THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8, 1890. By the grace and favor of Almighty God the people of this nation have been led to the closing days of a past year, which has been full of the blessings of peace and the comfort of plenty.

TURNING BACK IMPOSSIBLE

One or two republican papers now reason that the party has made a mistake, and cannot do better than to recede promptly from a tariff policy which the people disapprove.

ican it is well known that there has not been in fact such an advance in prices as some suppose, nor has there been the slightest legitimate reason for much of the advance which has been seen.

The new tariff will have to stand until it has been decently and honestly tried. No snap judgment can be taken, after a campaign of unparalleled lying, in which a small fraction of the voters has been led to confound the shortness of crops, and the greed of some retail dealers, and the effects of various speculations, with the consequences of the tariff.

THERE has been much idle talk about supposed high prices as a result of the McKinley bill, but as the excitement of its passage passes away and the natural competition among American manufacturers, whose products are not affected by the bill, makes itself felt, prices will regulate themselves.

It is not pleasant to reflect that Secretary Whitney inflicted on the country a number of vessels molested after the serpent. Americans are abundantly capable to design their own ships of war, and all attempts to slavishly imitate those of other nations ought to be discouraged.

One great point in favor of the Nicaragua canal is that the country which it will cut through is comparatively healthy. The operations thus far have been attended by a very light mortality, and there is a reasonable ground for the belief that the entire canal can be constructed without causing the sacrifice of one-twentieth of the number of lives the Panama canal has already destroyed.

Views of the Week.

Crawford & Paxton made eight different splendid views of the Lake Labish disaster, which they are selling at 25 cents apiece.

Holiday Book.

Ladies call Mrs. Hyman's and give your order for the juvenile book for Christmas. The latest out.

Stamping Done Free.

Any one purchasing $1 worth of goods at the Ladies Bazaar this week can have any one pattern from their new selection stamped free of charge.
