"It's a public outrage, the fact that the most important mail that comes to the Salem postoffice is allowed to lie in the office overnight before it is distributed." This is the way the way the Salem Statesman speaks about the capitalist's postal affairs. In Albany the situation is even worse; the post-office closing at 7 o'clock p. m., and a sack of night mail is distributed before the next day.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

Is the East Side Road to be a Transcontinental Line.

It is now stated on good authority that the Oregonian railways, formerly known as the East and West side narrow gauge, which were some time since bought by C. P. Huntington, have been sold by him to the Southern Pacific. It has been considered, says the Oregonian, as a foregone conclusion, ever since the Southern Pacific acquired the Oregon & California lines, that the narrow gauge would be absorbed into its system, but when Mr. Huntington purchased the Huntington and Stanford between the Huntington and Stanford section, and it was given out that that Huntington would change the narrow gauge roads to standard gauge and extend the East side line from Silverton to Portland and from Coburg across the Cascades and southeastern Oregon to connection with a transcontinental line, it was supposed that the Oregonian system and the Southern Pacific would remain separate. In that case, however, as it is, it is always the improbable which happens, and some arrangement has been effected by which the Oregonian lines have passed to the Southern Pacific.

What effect this may have on the extension of the East side line is unknown. The track from Woodburn to Coburg is being made standard gauge, and the rails are secured to take the place of the light ones now on the line. The southern extension is graded to Springfield, where it is only separated from the Southern Pacific by the Willamette river, and the track from Coburg to Springfield will be laid with sixty-pound steel rails, but whether the road will be extended from Springfield over the Cascades or not remains to be seen.

The extension from Silverton into the Willamette valley, and a great deal of time spent in securing a good route and right-of-way, but work on that end of it, which was to have been built this fall, and used as a suburban railway, has not been commenced. J. Whistler, the Southern Pacific, having connection with the Oregonian line at Woodburn, will deem it advisable to build a line from Silverton into Portland or not, is impossible to say.

The widening of the gauge between Woodburn and Coburg will be completed in a few weeks. Probably the sale of the Oregonian roads to the Southern will be a good thing for all concerned and there has been so many strange things happening in railroad circles of late, that the sale will surprise scarcely anybody.

Strawberries in Alaska. Alaska has usually been looked upon as a bleak and distant section of Uncle Sam's domain, where the land was mostly water, furnishing seals and salmon, while icebergs and glaciers adorned wonderfully picturesque landscapes and watercases, the delight of an inner tourist's who visit that far northern clime to enjoy a few longed-for days. Among the arrivals in this city yesterday was James Cox, who left here for Chilkat a year ago last April with his family, consisting of his wife and three children. Mr. Cox is quite well pleased with the climate where he was stationed, the temperature seldom dropping to seven degrees below zero, and occasionally no inconvenience. He had quite a nice garden last summer in which he raised fine vegetables—turnips, beets, carrots, onions, and potatoes. He says there is an old half-breed woman at Chilkat, who has raised potatoes and vegetables for many years past. This last season she has experimented with some strawberries and succeeded in growing some very fine ones. Astorian.

Nearly Lost. We glean the following incident. "A little child about 4 years old, named Joseph Spencer, of La Grande, was lost in the mountains Saturday evening, and remained out in the woods all night and until late Sunday evening. The parents were visiting friends who live out in the mountains south of Chilkat, and some of the men went out to look at the timber and the child followed unbeknown to them, while the mother pursued it had been taken along. When his absence was discovered, search was made and continued all night, and the next day an army of eager hunters searched the hills without avail until late in the evening, when the little one was discovered standing quietly under a tree. It at once asked for something to eat and seemed not the least frightened.

Coming Next Week. Again we have the pleasure of announcing the appearance of the favorite Royce & Lansing Musical Comedy Co. This is one of the few amusement organizations which is an honest pleasure to commend to the public. They have always kept faith with the public and have received in return the public's most hearty support and praise. A private letter from Mr. Ray L. Royce, says: "We remember with pleasure our former visit to your city when the cordial welcome extended us at that time. We return to you with a larger and stronger company than ever before and a programme of exceptional excellence, one which will particularly commend itself to those theatre goers who delight in a performance at once artistic, laughable and refined." That Mr. Royce will fulfill the above to the letter, is undoubted by any who have had the pleasure of witnessing the previous entertainment given by himself and his excellent company.

