GLADSTONE-PARNELL

The Leadership of the One Will Not Admit of the Other.

OLD SITTING BULL'S THREAT.

A Director General and Fifteen Departments-Ray Hamilton's Widow Pursued-Conte. Case Withdrawn.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—At the request of Gladstone, Morley has communicated to Parnell a letter written on Monday to Morley by Gladstone. In it Mr. Gladstone says that after using all the means of persuasion he has failed to induce Mr. Parnell to arrive at the conclusion that notwithstanding the splendid service rendered by Parnell to his country, his continuance at the present moment in the leadership would be productive of consequences disastrous to the highest interests of the cause of Ireland. Gladstone adds further, as an expansion in his conclusion, that Parnell's continuance as a leader would not only place many friends of the Irish cause in a position of great embarrassment, but would render his (Gladstone's) retention in the leadership of the liberal party, based as it has been, mainly on the prosecution of the Irish cause, almost null.

Several liberal candidates have announced their withdrawal from the campaign, forecasting defeat. Parnellists openly assert that they will stick by Parnell, even if they delay home rule 15 years.

SITTING BULL IS MOROSE

And Makes Big Threats of What He Will Do.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 25.—The Tribune Standing Rock special says that two scouts returned to Sitting Bull's camp. They found Bull and his adherents very ugly. He told them he understood that the soldiers were coming to take him, but he had his runners out and on the first news of soldiers he and his people would leave. They have abandoned white men's houses, said he, and will not return to them or the agency. He supposed he is in Sitting Bull's hands of serious trouble at Pine Ridge, or if the military attempt to take him he and followers, he will make at once for the lower agencies, thereby declaring war.

CURIOUS RUMOR

She Wants to Leave the Roman Church to Marry.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—A curious rumor comes from Rome that the recent visit of Princess Helene, with General and Mme. de Charlette, to the Vatican, was connected with a project for the marriage of this charming and accomplished daughter of the Comte de Paris to the duke of Clarence and a vaudale, otherwise Prince Albert Victor of Wales, the object of the visit being to bring about, if possible, some arrangement by which the princess might withdraw, in accordance with the English act of settlement, from the Roman Catholic church.

The rumor is improbable on the face of it, but it originated in quarters where the truth about the known and is couched with the story that the Prince and Princess upon their marriage will proceed to Ireland, where the Prince will take up his abode as Viceroy of the island. I give the story under all reserve, but its origin makes it proper, at least, to notice it.

WORLD'S FAIR

Under a Director General and Fifteen Departments.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—At today's meeting the world's fair commission report a joint conference of the committee of commission and local directory to settle the differences of the two bodies on any question on their relative rights and duties, adopted as it was adopted by the local directory last night. It is now believed that all chance of friction between the two bodies is removed. It provides for a joint control committee composed of equal number of representatives from each. The direct management of the fair is vested in fifteen departments or heads under the supervision of a director general.

The lady managers to-day elected Mrs. Russell Harrison, of Montana, vice-president at large.

EX-DOM PEDRO.

He Carries His Good Sense and Nature With Him In Exile.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—Republican capital though it is, this city is yet the Mecca of all the royalties of Europe. There are always more royalties here than in any other capital, and at times there are so many of them that it looks as though a universal monarchical congress was being held.

Among those who are here at present none deserve more consideration than M. Pedro of Cantara who, up to a year ago, was known as Dom Pedro II, Emperor of Brazil. He is having a capital time, and is not at all likely to mournful seclusion.

That will be the first anniversary of the revolution which made him a crownless or a throneless exile. One might well believe that this amiable old gentleman has forgotten all about that episode, and indeed all about his sovereignty, and has persuaded himself that he has always been simply a private gentleman of domestic habits and scientific tastes.

Despite his age and his uncertain health he is enjoying Paris to the full. Every day sees him going about from place to place with the interest and vigor of a young man. One day he is at the Invalides contemplating the tomb of Bonaparte; the next day finds him at the academy of sciences taking an active interest in its proceedings and presenting to it a priceless collection of autographs; the third day sees him studying ethnology under the direction of the professor of the tower; the next day finds him in the picture galleries of Versailles and also at the College de l'Escurial, where his grandchildren are being educated. Next week he will go to Cannes for the winter, but the process is improved every hour of the present week in Paris.

