PARNELL VS. DAVITT

The Fight Between the Factions Becomes Permanent.

PARNELL IS ASSAULTED.

Trial of the Slayers of Gouffe in Paris--Twelve Hundred on One Small Strike.

DUBLIN, Dec. 16.—At Ballinakill to day, Davitt, accompanied by Father O'Halleran, was the first prominent speaker that arrived at the meeting. As Davitt began his speech a wagonette, in which were Wm. Redmond, M. P., Father Ryan and other Parnellites, was driven through the lower part of the square, followed by a cheering crowd. Redmond began speaking simultaneously with Davitt. The advent of another party, headed by several priests, put a temporary stop to the speeches. The newcomers arranged themselves alongside the car occupied by Davitt and amid shouts of mingled cheers and execrations, Scully took up the speaking and was expressing his views when a great shouting announced the arrival of Parnell. Harrison and a number of supporters on horseback and in cars. Parnell's appearance beside Redmond was a signal for cheers and yells of "Pelegho, the fox" and "Kitty's petticoat." Amid the din Parnell spoke to the crowd around him.

Harrison was about to follow Parnell, and Tanner was speaking, when a sudden conflict arose on the verge of the crowd. A rush was made toward Davitt's car and a general melee ensued. Davitt leaped from his car, wielding a thick hazel stick, and fought his way, foot by foot, straight towards Parnell's wagon, receiving and giving numerous blows. He finally reached the wagon, hatless and with his face badly marked. Standing on the steps of Parnell's wagon Davitt uttered a breathless and indistinct defiance, then turned and pushed back to his own car, surrounded by his supporters, and amid the continuous yells and execrations of the two wildly excited factions, and with the exchange of a shower of blows Davitt remounted his car and shouted, 'Men of Kilkenny, I came here in defense of the right of a public meeting and the liberty of speech. Our opponents sent their blackguards to interrupt the proceedings, but we have beaten them back. I was never struck by an Englishman, but to-day I was many times struck by my own countrymen."

The crowd then began to disperse, and Parnell and his friends drove to Castle Comer, Davitt and Tanner following. At Castle Comer Davitt and Tanner addressed an open air assemblage, asserting that Parnell had brought a hired mob there to attack them. Just then the carriages containing the Parnellites, passed the crowd, which hooted and pelted them with mud and stones. Finally Parnell and his friends drove off amid showers of stones and mud. Frequent attempts were made to assail the members of his party and several bags filled with lime were thrown at them. Harrington's shoulders were covered with lime and a mass of lime struck Parnell full in the face, completely blinding him. This insult infuriated Parnell's friends. Harrington turned and advancing toward Father Downey, who was at the head of Parnell's opponents, shouted, "Cowards, you are a disgrace to your church." The police again interfered and Parnell's party got away on to the road. Parnell's eyes pained him so he was soon obliged to stop the carriage, and entered a laborer's cabin in a fainting condition. A local doctor attended him.

THE KHEDIVA OF EGYPT.

Miss Marsden Tells What She Knows of Her.

Miss Kate Marsden, the missionary to the lepers, who is now traveling extensively to collect information about the stricken people to whose service she has consecrated her life, was invited, during her brief stay in Alexandria, to be presented to the Khediva. Her highness the princess Emineh-Hanen, the Khediva, is the daughter of the late Prince El-Hamy-Pasha, and the mother of two fine boys and two pretty girls. She is a fine looking woman of about 30 years, with bright brown eyes expressive enough to interpret the thoughts she could not put in words to her English visitor. She has an imposing figure, which was, on the occasion of the presentation, draped to advantage in a well-made black gown. The palace of the Khedive is a peculiar structure, painted entirely white, surrounded by a court prettily decorated with green creepers, and paved with a peculiar mosaic made of stones in two colors all turned on their sides. The maids in attendance in the inner hall were all simply dressed alike in plain black and white dresses. Not a man was seen about the palace, whose furnishing is extremely plain and simple, the only pretty room being the central one, in which were lovely mirrors and candelabra and beautifully inlaid and polished floors.

The royal lady graciously welcomed the plainly dressed woman who came before her in a costume unlike anything ever seen in the presence chamber before, for Miss Marsden, to quote her own words, was limited to choice between "three severly plain uniforms, one of which was crushed, the second very creased and the third on my back, its freshness all gone, likewise some of its buttons. Besides they were all so warm, being intended for rough traveling in Russia, and by no means suitable for royal receptions or for the hot climate. My bonnet had already done good servcie in London for six months, and its original color being black it was then a a rusty brown. Gloves, fortunately, I had, but my only pair of boots were thick traveling ones, made for Siberia. Fancy my clumping into the presence of her highness with such boots."

