COMING TO OREGON.

People Beyond the Rockies Seeking Homes in the West.

From letters received almost daily by citizens and the beautiful trade, from friends and inquiries in the States beyond the Rockies, it is evident there will be a heavy Oregon immigration in the early spring and during the summer and fall. Westward, if the assertions of the writers can be relied upon, the star of empire is about to make surprising for its speed. The storms of winter in the Eastern States are turning the heads of the homeseekers to a land of milk and honey and equal climate—Oregon.

The immigration into the United States for the last month ending October 31, reached the enormous number of 327,098, being 19,526 more than for the corresponding period in 1889. The immigrants came from all the countries in Europe, ranging from 300 from the Netherlands to 82,724 from Germany. Ireland furnished 30,078, Austria-Hungary 32,774, and France but 5468. Russia, including Poland, contributed to our population 50,541, and Sweden and Norway 39,565. But our great country absorbed them all, with out an appreciable effect on the country's prosperity.

While this throng is beating in the east there is a constant tide of immigration westward, and Oregon is showing her full share. The great Willamette Valley offers opportunities for all who will come for many years yet.

Arrest of Major Hendershott. The Drummer Boy of the Rappahannock, Thursday evening in Portland, promises to have a most interesting and profitable sale.

At H. J. Jones' you will find some of the newest bibles you ever saw. Nothing nicer could be found for a present.

AT INDIAN FIGHT.

Braves Quarrel Over a Dusky Maiden at the Siletz Reservation.

The particulars of a fight between two Indians at the Siletz reservation over the affections of a dusky maiden of the forest is related by the Yaquina Post in the following manner: Deputy U. S. Marshal, O. P. Miller, passed down to Portland on Wednesday, accompanied by three Siletz Indians—one as a prisoner, the others as witnesses. The prisoner, a middle-aged Indian had taken to his bosom a young squaw. Recently he found, or supposed he had, that a younger Indian divided with him the affections of a not worse, of his young and beautiful squaw. He made charges and had the young buck brought to law, and while the old young buck was sitting in the court-room at the agency, he deliberately walked up behind him as he lay in a chair, occupying a strong position, and remarking: "I'll mark you for life," or words to that effect, he slashed him across the face with a knife, evidently intending to cut off his nose; but he struck too low, the knife missing the nose, but cutting a deep gash across from one side of the face to the other, letting the upper lip drop down over his mouth, and making him look as if he was one year old.

This is the way the matter was related, and this is why Mr. Indian was taken down to Portland to be interviewed by Judge Deady. If the "old man" had done the cutting before having the young buck arrested, he would have received more sympathy.

Answered to Roll Call. At two o'clock, yesterday afternoon, December 13, 1890, the roll call was made for another old soldier, who responded to the call of Father Abraham, for six hundred thousand more, and Laurence S. Mead was mustered out of military life, and into that majority who have gone before. He was a native of New York, 52 years of age, and served three years in Co. D, 12th, Ill. Vol. Supt. The immediate cause of his death was inflammation of the lungs. He was buried at his late residence today at 2 p. m. He will be buried in the city cemetery, where a short service will be held. Rev. I. B. Fisher officiating.

Oregon Races. It is rather laughable to see the views the Eastern people have of Oregon. Two young men just from the old York state evidently had heard that Oregon was a wet place and made their calculations accordingly. They each brought a heavy slobber and upon their arrival here immediately donned their pre-arranged in monetary expectation of the floods of Oregon weather of which they had heard. After several days wear they disappointedly put aside their cloths, coats and concluded to wait until they got a good excuse for wearing them. Don't be discouraged, boys you probably will have use for them before long.

A Paris Plaster. Geo. Plaster, of Eugene, appeared before the grand jury at Portland the other day on the charge of having opened a letter belonging to another person. The result was that the jury found a true bill against him and he will be given a trial before Judge Deady some time in January. Some Albany people were interested in the letter which was opened. Plaster used to scrape faces here, running a little barber shop on State street. His record here was anything but good.—Statesman.

The Siletz Indians. T. J. Enford, agent at the Siletz Indian reservation, says the census shows that there are 571 Indians on the reservation. They raised 10,000 bushels of oats last season. They are getting good buildings and good fences, and have a fine school building in a slightly location. They raised oats abundantly, as they do lettuce, turnip, and had them nine miles to Toledo, where they are sold for the San Francisco market.

