A BAD COMBINATION.

Control of All the Leading Railroads in a Few Persons.

VERY HEAVY INDICTMENTS.

A Peculiar Instrument of Death—The Farmers' Alliance Membership Placed at 18 Years of Age.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—The Tribune says: There can no longer be any doubt that the control of the Northern Pacific railway has been wrested from Henry Villard and those associated with him. All reports agree that the combination consisting of the Vanderbilts, Jay Gould, Drexel, Morgan & Co., and John and William Rockefeller, the Standard Oil company, has secured control of the road. It is believed also, that the Standard Oil company has fastened on the Baltimore & Ohio, and will soon get control of that company. The Baltimore & Ohio joins the Northern Pacific at Wilkes, where the Standard Oil company's works are located and the two roads jointly will form an uninterrupted through line from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and there is but little doubt that the Gould, Vanderbilt and Standard Oil combination has also secured a controlling interest in the Pacific Mail steamship company, Union Pacific, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe and Southern Pacific.

The great combination means the control of all the transcontinental routes, with the exception of the Canadian Pacific, thus compelling all other roads of this country to submit to its dictation. It is not quite certain that before many weeks this powerful combination will have secured the control of every independent road west of Chicago and all roads east of Chicago except the Pennsylvania and Lackawanna. But these corporations will be powerless against the combination and, doubtless, will be compelled to submit to its dictation. As so in matters become a little settled it is understood the combination will demand an immediate change in the management in the principal western roads, and then will follow the final consummation of Gould's great hobby of the formation of a gigantic railroad trust, to take charge of the traffic affairs of all the roads in the country.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Adjutant-General Williams said this evening at a meeting of the committee on the Rosebud agency that when the forces under his command moved to the Indian camp today they retreated back fifteen miles, and to-night are holding ghost dances and working up such frenzied that an outbreak may occur before to-morrow night. Headquarters was also advised today that Sitting Bull has been sending out requests to all the Sioux Indians, even in the Canadian Indian territory, and as far west as Wyoming, to join his forces. He is assisted by a large number of Indians who have been educated by the government in the East.

KILLED WITH A CORKSCREW.

Walking Around With a Hole in His Skull.

BAKKE CITY, Ore., Nov. 21.—F. J. Wingham was struck on the head just above the left eye with a corkscrew by Ezek McCarty, 20 years of age, a waiter in the Lyceum theatre Wednesday night, and died from a wound this morning. An autopsy revealed a hole over an inch in circumference in the skull. The deceased walked around in a conscious condition until last night when he was found in a stupor and lay in a hospital until he was seriously hurt. The coroner's jury this evening charged McCarty with homicide and he is lying in jail and will be held to answer for murder in the first degree. The deceased was about 50 years of age, and leaves five children.

Heavy Indictments.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—The grand jury returned 25 indictments of manslaughter against J. C. Bright, president, and W. H. Bright, vice-president of the Gen. Sae Oil Co., Buffalo, who shipped naptha which caused the explosion on the steamer Toga here some months ago, and killed 25 longshoremen.

Eligible to Membership at 18 Years.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 21.—The national farmers alliance adjourned after adopting a constitutional amendment allowing all persons over 18 years, male and female, to join the order.

AN ABDUCTION FRUSTRATED.

Fortune Seekers Steel a Child, but Release It When Pursued.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 21.—A sensational abduction story that was frayed at the bottom of it was frustrated by the clever wit of a girl of 9 years to-day. The child whom some unknown persons seem very anxious to entice from his home is Bruce Nye, 10 years old, who lives with his parents, a mother and two sisters, one of whom is Beatrice. While the children were in the yard yesterday a young man opened the gate and beckoned to Bruce, who followed him.

The little girl Beatrice called to her brother and then ran after her mother and then ran after her father. The young man took the boy to a fine-looking man who was waiting for him, and the little girl then ran back.

Mrs. Nye reported the matter to the police, who found the boy wandering aimlessly along the streets. He said that the man, finding that they were followed, got frightened and set him adrift.