But the meeting was pleasant. Tea was served in exquisite little cups with no handles, and the plain woman in the traveling-worn gown and heavy boots was made to forget, by the courtesy of her royal hostess, that she was not in full court dress.—Chicago Herald.

Pull the Beam Before Plucking The Mote

The San Francisco Chronicle says that the New York importers will probably join in the general condemnation of the peculiar demands made by the Farmers Alliance, and say that they are asking for class legislation. But the same importers will remain blissfully unconscious of the fact that they are about as cheeky as the farmers when they ask the Government to keep their goods in bound for an idefinite period to help them to tide over monetary difficulties which they have, by their greediness and desire to beat the revenue laws, involed themselvs in. They have no more right to ask for such an accommodation than the farmers have to ask that their grain be warehouse for them until a favorable opportunity to dispose of it presents itself.

For The Pacific Cable.

Information has been received of the second season's work of her majesty's warship Engeria, which has been detailed to make a systematic examination of the bed of the Pacific ocean, with the object of discovering the best route for a cafle from Canada to Australia. Last year year was spent at Auckland, New Zealand, and the Fiji group. The deepest sounding obtained south of the equator was 4,530 fathoms. Unfortunately, the nature of the bottom at great depth was lost through the parting of the wire when heaving in. Three islands of the Phenix group were surveyed in sufficient details to ascertain their situability for a telegraph cable. The vessel is now further engaged with the survey of the work, and the British flag has been hoisted on all islands visited in the Pacific which are not under the protection of any other power.—Astorian.

A Mystical Novel Coming.

NEW YORK, December 16.—It is reported from Paris that the widow of the late Laurence Oliphant, who, some months after his death, married his young assistant in his business at Haifa, in Syria, is now engaged with her present husband, and with a lady of fortune from New York, in writing out, under direction of the spirit of Oliphant, a novel of a mystical and psychical sort.

Twelve Hundred Miners Strike.

CHEYENNE, Wy. Dec. 16 Twelve hundred miners and laborers at Rock Springs mines, Union Pacific, are on a strike and the mines are closed. The company gave notice Saturday that they proposed paying day workmen by the hour. It is believed the company intended forestalling the effect of the eight-hour law introduced in the present state legislature.

Suing For Telegraph Tolls.

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—In the U. S. circuit court to-day the government began suit against the Western Union Telegraph company and Union Pacific railway company, to recover $12,495, the amount paid for telegraph messages sent by the goverment over the lines from the Missouri river to San Francisco since '81.

The Union Pacific are now running two daily trains through to Chicago in three days, carrying all classes of passengers on both trains, having Pullman sleepers, tourists sleepers and free reclining chair cars attached. A VIGOROUS PROTEST

The Lamented Census Stirs Up a Hot Debate in Congress.

FIGURES ARE DENOUNCED.

Terminal Point for the N. P. The Western Union Is After Uncle Sam for Telegraphing Tolls.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Dunnell's apportionment bill was taken up in the house to-day. Flower, of New York, protested against the passage of the bill and severely criticised the census returns of New York city.

Mills, of Texas, said his state had lost half a million.

McRoe, of Arkansas, gave notice of an amendment increasing the number of representatives to 359.

Flower, of New York, offered an amendment increasing the representation from New York to 35.

Spinola, of New York, said when the people of New York found they had been wronged they applied to the secretary of the interior, but obtained no relief. The secretary wrote a blackguard, impudent letter, which was unworthy to emanate from any man calling himself a gentleman. The census as taken by Superintendent Porter was a crime against the republic.

Biggs, of California, complained that San Francisco, had not had a fair enumeration, not one enumerator there being a democrat.

Peel, of Arkansas, declared that Arkansas had lost 100,000 by the failure of the count.

Dunnell in closing the debate spoke earnestly in favor of the bill.

The hour of 5 o'clock having arrived Dunnell demanded the previous question.

Blount, of Georgia, interjected a motion to adjourn, and during the progress of the vote the democratic members left the hall, showing a disposition to break the quorum on the next vote.

The motion to adjourn was lost. At the suggestion, of Blount, of Georgia, it was agreed that after a two hours' debate to-morrow the previous question should be considered ordered, and the house adjourned.

TERMINAL MONEY.

The Chairman Reports That the Amount Is Raised.

TACOMA, Dec. 16.—Walter J. Thompson, chairman of the committee which has in charge the matter of raising one hundred thousand dollars for the U. P. terminals, telegraphed to Engineer Bogue at Portland, this evening, that eighty thousand dollars had been raised and that he (Thompson) would personally guarantee the remainder would be raised.