HUNTING THE WILD BOAR.

Emperor William Takes Part in the Sport for the First Time.

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—The Emperor has taken for the first time since his accession a part in the great boar hunt at Grunewald, lying between Berlin and Potsdam, which is annually held on St. Hubert's day. The hunt was attended by about 150 riders in pink coats, and there were the usual accompaniments of feasting and music. An innocuous boar whose tusks have been carefully drawn when it was young have been carefully drawn when it was young have been carefully drawn when it was young.

ACCUSED OF GRAND LARCENY.

He Took a Seal Skin Scaque From a Drunken Woman.

SEATTLE, Nov. 25.—Charles K. Hammond, who became notorious through his connection with the Cleveland street scandal in London and, since his exile from England, has lived in Seattle, is again in trouble. He is charged with grand larceny and now occupies a cell in the county jail.

Lectures.

Bishop Becker will deliver his interesting lectures at the opera house on Thursday and Friday evenings, Nov. 27 and 28. The subject of the first will be "Egypt" and will be full of interest for all. The second will be "Oratory on the Pulpit and Platform," and will be equally interesting. The lectures are under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Go and hear the lectures and assist a good cause.

Two Attachments Levied.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Two attachments for $10,000 each were levied against the Oregon Improvement company, the steamer City of Puebla, and four thousand tons of coal. The Puebla was to have sailed for Puget Sound ports tomorrow, but she is tied up to the dock in the hands of the sheriff. The Queen will sail in her place.

HORRIBLE AFFAIR.

A Baby Literally Roasted To Death By a Lamp Explosion.

SEATTLE, Nov. 25.—A frame house at Seventh and Marion streets, occupied by Arthur Harold, his wife and two children, a girl nearly four years of age and a babe, was badly damaged by fire this evening, and the baby burned to death. Mrs. Harold and the little girl had a narrow escape from death. The mother went into the yard, leaving the children in the kitchen with a lighted kerosene lamp. The girl tipped the lamp over and an explosion followed. The flames ignited the furniture and enveloped the carriage in which the baby was resting. Mrs. Harold rushed into the burning room in the effort to reach her children, when her own clothing took fire, and before it was extinguished she was badly burned about neck, face and arms. The little girl was painfully burned in various parts of her body before being rescued. The charred trunk of the babe was found in the ruins.

THE RECEIVERSHIP A HELP.

That is What Treasurer Smith Says About It.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The Evening Post quotes Treasurer Smith, of the Oregon Improvement company, as saying he expected to be able soon to issue an address explaining the whole situation to the stockholders, in the meantime would say the company is in a prosperous condition and had earned, and paid 3 per cent on the capital stock. The receivership will be in the interest of the company, and the bondholders will be fully protected. One of the directors is quoted as saying there is no question of the solvency of the company.

UNION PACIFIC'S MANAGER.

Belief That It Will Be S. H. H. Clark, of the Missouri Pacific.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—S. H. H. Clark, vice president and general manager of the Missouri Pacific railway, is expected in this city today, in response to a summons from Jay Gould. There is a widespread belief among the railroad men that Gould intends placing Clark in charge of the practical management of the Union Pacific, the reorganization of which will probably be effected Wednesday.

ACCUSED OF GRAND LARCENY.

OREGON IMPROVEMENT CO.

Reasons That Lead to Its Being Placed With a Receiver.

SEATTLE, Nov. 25.—The application for the appointment of a receiver for the Oregon Improvement company was the subject of conversation to-day among railroad men, and several points were brought out which help to explain its trouble. There was a general agreement among those who talked on the subject that the railroads, the building of which was the immediate cause of the company's difficulties, were only built for the purpose of booming townsites and afterward being sold to some of the great railroad companies. It was stated that efforts were made to sell the Seattle and Northern road to the Great Northern, the Union Pacific or Northern Pacific at a good price. The Union Pacific had no use for the road, the Great Northern had the opportunity of buying the road and could have made good use of it but the price was too steep, the Northern Pacific declined an outright purchase and was satisfied with a 99-year traffic agreement. The road had, however, served the purpose of booming the property and has done good use of it but the price was too steep, the Northern Pacific declined an outright purchase and was satisfied with a 99-year traffic agreement. A HARD FIGHT.