Mrs. Nye is the daughter of Calver Bruce Ross of Ontario, and is very well connected in Detroit. She recently discovered will of her father leaves the bulk of his estate to her and her children.

This, Mrs. Nye thinks, is the foundation for the many persecutions which she has been subjected to, and she has recently been made to have her put in an insane asylum.

The attempt at abduction is only one of a series of efforts which have been made to steal her children, and Mrs. Nye is anxious to discover who her enemies are.

EFFECTIVE ACTING.

The Heavy Villain Saluted With Shower of Bullets.

"We were playing in a small town back in the seventies," said a theatrical man in Detroit, "a leading heavy man had rather a tough experience. All the miners were in the theater. Well, the heavy man had been persecuting a poor maiden through two acts. In the third act he came to the powerful scene of the play. At last he said: 'I have you in my power and nothing on earth can save you. I, who was the slave, am now the master.' So saying, he advanced toward his trembling victim."

"Mercy!" she moaned.

"No!" he retorted. "You had no mercy for me, and I will have none for you."

"At that moment a gruff voice was heard from the gallery: 'You are against an immediate uprising unless Sitting Bull makes up his mind to arrest and put in prison the heavy man. Plug the sun of a gun, boys, continued the voice, and a shower of bullets saluted the stage villain. He didn't stop."

"In the wing he met the stage manager, who was white with anger.

"You have broken the scene," he said.

"Well?"

"Go back to the stage, sir, and wait for your exit."

"I guess not."

"I tell you I won't have the man in my company who is so easily disconnected, go on with scene, or you leave the company to-morrow."

"That is serious. To be stranded in that forsaken town was calculated to make the heavy man apprehensive.

"I'll go back," he said.

"He took his wig just before going on, and stepping down to the footlights he made an injured expression of countenance he said: 'Ladies and gentlemen (there were no ladies there, but that didn't matter), with your kind permission I will resume the scene.'

"But doing so, however, I want to call your attention to the fact that the young lady and myself are merely acting parts. In reality, we are the best of friends. I bear no ill will for your display of heroic chivalry. I trust, however, you will curb your generous sentiments, for if you should hit me the play will be interrupted. If any of the gentlemen will meet me after the show at McCarty's they will find out I am not a bad fellow."

Loud cheers greeted this speech, and the play was resumed."—Denver Republican.

A Lover Ready for Death.

Why was young Fobbs so anxious to be assigned to the charity convent last night?" asked the managing editor of the city editor.

"I think it was because his best girl sang a solo in it, and he wanted a chance to write a lot of good about her, and make himself seen."

"And why is he so anxious this morning to be sent to the revolution in the Argentine Republic?" inquired the managing editor.

"I've an idea" answered his subordinate, "that it is because Fobbs tries to grow critically enthusiastic over his girl's chest notes, and they came out in the this morning as chestnuts."—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

CAUSE OF DISASTER.

The Railroad Commission Says it Was a Faulty Trestle.

PORTLAND SAILOR TROUBLE.

The Indian Trouble Thickening—The People Excited And Asking For Aid Ammunition.

SALEM, Nov. 21.—The state board of railroad commissioners this evening submitted their report of finding in the matter of the Portland disaster, which occurred at Lake Labish, on the Southern Pacific, Nov. 12. The report says: "It was found that two reasons were assigned for the disaster, to-wit: First, that a rail had been removed from the track, which was held to be the primary cause of the wreck.

Second, that the structure had fallen on account of age and weakness of its parts.

After hearing the testimony of numerous witnesses and giving personal inspection of the wreck, the board finds there is no satisfactory evidence in support of the proposition that a rail had been removed. The reports further say the train was running at the rate of 20 miles per hour, that the air brakes were firmly and suddenly applied, which caused the structure to give way about six hundred feet south of the north approach. The board finds the structure was faulty in the following particulars: First, the nature of the ground, it being boggy and spongy, were too far apart; they were too widely spaced; guard rails were in a state of decay and but few properly fastened, and as far as to afford no safe guard. That much of the timber in the trestle, especially the cross timbers, had become decayed, and that the trestle were not securely away-raced; that some of the piles supporting the bents were unground, and that many of the stringer bolts had been allowed to become loosened. For these reasons the structure was found not to have been sufficiently strong to sustain the weight of moving trains."