Robert Burnett, alias Robert Highland, serving time for smuggling, and John Dumott, held for breaking into a bonded car near this city, escaped from the United States prison on McNeils Island some time last night, by digging a hole through the brick arch to the roof.

HE IS MISSING.

And So Are Several Accounts That He Owed.

PORTLAND, Dec. 16. — W. H. Kennedy, who for some time has been connected with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad office in this city, is missing, and it is stated that he leaves a number of unpaid bills. Among the lossers are Chief of Police Parish, who cashed a check for Kennedy, drawn on the Merchants National bank. It is thought Kennedy has gone to Seattle. He came here from San Francisco about eight months ago and was employed for some time by the Southern Pacific company.

EXPERIMENTS IN AMERICA.

Physicians Are Much Pleased With Their Results.

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—So far as hospital experiments have gone since Tuesday, when the first injections of the Koch lymph were made in this city, there has been a marked similarity in the phenomena here with those spoken of by Professor Hoch in Berlin, and that the lymph has a decided effect on various sorts of tubucular diseases has even in this short time been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the local experimentalists. The question now is just how far the discovery of Koch will act either as a remedy or as a cure.

According to the statement of Dr. Kinnicut, who has under his personal supervision the cases at St. Luke's Hospital, a remedy of great potentiality has been found, but only the most careful experiments will give to the medical profession the knowledge which will make it of thorough usefulness.

From Birds to Men.

BROOKHAVEN, Miss., Dec. 16.—In a shooting match 15 miles from here this afternoon, Al. Bowen, Will Blue, Dave McKee and Bob Apple, (white) were all mortally wounded. The fight grew out of the killing of a cousin of McKee by Blue, at a party in Jefferson county a short time ago.

A DEFAULTER SCREENED.

The Crime Concealed for the Sake of His Young Wife.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—A story of confidence betrayed and funds misappropriated, of a generosity that shrank from exposing a newly wedded wife to the disgrace that follows the prosecution of the offender—such is in brief, according to a member of the firm, the tale of the failure of the old board of trade firm of P. McGurn & Co., which occurred yesterday.

A former book-keeper, he said, embezzled considerable money belonging to McGurn and tied up more in unsalable stocks, with the result of forcing the old man to the wall. He absolutely declined to save himself by prosecuting the offender, whose name even is kept secret.

BENEATH A STREET CAR.

A Fatal Accident Befalls an Englishman Known In This City

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Charles Foster, an Englishman, about 40 years old, was instantly killed last evening by being thrown from the platform of an Eighth avenue car under the wheels of a passing truck on Canal street, near Broadway. It was learned that Foster was connected with the large bottling firm of M. B. Foster & Sons of 23 Brook street, Hanover square, London.

He came to this country about a year ago with his wife. They spent some time in California and about four months ago his wife returned to England. He had intended being home by Christmas.

TO EXPLORE ALASKA.

A Government Party to Penetrate the Interior Territory.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—A bill providing for the systematic exploration of the interior of Alaska is likely to receive consideration by congress soon. It provides the secretary of war shall send a party into the interior of Alaska, and appropriates $100,000 to defray the expenses of the expedition. It is proposed for the party to remain three years, in order that their observations may be absolutely trustworthy and finally set at rest the various and conflicting reports regarding Alaskan territory.

A Curious Complication.

ZANESVILLE, O., Dec. 16.—A curious complication has arisen in the case of Governor-elect Boyd, of Nebraska. He was born in Ireland in 1834, and came to this city with his father, Joseph Boyd, in 1849. The father filed notice of his intention to become a citizen, but did not take out his final papers until November, 1890. The son did not take out papers here, and it is stated he has never been naturalized in Nebraska. The statutes provide where the father is naturalized his sons under 21 years of age are naturalized. In this case the father filed his declaration in 1849, but did not take out his final papers until 1890.

Gen. Miles at St. Paul.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Gen. Miles has left St. Paul and will be at Standing Rock to-morrow. No more outbreaks are looded for by the officers except perhaps fighting with the remnant of Sitting Bull's band. During the week the commanding officers at the different agencies will be instructed to ask the surrender of all the hostile Indians. Sitting Bull was able to keep the young bucks excited with the Messiah craze, but now that he is dead Col. Corbin believes hostilities will soon stop.

Blackstone Renders a Decision.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—In an interview to-day regarding the railroad meeting in New York yesterday, President Blackstone, of the Chicago & Alton, said he thought such a meeting at this time was inexpedient. The farmers' alliances, which so powerful in the state legislatures, are not likely to view with equanimity the formation of an association, backed up by Eastern capital, which they look upon as inimical to their interests. For this and other reasons Alton did not send a representation to the conference.