TEACHERS' MEETING.

The Linn County Teachers' Association held a meeting at Brownsville Nov. 21 and 22. The entertainment given at the city hall on the evening of the 21st, was enjoyed by a large audience. The music under the direction of Prof. Boyer was an important part of the programme. The solo, "The Song That Reached My Heart," by Miss Grace Riley, was beautifully rendered and heartily enjoyed. The recitation, "Alma's Waters," by Miss Lillie Bruce, was loudly applauded. Mrs. Garland, whose recitations never fail to entertain her audience, was at her best and rendered "My Husband Studies Election," in a manner that showed great power and flexibility of voice. President Brownson, of McMinnville College, followed with a fine lecture, "The True Teacher, His Work, His Responsibility and His Character."

After brief speeches by Prof. Garland, Bailey Michener, and Sup't. Russell, the association adjourned to meet at the school building Saturday morning. There were about twenty teachers present at the opening of the session on Saturday, and nearly all participated in the discussion of primary reading. There were no great differences of opinion with regard to method, of teaching this important branch. All agreed that it is best to make the word the basis, and most of the teachers favored teaching writing and spelling at the same time with the reading. The most interesting discussion, however, was reserved for the afternoon session, when the school law of Oregon received the attention of the association.

The discussion was lively, and at times, sharp, and the following conclusions were reached: Much of the school law of Oregon is very good, but some portions of it are unjust and oppressive to teachers and should be changed. The discussion resulted in the appointing of a committee to report at the next meeting any changes that are desired in the present school law.

The teachers, after expressing themselves as pleased with Brownsville's hospitality, and heartily commending the State Teachers' Reading Circle, adjourned to meet at Lebanon the 27th of December, when the topic for discussion will be primary arithmetic, the scope of the work of the common school.

Both morning and afternoon sessions were attended by many of our citizens, some of whom took a lively interest and took an active part in the discussions.

THE COMPLETE PROGRAMME. Entertainment to be Given To-Morrow Evening for the Orphan's Home.

The ladies of the Albany Aid Society have secured the services of Salem's prima donna, Miss Willis, and also those of Miss Alice C. Moses, of Albany College, late of Portland, Maine, and a graduate of the Boston school of oratory, in addition to the celebrated Peaky Sisters in their interesting drama.

The very attractive programme for the evening will consist of the following:

- PART I. 1.—Overture, Leona. Orchestra. 2.—Reading, "Mire at Play." Miss Alice C. Moses. 3.—Vocal Solo. Miss Alice C. Moses. 4.—Sole. Miss Willis. Salem. 5.—Schottische. Orchestra. 6.—Reading, Laura. Miss Moses. 7.—Vocal Solo. Miss Willis. Salem. 8.—Medley Overture, "Old Folks Request." Orchestra.

- PART II. 1.—Drama. Peaky Sisters. Rejiah, eldest daughter. Mrs. Searles. Sophie, youngest daughter. Mrs. Searles. 2.—Drama. Peaky Sisters. Bertha, a Boston girl. Mrs. Searles. Betsy, deaf and dumb. Mrs. Searles. Doothy. Mrs. Little. Mary Queen of Scots. Lora Vance. Mrs. Queen of Scots. Lora Vance. Mrs. Queen of Scots. Lora Vance. Mrs. Queen of Scots. Lora Vance.

Wanted to Die. Burgis Rutledge and his wife and children at the Clear Lake sawmill seven miles below Salem. It seems that the family is not free from ills, and on Thursday last Mrs. Rutledge put the door ajar, and told her hubby to skip, she had no use for him. This soured the hubby on the world and the flesh, and he proceeded to end his sorrows by taking two ounces of lardannum. Dr. Henderson, who lives in the neighborhood, was summoned, and he succeeded in luring the tired spirit back to earthy environments. The next night the crowd at the "Clear Lake" sawmill had a big dance, in which all "joined hands and circled to the left" and "grand right and left," etc., to the tune of an old "hoss" fiddle, unmindful of the close approach of the dread messenger the night before.

Change of Meeting. The W. R. C. will hold their meeting this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock instead of in the evening as before published. A full attendance is desired, as the yearly inspection takes place. Mrs. Ellis of Forest Grove Department President is in the city visiting and inspecting the W. R. C. of Albany.