THE INDIAN DANCE.

It Still Continues With Unabated Force.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 21.—The Tribune's correspondent at Mandan, N. D., contains information from the Sioux agency from two reliable sources that the chances are against an immediate uprising, unless Sitting Bull makes up his mind to arrest and put in prison the heavy man. Plug the sun of a gun, boys, continued the voice, and a shower of bullets saluted the stage villain. He didn't stop."

"In the wing he met the stage manager, who was white with anger.

ARMED WITH WINCHESTERS.

Somebody Furnished the Indians With Rifles and Ammunition.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—In an interview this afternoon Gen. Miles said he had no further word from Gen. Brooke, but he thought the latter beyond all doubt had given the Indians to understand that he is there for the purpose of protecting lives and property, and that he held the first Indian who makes a break. "It is not my intention," said Gen. Miles "to tolerate any nonsense. I will further say that so far as regards the present ample supply of ammunition and the best pattern of Winchester rifles with which the Indians are armed, that somebody up in that northwest country is making a business of furnishing these, and it will not be many days before I shall know just how this business was accomplished."

IMMENSE TRANSFER.

Of Coin From San Francisco to New York.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The director of the mint is informed that nearly a million dollars of Australian sovereigns (gold) were deposited and melted down at the mint in San Francisco yesterday. The treasury department is informed that $20,000 was transferred from San Francisco to New York to-day, making a total amount transferred to date $3,100,000. These transfers were made by telegraph through the sub-treasurer, and free of charge, under the privileges extended to Secretary Windom, for the purpose of facilitating the business of the bankers and merchants in New York during the present stringency. Complaints have recently been made by certain San Francisco banks against the continuance of the practice as tending to reduce their available reserve and contract currency on this coast.

Disappointed Railroad Men.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—First Vice-President Wilson of the Erie said today that the employees of the Erie had notified him of the intention that they were going to strike, and he thought if they decided on this they would first come to him. He was aware that the men were holding meetings at all the points, but had received no official notice from them. The men, it is understood, insist on the terms of agreements submitted September last.

National Banks at Blaine.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—At the office of the controller of currency certificates authorizing the following national banking associations to commence business were issued today: First National bank of Blaine, Wash., capital $150,000; cashier, Frank T. Hurlburt; the Blaine National bank, Blaine, Wash., capital $50,000; president, H. W. Wheeler; cashier, F. W. Power.

Half Breeds Kill Each Other.

REDDING, Cal., Nov. 21.—Two half breeds, Gratiot and McDonald, either by accident or in a quarrel, were shot today at Centerville, six miles from here. Gratiot was found dead and McDonald mortally wounded. Some four years ago, while scuffling over the possession of a gun, Gratiot killed a man named Carly.

The Barings Resume.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—It is officially announced that arrangements for continuing the business of the Barings is completed. A limited company was formed with a subscribed capital exceeding one million pounds. Thus, Baring M.P. becomes chairman of the company and devotes the whole of his fortune to the firm's credit.

Knocked Off a Trestle.

MERIDIAN, Conn., Nov. 21.—Three men were knocked off a trestle on the Meridian, Waterbury & Connecticut railroad at a point four miles west of here this morning and were fatally hurt.

A Brooklyn Bank Robber.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The twenty-sixth ward bank of Brooklyn was robbed yesterday of $500 by a pair of clever thieves who succeeded in diverting the cashier's attention.

Father Hyacinthe's Ambition.

PARIS, Nov. 21.—Father Hyacinthe is not meeting with much success in his efforts to secure the separation of the French church from Rome. He is avoided by clericals and free-thinkers.

A Wealthy Smuggler.

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 21.—J. Fronda, a wealthy banker of Chihuahua, Mexico, was arrested at Paso del Norte for smuggling silks into Mexico from the United States.

