DAY IN CONGRESS.

Senator Sherman Inttoduces an Important Measure.

A NUMBER OF BILLS PASSED.

$100,000 Appropriated for the Purchase of Additional Rations for the Sioux Indians.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—In the senate Sherman introduced an amendment to the bill to reduce the amount of the United States bonds to be required of national banks, and to restore to the channels of trade the excessive accumulation of money in the treasury. The amendment limits the compulsory requirements of deposit of United States bonds to the amount of $5000 of bonds for each and every national bank, provided that the voluntary withdrawal of bonds for the retirement of national bank notes shall not exceed $3,000,000 in any month. Any national banking association making deposits shall be entitled to receive from the comptroller of currency circulating notes not exceeding the par value of bonds deposited, or actually paid in capital stock of the bank. Another section authorizes the secretary of the treasury to issue United States notes equal to the retirement of national banks a circulation of $130,000,000. Section 4 authorizes the issue of United States bonds to an amount not to exceed $100,000,000, to be redeemed at the pleasure of the government and to bear 2 per cent. interest.

The house amendment to the senate joint resolution for the issue of arms to the states of North and South Dakota, Wyoming and Nebraska extending its provisions to Montana, was concurred in.

The election bill was taken up, and before Gray finished his speech the senate adjourned.

IN THE HOUSE.

Senate bill, appropriating $100,000 for the purchase of additional rations for the Sioux Indians was passed.

Senate bill for the retirement of General Stoneman, with rank of colonel, was also passed.

Saturday next was set aside for the consideration of bills reported from the committee on private land claims. Paddock presented a protest of the farmers' Alliance now in convention at Ocala, Fla., against the passage of the Conger land bill. Sherman introduced three bills and one amendment which were referred to the finance committee. New bills as follows: To amend the law relating to the refining and parting of bullion; to receipt of gold coin in exchange for gold bars, and a bill authorizing the recoinge of subsidiary coins of the United States. The amendment is one to senate bill to reduce the amount of United States bonds required of national banks.

THE LAKE LABISH WRECK.

Salem Grange Endorses the Report of the Railroad Commission.

SALEM, Dec. 6.—Recently Salem grange appointed John Minto and Geo. Croisan as a committee to examine and report upon the cause of the Lake Labish railway disaster. At a meeting of the grange to-day the committee submitted a lengthy report. Among other things found was that the rail claimed to have been removed had not been thrown from the trestle by either human hands or by the force of the locomotive. They found many unsound timbers in the fallen beats. In the remaining portion of the trestle standing they saw many bolts from which nuts had been removed. The committee refuses to accept the theory of rail removal and endorses the report of the state railroad commission of "Faulty construction and decay" as the cause of the wreck.

THE UNION PACIFIC.

Building Operations In a Most Satisfactory Condition.

PORTLAND, Dec. 6.—V. G. Bogue, chief engineer of the Union Pacific railroad, returned from San Francisco to-day. During the past five weeks he has been over nearly all the company's lines, including those now under construction. He reports the company's building operations in a most satisfactory condition. Regarding the extension from this city to Puget Sound, Mr. Bogue says: "The road will be finished as fast as money and men can do it."

Members of the House.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Clerk McPherson, of the house of representatives, has just had printed an unofficial list of the members elect of the house, showing 88 republicans, 234 democrats, 8 farmers' alliance. One district, (28th, New York), is set down as uncertain, and one, (second Rhode Island) is marked vacant.

Covered With Honors.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—King Kalakaua has bestowed the order of Kalakaua upon Admiral Brown, Captain Remy and Flag-Lieutenant Dyer, of the cruiser Charleston. Admiral Brown was invested with the high grade of knight grand officer.

THE KANSAS ELECTIONS.

The Supreme Court Renders an Important Decision.

TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 6.—The supreme court this morning refused to grant a writ of mandamus applied for by C. E. Lobdell, who demanded a certificate of election for representation from Lane county. Lobdell based his claims on the provisions of the state constitution which gives each organized county in the state, casting 250 votes, a representative in the legislature. If Lobdell had been admitted, seventeen other republicans, elected as delegates, would have been entitled to the same privilege. Most of them were Ingall's men, and they would have given the senator a majority of two on joint ballot. The supreme court held that in no event could the membership of the lower house exceed 125 members until there was a change in the constitution.

A Heavy Failure.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—A special from New Orleans says the cotton house of V. and A. Myer has suspended, with liabilities of two and a half millions, and assets of three million. It was the largest cotton house in the country. The company say that they will pay dollar for dollar. Financial panic, slowness of collections and decline in the price of cotton is the chief cause of the failure.

