THURMAN RECEPTION

Immense Throng of Prominent Democrats.

THURMAN AND CLEVELAND.

Speeches, Congratulations and a Regular Ovation—Thurman's Seventy-Seventh Birthday.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 13.—The capital of Ohio in the events of this day, has become a veritable mecca of democracy. To this city have come the democrats of the country at large to pay homage to the "Old Roman," Allen G. Thurman, on the occasion of his 77th birthday. All day Mr. Thurman has been the recipient of attentions which few American statesmen have enjoyed after their acknowledged retirement from the arena of politics.

Throughout the entire day every incoming train brought democrats of prominence from all sections of the United States, until the night scenes can be likened to no gathering more than a national convention.

One of the first to arrive this morning was ex-president Cleveland. He was accorded a most enthusiastic welcome by the citizens, who gathered at the depot. The ex-president first went from the depot to the executive mansion and during the forenoon held a public reception at the state house. A presidential salute of twenty-one guns was fired outside. From early morning the corridors at the state house were thronged with people.

Private secretary Lamont, Gov. Campbell and many prominent democrats were present at the reception, in the course of which the enthusiasm of the people knew no bounds. This remark was often heard from men while shaking hands with Mr. Cleveland: "You will be our next president."

At the conclusion of the reception Mr. Cleveland drove to Judge Thurman's residence and congratulated him on his 77th anniversary. Mr. Cleveland then returned to Gov. Campbell's mansion, where he and a few friends were entertained at luncheon.

The banquet hall to-night was decorated in a most beautiful manner. The celebration was the auspices of the Thurman club, which had charge of all of the arrangements. Seldom have so many distinguished men of any party assembled at one time or place. Among them were senators, ex-senators, congressmen, ex-congressman and congressmen elect, governors, ex-governors and governors elect.

Shortly after 8 o'clock, ex-President Cleveland and Judge Thurman entered the reception room and Mr. Cleveland supporting his venerable companion, after the party was seated every man arose and waived a traditional red bandana handkerchief in honor of "Old Roman." At the conclusion of the banquet, Chairman Lentz of the Thurman club, made a brief speech, introducing toast master, Congressman Outhwaite. When Mr. Outhwaite arose and delivered a brief eulogy of Judge Thurman. The guests again arose to their feet and the scene was one of wild enthusiasm.

Judge Thurman responded to the toast, "Our Guests." He said in the beginning, that he was not here to-night to make an elaborate speech. He was here to express his heartfelt appreciation of the honor they have so kindly seen fit to do him, to "thank with his whole soul his neighbors, fellow-citizens of Ohio and distinguished men from other states for their marks of friendship and esteem. I am here," said he, "at the age of 77 to repeat my testimony so often given of my confidence in the beneficient effect of free institutions." In conclusion he said: "I have been sufficiently honored by my party, and neither ask nor desire any further honor than continued friendship and good will. Gentlemen, you have gladdened the heart and brightened the footsteps of an old man, your devoted friend in his descent of the hill of life. May God bless you all is his earnest prayer."

COLUMBUS, Nov. 13.—Ex-President Cleveland responded to toast American citizenship. He said in part: I follow promptings of heartfelt devotion and veneration as I tender from democracy of New York state her tribute of affection for a man whom we meet here to-night. I am commissioned to claim for my state her full share of the glory which has been shed upon the American name and character by whose career and example cannot be prompted and whose renown cannot be limited in ownership to neighbors and friends in any locality. We rejoice in the example afforded on this occasion of our American ship revealed to us as safe and an infallible interpreter of duty in all emergencies of long and honorable public career, and this unfailing guide to usefullness and fame. When men in high places of trust, charged with the responsibility of making and executing our laws, not only condemn, but flippantly deride cheapness and economy within the homes of our people, and when the expenditures of the government are reckless and wasteful you may be sure something is going wrong with us, and that the condition exists which calls for a vigorous and resentful disapproval.

Ex-Senator McDonald responded to the "senate congressman." Breckenridge of Kentucky, to "democracy in America," Hon. W. K. Wilson to "House of representatives," Hon. Don M. Dickinson of Michigan., "The democracy of the future." Gov. Campbell to 'State of Ohio." Several others were made. Messages and letters of congratulation were received by Judge Thurman are almost innumerable, many of them are from prominent republicans.

SHE GOT HER MONEY BACK.

The Kentucky Widow Returns to Her Blue Grass Home.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Angelina Comad, of Augusta, Ky., the widow who came to this city to buy money at the rate of $10 per $100, is on her way back to her home with the money she brought east and all her property except a big revolver, which the police did not return to her.

Walter Willard, better known to the police as "Big Walter the Swindler," who tried to work the "green goods" game on Mrs. Comad, was taken to Essex Market police court and Mrs. Comad identified him. There was nothing for the police justice to do but discharge him as there was not proof against him. He was advised to leave the city. Mrs. Comad was thankful to get back the $315, which she had saved from her pension of $12 per month. The revolver, she said, she was glad to get rid of.

