The Monogram, which opens this morning, is one of the finest confectionery stores north of Portland. Mr. Bonebrake, the proprietor, understands his business thoroughly, and will surely command the large trade he will merit as a result. Christmas is coming; little children, old women, young women, young men, and everybody is looking forward to it. Christmas will be here to-morrow, and between midnight and daylight of Thursday, Santa Claus will fall down many chimneys and climb out again leaving presents for little folks and big folks.

THE HOLIDAY SEASON.

It Will Not Be a Dull Christmas in Albany This Year.

Those who have said that it would be a dull Christmas in Albany this season will have to take it all back. Preparations have been made to celebrate this joyous holiday in an appropriate manner. The shops and business streets have presented a beautiful spectacle for many days, and much shopping has been done by old and young. To-night, Christmas eve, the various churches will hold the usual Christmas eve exercises, and these spacious edifices, adorned for the occasion, will be a scene of happiness for the little folks, as they receive and witness the distribution of presents from the brilliantly laden Christmas trees. Business men have been enjoying a brisk trade, the people generally have been prosperous, and there is nothing to prevent a joyous observance of the good old customs that surround Christmas day, and which it the happiest holiday of the year.

An Oregonian Railway Wreck.

There was another railroad wreck on the recently widened narrow gauge Monday this time near Seio. A mixed passenger and freight train was running along from Corvallis to Woodburn near Crabtree, five miles north of Seio, the rails spread and a couple of freight cars were thrown from the track, one being badly wrecked. A box car loaded with wheat was thrown from the track and is in the ditch to one side. The trucks of the other one left the track, but it can soon be righted. The cars that went off being to the east of the wreck, the balance of the train went on north. No one was hurt and the accident is not an expensive one.

New Coal Mine.

The East Oregonian says that P. M. Johnson, John Groves, Lou Downes, N. Linn, Wm. Folsom and J. A. Clifford have filed a notice with the county clerk, locating a ledge of coal 15 miles east of Alba and five miles from Peterson's meadows in a northwest direction. This is supposed to be the results of a discovery of coal made by some hunters at the head of a little creek near Highway Springs, an account of which was given in this paper. The discoverers have named their mine the Echo coal mine. It is rumored that C. A. Chapman, of Pendleton, who is absent on an alleged hunting tour, is gravitating around in the vicinity of the discovery, looking after coal prospects.

Building a New Boat.

At Portland a fine new steamer is being built for service on the upper Willamette. It is the property of Abernethy Bros. and will be completed ready for the trial trip by Jan 10th. Its model is similar to that of the Hong, the difference being that she is a lighter draft. Her machinery will be first-class and she will be in every respect thoroughly equipped. The cost of the vessel being nearly $15,000. She is built especially for the upper river service, and should meet patronage by such as permit it she will ply steadily between up-river points and Logiduck.

Salem Grange Officers.

On Saturday in Salem the following officers for Salem Grange were elected for 1891: Worthy Master, Mrs. M. A. Minto; Overseer, J. B. Stump; Secretary, Jno. P. Robertson; Steward, Clara E. Smith; Asst. Secretary, Oliver Jory; Chaplain, P. R. Smith; Treasurer, Geo. H. Croisant; Secretary, Lydia Leato; Gate Keeper, Mrs. J. Miller; Ceres, Mrs. C. Pettyjohn; Pomona, Mrs. R. P. Boissier; Mrs. Pheme Brown; Lady of the Garter, Mrs. W. M. Hillier; secretary of the Oregon State Grange, has been invited to install the officers at Salem Jan. 6, 1891.

On the Prophecies.

Rev. Miles Grant is giving a series of lectures at the W. C. T. U. hall in this city on the subject of "Prophecies." The second one in the course was given to an interested audience last evening. He illustrates his lectures with an immense chart and displays great erudition upon biblical matters, and predicts the end of the present epoch with apparent accuracy.

House Entered.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Crosby, on turning home the other evening found a man in the house just on the point of helping himself to what he fancied. He ran away before his identity could be established.

Special Notice.

You are respectfully requested, to take a special notice of our Christmas list of choice poultry, quills, candles, nuts and our staple and fancy groceries. Also be sure to call and secure a bargain in fine apples at the lowest prices to be had to-day only. MUELLER & GARRETT.

Holiday Book.

Ladies call Mrs. Hyman's and give your order for the juvenile book for Christmas. The latest out. The best make of gold pens at French's, at reduced price.

ROBBED AT THE DEPOT.

Rev. E. G. Michael Has an Experience With Pendleton Thieves.

The East Oregonian tells the following incident to a former Linn county resident: Rev. E. G. Michael, presiding elder of the M. E. church south, was robbed in Pendleton last night. He was at the depot, waiting for the west-bound train to convey him to Heppner, and had left his overcoat and valise on a seat in the waiting room while he went to purchase a ticket. When he returned these articles were gone. In the valise were a number of hymn books, a bible, and religious literature of every description. It is to be hoped that the thief will experience a change of heart by their perusal and renounce his nefarious occupation.

The satchel and overcoat were afterward found underneath the sidewalk on a sewer ditch street, where they had been hidden by the thief. Officers are after the scoundrel, and he will be brought to justice if possible.

Mrs. Abbott.

This marvelous phenomenon will appear at the opera house in this city on Christmas night.

Every seat should be taken. Nothing like it has ever been seen here. Prices within reach of all.

Two large and powerful men failed to lift her off her feet, says the Boston Herald. A number of other tests were made, and the visitors were astonished at the results. Neither the management nor Mrs. Abbott attempt to account for the results produced.

They do not claim that the force employed is spiritual, mechanical, muscular, electrical or odd. They simply say that they do not know how the tests are performed.

They give the exhibition in full view of the audience, without the use of a cabinet or darkened stage, with no appliances save ordinary articles of furniture.

Holiday Goods at French's. How Severe Colds Are Broken Up in Montana.

From the Yermoland, Mont. Medical Journal.

When we find a medicine we know to possess genuine merit we consider it a duty, and we take pleasure in telling the public what it is. Such a medicine we found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, last winter, when la grippe was prevailing. We are satisfied that we were threatened by the use of this syrup, and we have since relieved, in a few hours, severe colds, and in the course of two or three days, entirely broken them up by its use as have several of our friends whom we have recommended to be by the manufacturer. If you have a cough and want to stop it, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will do the work. For sale by Foshay & Mason.

The Reason Why. Why is it that Klein Bros. can afford to sell boots and shoes so reasonable? Because they are both practical shoe makers and their expenses by working on the shoe bench, and any boot or shoe you buy of them, no matter what kind it is, man, woman or child, that rip, run over or the sole rips loose, they repair them for you free of charge, and as they do all the work themselves, they don't charge you 25 to 50 cents a pair extra for a warrant to pay some shoemaker to repair them for you. They also make a specialty of repairing rubber boots.