Repairs on the Bridges. It is noticeable fact that since the disaster at Lake Labish the Southern Pacific Co. has commenced repairing the bridge all along the line. The piles of new bridge timbers and carpenters at work at various places along the road indicate that the company does not intend to allow an unsafe bridge to become the cause of another accident in the future.

Linn's Paint Mines. The paint mines discovered near Scio, and for which works have recently been put in operation in that place, are proving a success. Mr. C. Honk of this city has accepted a contract for making 500 barrels for these mines, and will begin upon it at once. Next spring he is promised a large contract. The mills are crowded to their utmost capacity and the company has all the orders it can fill for several months to come. See our novelty dress patterns. They are cheap and of the latest styles. G. W. Simpson.

BROWNVILLE NEWS.

Interesting and New Items from Our Neighbor.

BROWNVILLE, Nov. 24. Born, Nov. 20, 1890, to the wife of A. Henry, a son. James Calloway is visiting his mother, Mrs. A. Warren. Born, Nov. 22, 1890, to the wife of A. T. Russell, a daughter. Rev. Brownson, of McMinnville, occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church on Sunday.

Mrs. A. J. Adams, of Lebanon, accompanied by her daughter, paid Brownsville friends a visit on Tuesday. Rev. Elworthy, pastor of the M. E. church at Sheehy, on Friday, accompanied by his wife, visited friends at this place. Mrs. Levi Douglas and daughter and Mrs. Roberts and brother of Harrisburg, on Friday were the guests of J. Moore and family.

George Coahow, who returned home on Monday, but partially well from recent sickness, has recovered, and is again confined to the house. The new turbine wheel to furnish power for the electric plant at the E. W. M. Co. was placed in position during the past week and the mill will soon be lighted by electricity.

J. M. Howe, of the firm of Howe & Rice, dealers in gent's furnishing goods, and agents for the Thompson Kay mills of Salem, paid Brownsville a visit during the past week, for the purpose of removing his family to Eugene.

Mrs. Myrtle Templeton, one of the victims of the Calapooia bridge disaster, who from injuries received at that time, has been confined to her bed for the past five months, on Saturday was sufficiently recovered to arise for a short time.

O. P. Coahow, of Albany, and George Coahow, who has been quite ill at Salem, on Monday arrived home at Brownsville. O. P. returned to his legal duties at Albany on the following Thursday, but George will remain at home until thoroughly restored to health.

Med. Frigge, seven years, daughter of Minnie and S. Frigge, remains, which arrived in Brownsville via the Oregonian railroad on the evening of Thursday, the 20th inst., were received by the friends of the deceased, and on the following Friday interred in the McHenry cemetery east of town.

On the 18th inst., it being the 64th birthday anniversary of W. K. Kirk, president of the Eagle woolen mill company, a large number of his friends and well wishers met at his residence and were most hospitably entertained at a sumptuous repast, provided by the host, who, on this occasion, proved that he was not only a good judge of wool but also a most bountiful provider of the good things of this life. Mr. Kirk is well known in the city, and after having made a fortune in Brownsville, is willing to "stay with it," and to him is in a great measure due the credit for the prosperity and solid financial standing of our present woolen mill corporation. It was through his exertions that this town was re-established after the old company dissolved. He was on this occasion presented by the citizens of Brownsville with a beautiful gold-headed cane. The following guests were present: Rev. C. Sperry and wife, E. A. Dyson and wife, R. N. Thompson and wife, T. S. Pillsbury and wife, Morris Jaeger and wife, A. C. Hausman and wife, F. Gross and wife, Mr. Sims and wife, Mr. Goodrich and wife, I. D. Boyer and wife, J. C. Lawick and wife, E. B. Tovey and wife, Mrs. J. White, Mrs. Putnam, J. I. Say, Mrs. C. Wincles, Mr. H. Bowen, P. O. Ross and family, E. Roby and wife, J. Moore and wife, B. Cushman, wife and son.

A Few Dimensions.

