas was over Mr. Struckmeyer came to this city and Dr. W. H. Davis patched up his head, which was beaten almost to jelly. Several small pieces of wood were taken out of the wounds. He then went before Justice J. R. Wyatt and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Mespelt and son, and sheriff Scott went out and brought them in last evening. The trial will occur Monday in the above named justice court. Gone From Earthly Sight. The following pathetic notice has reached our table: Died—Budget, at Lexington, Or., October 16, 1890, Lexington W. Budget, aged 107 weeks. In order to escape the ignominy of becoming a floating abomination upon the rising tide of debt, it chose with bare bodkin to make its own end while yet it could pay for its own burial. The sands of the shore I drift o'er its grave, Ere no stretch from its carcase will float on the waves. EDITORS HERALD-DISSEMINATOR: DEAR SIRS: Accept our thanks for your courtesy in exchanging with our little Budget, and allow us to express the hope that you may never know the humiliation of pulling down your office sign. Respectfully, S. W. and W. M. Please send one more number. S. & W. German Services. On Sunday October 19, at 2 o'clock p. m., the German Lutheran of Albany and vicinity will hold services at the First Presbyterian church. Rev. Gust E. Meyer. Holiday Book. COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Sons of the Artists That Will Amuse Albany Theater Goers. The boards of the Albany opera house are well filled at present, and the pleasure-seeking people of this city will be entertained by a number of high grade attractions, among which are the following: THE MODERN MIRACLE COMPANY. This company, which is composed of first-class artists, will give their unique and novel entertainments at the opera house in this city Monday and Tuesday evenings, October 20 and 21. This entertainment is described as a grand, weird and wonderful exhibition, which almost baffles human belief. Master Eddie Abbott, aged six years, performs to the great delight of his spectators, and some of his tricks are as puzzling as those performed by older prestidigitators, such as Hermann and Keller. Y. M. C. A. LECTURE. The Young Men's Christian Association of this city have secured Bishop H. B. Becker to give a lecture next Friday evening, Oct. 24th. The subject will be "Five Hundred Miles Through the Holy Land on Horseback," and the speaker will be in oriental costume. The best local talent in the city will contribute to the success of the entertainment. Bishop Becker is said to be a man of high scholarly attainment, and an eloquent and fluent speaker. THE BALL AND CONCERT. Tuesday, Oct. 23, is the date of the grand ball to be given by Temple Commandery, No. 3, of this city, and it will be one of the greatest social events that ever occurred in Albany. A concert will be given during the evening by the world-renowned Liberti and his wonderful band of fifty-one artists. MISS NEALLY STEVENS. This talented pianist will appear before the Albany public at the opera house Thursday, October 20th. She comes highly recommended, and will doubtless be welcomed by a large audience in this city. A San Francisco paper says that Miss Neally Stevens is a greatly gifted pianist with most excellent schooling. Her conceptions are beautiful and artistic. Power and delicacy are characteristics which she possesses in equal degree, and technical difficulties for her appear not to exist. CLARA MORRIS. The famous emotional actress is coming. The amount guaranteed does not quite reach the sum required, but Manager Fredman, of Portland, and the local managers of the opera house have decided to risk it, and she will appear here on Friday, October 31, presenting in her most remarkable manner, the great play "Camille." It is unnecessary to speak of her high talent as an emotional actress, but there is only one artist living who has ever approached the author's idea of the character she assumes in "Camille," and that is Sarah Bernhardt. What Bernhardt is to the French drama, Clara Morris is to the English. She has been properly named the "American Rachel," for none save that great actress has ever approached her in the ability to sway at will the passions and sympathy of the human heart. A WONDERFUL ARRAY. New Goods in Quantities To Suit the Most Fastidious. In the matters of extent and quantity, Mr. W. R. Graham, Merchant Tailor, has just received a stock of elegant goods that is simply unsurpassed. They embody both English and American manufacture of all wool cloths that are simply superb, and will work up into suits of the very best and most fashionable make to be had anywhere. The goods are in almost endless variety of style and pattern, so that the taste of every individual can be exactly met. Lovers of handsome goods can receive a great treat to go and examine these just for the sake of seeing them. They were purchased and shipped before the McKinley bill went into operation, so that no extra tariff charges will be added. GOOD FIRE WATER. The Only Perfect Way of Purifying Water is by the Pasteur Filter. The most essential article to promote good health is good, pure water. It is well known fact, of course, that no water, in its natural state, can be absolutely pure, but in cities it is impossible to get the natural water that is even relatively pure. The only recourse then is to use artificial means to purify the water. A filter is the best and only economical means of accomplishing this end. There is no question upon this point whatever, and our enterprising merchants, Messrs. Smith & Seniors, deserve great credit for taking up the famous Pasteur filter, which is acknowledged to be the best in the world. Its use gives absolute purity of water. NICE AND FRESH. All of the following articles nice and fresh at Blackburn & Pironi's. BREAD. Graham, White, Rye. PIES. Mince, Apple, Peach, Apricot. CREAM PUFFS. CAKES. Fruit cake, Jelly rolls, Macaroons Coffee cake. Wine cake. Ginger and Sugar Cookies. BUNS. The above delicious articles nice and fresh this morning. Call early and get your choice. Pig bargains in ladies and gent's gold and gold filled watches at F. M. French's.