Consumption Cure

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—Prof. Koch's report of his consumption cure will appear at the end of the week in the Deutscher Meitzinische Wochenschrift. Particulars were published to-day of a case of lupus. The case was treated by Libbertz in Frankfort by Koch's method and the case is progressing satisfactorily. The first effect of the treatment was to cause the lupus ulcers to swell, discharge a serous liquid, after which scabs were formed as in eruptive fevers. The doctors will renew the injection when the scabs fall. Minister Von Gossler has given over 200,000 marks for the erection of a special hospital for the treatment of consumptives by the Koch method.

MRS. JAMESON'S DENIALS.

She Thinks the Stories About Her Husband Are Lies.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—In an interview to-day Mrs. Jameson denounced as a baseless fabrication the story that her late husband purchased a girl and turned her over to the natives to be killed and eaten, in order that he might have the opportunity of witnessing and sketching the cannibalistic scenes. She says the sketches were only incidents coming under his observation as a traveler.

Newfoundland Fishery Question

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The St. James Gazette says negotiations between Great Britain and France for the settlement of the Newfoundland fishery question are progressing. The basis of negotiations is that France shall surrender to Great Britain the French shore of Newfoundland and be compensated by a cession of one of the British West African colonies, possibly Gambia. In addition Newfoundland will renounce the bait act.

The Bandit Bands.

HAVANA, Nov. 13.—The operations of the bandit band are as frequent and bold as ever. The vaunted preparations of the police have ended in smoke. It is true that Diaz and Ramos were caught and shot, but that is all that has been done. All reports received seem to confirm what was telegraphed abroad, that the police are indifferent to the robberies or are hand and glove with the robbers.

Victory for Ticket Scalpers.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 12.—Judge Vanburgh, of the supreme court, has handed down a decision which settles the question of the validity of railroad tickets purchased of ticket brokers or scalpers and affirms the liability of railroad companies to accept such tickets when offered by an innocent purchaser. The decision grows out of a suit against the Northern Pacific involving those points.

Hard Glove Contest.

SALEM, Nov. 12.—Jack Flaherty, of Victoria, and Jack Murphy, of Salem, light weights, to-day signed articles of agreement for a hard glove ten or more round contest, to be fought on or before November 30, somewhere between Oregon City and Albany for $250 a side.

Charged With Embezzling.

SEATTLE, Nov. 12.—James O. Johnson, head bookkeeper for Toklas, Singerman & Co., was arrested in San Francisco to-day on a dispatch from chief police at Seattle. Johnson is charged with embezzling $2,880 from the firm.

They Would Not Work.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 12.—Reports from Provinces indicate that the Toltoi government reforms have proved failures.

THE STOCK MARKET.

A Murdered Man Found On Lake Washington Near Seattle,

AWAITS HIS PUNISHMENT

The Fire Fiend Laps Up a Town—The Cronin Murder Again—A Tug Is Blown Ashore.

NEW YORK, Nov 13.—The stock market to-day, while still very active, showed less excitement in the early trading, and afterwards subsided into the ordinary appearance with only the usual fluctuations. The general feeling in the street has undergone a marked change for the better, and the opinion with most of the habitues, and the street talk is, that the object of the influential combination of capitalists, which have forced the recent decline, has been accomplished, and with the affecting of the reforms in railroad business there will be a general improvement in values.

The late reaction from the low prices of two days ago is regarded as principally the effect of governing shorts, together with some buying by those who had thrown their holdings over on a scare. There were no further failures or bank suspensions to disturb the even course of events.

MURDERED FOR MONEY.

The Body of a Man Found Near Lake Washington.

SEATTLE, Nov. 13.—The body of an unknown man was found this morning on the shores of Lake Washington, near the end of the Madison cable line, by two boys who were out hunting. The body was that of a man who would weigh at least 200 pounds. The head and chest were covered with an armful of hay, and when taken away by the coroner, showed the man's throat to be cut from ear to ear. A depression of the skull on a line with the right eye to the ear, and holes in the forehead penetrating the skull, must have been inflicted by the sharp hammer of a revolver in the hands of an assassin. It was plain that the unfortunate man had been murdered by robbers. When found a bloody razor was tightly clasped in the dead man's right hand. It was evidently the intention of the murderers to give the impression that the man had committed suicide, but the deadly work was too plain for the coroner's jury, who with 25 or 30 men who went to see the remains, decided that the man had been murdered. At present the man's identity is enshrouded in mystery as is also the identity or whereabouts of his assassins.

WILL TAKE HIS MEDICINE

Says He is Guilty and Will Accept the Punishment Accorded.

SEATTLE, Nov. 13.—Charles L. Terry, ex-United States custom inspector, who became famous for trying his hand at smuggling while performing his duties as inspector and who has been absent from the United States for several years, for reason that two or three indictments were standing against him, returned quietly to Seattle last night, and informed his friends, and later appeared at the office of Commissioner Spriggs and gave himself up. He was taken in charge and later released on $500 bail. The story of the smuggling operations, in which Terry is said to have been connected, are romantic and Terry was associated with E. A. Gardner, once of Seattle, but now serving a sentence in a New York penitentiary for smuggling opium from Victoria. Two indictments were rendered against Terry at Tacoma. Previous to Gardner's arrest, Terry went to Victoria where he has been every since. When there he professed religion, under the preaching of Moody, and was induced to surrender to the government, valuable land in Seattle as partial payment for thefts. He acknowledges that he had been guilty of an offense against the United States, and is perfectly willing to suffer the consequences of his act. Said the judge, he says he has come back to plead guilty to any charge that the United States will bring against him that he knows to be true, and he proposes to suffer the punishment.