The exact length of the trestle that fell at Lake Labish was 600 feet 9 1/2 inches. In the entire trestle there are 125 bents, which are twenty feet apart. The rails used at this point of the road are thirty feet in length, and by the different counts thirty-eight or forty were involved in the wreck. Mr. Colvig counted thirty-eight bents. In the entire trestle there are 170 rails. There are 66 on each side of the track from the break to the south embankment, where the trestle commences. The whole length of the trestle is 2550 feet, and its height above the ground is from ten feet in some places to twenty in others.

An Artesian Well. J. W. Hanville lives four miles south of McMinnville, has a sure enough artesian well on his farm. Mr. Hanville reported, he started to dig a stock well on his farm and after excavating 17 1/2 feet, bored down 15 feet with a two inch auger. Here he struck a vein of water of such pressure that his auger was forced out and before he could get out of the well was in the water up to the knees. The water continued to rise and fill the excavation until it overflowed the surface and is now the source of a small stream. Mr. Hanville intends piping the well in order to test the pressure.

Should Have a Postoffice. An effort is being made to extend the mail route now running to Mehama to Lyons on the Oregon Pacific railroad, a distance of 1 1/2 miles and to establish a postoffice there. Lyons should have a postoffice.

PIANO RECITAL.

By the Pupils of Professor Lorillard's Classes.

One of the most enjoyable and ably rendered piano recitals ever given in Albany was heard by an appreciative audience at the music rooms of Prof. E. Lorillard, last evening. The pupils all showed in the rendition of their parts, evidence of thorough and persistent training. The first piece on the programme, a march by Bellini, was well performed by Mamie Allen and Stella Fisher, as was also a love song by Edna, and a chant by the same author, by Edna Allen and Ollie Thompson respectively. A march was played with splendid effect by Eva Cowan and Prof. Lorillard. The next, a nocturne by Chopin, was well executed by the "Prophet," a grand and beautiful composition, was ably rendered by Misses Nora Zeiss, Joyce Brownell, Mamie Allen and Gona Baldwin. The next and most beautiful of the entire programme, was a duet of Martha, for two pianos, a solo part to each piano and rendered with powerful effect by Miss Nora Zeiss and Prof. Lorillard. The two pianos each blending their tenor and alto parts was grand in the extreme. It is to be hoped that Prof. Lorillard will, in the near future, give more of his recitals.

Be Thankful and Dine. On Thursday, Nov. 27th, the day set apart for that purpose, every person will be truly thankful and will want a good dinner. Just the place to procure that very essential adjunct to Thanksgiving day, is at the W. C. T. U. hall, where the ladies of the Albany Ladies Aid Society will provide a repast that cannot be surpassed, an only charge 50 cents for grown people and 25 cents for children, the proceeds to go to the Orphan's Home Fund. Go and eat a good dinner, and help sweeten the building fund of this very praiseworthy institution. Eating to commence at 12 o'clock and last as long as the viands hold out.

PAINTS AND OILS. Come and see our new stock of paint, oil, brushes, coal oil, lubricating oils, axle grease, etc. STEWART & SOX.

GOONS AND REVOLVERS. The idea has been set out of our business. That's a mistake. We are in it now. We have a nice line of Marlin and Winchester rifles, and breech loading shotguns ranging in price from $12 to $50. Also all the latest in novel revolvers. STEWART & SOX.

CARPENTERS & BUILDERS. Can't you or anyone you know anything in the hardware line will do well to call on Stewart & Sox before purchasing elsewhere. This keeps nearly everything in the line of building materials, and a magnificent stock of tools.

LADES' ATTENTION. We want to tell you that we have the best and cheapest in this city, and we can prove it to you at any time. Every pair warranted and they can be returned if they do not give satisfaction. This is no brag or bluster, we mean what we say. STEWART & SOX.

WASHING MACHINES. We have three kinds and can give you something you will like. Bring your "better half" around and see what we can do for you. STEWART & SOX.

IRON AND STEEL. Stewart & Sox have a large stock of iron, steel, tin, and iron pipe, and all kinds of hardware, tools, and plumbing.

DRIED APPLES. Were worth 17 cents in St. Paul on Sept. 24th. Farmers go to Stewart & Sox, and buy an apple paring machine and save your fruit.

BUGGIES AND WAGONS. We have a nice line on hand and can give you good ones at a low price. STEWART & SOX.

FEED CUTTERS. Save one-third of your horse feed by using our feed cutters. STEWART & SOX.
