THE RIVER BOATS.

They are all in readiness to resume trade on the Upper Willamette.

The recent rains have caused the river to rise sufficiently that the boats have all been put in readiness to resume traffic on the Willamette.

Just as soon as the boats can run freely they will all be started. Those of the Oregon Pacific company will be three in number, the Wm. M. Hoag, N. S. Bentley and Three Sisters. They have been put in good repair, their boilers have just been subjected to inspection, and they are ready to leave Corvallis any day. The company expects to have them on the route this week if the rains continue.

The Union Pacific will have three boats on the upper river this season. It is the purpose of this company to put their boats on the upper river just as soon as there is water enough to permit of their successful running. The three boats ready for the service are the Modoc, Champa and Chief. The Orient is out of service, having recently been condemned, but it is probable she will be rebuilt at once, giving the company four boats.

The Salem, owned by Woodburn parties, will be on the upper river and is expected to start up very soon. Every indication is that by the middle or last of the week the vessels will be plying the open highway to the sea.

The Committee Report.

At Portland the committee in charge of the Annie Abbott exhibition made the following report: We, the undersigned, were present last evening to witness, test and investigate the phenomenal "power of force" claimed for Mrs. Abbott. "The Little Georgia Wonder." We are constrained, as a simple act of justice to the management and to the little lady, as well as information to our friends to say that we put this little rough eight pounds of femininity through the most crucial and thorough tests that our intelligence and judgment could suggest, and that every privilege and opportunity for investigation was afforded us. We unhesitatingly voice, for Mrs. Abbott as being the most inexplicable and mysterious phenomenon we ever saw; presenting all the incredible feats advertised and much more. In fact M. C. George, H. E. Siskind, E. J. Winter & Harwood, Rev. A. Walling, Cleveland Rockwell, Thomas A. Jordan, ex-sheriff, Rev. E. F. Habersham, J. P. Marshall, cashier Ainsworth bank; Dr. Mary A. Thompson, Mrs. Dr. F. M. Murray, L. B. Bayley, M. D.

Mrs. Abbott.

This marvelous phenomenon will appear at the opera house in this city on Christmas night. Every seat should be taken. Nothing like it has ever been seen here. Presses within reach of all. Two large and powerful men men failed to lift her off her feet," says the Boston Herald. A number of other tests were made, and the visitors were astonished at the results. Neither the management nor Mrs. Abbott attempt to account for the results produced. They do not claim that the force employed is spiritual, mechanical, muscular, electrical or odd. They simply say that they do not know how the feats are performed. They give an exhibition in full view of the audience, without the use of a cabinet or darkened stage, with no appliances save ordinary articles of furniture.

The Chickens Promptly Expired.

An embryo poultry raiser of this city made an amusing blunder the other day, which resulted in the death of a dozen of his finest chickens. Some one had told him to give his fowls plenty of lime. He proceeded to do so, throwing out to them a quantity of the un-sifted quality. The chickens soon began to want water and quickly afterward expired. He says the effect was surprising, being as fatal as dried apples and water.

The Oregonian Railway.

The Oregonian railway is now negotiating for reliable sites along its route to put in side tracks. Warehouses will probably be erected and the shipment of grain raised in that section will be greatly facilitated. The trains are compelled to move slowly, as the old iron is rot in use. A break-down occurs nearly every day. The new heavy rails are looked for any time. It is reported that the track from Woodburn to St. Paul will be taken up, but this is not credited.

Signs of an open Winter.

Hallett, the pilgrim printer, has once more arrived in Salem on his rounds of the west. He has tramped from Maine to California and from the lakes to the gulf. He is at home in a printing office. He never carries long in one place. He is a roving disposition and lives the life of a nomad. The Salem Statesman remarks that it may be taken for granted that the coming winter will be an open one, as he is now winging his flight northward.

Church Service.

There will be service at the M. E. church south, Sunday morning and evening as usual. Rev. H. S. Hangle, who has been assisting in a protracted meeting at Oakville, having returned to the city.

Officers Elected.

At the regular meeting of Beniah Rebecca Degree lodge No. 55, I. O. O. F., held Friday evening, Dec. 19, 1890, the following officers were elected: Mrs. Ida Carter, N. G.; Mrs. Elia Hendrickson, V. G.; Mr. J. L. Underwood, R. S.; Mrs. S. E. Parker, Treas.; Miss C. Conn, P. S.

THE REAL ESTATE OUTLOOK.

There is a firmness which indicates a healthy future business.