California Town Burned.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Word was received this afternoon that the town of Tiburon, across the bay from San Francisco, was burning. The fire started from a detective flue in a restaurant. Among the buildings destroyed were the Tiburon hotel, post office, Corinthian yacht club house and a dozen stores and houses. Loss estimated at $5,000, mostly insured. One hundred and fifty people are rendered homeless.

THE CRONIN MURDER

Sullivan Is Said to Have Made a Confession.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—The Evening Post publishes a statement that an authority high in the Cronin prosecution circles says a full confession has been obtained from Sullivan, the ice man, in regard to his share in the murder of Cronin. He admits it is asserted that he enticed Cronin to the cottage, doing so with the understanding that the doctor was not to be killed, but forced to give up important papers. The statement asserts that he took no part in the assussination beyond that of a deceived dupe.

War Between Militia and Students

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 13.—A serious riot occurred here last night between the students and a company of militia. The students fell in behind the company, much to its annoyance, and Lieutenant Granger ordered the company to charge the students. Then ensued one of the fiercest hand to hand conflicts ever witnessed, the militia using their muskets as clubs and the students anything available. The injured were numerous; one fatal. Irving Dennison, of Toledo, died this morning. He was struck by a stone.

POVERTY IN ITALY.

The King Sets a Good Example—Increased Emigration.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—King Humbert of Italy has set a good example to his fellow-monarchs regarding impecunious children. He has declined to ask the Italian Parliament for the State allowance which would, according to custom, be voted for the Prince of Naples heir to the throne, now that he has attained his majority. The king declares that while the treasury is in such a depleted condition he cannot conscientiously call for an appropriation of public funds for a member of his family.

ROME, Nov. 13.—The condition of the poorer classes of Italy continues deplorable. Destitution prevails in many quarters, and those who can arrange to do so are leaving, in the hope of bettering themselves. Six thousand persons have emigrated to America during the past ten days.

POLES LEAVING RUSSIA.

Thirty Thousand of Them Go to Brazil Within Three Months.

WARSAW, Nov 13.—Large bodies of Polish emigrants are leaving Russia for Brazil, and found colonies. Many go surreptitiously, as the government does not favor the movement. Much concern is felt regarding the experiences of these emigrants after reaching Brazil, where the habits of life are so dissimilar from those to which they have been accustomed. The Warsaw Courier has engaged Dom Sinki, an eminent novelist and evangelist, to join a party of them for Brazil and accompany them to Brazil. He will embody the experiences of the party in a series of articles.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Despite the order issued by the government prohibiting the emigration of peasants and Polish Jews to Brazil 30,000 have left Russia for that country during the past three months.

IN LANE COUNTY.

Eugene Register.

A couple of weeks ago while M. Gillespie was cutting down a tree across the river a gust of wind blew it over the opposite way from which he expected it to fall and it fell on his team and wagon, killing a horse valued at $150, breaking the wagon, and came near killing Mr. Gillespie's boy.

United States Local Inspectors Edwards and McDermot came up from Portland Sunday and left on the stage Monday morning for the Siuslaw, where they will inspect the steamers Mink and Lillian. They then go down the coast.

The workmen have completed the false work for the Springfield bridge and are now putting up the iron work. Nine car loads of iron has been received and the remaining two are on the way. If there is no further delay teams can cross on the bridge by the 1st of December and we will then have one of the finest wagon road bridges in the state.

Capt. Winant, of the steam schooner Mischief, who visited the Siuslaw last week, says he found fourteen feet of water on the bar at low tide. With high tide this would give twenty feet. The bed of the river at its mouth is sand and when the jetties are constructed they will have a deep channel and any ordinary craft can enter the harbor with safety. Fourteen feet at low tide on a bar in its natural state is pretty good.

W. H. Gore, of Portland, and Miss Sophia Ish, of Jacksonville, were married by Rev. M. A. Williams at Medford last week. Mrs. Gore one year ago was the wealthiest lady in Southern Oregon, having inherited from her father, the late Jacob Ish, a fortune valued at $100,000. Mr. Gore was temporarily poor, but rich in all the attributes of honorable manhood. Mrs. Gore's relatives objected to the match on the account of the difference in the circumstances, and she deeded all of her property to her relatives and married the husband of her choice. Mr. Gore is well known in this city, where he attended school several years and graduated from the State University in 1886.

Be sure and see the fine display of choice delicacies for Sunday at Mueller & Garrett's to-day.

M., about fifteen minutes after the general alarm was sounded, and all engines in the city went to the scene. The fire was in a large four story building on the corner owned by S.