The Colored Man Wins the Day.

MRS. PARTINGTON DEAD.

THE RECEIVER BUSINESS ONLY HELPS MATTERS ALONG—Many Potatoes—The Indians Floundering.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The long expected glove fight between Long Godfrey (colored), of Providence, and Ed. Smith, of Denver, for a purse of $200, took place to-night at Hoboken, under the auspices of the Puritan athletic club of Long Island City, and resulted in a victory for Godfrey. From the start it was plain that Smith was over-matched. He made a game fight, however, and several times returned work after being apparently done. Godfrey gained advantage nearly every round, and in the 23d landed a heavy right-hander on Smith's ear. Smith staggered and nearly fell, and as he was making an effort again to put up his hands Referee Dunn stopped the fight, giving it to Godfrey.

SENATOR STANFORD LEAVES.

In Spite of a Summons From the Superior Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Senator Leland Stanford left to-day for Washington in spite of a summons from the superior court to appear before it and testify concerning the alleged violation of the election laws with which he is charged by ex-state senator P. J. Murphy. Senator Stanford will probably be examined by a commission at Washington.

Immense Mortgages.

DETROIT, Nov. 25.—Mortgages aggregating $600,000 were filed by the Potts, Salt & Lumber Co. to-day, which was looked upon as a forerunner of extensive failures. Attorney Lucking says it is optional for the creditors to seize or permit business proceed. Assets at par value are worth twice its indebtedness. It is said the liabilities amount to a million and a half, and assets two million, much of which is hard to realize on.

Mother Partington Dead.

BOSTON, Nov. 25.—Benjamin Partington, Shillaber, familiarly known as Mrs. Partington, died this evening at Chelsea of heart disease, age 76.

COAST NOTES.

Prize Fighter Jack Dempsey has opened a gin mill in Seattle under the name of "The Nonpariel." M. B. Martin, of North Yamhill, sold his hop crop last Monday, the product of six acres, at 34 cents per pound. The gross proceeds amounted to $2100. The cost of producing the crop is started at $400, from which it will be seen that he has made a nice thing out of it. Master James E. Wren, a 16-year old son of Mr. A. A. Wren, who lives near Heppner, has just finished plowing 170 acres of land, which he did in two months, not losing a day during the time. This is a pretty good work for a boy of 16. If there is a boy around who can beat this, says the Morrow country Record, let him show up.

A Big Output.

The furnace of the Oregon Iron and Steel Company, of Oswego, during twenty-nine and one half days of the last month, turned out 424 tons of iron, an average of forty-eight tons and one ounce per day. This is very good work, and is not surpassed by any charcoal furnace in the country running on the same grade of ore. As there is ready sale for all the iron not used in making iron pipe, it is but natural to suppose that the day is not far off when the company will find it necessary to put up another furnace. The natural growth of the pipe-making business will probably soon require the entire output of one furnace. The deposit of iron ore at Oswego are said to be practically inexhaustible, and even if they should fall there are vast deposits of fine ore within a few miles of this city.—Oregonian.

Shot a Dog and Killed a Horse.

Wm. Clancy, who lives three miles south of Anty, in Polk county, is out of luck. He was out gunning for a dog and his bad marksmanship proved fatal to a horse pastured in a field hard by. The horse died a few hours after being shot, the leaden messenger of death having penetrated to a vital point. The horse was so unfortunate as to kill was valued at about $200 and the dog at less than a bit and a half.

A Few Reasons Why St. Patrick's Pills Are Popular.

Because they never disappoint. Because they produce a pleasant cathartic effect. Because they not only physic, but cleanse the whole system and regulate the liver and bowels. For sale at 25 cents per box by Foshay & Mason, druggists.