Oklahoma Bank Falls.

GUTHRIE, Oklahoma, Nov. 21.—The Commercial Bank, the largest bank in the territory, has failed. Assets and liabilities unknown.

Brazilian Government Secure.

RIO JANEIRO, Nov. 21.—The constitution was amended by 175 to 47, recognizing the legality of the provisional government.

Views of the Wreck.

Crawford & Paxton made eight different splendid views of the Lake Labish disaster, which they are selling at 25 cents apiece.

INDIAN GATHERING.

Sending Gold From San Francisco to New York.

THE LADIES COMMITTEE.

Divorce For Adultery—A Company Formed to Help Out the Barings—The Indian Dance Continues.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Acting Indian Commissioner Bell this afternoon received a telegram from special agent Cooper, of the Pine Ridge agency, saying the Indians are still dancing. The police report that 20 Rosebud Indians have arrived at this reservation and 600 or 700 more are en route to the agency. We hope to settle the Indian craze without bloodshed. All kinds of rumors are in circulation.

In the course of the afternoon the following telegram was received at the war department from Gen. Miles: "The number of Indians going from Rosebud agency (the Pine Ridge agency is increasing. Reliable advices show that his Menah craze is extending to our Indians near the mountain border and between the Sioux nation and the Canadian border. Orders have been sent to the commanding officers of troops as far south as Texas and Arizona and as far west as California, to prepare men for immediate movement if an emergency arises. In any event it is the intention of the department to heavily reinforce the troops in Dakota during the winter and they will be moved in from other divisions from time to time. In this way it is expected that the department will be able to mass an overwhelming force at its disposal. We hope to effectually suppress an Indian uprising in spring time."

THE LADIES ON THE FAIR.

The Chicago Commission Is Working Harmoniously.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—The board of lady managers of the world's fair to-day adopted a constitution similar to that of the national commission. Miss Sarah T. Hollowell of Chicago, was recommended to the national commission for appointment to the position of director of the department of fine arts. Mrs. Lucas, of Pennsylvania, introduced a resolution asking the closing of the world's fair on Sunday, so far as it was affected by Barter and exchange. After debate this went over.

At the meeting of the national commission the report of the committee on foreign affairs was adopted, with a resolution authorizing the committee to expend $20,000 in sending agents abroad. At the afternoon session a special committee on the relations of the commission and local board, and powers and duties of the director general made its report. It says all members of the commission should be exercised in a large measure, through the director general.

There was another exciting debate before the adjournment over the report of the committee on finance. Commissioner Waller spoke of the general impression among the people at large that most of the salaries fixed by the commission were outrageously large. White, of New Mexico, presented a resolution calling for the cutting in two of all the salaries except that of the director general. Martindale wanted to cut all except the director general to $6,000. A ter a hot debate and any number of amendments, the whole matter was referred to the committee on judiciary and finance.

More Meddling With Sailors.

PORTLAND, Nov. 21.—This afternoon harbor officer John J. Byrne arrested Geo. Mitchell, Gustave Iverson, Joe Baker, John Grant and Frank Turk on warrants charging them with harboring a swaman. It is claimed that on Thursday last they enticed a sailor named Martin from the British bark Parthis and had him sent to Astoria. The men are said to be operating with the Astoria gang. They were taken before Justice Wood where they each furnished $250 bonds. They will have a hearing to-morrow.

Fighting Against Electrocution.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The case of the Japanese murderer, Jugiro, sentenced to death by electricity in New York, was argued before the U. S. supreme court to-day. Sherman, who was counsel for Kemler, represented Jugiro, basing the application for a writ of habeas corpus on the ground that the execution of Kemler demonstrated that electrocution was not an instantaneous and painless death, and that it violates the provisions of the federal constitution forbidding cruel and unusual punishment.

Divorce Granted.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 21.—The sensational Van Flow Lee divorce case was smothered in the superior court to-day. Mrs. Lee being granted a divorce with the custody of the children on the ground of adultery; no opposition.