A Decision Reversed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16.—The supreme court to-day reversed the decision in the case of Ingerman against Moore, whereby $12,500 was awarded the latter by the superior court. In 1884 Ingerman while running an edger in the firm's saw-mill at Port Discovery, Wash., had one of his hands cut off in an attempt to remove a sliver which obstructed the machine's movements. The justices reversed the trial of the court's judgment, saying Ingerman's negligence caused the accident. Chief Justice Beatty and Justice McFarland dissent.

A Reported Fight.

DENVER, Col., Dec. 16.—A News courier from a camp near Daly's ranch, has the following from Rapid City, Dk: A rancher has just arrived to our commanding officer and reports commands of cavalry attacked and two officers and fifty men killed, but the Indians were repulsed with very heavy loss. Indians were put to rout. This report was not authenticated. Not known whose command it was but was probably that of Major Tupper of the Sixth cavalry.

MORE PARTICULARS.

How Sitting Bull Came to His Last Scheme.

INDIAN POLICEMEN MOURNED.

Blackstone Renders a Decision—General Miles Goes In Person—More Rumors of Indian Fighting.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 16.—To-days advices from Standing Rock are to the effect that the arrest of Sitting Bull was decided upon by Agent McLaughlin when he heard on Sunday that the surly old chief and followers were about to set out for the Bad Lands. Therefore orders were given the police and they set out on Sunday night, troops following By nearly morning the police had reached the camp. The cavalry were three miles in the rear and the infantry much further away. On reaching the camp, the police found the campers almost ready to move. Sitting Bull was seized, placed under arrest, but not bound, and the police quickly started for the agency, but the followers of the old man soon got over their surprise and a sharp fire was at once opened on the police. The police responded in kind and several fell from their horses, among the number Sitting Bull and his son Black Bird. The old medicine man had tried to direct matters for a time by loudly shouting orders, but his fall upset the hostiles. They at once rallied, however, surronded the police who fought bravely and well, but would soon have been overpowered had not the cavalry, who had been sent for, arrived on the scene. The police were at that time almost out of ammunition and were fighting hand to hand, but the sight of the soldiers and the roar of the machine guns alarmed the hostiles and they fled.

Up Grand river, cavalry followed for but a short distance and then returned to camp and took possession of the bodies of Sitting Bull and his son. Four of the police were killed and three wounded, and it is thaught that altogether eight of the hostiles were killed. Crow Foot, the 12-year-old son of Sitting Bull and a number of others were wounded. Sitting Bull's followers when they fled up Grand river left behind them all their tents and families, which will be turned over to the agency. After going a short distance up the river the fleeing red skins scattered and went off in all directions through the country toward the Bad Lands. Some of them may try to reach the Indians at Two Strike band further south, while others will seek to escape to the north. However there is little chance for them in any direction. Soldiers are located all around the Bad Lands. The effect of the death of Sitting Bull is problematical. Other leaders who hated him will surely not seek to avenge his death. Still he had gained a considerable following among the ghost dancers and these may attempt something in revenge. People around Bismarck and in the neighborhood of Standing Rock agency are greatly wrought up over the killing and express fear for the outcome. The scene at the agency to-day is indescribable. The death of the Indian policemen who was the flower of the tribe will be mourned by the squaws for weeks, and the old warriors will join in the mourning for the present. It will be a great indian funeral these policemen will have, and the death song will continue for weeks.

CRIMINATING EACH OTHER

That Is How the Murderers Commence Their Trial Record.

PARIS, Dec. 16.—The trial of Michael Eyraud and Gabrielle Bombard for the murder of Gouffe began to-day. When Eyraud was brought to the stand, he narrated how Gabrielle proposed that Gouffe go to her house, and then murder and rob him. He gave every detail of the crime, telling how Gouffe was sitting down with Gabrielle on his knee and fondling her, when the noose with which he was strangled was thrown around his neck. Gabrielle declared all the details of the murder were planned by Eyraud and that he influenced her.

AS TIGHT AS AN OYSTER.

That Is the Way Military Rules Are.

BISMARCK, N. D., Dec. 16.—But little word is obtainable from Standing Rock to-day or to-night. The iron clad non intercourse rule of the military holds rein over the military telegraph. All newspapers are cut off from any communication by wire with the agency. The mail driver from Winona this evening knew nothing more than published this afternoon. The bodies of those slain in yesterday's engagement, fifteen in all, was brought to post to-day.