The Coon Girl Flirted.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Dec. 6.—Ben Mobley and Lizzie Ford, colored, attended a dance last night. On their return they quarreled about a flirtation the girl had with another fellow. Mobley cut Lizzie's throat and then attempted suicide in the same way. It is thought both will die.

A PERILOUS MISSION

A CATHOLIC PRIEST IN THE MIDST OF SAVAGES.

Father Jute Has a Conference With the Chiefs of the Sioux—An Effort to Prevent Bloodshed

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, S. D., Dec. 6.—As perilous a mission as a man of God has undertaken for many a day in the interest of averting bloodshed, was completed yesterday, when good Father Jute, the Catholic priest whom General Brooks requested to go out and talk with the rampantly hostile Indians, returned to the agency. He was the only white man who might even think of ever making the trip and living to get back. The reverend father was accompanied by Jack Red Cloud, who went by reason of being the widely respected son of a famous chief. Ten miles from the hostile camp they were halted by pickets and conducted to the camp under the cover of Winchesters. A conference followed. Father Jute opened the council by asking the chiefs to state their grievances. They replied substantially as follows:

We object to the recent census returns made by Lee. His enumeration would not give food sufficient for us to live on. Lee puts us down many less for each tepee than the tepees contains. We shall starve. We will have one big eat before the starving time comes. After that we shall fight our last fight, and the white man shall see more blood, more dead, than ever before. Then we will go to the last hunting ground happy.

Father Jute begged them to be peaceful, and explained that the soldiers were not going to harm the Indians, but protect the agency.

So far as depredations are concerned the father told them that they had better stop committing them and they would be more easily forgiven. Finally he urged the chiefs to come back with him. To this some of the older ones, who were heavily in the majority, said no. They then finally agreed that they would come in to Father Jute's house, four miles northwest of the agency, this morning, and there meet General Brooks, and tell him in person just what they told Father Jute. This brought a renewal of the bitter opposition from the majority. Finally the two chiefs cooled off, and Two Strike, addressing Father Jute, said:

Hold your hands to the Great Spirit and and tell us as though you were about to start on a long journey to the last hunting ground of the red men, whether what you say to us from General Brooks be true, and that we will not be harmed if all come in simply to talk to General Brooks.

Father Jute says he complied with the request, and the chiefs promised to come.

FARMERS' ALLIANCE.

Grandmaster Workman Powderly Advises the Delegates.

FAIR WEATHER PREDICTED.

Parnell Defeats the Final Effort to Bring About His Retirement—News from East of the Rockies.

OCALA, Fla., Dec. 6.—The Farmers' Alliance this morning discussed the amendments to the platform adopted yesterday, relating to restricting the powers of the president in disciplining editors of alliance newspapers.

POWDERLY SPEAKS.

Grand Master Workman Powderly of the Knights of Labor, addressed the alliance delegates at the exposition hall this afternoon. He advocated reform in the employment of child labor, insisted that the government had the right to control railroads, and then made a fierce attack upon the employment of labor saving machinery, as defrauding workmen of the right to work. He was especially bitter against all electric devices, declaring that capitalists in their greed, had even cornered God's wrath and compelled it do their bidding. He denounced sectionalism and said: "No matter what politicians may say, we of the two sections, are together again and together we will fight monopoly." This sentiment brought forth great applause.

At the morning session of the alliance President Hall, of the Missouri state alliance, exploded a bomb regarding the Macune-Polk-Livingstone investigation, which came near splitting up the convention. He declared he had not signed the committee report yesterday because it was not satisfactory to him. After many objections he read from a manuscript his objections. He had not signed the committee report for several reasons, because it censured President Polk unjustly for writing the Norwood letter, because it exonerated Macune, although he openly admitted before the committee that he had gone to Georgia and formed a combination among the alliance legislature in the interest of Pat Calhoun for United States senator.

PARNELL VICTORIOUS.

He Defeats the Final Effort to Bring About His Retirement.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—In parliament to-day Barry, Sexton and Healy, made a determined attempt to bring about a final settlement of the question before the meeting, namely, the retirement of Parnell from the leadership. Finally Sexton gave Parnell his ultimatum to the effect that if the decision on the question was delayed by Parnell after 6 o'clock this evening the majority would hold a meeting of their own and depose him from office. A scene of great excitement followed.

At 2:45 o'clock a recess was taken for half an hour.

At 3:15 o'clock the members reassembled.

Mr. Abraham then made a motion that Parnell vacate the chairmanship. Parnell refused to allow the question to be put, whereupon McCarthy followed by forty-four other members left the room.