There is little change in the real estate market. The Commercial Review of Portland says of situation in Oregon: It is very quiet but hardly a shade less firm than it has been for months past. With the heavy demand for money and the tightness which is an acknowledged fact, the situation is an encouraging one. Were there any uncertainty as to real property, an almost immediate decline in prices might be looked for under existing conditions in the money market. The firmness is, therefore, an excellent sign, and when in a few weeks' time the bulk of the money is again in circulation, much activity in real estate may be confidently expected. For the present then the condition of the market is quiet and healthy. To attempt to force business will be useless, and a boom at the present is out of the question. Some business is, of course being done and there will never be a stagnation.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The Proposed New Building of the Organization - Letter From the Secretary.

To the Union of the Heart. The attendance at gospel service last Sabbath was 42; attendance at the reading rooms for the past week was 145, an increase of 40 over that of last. Mr. E. N. Blodgett will lead the meeting at 4 P. M. on C. A. hall Sunday Dec. 21 at 4 P. M.

As already stated by the papers, the Y. M. C. A. has purchased for a building site 72 feet on the corner of 2d Ferry street, and in taking this step we feel that we have scored a victory, one that is commendable to every one who is interested in the welfare of human souls, we look upon the Christian institutions of our beloved city of Albany to-day and we see them in a state of thrift and rapid growth. There is scarcely a church but what is, or has been, expending hundreds, and some of them thousands of dollars, for the purpose of making more pleasant and commodious their places of worship. The W. C. T. U., the Ladies Aid Society and other societies that are battling hand to hand for the welfare of our community are meeting with success. Why then should not the Young Men's Christian Association thrive and keep pace with other institutions whose aims are the same? Why should not this association take active and decisive measures in the way of securing a home and property, lest in the tide of modern advancement and fall to the rear and grovel in the sands of stagnation?

Such must not be the case, and we believe it will not. Why? because in calling the roll of the Young Men's Christian Association, we take from your banks, your school-rooms, your stores, your machine-shops, your printing-offices, etc., young men who are keeping your books, handling your money, teaching your children, doing your printing, erecting your buildings. Young men who are just starting in life and have a future to make—not a past that is already made—and who are filled with all the energies and ambitions that come to every honest young man.

Our list calls for young men who are walking your streets day after day doing your commerce and doing it satisfactory to their employers. Our membership roll is composed of young men who are doing some of your most active and important church work. You see them in your congregations Sabbath morning, in your Sunday school room in your weekly prayer meeting, and if you will step into the Y. M. C. A. hall at 4 p. m. you will find them there. Is it then probable, if possible, that we shall in this our first step towards building us an association in home? We realize that we are taking upon our shoulders a burden that for a while will be hard to carry. We realize that at present the money market is close, and that it will take a united effort on our part to meet the requirements of the purchase, but unless this step is taken by some one Albany will never have a Young Men's Christian Association building and without it she would be incomplete. Why should not, then, the burden of this united effort on our part to the association of the future?

It has fallen, and with a tremendous force and to-day finds the Young Men's Christian Association of Albany, starting at the foot of the ladder bearing firmly in hand the banner upon which is stamped in letters of gold "Victory." We do not expect to fight this battle alone. "The Lord of hosts is with us," and if we do our part we shall come off more than conquerors in the end. We ask every minister of the gospel and every professor of the name of Christ to remember the Y. M. C. A. in their petitions to the everliving God, and that we may succeed in this step towards laying the foundation of beautiful building for the use of the Young Men's Christian Association and that ere long we may see the beautiful heavenward pointing church spires and a prosperous and successful city in every legitimate branch of trade.

H. W. YOUNG, General Secretary.

How severe colds are broken up in Montana.

When we find a medicine we know to possess genuine merit we consider it a duty, and we take pleasure in telling the public what it is. Such a medicine we found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, last winter, when the gripe was prevailing. We are satisfied that we would ward off several attacks that were threatening by the use of this syrup, and we have since relieved, in a few hours, severe colds, add in the course of two or three days, entirely broken them up by its use as have several of our friends whom we have recommended it. It is all that is recommended to be by the manufacturers. If you have a cough and want to stop it, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will do the work. For sale by Foshay & Mason.

The Reason Why.

Why is it that Klein Bros. can afford to sell boots and shoes so reasonable? Because they are both practical shoe makers and make their expenses by working on the shoe bench, and any boot or shoe you buy of them, no matter what kind it is, man, woman or child, that runs, runs over or the sole rips loose, they repair them for you free of charge, and as they do all the work themselves, they don't charge you 25 to 50 cents a pair extra for a warrant to pay some shoemaker to repair them for you. They also make a specialty of repairing rubber boots.