A Shooting Match. A glass ball-shooting match, 21 yards rise, for a purse of $40, took place near this city yesterday afternoon. The winner was Watt McVeth and the score stood as follows: Watt McVeth 11 11 11 0 1 Burr Soren 0 1 1 1 1 1 0 H. E. Halbert 0 0 1 1 1 1 1 Frank Hubbard 0 0 1 0 1 1 0 Some very good shooting was done, the best being one miss in seven shots.

Growing Towns. The increased immigration westward is not only benefiting Albany, but it is materially assisting the small towns of the Willamette Valley. There is a constant and increasing demand for a great number of the smaller towns. Leon, Swo, Brownsville, and all the smaller villages feel the impetus, an lure growing at a rapid rate.

MARRIED. WHEATSTONE—STELLMACHER. On Saturday morning, Dec. 13th, 1890, at the residence of the bride's father in Albany, Mr. Asa G. Wheatstone, of the Dalles, and Miss F. Stellmacher, of Albany, were united in holy matrimony. Officiating, Rev. G. Irvine, D. D., officiating.

RISLEY—HAYDEN. At the residence of the bride's parents in Albany, on Wednesday, Dec. 11, 1890, Mr. T. J. Risley and Miss Maggie Hayden, Rev. J. G. Bennett officiating. Mr. A. J. Risley, of Patonoe, and W. D. Risley, of Albany, brothers of the groom, were among those present at the ceremony.

BROWNSVILLE NOTES.

Brownsville, Dec. 12. The new M. E. church is nearly finished, and begins to present a nice appearance.

The stores are well filled with holiday goods, and the young people are anxiously counting the days till Christmas.

The standard gauge engine and cast have arrived here, and the track is widened to four feet.

The electric plant is all here and will soon be in running order in the wooden mill.

Rev. Mr. Bowersox, of Salem, is here carrying on a revival meeting at the Presbyterian church.

Next Monday is the time of our city election.

A petition is being circulated for the purpose of getting a wagon road up the Calapooia to the mines.

Mr. N. B. Standish has just returned from the mines, and brought down some rock that shows gold to the naked eye. He also brought down some returns of assays recently made at Tacoma, which are very encouraging. A newly discovered claim assays $100 gold per ton. Lucky Boy tunnel $60 gold. Poorman $41 gold. Treasure $39, and many more.

Boring for an Artesian Well. The Salem Water Company has commenced the sinking of an experimental artesian well through the water works crib in the center of the Willamette river. A hole will be drilled to bedrock in the prospect of finding an artesian flow that will be of assistance in supplying the city with water. The drill will be operated by steam and will be a three-inch auger.

Received $15,000. State Treasurer George W. Webb paid $15,000 to the treasurer of the State Agricultural College at Corvallis Tuesday. This money is from the national government and was appropriated by an act which passed congress and became a law on the 30th day of August, 1890.

Will Go To Roseburg. Mr. F. A. Cox, who has been assistant in the Western Union Telegraph office in this city for a year or more, leaves Monday for Roseburg, where he goes to accept the position of manager of the Postal Telegraph office. He is a competent and perfectly reliable young man, and will fill the office well.

Church Services. There will be services at the Universalist church this morning and evening at the usual hours. Rev. Thomas Abbott D. D., filling the pulpit.

HOLIDAY SHOPPERS. should see the Wonderful Array at the Golden Rule Bazaar.

Mr. Julius Gradwohl, the energetic and enterprising proprietor of the Golden Rule Bazaar in this city, whose store contains the largest and best selected stock of crockery, glass and other wares for domestic use, in the valley, as well as fancy wares, toys and beautiful holiday goods, has returned from a several months trip to San Francisco, where he combined business with pleasure. He has replenished and enlarged his entire stock, and now has a store that is credit to himself and an ornament to the city. His shelves, counters and every available space are filled with the choicest and most varied stock of goods ever seen in this valley, including a mammoth display of holiday goods. He has added a new line which consists of a beautiful assortment of rolled gold jewelry warranted to wear as good as gold and cost one-tenth as much money, diamond cut pins rings, fine umbrellas for holiday presents and novelties. His stock is now in and holiday shoppers should lose no time in seeing his wonderful array which is not surpassed by any on the coast either in elegance or prices.

The Methodist church at this place has been undergoing extensive repairs and when finished will be quite nice.