An exciting incident arose from Parnell's refusal to put Abraham's motion. As the written resolution was being handed to him by Justin McCarthy, Parnell leaned across the table, struck McCarthy's hand seized the resolution and tore it to pieces. Justin Huntley McCarthy, son of Justin McCarthy, arose from his seat and denounced Parnell as having insulted his father and being an enemy to his country. He declared that he had hitherto acted with Parnell but henceforth would repudiate him. The defection of the younger McCarthy raised the number of anti-Parnellites to 45.

The opponents of Parnell who withdrew from the meeting in a body are now holding a meeting in the conference room. They are electing officers.

It is reported that Gladstone refused absolutely to enter into any negotiations until Parnell's retirement is an accomplished fact.

The meeting, by unanimous vote, elected Justin McCarthy chairman, and proceeded to consider the following resolution: "We, members of the Irish parliamentary party, solemnly renew our adhesion to the principles in devotion to which we have never wavered, that the Irish party is and alway must remain independent of all other parties. Further, we declare we will never entertain any proposals for the settlement of the home rule question, except such as satisfies the aspirations of the Irish party and the Irish people."

The resolution, which was proposed by Healy and seconded by Sexton, was unanimously adopted. The result was immediately communicated to Gladstone. Upon learning what had been done Gladstone exclaimed: "Thank God, home rule is saved."

After the withdrawal of McCarthy and the other anti Parnell members, the supporters of Parnell ratified the re-election of Parnell as chairman.

After the anti-Parnellites left the meeting Parnell said: "The deserters, knowing we were going to Ireland to-morrow, clamored for a decision, because they dreaded the lightning of public opinion in Ireland. Gentlemen, we have won to-day, (loud cheers) although our ranks are reduced. I hold this chair still, (cheers) although many comrades have left us. Ireland has power to fill their places and send us good men, and true for every one of those who have left us."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—It is understood that the republican members of the census committee to-day reached an agreement upon the reapportionment bill, based upon a representation of 346 members in the house. The present house consists of 332 members. The ratio of representation is one member to each 173,901 population. This is about the lowest number that will permit each state during the next decade to retain its present membership. SCHOOL REFORM.

Germany's Emperor Makes Scathing References to Journalism

UNION PACIFIC CONDITION.

The Salem Grange Endorses the Report of the Railroad Commission Regarding the Wreck.

Copyrighted '90 by N. Y. Associated Press

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—The Reichsanziger gives passages free from Emperor William's recent speech on school reform. One point the emperor especially emphasizes is the time lost in the higher public school in cramming youths with Latin or Greek instead of the German language and German history especially the growth of German institutions and the idea of national unison. Modern history, he declared, if rightly taught, would become infinitely more valuable than a chronicle of antiquity. How, he asked, were so many young Germans seduced from the path of political virtue? Higher schools must mend their methods, they must make their studies bear upon practical life, reduce boy's book work and give more time for healthy recreation and training of the body. The present system tended toward the over-production of highly educated people. Journalists, he said, were high school products run to seed. He approved of the saying of Bismarck, "Anent arbiturienten proletariat," whom he called "hunger candidates," and from whom the ranks of journalism were largely recruited, forming a class dangerous to society. Finally, he declared he would not license any more high schools until their methods were amended. The newspapers genarally sharply resent the emperor's references to journalism.

AN INDIAN MURDERER.

After a Hot Fusilade a Deputy Sheriff Brings Down His Man.

SPOKANE FALLS, Dec. 6.—A special to the Review from Okanogan county announces the killing of the Indian murderer of Freighter Cole, by Deputy Sheriff Ives after a hot fusilade, in which a squaw was also wounded. Cole disappeared about six weeks ago, leaving his team where he had encamped for the night, and although blood stains were found about the wagon the body was never recovered. Suspicion at once fell upon the Indian who had been seen lurking in the neighborhood and who disappeared immediately after the crime. Since then the officers have been searching for him. Ives located him near the mouth of the Methow river. When he attempted to arrest him the Indian opened fire and fired three shots, exhausting his cartridges. Ives fired five shots, the fourth wounded the murderer and a squaw and fifth killed the Indian.

A Terrible Storm.

LEWES, Del., Dec. 6.—The British steamer Maryland, from Baltimore Nov. 27th, for London, arrived here this afternoon. Nearly everything movable was swept away, including the bridge, three boats, and much deck material. Of 526 cattle on board 300 were killed.

A Railroad Rumor.

PORTLAND, Dec. 6.—A well known railroad man said to-day that he thought negotiations between Hunt and the Great Northern are off.
